Opdenweyer, of the Opdenweyer Lumber Company, and his niece, Miss Thelma Opdenweyer, went to Boston to attend the exercises, and on the homeward trip, accompanied by the fair young graduates, visited New York city and Washington for a few days. Come to Donaldsonville July 14 and see the firmen's parade.

Miss Sims Entertains. One of the most delightful affairs of the week was the linen shower given Tuesday afternoon by Miss Nita Sims complimentary to Miss Ethel Landry, whose marriage to Ferrier Blanchard will take place shortly. Receiving with the gracious young hostess were her mother, Mrs. R. N. Sims, and Mesdames E. A. Lawless and G. Donnaud Bentley. The attractive color scheme, pink and white in the reception and dining-rooms, and red in the library and hall, was faithfully carried out in every detail, the decorations used being a wealth of hearts, arrows, cut flowers, palms and ferns. Each guest was handed a pink heart with the names of the prospective bride and groom inscribed upon it, and a trophy was offered to the one making the largest number of words in a stated time from the letters contained in the names. Much merriment ensued and at the conclusion of the contest the prize was awarded to Miss Genevieve Baer. The bride-elect was then requested to search for the gifts which were hidden throughout the rooms, each place being designated by a pink or red arrow. She was then escorted back to the drawing-room, where the many bundles were opened amid a shower of good wishes and congratulations. The guests later repaired to the dining-room, where a tempting luncheon was served from an attractively decorated buffet table. Delicious fruit punch was served in the hall by Misses Josie Vee St. Martin and Matt Colomb, who wore chic lingerie gowns and dainty aprons, while Misses Pauline Bloomensiel, Alice Sims and Edna Dalferes, wearing similar frocks, were the pretty little tea girls. Those who enjoyed the pleasures of the occasion were: Misses Marjorie Hanson, Dorothy Fell, Anna Henderson, Fannie Bert Nelson, Aimee Maurin, Leona Maurin, Hilda Park, Blanche Landry, Coline and Marie Ruteau, Alice Kock, Lillian Lange, Ola Poche, Rosalie Landry, Vernon Buquet, Mary White, Adele Blum, Lailie Colomb, Nita Sims, Genevieve Baer, Irene Lawless, Angie Lorio, Pauline Bloomensiel, Matt Colomb, Edna Dalferes, Josie Vee St. Martin, Alice Sims, and Mesdames P. L. Blanchard, H. G. McCall, Jacob Blum, R. N. Sims, E. A. Lawless and G. Donnaud Bentley. Fourth of July Celebration. An enjoyable event was the celebration of the Fourth of July at the hospitable home of Mrs. J. W. Russell, at Belle Helene. Patriotic songs were rendered by Harry Blair and Misses Elma Blair, Gertrude, Helen and Hilda Klos, Florence Tagaron, and Irma Malm, after which a banquet was served in the pavilion, which was beautifully decorated with ferns, palm-trees and United States flags. Those who participated were: Misses Clara, Mary, Bertha and Irene Stuart, Louise Dickson, Lillian Proctor, Irma Malm, Edna, Gertrude, Helen, Hilda and Wilhelmina Klos, Elma Blair, Florence Tagaron, Inez Chrisman, Messrs. Alvin Rochelle, Harry Blair, R. Russell, J. C. Joyce, E. C. Klos, R. Jones, W. Jones, L. A. Hart, Archie Stuart, Louis Tagaron, H. J. Many, Louis Roe, Mr. and Mrs. H. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chrisman, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Melancon, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lorio, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jones, Mrs. J. C. Klos, Mrs. Boisac and Mrs. J. W. Russell. Poche-Genre. Miss Marie Genre, youngest daughter of Mrs. Agie Genre, of Cornerview, and Leonie P. Poche, formerly of Dutchtown, but presently located at Gramercy, were married at a solemn nuptial mass at the Church of the Sacred Heart, in Cornerview, at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, Rev. J. C. Gonon officiating. The bride was becomingly gowned in a robe of silk mail trimmed with Irish point lace, and wore a brooch that has been in her mother's family for a century and a quarter. She was led to the altar by her brother, F. L. Genre. The groom, attended by his best man, John A. Marchand, Jr., awaited the bride at the chancel rail. Mrs. A. S. Genre, of Garyville, officiated at the organ and during the ceremony sang several pretty selections, accompanied by her husband and Prof. Felix LeBlanc. The bridal party were tendered a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Broussard which lasted until train time, when the young couple departed for a honeymoon tour. Swing Fund. The Chief again directs attention to the fund inaugurated by Jasmin Tobias for the purpose of purchasing lawn swings to be placed in Louisiana squares, and appeals to the good people of the community to foster the worthy movement and make such contributions as their means may allow. There has been but one donation to the fund this week, a subscription of 50 cents from Miss Anna