Louis Riel, the convicted leader of the half-breed rebellion in Northwest Canada, was hanged at Regina last Monday. His execution has caused great indignation among the French Canadians and the government is taking precautions against threatened outbreaks.

The Iberville South, one of the largest, neatest and most popular county papers in the State, has entered its tenth volume. We congratulate Brother Bryan upon the circumstance and hope that he and his splendid paper will continue for many years to prosper among the good people of Iberville, whose interests it so worthily represents and champions. In short, we have our neighboring parish will ever have a solid South.

The Southern Bi-monthly is published at Louisville, Ky., by Messrs. B. F. Avery & Sons. Subscription price $2 per annum.

A great many of the readers of the Chief will be pleased to hear that Mr. F. Marie has embarked in the family grocery saloon and oyster business in New Orleans at the corner of Damme and Royal streets. Mr. Marie has served the people of the sugar districts in various ways, viz. in the Legislature of 1868, in the Constitutional Convention of 1873, and being elected again to the Legislature and being elected again to the position by the Wheeler Compromise and after that time served ten years and six months in the railway mail service upon the Morgan road. His country friends may rely upon him being ready to attend to any orders they may send, or dispose of produce for them to best advantage.

Have used Tomaline in rheumatism, and it acted like a charm. My patient had not walked for over eighteen months, and is now able to take a few steps and steadily improving. J. L. Husted, M. D., Washington, Ohio.

The Chief's Washington correspondent expresses the comforting opinion that "The Senate will not bother with any reciprocity treaties this winter, as the administration is dead against them. Mr. Bayard is a carefully tucked-up man. Foster's Spanish treaty away in a pigeon-hole where it will be allowed to lie permanently. Congressman Townsend of Illinois spent several hours with the President urging the adoption of his plan for a customs union between the American Republics, under which there would be free trade among the nations of this hemisphere, and probably the President will give the scheme some attention, but I do not believe he will recommend it. The Nicaragua Canal treaty will be renewed with some modification, so as to recognize the rights of Costa Rica, and the route has been somewhat changed as the result of the last survey by Mr. Moncaul."

I was troubled with chronic catarrh and gas-thrums in the head, and at times had discharges from the ears, unable to breathe through the nose. Before the recent battle of El's Campaign I was cured. C. J. Corbin, 23 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

I have been treated for catarrh by eminent physicians, but nothing has ever benefited me. I have been cured by Dr. G. H. Tichenor, 181 Pippawa Street, New Orleans, La.

A SUGGESTIVE COMPARISON.

Appropos of the decisive Republican victory at the recent State election in Pennsylvania the New Orleans States, a staunch advocate of tariff for revenue only, remarks that "the immense iron and coal interests of Pennsylvania will always keep the people of that State on the side of the party that favors protection." Why, then, should not the immense sugar interests of Louisiana keep the people of this State "on the side of the party that favors protection?" Does iron need more protection than sugar? Are our planters better able to maintain their leading industry against foreign competition than the coal and iron producers of Pennsylvania? Or is the political attitude of the benighted Pennsylvania to be ascribed to their inability to comprehend what is best for their own interests? One thing is apparent: If the coal and iron men are right, the sugar people who refuse to support the party of protection are wrong. Let us reason together and try to ascertain whether there is a mote in the eye of our Northern brother or a beam in our own.

If you know a good shirt when you see it you should call at Kline's Old Reliable Store and look at the new stock just received from Philadelphia. They are selling at only $1 each and are the best shirts ever offered here for the money.

LITTLE WARS IN THE EAST.

War between Barak and England has been proclaimed by King Theobald of the former country, whose proclamation has been signed by all the members of the Barak Cabinet. King Theobald is said to have ordered the extermination of all Englishmen in Barak, and to have subsidized 15,000 Dacia to cross the frontier and begin plundering and murdering. Lord Dufferin, Viceroy of India, has ordered General Pendergast, commander of the Barak expeditionary force, to invade that country. The British government proposes to declare Theobald.

Serbia has declared war against Bulgaria, and several battles have been fought on Bulgarian soil. The first conflicts were favorable to the Servians, but their advance towards Sofia, the Bulgarian capital, has been checked. Prince Milan of Serbia and Prince Alexander of Bulgaria lead their main armies in person.

