COURT HELPS IN ROAD BUILDING

Many Sinners Face the Bar of Justice and Will Work For State For a Season.

Circuit Court is still in session. In spite of the warm weather much has been accomplished, and the work of building roads throughout the State will be given an impetus by the addition of several men to the road forces.

Joe Keen, fined $25 last December, by a Magistrate at Richlands, for misappropriating a hog, had his day in Court the first of the week, having appealed from the judgment of the Magistrate. The charge of larceny was modified to unlawful trespass and Keen confessed, the fine and costs, not including his lawyer's fee, amounting to $71.

Gregory Saccoia, an Italian, confessed to shooting another Italian, Tony Loretto, at Cedar Bluff, and was given one year in the penitentiary.

Jasper Richards, colored, was convicted of breaking in another negro's shanty in Pocahontas and was given five years in the penitentiary.

Jim Taylor, colored, was convicted of assaulting another negro in Pocahontas with a billiard cue, and fined by Police Justice Owens, $20. He appealed to the Circuit Court, and Justice Owen's judgment was upheld, the fine and costs amounting to $40.

Zimmerman Wade, colored, fined in Pocahontas by Magistrate Landon, $2.50, appealed to the Circuit Court. Charges $19.25.

Robert Steele, indicted for stealing a horse the last day of the Fair, whose case has been continued each term of court, since, on account of lack of evidence, was compromised by a verdict of unlawful trespass, the fine and costs amounting to $75.

Ernest Howard, a light-fingered colored brother of Pocahontas, was convicted of lifting the kale from another negro's clothes, and given two years in the penitentiary.

Indictment against Martin Grey for larceny, dismissed on account of the failure of the prosecuting witness' memory.

George E. Watlington, brought to jail here several weeks ago, charged with the murder of William Beavers on Dry Fork, was not indicted by the grand jury and was released. He indicated before leaving Tazewell that he was not going back to the scene of the murder, but would probably locate in Kentucky.

Sergeant Thompson returned from Richmond Tuesday morning, where he had been to take James Atkins to the reform school. Atkins is from Pounding Mill, and was charged with various offenses. The Sergeant had a most strenuous trip. To begin with, after reaching Richmond Atkins gave him the slip, and it took the entire police force of the Capitol city to catch him. He was finally landed in the reformatory at Laurel, where the kinks will be taken out of him.

Mrs. Nathy Reed, the white woman recently sent here from Raven, charged with bigamy, was released last Friday afternoon, and told to go her way and sin no more. Mrs. Reed was the victim of a brute of a husband, whom she is said to have married when she was twelve years old. She was of the impression that she had been divorced from him, and when hubby No. 2 came along she immediately acquiesced, and was married to him also. The first husband heard of the marriage in some way and came to Raven and had her arrested.

Will Bolding, of Raven, who was released by the Circuit Court here last Friday by habeas corpus proceedings, was rearrested at Raven the same day and brought back here to jail, by Constable L. D. Boyd. Bolding was tried and sentenced to six months in the county jail a week or more ago for disturbing public worship at Raven, and appealed his case to the Circuit Court. A flaw was found in the commitment papers by Bolding's attorney, and the proceedings were instituted which released him. However, the chances are good now that he will be here when the robins wend their way southward again.

The offense with which he was charged and sentenced to jail was a most flagrant violation of law. It is said that he attended a revival meeting, recently held at Raven, and started a fight in the meeting which stampeded the large crowd, and broke up the meeting for the evening.

It is now well known that not more than one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment and massaging the parts at each application. TRY IT and see how quickly it will relieve the pain and soreness. Sold by all dealers.

Pounding Mill

Pounding Mill, June 4.—Bushels of roses and pomeies are in bloom, and strawberries ripe. A good shower of rain this morning, which was badly needed; farmers not yet done planting corn; corn that's up looks well; lots of fruit in this section; wheat is good—but there will be but few frying chickens, we fear, on account of the rats. A great many turkeys have also been killed. Mrs. W. B. Harris lost 15 in one night recently. The champion rat killers to date are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Phillips, who killed 90 in one day last week, by tearing away old buildings. The rats were most all colors—white, black, brown, etc.

