DO YOU LIKE GOOD COFFEE?

OF COURSE YOU DO!

Then why not let good coffee be a standing order for your kitchen.

Why trust the selections of your foods to servants? Many of them are tempted by things offered and think little of quality.

Our coffees are roasted daily and guaranteed to be the best. Your neighbors drink none but our fresh roasted coffees. Ask them about the quality and taste.

We Specialize in Coffee, Not Premiums.

The Chief acknowledges with thanks the receipt of a beautiful weather thermometer from the Wheeler Coffee Company, of this city. The thermometer is set in an attractively painted tin case which makes it ornamental as well as useful and valuable. These thermometers are being distributed as souvenirs to the patrons of the Wheeler Coffee Company and there should be one in every home.

Got Her Good Health Out of a Bottle
Mrs. Edward Raifsnider, Wabash, Ind., says that she owes her good health to Chamberlain's Tablets. She suffered from distress after eating and constipation and was completely cured by the use of these tablets.—(Adv.)

Mrs. J. J. Lafargue underwent an operation at the Touro Infirmary, New Orleans, last Wednesday. The operation was a complete success and Mrs. Jas. S. Barman, is at her bedside. Her many friends here sincerely hope that she will soon return home completely restored to her former good health.

The Chief joins the many friends of Louis LeBlanc, chief deputy sheriff of this parish, in extending to him and his estimable wife hearty congratulations upon the advent of a splendid baby boy who arrived at their home on the 11th instant.

Mrs. S. V. Coreill of Darrow, was a pleasant caller at The Chief office Monday.

ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY.

The elections, general and primary, will take place next Tuesday. At the general election candidates for the following offices will be voted for: Presidential electors, that is candidates selected to cast Louisiana's ten votes in the electoral college for president and vice president of the United States; United States senator, congressman, railroad commissioner, judge of the court of appeals, district judge and district attorney. At the primary election candidates for delegates to the Constitutional Convention will be balloted upon.

The candidates of the Democratic party to be voted on in the general election, besides the presidential electors, are: United States senator, Edwin S. Broussard; congressman, Geo. K. Favrot; railroad commissioner, Shelby Taylor; circuit judge, Paul Leche; district judge, Sam A. LeBlanc and district attorney, Aubert L. Talbot. These men are without opposition. Their names together with those of James M. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic candidates for president and vice president, respectively, will appear under the Democratic ticket.

At the primary election, there will also be submitted to the electorate for their approval or rejection, eight proposed amendments to the constitution of the state, numbered from 1 to 8, and printed at the bottom of the official ballot in the following order:
No. 1. To levy an annual tax of one mill in aid of public education.
No. 2. Requiring police juries and the Orleans school board to levy annually a tax for school purposes.
No. 3. Relates to the organization of the board of commissioners of the port of New Orleans.
No. 4. Directing the city of New Orleans to levy a special tax of not more than 2 mills, for police and fire protection.
No. 5. Gives additional powers to the board of commissioners of the port of New Orleans.
No. 6. To increase the pensions of Confederate veterans.
No. 7. Exempts from taxation certain industries located on the Navigation canal in New Orleans, and No. 8 provides additional qualifications for voters.

The proposed amendments have been published in full in The Chief for the past sixty days, so that the readers of this paper have had ample opportunity to read and familiarize themselves with their provisions. Each amendment is to be voted upon separately for or against by stamping or marking the blank squares at the right hand side of each.

What Is Fit?

THE makers of Eagle Shirts have special methods of insuring that easy hug of the shoulder line, the perfect set of the neckband, the generous drape of the body. Such scientific fit is the result of over fifty years of manufacturing experience. An EAGLE Shirt fits as you've always wanted a shirt to fit.

THE RICE SITUATION.

New Control Committee to Begin Operations Next Monday.

The committee which was appointed recently as a result of an agreement between the growers, millers and bankers, to stabilize the market and insure a price of $5 per barrel to the producer, will begin operations next Monday at offices established at the corner of North Peters and Bienville street. The committee is composed of the following: W. B. Dunlap, president and E. A. Eignus, secretary of the Southern Rice Growers' Association; L. J. Ducharme of Little Rock, representing the Arkansas farmers; Max J. Winkler of this city, for the River Rice Growers' Association, and Frank Roberts of Lake Charles, representing the bankers.

