LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Attention Cannoneers! See special order in another column.

More than sixty breakfasts were served to patrons of the City Hotel on Wednesday.

Mr. Hall, the urbane and good looking news agent on the daily train, has our thanks for appreciated courtesies.

Nelson White and Alexander Johnson, charged with horse stealing, were released from the parish jail Tuesday, upon furnishing appearance bonds in the sum of $150 each.

N. H. Wilson, Inspector of Weights and Measures, furnished bond to appear for trial on the charge of extortion and oppression in office preferred by Mr. Emile Collin, and was released from jail.

The probate term of the Parish Court began Monday, and Judge Maher was promptly on the bench, but as there was no business on the docket, adjournment to court in course took place.

Mr. H. H. Willers, the popular shoemaker and sewing machine agent, is enjoying the cool climate of Minnesota, having been absent about five weeks. He is expected home during this month.

A colored man known as "Blind Ned," employed by Mr. J. J. Claverie, was sunstruck while entering the post-office, about four o'clock yesterday afternoon, and died a few moments after being carried home.

Joseph Ferdinand, a colored boy about fourteen years of age, was accidentally drowned in Bayou Lafourche, near Mr. Wm. Drysdale's residence, Tuesday evening. The body was found next day and the Coroner held an inquest.

Deputy Sheriff Israel left for Baton Rouge on the Gov. Allen last night in charge of three convicts sentenced to imprisonment in the penitentiary as follows:

- Robert Gregory, larceny of a gun, one year.
- George Wolfroome, horse stealing, one year.
- Jack Montgomery, larceny of a piece of cloth, six months.

We hasten to correct an error of omission, by announcing that the little stranger who put in an appearance at the residence of Mr. Aaron Dreyfus two weeks since was No. 6, instead of No. 5. The little chaps are of the masculine persuasion all along the line, and as lively as a like number of crickets could possibly be.

Mr. Jos. Billeisen has been suffering considerably recently from failing eyesight. Some time since he was attacked with sudden blindness, and one of his eyes became slightly turned from its natural position. Under the treatment of an eminent oculist however, this defect has been corrected and Mr. Billeisen's sight is slowly but steadily improving.

Parish Judge Maher intended to hold the preliminary examination in the case of Thos. Ryan, charged with the murder of John Evans, on Tuesday of this week, but postponement was rendered advisable by the absence of District Attorney Earhart and the illness of Mr. Duffel, District Attorney pro tem. The examination will probably take place next week.

The post-office was removed last Saturday evening to the book store and stationary depot of the new postmaster, Mr. W. G. Wilkinson. This is a more central location than the former one, and gives very general satisfaction. The number of mail boxes has been increased, and other changes made which improve the appearance of the office considerably.

Overcome by the excitement, etc., attending his participation in the celebration of the 4th, the late Sheriff of Assumption took a nap on the bench in front of the Railroad coffee-house, Wednesday night, and woke up to find his hat and pocket-book gone, the pocket of his pantaloons having been cut with a razor. To the best of the gentleman's recollection, the amount of money in the book was about $30.

Major Harry Gould, a veteran in the editorial harness, whose light has been hid under the bushel of the little Port Vincent Triune, but who proposes to scintillate hereafter from the more elevated plane of the Donaldsonville Triune-Democrat, struck town this week and paid us the compliment of an early call. Harry doesn't look a day older than he did when we first met him five years ago, and his spirit yet retains the freshness and vigor of youth.

The spring fights have opened in Donaldsonville, but they have so far mainly been of that character which every body gossips about on the street corners, but of which the newspaper man is expected to say nothing, on account of the social position of the belligerents. No duels yet, however.

Mr. Joseph Hiss, that estimable citizen of Donaldsonville to whose good qualities the CHIEF, in common with his other friends, delights to pay tribute, left here by steamer last week, bound for Sandusky county, Ohio, where he will spend a few weeks visiting relatives and seeking that bodily recuperation which indifferent health has rendered essential. We trust he will have a pleasant time among old friends, and that the change of climate will prove as beneficial as could be desired.

A fatal accident occurred at Smoke Bend on Monday, the two year old son of Austin and Josephine Patterson, colored, being the victim. The child went to a small cupboard unobserved by its mother, and obtaining possession of a can of concentrated lye, swallowed some of the contents. As soon as the fact was discovered, milk was given the little sufferer and other means employed to counteract the effects of the poison and relieve the pain, but without success, as the child died early in the evening after lingering all day in great agony.

Frederick Duffel, Esq., our efficient Mayor and Parish Attorney, has been for some days under the weather, and has kept his room all the week with the exception of a short time on the 4th, when he rode out to witness the dress parade of the Cannoneers and their visiting guests. Mr. Duffel's physician has advised him to remain indoors and abstain from exertion for a few days and then visit one of the watering places for change of air. We trust this treatment will be entirely successful in securing to the patient an early restoration of good health.