The meeting still continues. Rev. Jarold, Kentucky, has been preaching some fine sermons since his arrival on Saturday. He is assisted by Revs. Pangle and Vernon. The house was packed on Sunday morning, there being many visitors from a distance. At two o'clock the Odd Fellows marched to the cemetery, a short distance, accompanied by a very large crowd, and decorated the grave of the late Bird Bruster, their brother, after which an excellent memorial sermon was preached at Union church by Rev. Isaac Wright, assisted by Revs. Pangle and Thomas.

Mr. J. D. Wright arrived here today from Athens, on account of the illness of his baby, at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Christian.

Mrs. Mary Jane Oney and pretty daughter, Miss Dora, returned on yesterday to their home at Williamson, after having spent a month here with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Christian.

Miss Effie Williams returned Sunday from Williamson, where she has been teaching.

Mrs. Arthur Keer and baby, returned Saturday from the Cove, accompanied by her uncle, P. H. Williams, whom she has been visiting. Mr. Calvin Calvard and son, Calvin, of Big Stone Gap, were visiting old neighbors and friends here today.

Mrs. Alex Altizer and daughter, Miss Mary Belle, and son, Bobbie, visited their daughter and sister Mrs. Alex Beavers, at Coalton, the latter part of the week. Mrs. Beavers and baby returned home with them, to spend a few days.

Miss Lettie Lovell, Richlands, visited her father, John Lovell, and family, here Sunday.

Prof. J. J. Hoback returned this morning from a trip down the line, where he has been teaching music.

Mrs. M. J. Sturgill and Miss Cora Belle Christian were both visitors to Richlands Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Lizzie Osborne attended the burial of her father, Mr. Eli Asbury, in Stony Ridge, Wednesday, Mrs. Steele accompanied her.

John Gillespie made a business trip to Bluefield the latter part of the week, in the interest of the Red Men, he being one of the officers.

The work cars of the telephone company of N. and W. are here. We understand that a phone will be put in each station, hence save so much manipulation of the telegraph keys.

Miss Mattie Sayers' school closed last week. Miss Sayers made many friends and taught a good school, we understand.

Mrs. W. B. Steele is the champion chicken raiser here so far as we have heard. She has about 325 young chicks, and used the Philo System—raises the chicks entirely in rat-proof coops and without hens, as rats catch chickens in the day time. She says it keeps her busy most of the time, but believes the system a success.

Mr. A. C. Fowler visited old friends at Raven, Sunday.

Miss Barbara Hurt and Ralfee Gillespie are home from Tazewell High School. Miss Barbara carried off the biggest honor in school—4 years scholarship in Elizabeth College. We are proud of our Pounding Mill girls and boys.

Mr. John Hoops was called to Graham to see his little daughter, Myrtle, age 12, who has pneumonia and pleurisy at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Sol Bolding. Last news, she was very ill.

Speeder Fined

One Mrs. Crocker, of Suffolk, Va., was arrested in that city recently for failing to sound the horn of her auto, in rounding a corner. Some such action as this will take place in Tazewell one of these days. There are several dangerous corners here—one at lower Main Street, two at the head of Main Street, and a number of crossings, where approaching automobiles cannot see, or be seen, and one of these days something is going to happen unless the drivers of machines take more precautions. Actual observation, not once in a score of times is a horn sounded at any of these dangerous points. The prejudice against the auto will soon disappear if the autoists will have it so. It is up to them. There is no earthly use in such fast running, either, besides, there is greater danger than some seem to think. A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

CITY COUNCILS ELECTED TUESDAY

Lively Contests in Graham and Pocahontas—Cedar Bluff's First Election.

Four towns of the county will hold municipal elections Tuesday—Pocahontas, Graham, Cedar Bluff and Richlands. The elections in Pocahontas and Graham will be interesting, as their are opposition candidates in the field for all the offices. In Pocahontas there are two distinct tickets, one called the Citizens Ticket and another the Democratic Club ticket. It is predicted that the Democratic Club ticket will win hands down.

At Richlands there is only one ticket in the field, a citizens ticket, named regardless of politics, and made up of the best people of the town. At Cedar Bluff there is only one ticket, and the election there will be the first held since the town was incorporated. The various tickets follow:

Clinton Azbury.

Eli Clinton Azbury was born Oct. 24, 1837 and departed this life, Tuesday, May 28, 1912, at 3:30 p. m., at his home on Stony Ridge, three miles southeast of Cedar Bluff. He was in his 74th year, the son of James Azbury and Marguerite Claypool Azbury, she being a daughter of Jerry Claypool, father of the late Miles Claypool of Burke's Garden, Mrs. Elizabeth McGuire of Cedar Bluff, Mrs. Azbury being a half sister to the two latter.

