

Terms of Subscription. The following rates of subscription will be rigidly adhered to in all cases: One copy, one year - $2.00 One copy, six months - $1.00 Single copies - 10 cents.

Table with 2 columns: Tariff of Advertising Rates. Columns include 'NO OF SQUARES' and '1 mo', '3 mos', '6 mos', '1 yr'.

Professional Cards. DR. THOS. Y. ABY, MONROE, LA., OFFICE: REAR ROOM OF RICHARDSON & McENERY'S Law Office.

DR. T. P. RICHARDSON, PHYSICIAN, SURGEON AND OBSTETRICIAN. OFFICE: At Dr. Calderwood's old stand.

DR. J. CALDERWOOD, OFFERS HIS PROFESSIONAL SERVICES TO the citizens of Monroe and vicinity.

Dr. R. C. Strother, OFFERS HIS PROFESSIONAL SERVICES TO the citizens of Monroe and vicinity.

W. Y. COSPER, M. D., HAVING located in the Colony, offers his professional services to the people of the parishes of the colony.

JAMES T. STROTH, ATTORNEY AT LAW, MONROE, LA.

WILL practice in the Parishes of Ouachita, Morehouse and St. Landry.

JAS. C. DREW, Collecting Agent. OFFICE: Monroe, La., with A. L. Slack, Esq.

RICHARDSON & McENERY, Attorneys at Law, MONROE, LA.

GARRETT & GARRETT, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Corner Wood and St. John Streets.

A. L. SLACK, ATTORNEY AT LAW, MONROE, LA.

J. & S. D. McENERY, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, MONROE, LA.

MORRISON & FARMER, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, MONROE, LA.

STURTS & COBB, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, MONROE, LA.

McENERY & McENERY, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, MONROE, LA.

STURTS & COBB, ATTORNEYS AT LAW, MONROE, LA.

The Ouachita Telegraph.

"ENGAGED IN THE DEFENSE OF AN HONORABLE CAUSE, I WOULD TAKE A DECISIVE PART."—JAMES.

Vol. V. Monroe, Ouachita Parish, La., Saturday, April 9, 1870. No. 29.

Hotels, Schools, Merchants, &c. Ouachita House, (CORNER OF DEBAND & THIRD STREETS.) MONROE, LA.

J. L. HUNSHKER, Proprietor. THE above named Hotel no longer and favorably known throughout the country has been refitted and newly furnished, and is now complete in every particular.

NEW HOTEL. LEWIS HOUSE, (Opposite Catholic Church and Female Academy.) MONROE, LA.

J. J. LEWIS, PROPRIETOR. THE Proprietor, formerly of the OUCHITA HOUSE, informs the public that the large and commodious residence of Col. Robt. Richardson has been purchased and handsomely furnished, and is now complete in every particular.

Vienna Institute, VIENNA, LA.

THE Trustees feel gratified in announcing to the public that the Spring Term of this Institution will be opened on the 1st Monday in February, 1870, to continue twenty weeks.

TERMS PER SESSION: Primary Department - $15.00 Intermediate Department - $20.00 Higher English and Scientific Department - $25.00

SADDLE AND HARNESS SHOP. RESPECTFULLY inform my friends and the public generally, that I am prepared to manufacture SADDLES, HARNESS, and everything in my line.

C. BOFENSCHEN, Watchmaker and Jeweler, MONROE, LA.

Watches and Jewelry, Clocks and Jewelry, Of Every Description.

All work in his line executed with neatness and dispatch, and guaranteed for 12 months.

EDWARD NALLE, R. C. CAMMACK, NALLE & CAMMACK, COTTON FACTORS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS.

NEW ORLEANS, Liberal Advances Made on Consignments of Cotton.

Carpet Warehouse. A. BROUSSEAU & CO., IMPORTERS, 19 Charles Street.

CARPETING—English and American. FLOOR FURNITURE and painted Oil Cloths.

Ro. W. ESTLIN, Cotton Factor AND COMMISSION MERCHANT, No. 186 GRAVIER STREET, NEW ORLEANS.

A. B. GRISWOLD & Co., Corner Canal & Royal Sts., New Orleans.

IMPORTERS OF FINE WATCHES, CLOCKS, Jewelry, Fancy Goods, Cutlery, Guns and Pistols.