May Aisen, and this young lady merits commendation for the public spirit and civic pride displayed by her contribution to this laudable enterprise. We hope there will be numerous accessions to the fund during the coming week, and that in the early future it will be our pleasure to report that a sufficient amount has been secured to accomplish the object in view. A handsome new line of men's clothing, shoes and hats, comprising the very latest and most popular styles, has just been received at Cheap Tom's. The ladies are cordially invited to call and look over the recent arrivals of trimmed and untrimmed hats, shapes and millinery requisites. A plate of delicious ice cream is very refreshing these summer evenings. Winter's wason will deliver it at your door daily.

Negress Murdered by Paramour. Virginia Ruffin, a negress about 25 years old, was stabbed to death between 8:30 and 9 o'clock Monday night by her paramour, Tom Ruffin, the tragedy being enacted at the corner of St. Patrick and Charles street, near the cabin occupied by the couple. The murderer used a very narrow, sharp-pointed weapon, presumably a dirk, the keen blade entering the woman's breast about three inches below the neck, between the first and second ribs on the left side of the body, penetrating downward a distance of several inches. After sustaining the fatal wound, the negress was assisted into a store building in front of which the encounter occurred, and was being lowered to a sitting posture when she fell to the floor and expired. During the excitement the murderer made his escape, and has not yet been apprehended. The couple had just left a store diagonally across the street from where the killing took place, and it is said they were quarrelling. Still engaged in a heated discussion, they walked toward their home and had reached the northeast corner of the street when the man suddenly pulled out a dirk and plunged it into the woman's bosom. Dr. D. C. Brumfield, of Darrow, corner of the parish, reached the scene shortly after the killing and held an inquest. One of the negro woodchoppers on the river notified the police Tuesday morning that his skiff had been stolen the night before, and the theory is that perhaps the fleeing negro took possession of the boat and made his way across or down the river. Dies from Kick of Horse. Desire Poirrier, a well-known resident of Smoke Bend, died at his home in that settlement at 12:55 o'clock last Monday morning, from the effects of injuries sustained by being kicked in the abdomen by a horse. The accident occurred June 24. Mr. Poirrier had gone to the cistern in his yard to get a bucket of water, and was passing behind a horse belonging to a neighbor, Florian Arceneaux, when the animal became excited and commenced kicking. One of the kicks struck Mr. Poirrier in the abdomen, causing internal injuries of the intestines, from which general peritonitis resulted. Deceased was fifty years of age, and had resided in this parish all his life. He is survived by two brothers, Messrs. Camille Poirrier, of the city, and Emile Poirrier, of St. James, and one sister, Mrs. Dominique Variani, of Donaldsonville. Firmen's Parade July 14. Everything is in readiness for the anniversary parade and celebration of the Donaldsonville fire department to be held Sunday, July 14, and if the weather is favorable the fête promises to be an exceptionally successful and enjoyable event. The decoration of the apparatuses has been completed, and it is said that not only are the subjects to be illustrated by the different companies entirely new and original, but that the embellishment of the several floats will be much more elaborate and striking than in former years. The parade will form in Louisiana Square at 5 o'clock p. m., and will traverse the principal streets of the city. At night there will be a grand firmen's ball at the hall of Protective Hose Company No. 4, under the auspices and for the benefit of that organization. Babin-Landry. A very pretty ceremony took place at St. John's Church in New Orleans on Tuesday, June 24, when Raymond Babin, of Whitecastle, and Miss Yolande Landry, of Hohen Solms, were united in wedlock. Alvin Rochelle, of Belle Helene, served as best man, and Miss Ida Landry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a beautiful pink embroidered dress, and the bride was gowned in a lovely traveling suit of champagne satin, with hat to match. The happy couple left shortly after the ceremony for St. Louis, where Mr. Babin has a lucrative position. Their many friends join in wishing them much happiness. When on rising in the morning you feel tired and sleepy, and your back and limbs ache, you need something to increase and refresh your circulation. No need to remain with that feeling. Nyal's Tonic, with Nyal's Pills to restore the liver to activity, will remove that feeling. Next week at Elmer's, special, 79 cents. To keep posted on local news, subscribe to The Chief.