The Balkan Conference in session at Constantinople is expected to reach an agreement that will put a stop to hostilities between Serbia and Bulgaria, checkmate the attempted union of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia and change Greece's warlike attitude.

MRS. M. ISRAEL & CO.

In looking over an accumulation of old clippings which represent a portion of the arduous labor performed by the able scribes of the Chief's editor during the past six months or so, we came across an item which reminded us of the fact that a most astounding event, occurring some time ago, has not yet been reported in our columns.

We refer to the refusal of a Postmaster's commission by a citizen of Louisiana. Of course the hero of the unprecedented instance of self-abnegating patriotism was an editor, for as a Baton Rouge contemporary truthfully remarked at the time, "No one but a newspaper man would decline a post-office." The individual in question was Mr. A. C. McKensie of the Bastrop Clarion, whose characteristic declaration, addressed to First Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson, stamps the author a Bill-Nye-Peck's Son humorist of the deepest dye. It was as follows:

Kind and Considerate Sir:—I am informed by your department that the post-office at this place has been placed in my clean hands. I write you to say that I do not want to be Postmaster here or anywhere else in the world. I would rather be right than Postmaster. I hope I am right in refusing a $300 office that exacts a $12,000 bond. I therefore respectfully decline the appointment, with the hope that you will not think hard of yours, in haste.

A. C. MCKENSIE.

ROLY BOLDY BEATEN.—About 200 people assembled at Cleveland Park last Sunday, to witness the half-mile race between Mr. John Reynolds's sorrel horse Creover and Mr. M. Schenberg's celebrated light Roly Boly. The start was effected without difficulty, both horses darting off as quick as a flash when the word was given. Creover obtained a slight lead and increased it to fifteen or twenty feet at the first turn, where Roly Boly's rider fell off, thus virtually putting the little horse out of the race. Creover came around at a rattling pace and crossed the line amid the enthusiastic shouts of his backers. Roly Boly followed as far as the ladies' stand, where he stopped and was secured. His rider, a little colored boy from Assumption parish, sustained a severe injury of one leg, the flesh having been deeply gashed above the knee. Mr. Frank Brinker, assisted by several others, bandaged the limb so as to arrest the flow of blood and had the boy sent to a physician's office. Attributing the defeat of their favorite to this unfortunate accident, the backers of Roly Boly seem anxious for another whack at Creover, and a second race between these horses will probably be arranged for an early date. The event would be sure to attract great interest.

Broadened Dress Goods, 250 pieces, a 50 yard, for sale by Mrs. M. Israel & Co.

Mr. Isaiah Garrett was recently appointed Postmaster of Maurice, La., vice Julius Emenough, removed. One of our Democratic exchanges remarks, "There was no charge against Mr. Emenough except that he was a Republican, which seems to be a slight departure from the civil service reform policy."

No Mystery About It.
There are no mysterious secrets about the compounding of Brown's Iron Bitters. This preparation of iron is the only one that can be taken without injuring the teeth or stomach. It gives vigor to the feeble, life to the debilitated, and health to the dyspeptic. You need not fear to give it to the most delicate child. Mrs. Emma Williams of Starkweather, Miss. says: "It relieved my daughter of dyspepsia, and myself of general debility."

ASSUMPTION AFFAIRS.

A Resume of Past, Present and Prospective Events in Our Neighboring Parish.

From our Special Correspondent.

The regular jury term of District Court for November convened at Napoleonville on Monday, the 2nd inst. Hon. Arthur F. Knoblock presiding. Mr. Henry B. Foley, Jr., was selected foreman of the annually dark-complected Grand Jury, nearly three-fourths of the members being colored, but belonging to a class of that race endowed with a fair degree of intelligence. The Judge, with his accustomed modest and unassuming manner, delivered a clear, concise and forcible charge to this important body, which was deservedly commended by all for its straightforward, manly and thoughtful tone. Judge Knoblock is a fearless, capable and conscientious officer and in a social point of view, unexceptionably amiable, agreeable and entertaining. He is a devoted member of the church, strongly attached to his friends and to his domestic duties, and so filled with the milk of human kindness that he has incurred the genuine enmities of the over-fertile for alleged undue leniency in the infliction of the pains and penalties of the law in criminal cases. If this reflection has any just foundation, it is solely attributable to the innate goodness of heart and warm Christian temperament of the man. For my own part, such inferences are premature and have no solid basis to rest upon.

