KILLING OF WM. TURNER.-A party of olored men were playing dice in a small building adjoining the store of Mr. J. E. Landry in Lacroix Bend, last Sanday afternoon, about 1:80 o'clock, when a quarrel occurred between Wm. Turner and Warren McCray, two of the gamblers. Turner, who was the aggressor in the dispute, fired from his breeches pocket at his antagonist, and as McCray was running from the building Turner drew a pistol and fired decretery Paul Leche last Monday and re- first shot, some running out and others hudtwice at Turner in return, both bullets an exclamation and ran out doors to the gallery of the store, where he fell and expired almost instantly. Thirteen bystanders were arrested and placed in jail until the following day, when Coroner Duffel held an examination and ascertained def initely that Jenkins had done the shooting that resulted in the death of Turner. All the other prisoners where thereupon released, but Jenkins is held to await a judi cial investigation of the affray. From all appearances it is a case of justifiable homicide, as Turner acted in an outrageon manner and seemed bent upon com mitting murder when he was himself killed According to the certificate of the Coroner's inquest one of the bullets that struck Turleft shoulder, breaking the second rib, passand W. We had the pleasure of being one of the small party of friends and guests that witnessed the anspicious ceremony above recorded, and we take occasion to repeat in an editorial capacity the good wishes already extended the young couple individually. Mr. Walther is the head blacksmith on Mr. Heirne's Clark plantation. and is not only a first-class mechanic, but him the respect and regard of all who know him. The bride is an amiable and charming young lady from West Feliciana, whose attrac-tions of person and character, have made her a favorite in a large circle of friends and ac naintances. Owing to the recent bereavement istained by Mrs. Moser—the bride's aunt—th wedding was a very quiet affair, attended by only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties, but to the congratulations of those in attendance will be added the felicitations of a host of absent well wishers. Mr. and Mrs. Walther are stopping in Port Barrow for the present, but will next week establish themselves in a little cottage on the Clark place, near the railway station, where we hope they will have a home as happy as any in the land.