He was married to Miss Mary Stephenson the 9th of June, 1860. To this union was born eight children, six daughters and two sons, six of whom are living. Mr. Azbury was a Confederate soldier, belonged to the 29th Infantry, Pickett's Division, was of the second volunteers, and served throughout the war—was sick a great deal of the time. He had fever the year before the war, which left him with a cough which lasted through the remainder of his life; the immediate cause of his death was dropsy. He had been confined to his bed since before Christmas. Being a man of pious parents, he naturally followed in their steps. A more honest, truthful and kind man could perhaps not have been found. He was fully prepared to make "The Crossing" into the Great Beyond, and lay a considerable part of his time with his old cherished Bible under his pillow. His passing was peaceful and quiet.

Services were conducted by the writer at his home, from the 14th Chapter of St. John, in the presence of a large number of relatives, neighbors and friends, after which his body was laid to rest in the cemetery nearby, beside his daughter, Miss Eva, who had preceded him several years. May his faithful and beloved wife and children and friends meet him in Heaven.

Mrs. W. B. Steele.

Pounding Mill, June 4.

Sunday School Meeting At Glenwood.

By special invitation the Secretary of the county Sunday School association, Mr. Leslie will "make a few feeble remarks" at Glenwood next Sunday at 11 o'clock, and also at Liberty Hill in the afternoon at 3:30. Everybody is cordially invited to both these meetings. As the Editor expects to ride his new horse, Napoleon Bonaparte, all automobiles, motor cycles and double-headers, are respectfully requested to tie up somewhere in the woods or get off the earth, on Sunday afternoon, between Liberty and Tazewell, in the interest of peace and harmony.

Marriages.

Miss Jennie Hale, daughter of Supervisor Charley Hale, of Falls Mills, and Mr. Grover W. Wagner, son of J. H. Wagner, of the same place, were married in the Jeffersonville Hotel here Wednesday morning. Rev. J. E. Springs, of Falls Mills, performed the ceremony. The young couple were accompanied to Tazewell by the fathers of the bride and groom and Miss Lettie B. Wagner, sister of the groom. The couple and party left on No. 6 Wednesday afternoon for their home at Falls Mills, where a feast and reception were given them at the home of Mr. Wagner.

Mr. Wagner and Mr. Hale, both having attended the marriage, made the affair unlike an elopement, as the consent of each had been obtained. The young couple did most of their courting in Prof. Livesay's school at Graham, but were not parties to the recent bean shooting in Graham High School. However, the couple were promised a "bean shower" on their return to their home Wednesday night, and were very uneasy here Wednesday afternoon lest their overzealous friends in Graham and elsewhere would besiege them with rice, old shoes, etc., in addition to the beans. May their tribe never grow less.

Miss Sallie Kincer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kincer and Mr. Walter D. Corvin, a prominent farmer of Louisa county, were married at the bride's home here Wednesday morning at 8:15 by City Recorder Thomas A. Repass, Jr. The marriage was attended only by the members of the family and a few intimate friends. The newly married couple left on the morning east bound train for the groom's home in eastern Virginia, and carried with them the wishes of many Tazewell friends for a long and happy life.

Delightful Dinner

A very delightful event was a dinner given by Mrs. A. S. Higginbotham, on last Friday evening, in honor of her sister, Miss Felicia Dickenson and cousin, Miss Margaret Earnest, of Castlewood, who stopped in Tazewell for a few days, on their way to their home, from Martha Washington College at Abingdon.

Among the number present at this highly enjoyable dinner, were some young people of this town who had also attended Martha Washington. The young ladies left Saturday on No. 11, for Castlewood, but will probably return later for a more extended visit in Tazewell and community.

Summer School

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Summer School of Emory and Henry College. The work offered looks to the assistance of public school teachers who desire better preparation for their work and students who wish to better prepare themselves for college or to make up a deficiency in college work.

The location and many advantages offered in the use of college buildings, libraries, etc., will doubtless appeal to many who wish to take advantage of the course offered. The work will be conducted by men of experience who are familiar with the needs of this section.

Rocky Gap

Rocky Gap, June 3.—There will be a box supper at Sunny Point next Sunday afternoon at 2:30. All are cordially invited to attend.

