Mary Dorcas Perdue.

The old proverb that those whom the Gods love die young is recalled by the death of Mary Dorcas Perdue, who died a brief life of only four weeks in Hope Villa on the 10th instant. There is something particularly sad and touching in the death of young people. Especially is this the case when the deceased seems called by exceptional talents to a lofty position.

This little girl was unusually bright and promising. Her brief and uneventful life has closed. The memory of it abides with her family and with all who knew her.

A striking characteristic of this young girl's life was her unselfishness; her thoughtful and constant care for the happiness of all around her. Though suffering only one day with a disease that baffled the skill of the physician, she never was known to murmur or repine and to any inquiry as to her health her cheery, uniform reply was, "Better." It seemed that she concealed as far as possible her painful illness, lest the knowledge of it might mar the happiness of those she loved so well. The girl was unselfish, pure-hearted little girl, accept the inevitable decree without a murmur or a sigh.

"Sweetly as to a night's repose" she passed into that world where those who have faith in God will be met by him—where partings are said to be unknown. A FRIEND.

Woodmen Camp Instituted.

A new camp of Woodmen was instituted at Labadieville on Thursday by Robert Henderson, of Donaldsonville, acting as a special deputy of the sovereign camp. Thirty-five members were initiated in the evening, eight will transfer, and fifteen applications were favorably passed upon, giving the new organization a total membership of fifty-eight. The following officers were elected and installed: Albert Morvant, president; Dr. Charles Clifton, first vice; Dr. H. C. Dansereau, second vice; R. J. Gros, clerk; Gus. Villere, banker; T. X. Landry, escort; Leo Boudreaux, watchman; Emile Gaudet, sentry; Dr. H. C. Dansereau, chaplain; J. J. J. Toups and L. M. Poise, managers. The camp will be known as Willow No. 409, and begins its career under the most favorable auspices. Mr. Henderson, who is the efficient clerk of the local camp, and who has been very highly complimented for his good work in Woodmen ranks by the sovereign camp at Omaha, was extended a flattering vote of thanks by the new camp for his untiring efforts in making Willow No. 409 a reality.

BLUES ANNEX TWO.

Local Diamond Heroes Goose-Egg O'Hare not in the Gonzales Appeal Case, and Hand Similar Lemon, to Napoleonville Reds on Thursday.

Game Tomorrow.

That the O'Hare-Carrigans of New Orleans are not as warm as they're cracked up to be was the opinion of the four hundred and fifty enthusiastic fans who saw the visitors go down in ignominious defeat at Cleveland Park last Sunday afternoon before the redoubtable Donaldsonville Blues, who, by the way, have lost but one game since they donned their new name and uniforms. The locals played like lions and put it all over their opponents, winning hands down by a score of 4 to 0. Of the three runs tallied in the first inning two were earned, being netted from Ivens' two-bagger and successive singles by H. Weber, D. Weber and Schomberg. The third run resulted from a miscue on the part of the visitors, as did that chalked up in the seventh. In the latter inning Bias, after being poked on the arm and transported to first, was sacrificed to second by Ivens, went to third on D. Weber's screaming single to center field, and scored when Ford threw wild to third in an attempt to nail the runner at that bag. Yentzen was in line for and held the O'Hare-Carrigans down to four scattered hits, none of which came at anything like a critical moment. Harry Weber officiated behind the bat in place of Bias, who was unable to don the mask because of injuries received during the week, and held down the difficult position like an old-timer, declining to permit the Orleansians to steal a single base. Here's a story of the game in figures:

On Thursday the Blues journeyed to Napoleonville and trimmed the mighty legs of that town in a fast and interesting game, the score being 2 to 0. Gondolf was on the burling hill for the locals and gave up but two measly hits, twirling in fine form throughout the contest with a wet ball and holding the heavy-hitting Assumptionites completely at his mercy. His support was of the gut-edged variety, the Blues playing rings around their heretofore invincible opponents and outclassing them in all departments of the game. The first Assumptionite, Gondolf's two runs was earned. Bias reaching first on a safety, being sacrificed to second and scoring on a red-hot single by Chastant. The tally in the seventh inning resulted from a base on balls, a sacrifice and a hit.

Tomorrow afternoon the locals will tie up with the fast Whitecastle team, which includes in its lineup such well-known players as Gondolf, Ramires, Aycock, Abell, Aosta and Creoli, the two last-named being Donaldsonvillians and former Pelicans. The Blues have demonstrated their ability to hold their own in any kind of company, and confidently expect to add Whitecastle to their list of victims tomorrow. The game will be started promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

On Sunday, Aug. 25, a big double-header will be pulled off at Cleveland Park, with Plaquemine meeting Napoleonville and Whitecastle scrapping Donaldsonville. These four teams are recognized as the strongest and fastest amateur aggregations in this section of the state, and as intense rivalry exists between them for championship honors, it goes without saying that both games will be hotly contested from start to finish and well worth witnessing. The fun will begin at 2:30 o'clock, and the following prices of admission will prevail: Gentlemen, 50 cents; ladies and children, 25 cents.

PAROID is the best ready roofing ever made. You can prove it to your own satisfaction from a sample, but a better way is to use it. All we ask is that you try it, and we make the way easy.

Here's Our Offer:

Could we afford to make such an offer if we were not sure that Paroid is better than other ready roofings?

It is better; we are sure; and this is why:

Four things enter into the making of a good roofing: The felt; the saturation; the coating; and the method of laying. Paroid excels on all four points.