DENTAL NOTICE. HAVING determined to settle permanently in Monroe for the purpose of practicing my profession, I can be found at my office opposite the south-east corner of the public square.

MEN OF THE OLDEN TIME.

SOME OF EX-GOV. SEYMOUR'S RECOLLECTIONS OF THEM.

The last lecture of the course before the Utica Mechanics' Association was delivered at Mechanics' Hall by Gov. Seymour, last evening.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

Gov. Seymour introduced his subject by referring to the remarkable body of men, who forty years ago assembled in the halls of Congress, and occupied prominent places before the American public.

terized by eminent public men as "he from Onedia county who excels us all in debate." Although now nearly forgotten even here, he was the greatest American orator after Patrick Henry.

Attorney General Talcott, also of this county, was at times grand in his eloquence. Chief Justice Marshall said that Talcott made the greatest legal argument he ever listened to.

In conclusion, the speaker believed that the average American intellect was improving, but diverted from the channels where these men sought renown.

A MORE RASCALLY BUSINESS THAN THE CADET SALES.—"Mack," Washington Correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

There is a source of corruption even worse than the sale of cadetships, and which, if thoroughly investigated, would involve more men and make more disagreeable revelations than any subject ever brought before Congress.

Mr. Seymour met John Quincy Adams in Washington, and at his residence met Henry Clay.

Adams was described as a small man with a frigid, uninviting, formal manner. This reserve he attributed to the early associations thrown around Adams in his youth.

Gen. Jackson was a tall, erect, commanding man, with much of the military chieftain in his appearance, strong willed, and perhaps possessed of a quick temper.

In person, John C. Calhoun was not unlike Jackson, except that Calhoun possessed wonderful eyes. He had a keen insight into the future, and was a prophet rather than a conspirator.

Between Clay, Jackson and Calhoun the resemblance was wonderful. It was because Clay and Jackson were so much alike that they hated each other as they did.

Webster was characterized as the greatest, and yet the weakest of them all. By nature intended for a writer and a student, and yet a great man, great wherever placed.

Among men from Onedia county, Henry R. Storrs was characterized by eminent public men as "he from Onedia county who excels us all in debate."

Prosperity is the nurse of anger.

Venomous Forgiveness.

Under this head the Chicago Times descants at length upon Butler's bill for the removal of political disabilities.

The bill is intended to humiliate applicants for amnesty. It places on the records of the courts, to remain forever, what is intended to be testimony against the petitioner and his memory.

A chief object of the bill is to clog amnesty with conditions so expensive, vexatious and humiliating that but few persons will take advantage of it.

There is a source of corruption even worse than the sale of cadetships, and which, if thoroughly investigated, would involve more men and make more disagreeable revelations than any subject ever brought before Congress.

Gen. Farnsworth has given notice that he will move, as a substitute for Butler's bill, that the political disabilities of all citizens which have ratified the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments to the Constitution, be removed in all of the States.

Suppose Whittemore did sell a cadetship, hasn't Grant sold cabinet offices? And should we not, instead of having our moral sensibilities outraged at an advertisement offering a West Point scholarship for sale, rather expect, one of these days, to meet something like the following in the New York and Cincinnati dailies:

For Sale—a cabinet office with three years to run. Will be sold with or without the patronage of the department.—Terms cash or improved real estate. Address U. S. G., Washington, D. C.

For Sale—office will exchange for a bull pup, a postoffice in a pleasant country town. Salary $1,000 per annum. Address Dent, Washington, D. C.—Mack.

Commenting upon the fact that the radicals in Congress wish Bullock's term extended, because the people will not re-elect him, the Savannah Republican says: "We have certainly fallen on strange times, when it is openly argued in favor of a government that it has not the sympathy and support of the people, and therefore should be upheld."

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

Transient advertisements must be paid for in advance. Cards of a personal character when admitted, will be charged double our regular advertising rate.

AGENTS. The following Agents are authorized to act for the TELEGRAPH: Tardrew & Co., New York; Wharton & Co., New Orleans.

The History this Country is Making.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.

It strikes me back of the eyes that we are winning for ourselves upon the pages of future history, the character of the meanest and most cruel people since the days of Moses.