THE CITY HOTEL.—The card of this excellent place of entertainment graces the advertising columns of the CHIEF and conspicuously courts the attention of our readers in general and the traveling public in particular. All who have patronized Mr. Lefevre's cosy and well conducted house find it to be a pleasant resort, where first-class accommodations and refreshments, liquid and edible, are furnished at reasonable rates. No one can give a heartier welcome or better treatment to his guests than Monsieur Paul Lefevre, "mine host" of the City Hotel.

The entertainment at D. S. C. B. Hall Saturday night for the benefit of the Episcopal rectory fund, was a splendid affair, and all who attended speak of it in the highest terms. Several of the leading local amateurs, reinforced by a talented lady from a neighboring parish, entertained the audience with instrumental and vocal selections, which were received with marked favor. The evening's enjoyment closed with dancing. In the Hook and Ladder Company's hall refreshments were served, and this department was quite as successful as the other. We believe the net results of the entertainment were quite satisfactory to the projectors.

THE POPULAR LIVERY STABLE.—Just after noon on the 4th, we dropped in at Mr. G. W. Mitchell's large livery stable—as spacious, well ordered and cleanly an establishment as one could wish to see—and found the gentlemanly proprietor and all his assistants "up to their eyes" in business. Mr. Mitchell found time, however, to give us the information that every team in the stable had been out two or three times during the morning, while sixty-three horses from the country had already been fed, with the day but half gone. It is gratifying to note the success and prosperity of those who labor to deserve them, and Mr. Mitchell's is a case in point. His stables are a credit to the town, and enjoy well-earned and increasing popularity.

As appears from the proceedings of the Common Council, published in another column, a majority of the members present at a meeting from which one Alderman and the Mayor were absent, voted to award the municipal advertising to the Vigilant, in spite of the fact that the CHIEF was the lowest and best bidder. We do not propose to occupy space in our paper or tire the patience of its readers with relation of our individual grievances, hence we will simply remark that the action of these Alderman was a piece of gross injustice which can not be defended with any reasonable or creditable argument. The young man who engineered the business, under the inspiration and guidance of a more astute and capable mind, merely exercised the brief authority of an accidental position to gratify his personal ill-will. The CHIEF can stand defeat in a fair fight, but it galls us to be tricked.

The press and material of the Port Vincent Triune office have been brought to Donaldsonville, and in a week or two a new paper, to be called the Triune-Democrat, will make its advent here, under the proprietorship of Messrs. Gould & Winfree—that is, Major Harry Gould, formerly of the Triune, and Henry A. Winfree, Esq., recently connected with the CHIEF office. It is understood that the politics of the journal will be Democratic, simple pure, straight out and clear through; and that it was established here under the patronage of a number of leading Democrats who feel the necessity of an organ with which to refute the slanders of the CHIEF and head off the wicked machinations of the radicals. In this work the Triune-Democrat will have our conscientious co-operation. Trusting that the old saw, "competition is the life of trade," will be realized by the rapidly multiplying newspaper press of this flourishing metropolis, we extend the figurative fist of fellowship to the Triune-Democrat and its chief engineers.

Mr. H. C. Grube and wife will have the condolence of the community in the affliction caused by the sudden and violent death of their oldest child, Henry, a boy aged about ten years. During the absence of his parents from their home, on Railroad Avenue, Tuesday morning, Henry proceeded to light a fire in the stove, and after touching a match to the shavings and kindling wood, conceived the fatal idea of using coal oil to accelerate the progress of the blaze, a practice which his parents assure us they have studiously avoided. With this intention he took up the can and started to pour oil into the stove, when the flames communicated to the can, which exploded with a loud report, covering the unfortunate youth with burning fluid. Mr. Chas. Oberkaup, Jr., and other neighbors rushed in and promptly extinguished the flames which were searing the poor boy's flesh and burning his young life out. Dr. McGalliard was called in and made application to the burned body which alleviated the pain, but it was evident from the boy's continual thirst that he had inhaled flame, and the Doctor gave it as his opinion that death would ensue in a short time. This prognostication was fulfilled before night. The funeral took place Wednesday morning.

ENTERPRISE.—One of the wide-awake and go-ahead men of Donaldsonville is our friend around the corner, Mr. John F. Park, as evidenced by the improvements he is making in his spacious store building and his preparations for accommodating a large and increasing business. It is not long since that Mr. Park built a handsome addition to his main store, in which has been established a neat and well stocked dry goods department under the immediate supervision of Mrs. Park; and now he has had the partition between his grocery and warehouse taken down, doubling the size of the former and making it one of the largest groceries in town. The upper story of the building will be used as a storeroom for furniture, of which Mr. Park proposes to keep a good stock on hand. And last, but not least, our energetic neighbor has purchased a heavy supply of coal and established a coal yard, an institution long needed. In disposing of this fuel, he intends to compete with New Orleans prices. There are two conclusions to be drawn from the facts we have here related: one is, that Mr. Park must be having a large run of custom or he would not invest money in these expensive improvements; and the second is, that he could not draw so many customers if he did not give them satisfaction as to goods and prices.

