Married at the residence of Mar shall Watts, by the Rev. Mr. Loyd, of Abingdon, Oct. 21, 1890, Mr. J.
P. Kroll to Miss Lou Bowen. My and Mrs. Kroll left on the evening train for St. Louis and prints in Michigan, their absence to be pro tracted for several weeks.

Mr. R. Izard, Sec. and Treas. of the Clinch Valley Coal and Coke Co. left Tuesday evening, to head sent a week or more, preparing to closing negotiations for lease, so that business may be speedily con ducted at the company's head quarters, on Russell's Creek.

The widening of the east exten sion of Main street to Tazewell avenue to accommodate the street car line has been commenced. The re peated inclemency of the weather interferes materially with all of our internal improvements but hay is made when the sun does shine. It is understood that as soon as the car line is in running order the lots of the Tazewell C. H. Improvement Co. will be placed on public sale.

The stirring Norfolk and West ern management has issued another handsome pamphlet entitled "Industries," giving a detailed list of new industrial establishments for 1890 in the towns along its lines of road. The following recapitula tion embraces a partial list of these in actual course of construc tion and does not include those contemplated: 12 Blast Furnaces, Rolling Mills, 29 Wood Working Establishments, 24 Foundries and Machine shops, 87 Mills, 25, 5 Coal Mines, 2200 Coke Ovens, 34 Iron Mines, 34 Hotels.

The Rev. J. B. Funston, who has been for several years Rector of Christ Church, Richmond, but who has lately been appointed by Bishop F. M. Whittle, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Evangelist for Southwest Virginia, will begin a se ries of services at the Stras Memorial Church, at this place, Sunday, Nov.
23, which he will continue for about a week. We trust that Christians of all denominations as well as those who are not church members will come out to hear him and both by their presence and prayers assist in the good work. Mr. Funston will now confine his labors to Southwest Virginia. Referring to Mr. Funston the Richmond Dispatch says:

But meanwhile Mr. Funston will be sorely missed from Christ church and as a citizen of Richmond.
His genial manners and quick sym pathy, his faithful pastorage, his sound, fervent, forceful and winning preaching have made his own people devoted to him and secured the re spect and esteem of all the neighbor hood of whatever denomination. He has had remarkable success in build ing up Christ church, having erected a commodious Sunday School build ing in the rear, furnished the church with pews, established two flourish ing missions, building a chapel for one of them, and, besides removing previous indebtedness, he now leaves the congregation free from any such burden, in all of which he has had the cordial and unanimous support and help of his vestry and lay work ers.

In addition, Mr. Funston has found time to aid in pushing effectively the interests of the Richmond Episcopal Missionary Society; to assist his brethren in "missions" and pastoral services, and to contribute the pro ducts of his versatile and graphic pen to the Southern Churchman and the secular press.

MARSHALL TO SPEAK.
Hon. Jas. W. Marshall, of Craig, better known as "Cyclone Jim," will address the voters of Tazewell at the Court House on the first day of the October term of County Court.
His other appointments in Taze well are at Graham, Oct. 27th, at night and at Midway, 29th, at 1 o'clock.

FOR SALE. TWO CHOICE BURKS GARDEN FARMS AND 2,000 Acres Mineral and Timber Lands

This is an opportunity of a life time to secure such valuable real es tate and model homes in the finest section of our country. These are the richest farms in the richest val ley, in the richest county in the State, and are superior to the best grazing lands in the famous blue grass re gion of Kentucky.

There are many advantages and possibilities on these farms which cannot be described on paper.
The richness of the soil, the healthfulness of the climate, the beauty of the mountain scenery, all must be seen and enjoyed to be appreciated.

On one end of one of these farms is a splendid site for a summer re sort, an elevation overlooking the whole country, as many as three States and a large number of coun ties being visible from the top of this elevation. People of observa tion pronounce this to be one of the best sites for a summer resort east of the Mississippi River.

FARM NO. ONE.

Known as the "Old Thomas Henig er Homestead," contains 500 acres, 350 of which is in the very heaviest Blue Grass sod. The balance is in timber reserved for the use of the farm, the soil of which is well adapt ed to grass also. On this farm is a good

BRICK RESIDENCE AND NECES SARY OUTBUILDINGS, is well watered and substantially fenced. Grass of the very heaviest, richest quality has been maturing cattle for the export market.

FARM NO. TWO.

On which I now reside contains up wards of 700 acres, 200 acres in mead ow, upwards of 300 in Blue Grass, and 200 in timbered land well adapt ed to grass. On this farm is a new frame residence of eight rooms and two halls. Outbuildings such as barn and hay sheds supplied with LABOR SAVING APPLI ANCES superior to and different from anything on the continent. On this farm are between thirty and forty never failing springs of pure lime stone water, well distributed in the different fields. On both these farms is a sufficient amount of fruit.