DEATH OF MAJOR S. A. POCHE. Distinguished Confederate Veteran and Beloved Citizen Passes Into Eternity, After Two Weeks Illness with Pneumonia—Splendid Military Record. Major Simon A. Poche, gallant Confederate veteran, native and lifelong resident of Louisiana, and distinguished citizen of Donaldsonville for more than twenty-five years, died at 8 o'clock Thursday morning at his home in Chetimaches street, after an illness of two weeks with pneumonia. Major Poche contracted the fatal malady as the result of sitting on the gallery of his home to cool off after having become overheated by physical exercise, and although he made a game fight against the dreaded illness, his advanced age militated against his recovery and he was finally forced to succumb to the heavy odds against which he battled so bravely. He was conscious to the last and bade his relatives and friends an affectionate farewell, stating that he realized the end was inevitable and was prepared to enter the presence of his Maker. His death was tranquil and painless—a fitting close to a life nobly spent. Major Poche was a native of St. James parish, aged eighty-one years and five months, and had resided in Donaldsonville since 1866. He was a mechanical engineer of exceptional ability and patented several very successful mechanical devices. For many years he was employed as chief engineer of various large Louisiana sugar factories, among them being those of the Shadyside Planting Co., in St. Mary parish, and the Leumann Co., Ltd., in Ascension. At the outbreak of the civil war Mr. Poche enlisted in the Chasseurs of St. James parish, under command of the late Capt. Alfred Roman. A short time afterward the company proceeded to Camp Moore, where the Eighteenth Louisiana Regiment was organized, with Alfred Mouton as colonel, Alfred Roman as lieutenant-colonel, and William Mouton as major. While the regiment was in winter quarters at Camp Lewis, above New Orleans, Mr. Poche was elected second lieutenant of Co. B, the captain being E. C. Mire, and the first lieutenant Leopold Armand. In April, 1862, the 18th Louisiana was ordered to Corinth, Tenn., and there incorporated into a brigade with Gen. Ruggles commanding. Shortly afterward the brigade proceeded to Pittsburg Landing, where the Louisianians, under Col. Mouton, fought against two federal gunboats, the Lexington and Tyler. The regiment was then ordered to the front and participated in the battle of Shiloh, retreating after the second day's fight to Corinth, where it stood a siege of nearly two months. At the battle of Shiloh, Lieut. Poche was promoted to the captaincy of his company. From Corinth the regiment proceeded in turn to Tupelo, Chattanooga, Mobile and Vicksburg, and from the latter city, then in the hands of the Confederates, it was despatched to the Teche country to join General Dick Taylor's army preparatory to resisting the invasion of Louisiana by General Banks' federal forces. The regiment took part in the battle of Mansfield, Capt. Poche's company being the first to open fire on the enemy, a detachment of cavalry, which they drove back. In the last hour of the fighting Col. Armand, commanding the regiment, was killed. General Mouton had been slain earlier in the action and Capt. Poche, badly wounded in the thigh, was left on the battlefield among the dead and dying. He was laid up by his wounds for three months, and upon recovering rejoined his regiment, surrendering at Natchitoches in June, 1863. A few years ago Capt. Poche was appointed an aide de camp, with the rank of major, on the staff of General Schaeffer, then commanding the Louisiana Division of the United Confederate Veterans. He was one of the organizers of Major Victor Maurin Camp No. 28, E. C. V., and was its commander from the date of organization until his death. Major Poche's wife, nee Belzire Chapman, died years ago. He is survived by four sons, Messrs. W. A. and Alfred Poche, of St. James; P. Alex. Poche, of this city; and S. George Poche, of Belle Rose, and one daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Byrnes of Donaldsonville. The funeral took place Friday morning at 9 o'clock, and was one of the largest and most imposing corteges ever seen in this community. Hundreds of people from all walks of life accompanied the remains of the deceased soldier to their last resting place, and the local Confederate organizations were represented by large delegations. The members of Major Victor Maurin Camp constituted a guard of honor to the body of their late commander. Impressive services were held at Ascension church, Rev. J. M. T. Massard officiating, after which internment was made in the veterans' tomb in the Catholic cemetery. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent, and the casket was completely covered with these fragrant emblems of love and memory. The death of Major Poche deprives Donaldsonville of one of its oldest and most beloved citizens, and takes from the fast-thinning ranks of the veterans of the Lost Cause a noted figure. The entire community mourns the passing of this patriarch and hero, and the measure of sympathy extended to the bereaved family is particularly profound and sincere. Nyal's Tonic contains Peruvian Bark, known for over 100 years for its anti-malarial and appetite-giving qualities. Try it. Next week at Elmer's, special, 79 cents. Firmen's parade, July 14.

Charbon Quarantine Established. Owing to the prevalence of charbon in Livingston parish, a quarantine was instituted against that parish last Monday by Dr. Paul T. Thibodaux, health officer of Ascension. This action was taken on the complaint of Police Juror Z. J. Causey, of the eighth ward, who came to town and called the health officer's attention to the fact that charbon is epidemic in many portions of Livingston, and that cattle from that parish were being brought into Ascension in large numbers by way of the Port Vincent ferry. The ferryman, Mr. Causey declared, had positively refused to discontinue transporting these cattle across the river, although he had been requested to do so by citizens residing on the Ascension side of the stream. Acting upon Mr. Causey's protest, Dr. Thibodaux issued an order directing that no cattle from Livingston parish be allowed to be brought into Ascension unless a certificate be produced showing that the cattle have come from an uninfected neighborhood and are not in danger of contracting or spreading charbon. Mr. Causey left for home Monday evening with Dr. Thibodaux's order, and the embargo became effective the same day. Pelicans and Whitecastle Break Even. Despite a steady drizzle which set in shortly before 3 o'clock last Sunday afternoon and continued until after 4, the game between the Pelicans and Whitecastle was pulled off as per schedule, six innings being played on a soggy diamond after the cessation of the rain. The pastime, which was listless and uninteresting, resulted in a tie, each team scoring one run. Tomorrow afternoon the birds will hook up with the Bayou Goula bunch on the local grounds, and a spicy game is anticipated. Bayou Goula has a strong line-up which includes some of the clever players from Plaquemine and other Iberville towns, and hopes to put a crimp in the Pelicans' winning streak. The local boys are going nicely now, however, and will make a great effort to keep their record clean. The matinee is advertised to begin at 3:30 o'clock. SALVATED BY DANGEROUS CALOMEL. If You Ever Saw a Man Salivated, You Don't Want Any More Calomel Yourself. There's no real reason why a person should take calomel anyway, when fifty cents will buy a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant tasting vegetable liquid which will start the liver just as surely as calomel, and which has absolutely no bad after-effects. Children and grown people can take Dodson's Liver Tonic without any restriction of habit or diet. The X-Ray Pharmacy sells it and guarantees it to take the place of calomel, and will refund your money if it fails in your case. PROCEEDINGS OF POLICE JURY. MEETING AS BOARD OF REVIEW.