Of our District Attorney, Col. E. A. O'Sullivan, to whose exalted abilities as a public officer allusion has been made in a former communication, I can truly say that in his social, family and religious life, he might be faithfully styled the counter-part of Judge Knoblock. He, to the utter horror of the jail-feathered tribe, is like Confederate money, always on hand, up to the chin in work in the banner criminal parish of the State.

In this connection, I must not omit to apprise you that the old story of Assumption jail breaking repeated itself here on the 24th ult. Four of the colored inmates escaped and up to this date only one of the fugitives has been recaptured. They effected an exit by displacing the brick in the northern wall of the parish prison. No censure whatever can apply to our vigilant and efficient Sheriff or his equally reliable and faithful deputies, as the occurrence was attributable solely to the insecure, flimsy and dilapidated character of the old trap provided by the parochial authorities for the confinement of public malefactors.

On the 16th I treated myself to a sugar-house excursion, selecting as the objective point the admirably arranged sugar factory of my hospitable and progressive friend, Gen. W. B. Ratliff, which is located a short distance from Napoleonville, on the opposite side of the bayou. I was unfortunate in finding everything cooled down and my friend of many years standing busy occupied in superintending the elongation of the section pipe of the water pump, rendered necessary by the falling of the beyond.

Mr. Auguste Mondoux, one of the sugar-makers and managers par excellence of this State and a valued old-time friend, was found at the sugar-house and rendered my brief visit one of the most pleasant, instructive and entertaining that I ever experienced.

In the evenings cooling or drying apartments were discovered in abundant evidence of plenty of "linked sweetness long drawn out," on which my juvenile daughter and grandson went to work with a determination that fully illustrated the old saw, "Their eyes were larger than their stomachs." What most attracted my attention were the, extensive changes, the internal and external purities of the sugar-house had undergone since my last inspection of this building, and more especially the exquisite neatness, perfect order, well regulated regimen observed by the friend Bordeaux in the interior and exterior regulations and dispositions relating to the painting, whitewashing and cleanliness of his favorite place of abode from childhood.

—for he was literally born in a sugar-house, the son of a skillful sugar-maker. His mother, while attending his father in Peire Botier's sugar-house, gave birth to this chip of the old block more than half a century ago.

Henry Weil, Esq., one of the most intelligent young citizens of Paincourtville, has become a partner of his father, Louis Weil, and their business is now conducted in the name of L. Weil & Son. Young Weil is an active, shrewd and enterprising young merchant, and will prove a valuable auxiliary to the old reliable and extensive wholesale and retail dry goods and grocery establishment of L. Weil & Son. He informed me to-day that he would make an early visit to the Chief with a view of negotiating for an "ad," in which event I commend him to your kind civilities.

The writ of prohibition applied for by the parties whose lands were sold for taxes under Act 82 of 1884, and to which reference has been made in the Chief, has been denied by the Supreme Court. This action therefore confirms the decision of the Fifth Circuit Court that sales under Sheriff's tax deeds are valid. Let taxpayers make a note of this and govern themselves accordingly. It is evident that the courts have finally determined that the legislative enactments relating to the collection of the public revenues must be strictly enforced.

Sugar rolling is progressing rapidly now and but few accidents of consequence have occurred. The recent copious frosts have materially increased the yield, which, together with the steady stand of prices, inspire our planters with hopes of a profitable season. Judge Taylor Beattie has at last succeeded in securing a situation as sugar maker on his Dixie plantation, in Lafourche parish. It appears that the regularly employed sugar maker was discharged for good cause, and in the emergency, his helper pulled off his coat and filled the vacuum, and is expending in making first-class sugar, a sample of which he proposes to send to neighboring editors. Of course the Chief will not be neglected.

Our stock of percale shirts is immense—over 500 different styles at Mrs. M. Israel & Co's.

Col. A. L. Tucker of Franklin, La., one of the oldest, ablest and most esteemed lawyers in the State, died at his home last Saturday, aged 65 years.