Under the new plan agreed upon, the growers will ship all of their rice through the Southern Rice Growers' Association to their nearest mills to be milled at once. Millers, with the assistance of the banks will let the planters have $3 per barrel on their rice until the final sale is made to the consumer. Sales will be handled through the regular selling agents of the mills and will be on a basis that will net the grower 25 per cent over the rough rice.

Bodies Brought from France.

The body of Clarence Daigle, aged 23 years, an American soldier who died in France from sickness during the world war, arrived in New York Thursday and will be brought to Donaldsonville for burial. Deceased was a son of Charles Daigle, formerly a resident of Smoke Bend but now employed as chief engineer of the Smithfield sugar factory in West Baton Rouge parish, and a nephew of the Misses Theresa, Laura and Eliza Daigle of this city.

The body of Tony Montalbano, also an American soldier, who died in France from wounds received in action during the world war, arrived in New York on the same ship that brought over the remains of Clarence Daigle, and will be brought to this town for burial. He was a son of Frank Montalbano, an Italian, who conducts a store on Bayou Lafourche, near Barton.

The bodies of both soldiers will arrive here early next week.

Special Red Cross Edition.

The Chief will, in Nov. 14, issue a special Red Cross edition in connection with that organization the fourth annual call for membership and funds beginning on Armistice and ending on Thanksgiving Day. The said edition will contain much reading matter of a particularly interesting character which will be read by thousands of people and will be embellished by many attractive illustrations, thus making it an exceptional attractive advertising medium. A call will be made in a few days to the merchants and other business men of this city and they will be asked to take advertising space in the special edition which will be priced very reasonable. It is very much hoped that all will respond to the end that the advertisement columns of the said edition may reflect the splendid and progressive commercial business and professional life of our city.

Death of Miss Laura Comeaux.

After an illness of five weeks duration, Miss Laura Comeaux, member of one of the oldest and most highly respected families of this city, passed away at her home in Lessard street Wednesday night at 8:45 o'clock. Funeral took place Thursday evening at 4:30 o'clock. Services were held at the Catholic church, following which the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery. Deceased was a noble-hearted and pious woman; a devout Catholic, punctual in the performance of her religious duties and in the observation of her religious obligations. She was possessed of a sweet disposition and was loved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her loss six sisters: Mrs. F. L. Trepagnier, Misses Domitilde, Rita, Lillian and Emily, of this city, and Mrs. Walter Landry of New Orleans. To them the Chief extends deep sympathy in their great bereavement.

Perceval Bringier and Everett Noel, the former the grandson of Dr. and Mrs. Wm. M. McCalliard and the latter the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Noel, left here yesterday for New Orleans where they will be examined for admission in the United States Navy.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

This wonderful screen production will be shown at the Grand Theatre next Tuesday. The play is reviewed in a photoplay publication as follows:

"With the tremendous prestige of its success as a stage vehicle for the late Richard Mansfield behind it, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" was bound to reap as a screen attraction sooner or later. That the leading role was placed in the hands of such a capable artist as John Barrymore is a fact upon which both producers and public are to be congratulated. The film, admirably directed, beautifully photographed and presented by a capable cast, ranks not only as a Barrymore triumph but a silent drama classic of unusual strength.

"Barrymore's "Hyde" the creature of unadulterated degeneracy, fairly reeks with hideous suggestion of untold wickedness, he is not merely a sinister de luxe, but Sin incarnate, the very quintessence of raging evil. In striking contrast to this offspring of darkness stands out in bold relief the lovable figure of Jekyll, the philanthropic physician whose heart overflows with kindness for his fellow men.

"The resources of the camera enable the change from Hyde to Jekyll and vice versa to be made with such perfection of illusion as could never be attained upon the stage and the photography throughout is so skillfully handled as to bring out the full strength of the drama's thrilling situation in almost horrifying detail: "Mr. Barrymore justifies the terrible repulsiveness of the character by the truth and power of his impersonation. It is worthy to rank along side of the Mephistopheles of Henry Irving and the Bertuccio of Edwin Booth. The screen has never before known such great acting."

Similar Cases Being Published in Each Issue.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Donaldsonville. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

Tony K. Gonzales, 717 Chetmaches St., Donaldsonville, says: "Some years ago I strained my back over lifting and I suffered a great deal of misery for a long time following. My back became very lame and weak and every time I made caused in tense pains to shoot through my kidneys. I felt sore all over on getting up in the morning and my kidneys acted too frequently. Some times I was compelled to get up several times to pass the kidney secretions and lost considerable sleep. I tried different kidney remedies, but got no relief until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. It was no time before I was entirely cured of this trouble and have had no return of it since."