The income from these farms prop erly worked, should be very large.
For instance, the hay crop from the 200 acres of meadow, will amount an nually to $6,000 at $10 per ton, while this is only one fourth of the arable land of the two farms.

TRACT NO. THREE.

Contains about 2,000 acres mineral and timber land on the south of Richlands, Virginia and Chestnut Ridge, containing of which is one tract of 72 acres situated on the dividing ridge joining Thomas Frank lin and John W. Farmer. The coal and timber for mining purposes being ex pected.

There are grazing on the farms 250 head of High Grade and Thor ough Bred Short Horn Cattle, 10 head of Horses, 30 head of fat Hogs. There are also 60 acres of Corn, 600 tons of Hay, Farming implements, Household and Kitch en Furniture, all of which I wish to sell at once.

My object in selling is to remove to the far Northwest to engage large ly in other lines of business.
Parties desiring to examine this property will, upon due notice, be met at Tazewell Depot by convey ance.

Terms of sale made known on ap plication.

The Sun.

FOR
1891.

Some people agree with The Sun's opinions about men and things, and some people don't; but everybody likes to get hold of the newspaper which is never dull and never afraid to speak its mind.

Democrats know that for twenty years The Sun has fought in the front line for Democratic principles, never wavering or weakening in its loyalty to the true interests of the party it serves with fearless intelli gence and disinterested vigor. At times opinions have differed as to the best means of accomplishing the common purpose; it is not The Sun's fault if it has seen further into the millstone.

Eighteen hundred and ninety-one itics, and everybody should read The

FOR SALE. Personal Property.

I will sell all the personal property be longing to the estate of the late W. L.
Watkins at Public Auction,

November 6, 1890.

Sale will take place at 11 o'clock a. m., on the farm of the said Watkins, on Clinch River, Tazewell County, Va.
All articles under TEN DOLLARS will be sold for Cash, and all sums over that on a credit of Six Months, unless pur chaser desires to pay in cash. Bond with security will be required of purchaser for deferred payment, bearing interest from date of sale.

Among the property offered for sale will be 28 stacks of prime hay, several good horses, lot of 3 year old cattle, cows, hogs, cats, corn and various other articles.

N. B.—I will, also, take this opportunity to state that from this date on, until dis posed of, the farm of the said Watkins will be on the market for sale by me pri vately. This farm contains, by estima tion, about 800 acres, and is one of the best grazing and grain farms in the coun ty. I will have it accurately surveyed at once, and suggest that it can be conven iently divided into two good farms. The terms of sale will be made known to suit almost any purchaser.

may properly come before the meet ing.
SAUNDERS LEWIS, JR.,
Secretary.

VIRGINIA: In the Clerk's Office of the Tazewell County Court, Sept. 27, A. D., 1890.

George Spangler, who sues for the benefit of Lewis E. Carter, Complainant, vs.

W. R. Havens, administrator of Adam E.
Wagoner, deceased, Nancy L. Noonan and J. P. Noonan, her husband; Rich ard B. Myres, Luaney D. Myres, James K. Myres, Charles C. Myres, Permelia Ann Myres, and James Handy, Sheriff of Tazewell County, and as such adminis trators of the bona fide non, with the will annexed of John W. Myres, deceased, Defendants.

In CHANCERY.

The object of this suit is to obtain for the beneficial Complainant, Lewis E. Car ter, the legal title to a certain tract or parcel of land purchased by him from Adam E. Wagoner, the executor of John W. Myres, formerly belonging to the said John W. Myres, lying in the county of Tazewell, containing 72 acres situate on the dividing ridge joining Thomas Frank
pected.

And it appearing from sufficient evi dence on file in this office that the said J.
P. Noonan and Nancy L. Noonan are not residents of this Commonwealth, it is or dered that they appear here within 15 days after due publication of this order and do what may be necessary to protect their in terest in this suit, and that copies hereof be published and posted as prescribed by law.

THE TARIFF TO PROTECT AGAINST LOSSES BY THE CREDIT SYSTEM REMOVED

In order that the custom may have goods at lower prices than hitherto prevailing it has been moved and unanimously carried that not one dollar's worth shall be sold on a credit, either long or short.

Aware of the fact that the sentiment against big store bills at the end of each year is crystallizing and that the public will gradually adopt the only means to prevent against such burdens, viz.: Cash purchases, we inaugurate the system now, so as to make our place headquarters for all those contemplating retrenchment and reform.

To remain in business we must make some money,

To sell on credit we must lose some accounts,

To prevent such losses we must share large profits,

To sell goods cheap we must sell for cash.

If the theory is not convincing, try a practical application and see if your expenses for this year are not lower than they were last year.

Let every man who can divest himself of