Among the visitors from New Orleans on the 4th inst., were several suspicious characters, four of whom were locked up by Constable St. Martin. Their names are Joe McCaffrey, Joe Hamilton, Tom Foley and A. C. Christopher. The first three were suspected of connection with the robbery of a watch from an officer of the Continental Guards, on the steamer St. Mary, during the trip from New Orleans to this place. Christopher was arrested at the Cannoneers' ball, having been seen by the Constable to take a razor from his pocket and examine it. On his person was found the razor and a certificate from the clerk of a New Orleans criminal court that Christopher had been tried on two charges of burglary and larceny and honorably acquitted, and also an affidavit to which the prisoner had subscribed before a justice of the peace, avowing his belief that malicious persons had combined with the New Orleans police to persecute him, ruin his reputation as an honest man and drive him from the city. This much suffering innocent was kept in jail until Thursday morning, when he was allowed to depart. The other worthies were released during Wednesday night in order that they might have an opportunity to leave the village by the boats which brought them here: Donaldsonville is the worst little town on the coast for city sharps to try their sinful games in, and they will do well to steer clear of it hereafter.

Several hundred colored people from New Orleans visited here on an excursion train, last Sunday, to participate in a Church and Sunday School celebration. As the large crowd marched into town from the depot, religious songs were sung with much spirit.

A Card.

THIBODAUX, LA., July 2, 1877.
In a personal difficulty between myself and Mr. K. N. Sims in this place on the 13th of June, 1877, being under an erroneous impression regarding a certain fact connected with a certain law suit pending in the District Court of Assumption parish, wherein a question of appeal arose; said erroneous impression being that the decision of the District Court would be submitted to, whereas Mr. Sims says he intended the decision of the Supreme Court and never intended at any time to create the impression on my mind that the District Court was meant—I believing from conversations had with him and my counsel that the decision of the District Court would be final, and believing that my belief as to that fact was erroneous—I hereby retract the language used by me towards Mr. Sims on the said 13th of June, 1877, and apologize for all that occurred on that occasion.

What the Bilious Require.

Since torpidity of the liver is the chief cause of its disorder, it is evident that what the bilious require is an alterative stimulant which will arouse it to activity, an effect that is followed by the disappearance of the various symptoms indicative of its derangement. Hbster's Stomach Bitters invariably achieve the primary result mentioned, besides removing the constipation, flatulence, heartburn, yellowness of the skin and whites of the eyes, pain in the right side and under the right shoulder, nausea, vertigo and sick headache, to which bilious invalids are peculiarly subject. As a remedy for chronic indigestion, mental despondency and nervousness the Bitters are equally efficacious, and as a renovant of lost vigor, a means of arresting premature decay, and a source of relief from the infirmities to which the gentler sex is peculiarly subject, they may be thoroughly relied upon.

Married.

WALTER SHARP—At the Presbyterian Church, Plaquemine, La., Thursday evening, June 28, 1877, by Rev. Mr. Linn of Baton Rouge, Mr. W. J. WALTER to Miss CLARA E. SHARP, daughter of A. B. Sharp, Esq.

Our first promission of the auspicious event above noted came a fortnight since in the shape of two dainty cards inviting our attendance at the ceremony and a reception to follow it; and intelligence of its consummation was pleasantly conveyed by a piece of dainty bride's cake which reached us by special messenger on Sunday. Mr. Walter has won a prize in the lottery of life, and judging from the information we have received, he will doubtless prove worthy of it. We return thanks to the young couple for their kind remembrance, and bespeak for them long and unalloyed experience of the happiness which attends the union of pure and truly loving hearts.

Judgment.

Alice Celestine Gondran, wife of Emile L. Weber, vs. Her Husband.
PARISH COURT OF ASCENSION.

THIS case having been fixed for trial was accordingly taken up pursuant to assignment. The law and the evidence being in favor of plaintiff, Alice C. Gondran, and against her husband, Emile Louis Weber, doct., it is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed that the community of acquets and gains heretofore existing between the said plaintiff and defendant be and it is hereby dissolved, and that there be a separation of property between the said parties. It is further ordered and decreed that the plaintiff have the full and free administration of her paratrimonial property which she may become possessed of, either by donation, succession or otherwise.

Thus done, read and signed in open Court on this 7th day of June, 1877, Parish of Ascension.
(Signed) H. O. MAHEE,
Judge.