M. A. Thompson, and two daughters, Mrs. Shrader, and Miss Cora, were shopping in Bluefield Saturday.

Mrs. O. W. Caldwell and little son, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Walt Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Jarrell entertained several persons at dinner Sunday.

H. G. Thompson and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. John Pruett, on Dry Fork.

Mr. Shropshire, a timber man of Pennsylvania, was in the Valley last week on business.

Messrs. Hale and Johnson, of Narrows, and Lawyer Snidow, of Pearisburg, were a business visitors to Clear Fork last week.

An Odd Fellows lodge was organized at Dr. Bishop's last Saturday week.

Mrs. Tuggle spent Friday with her daughter, Mrs. Stimson.

H. G. Thompson has sold his farm to the Narrows Lumber Co.

Mr. Sam Stimson went to Graham today to visit his daughter, Mrs. Tom Davis.

New Magistrates

Messrs. T. M. Bourne, of Gratton, and Charlie Greever, of Burke's Garden, have been appointed Magistrates for their respective localities. Since the work of building the new roads has commenced a great many laborers have assembled in that locality, many of whom are not as law-abiding as they might be, and the need of a Magistrate at each place was imperative. The community can rest assured that the majesty of the law will be upheld by these well-known citizens.

MEMORIAL DAY WELL ATTENDED

Large Crowd Here and Fine Address Made by Attorney Edgar L. Greever

Memorial day services, on last Monday, were all that anyone could ask. There was a large number of the old soldiers in town, and, with a number of visitors and invited guests, enjoyed a fine dinner, served in the dining room of the Old Inn. Not less than two hundred people, all told, were served by the ladies of the U. D. C., and bountifully served, too. The people of the town and county were generous, and willingly, gladly furnished free of all cost a splendid dinner in honor of the old soldiers. "All we have to do," said one of the ladies, "is to issue a call, and let the people know what we want, and we get it." It is the same every annual Memorial Day, and will so continue, and when these good, unselfish women have served their day, and the last of the old soldiers has answered the roll call, their daughters will take up the work, and annually decorate the graves and honor the memories of the memorable past.

Owing to circumstances there was no parade of the old soldiers to the cemetery. Several hundred children and young people, led by the women of the Chapter, went to the cemetery, and reverently laid beautiful flowers upon the graves of the sleeping heroes whose bodies rest there. It was a beautiful and touching spectacle. Returning, a meeting was held in the picture theater, where Mrs. O'Keefe made an address to the children.

The feature of the day was the address of Mr. E. L. Greever, at the Court House. The Court House, usually amply large for all public meetings, was too small by half this time. There wasn't standing room, and large numbers were turned away. Mr. Greever's address on "The South's Legacy of the Civil War," was pronounced by good judges as the finest in every way ever heard on such an occasion here. The orator and the occasion met. After the address, which held the entire audience in its grip from beginning to end, a motion was enthusiastically passed requesting its publication. However, this is unlikely, as Mr. Greever will be called upon to repeat it, no doubt, in other places. It should be preserved and passed along as a valuable contribution to Southern war literature. The address establishes Mr. Greever's reputation as a thinker and an orator. The entire day was pleasantly spent by the old soldiers and visitors. There was free continuous entertainment at the moving picture show all day, and many people saw "the movies" for the first time. And so, another annual Confederate Memorial Day passes into history.

Clear Fork Potatoes

The Editor acknowledges with a broad smile and a regular Chesterfieldian bow, a handsome present from Millard Kinzer, Clear Fork, of a half bushel of very fine, Irish potatoes. They are the finest yet seen in this section—regular prize potatoes. The good thing about it is, that there are no "strings" tied to these potatoes. They were a "present" out and out. Some years ago one of the readers of this paper brought to the office a bushel of small, soft, measley, wrinkled little one-eyed potatoes, and proudly informed the Editor that he wanted him to have something to eat. At the end of the year he demanded that we give him credit on subscription for the potatoes. We did so.

This reminds us, that Millard Kinzer has bought the Crockett Stowers farm on Cove Creek. He already has a nice farm, but is quietly and surely reaching out for more. We hope he will grow a whole field full of fine potatoes for next season, and the Fair.

IN MEMORY OF MARION HARMAN

Was born in Tazewell, in 1853, and died May the 9th, 1912. He was raised in Tazewell and was married to Nannie Thompson in 1876. He leaves a wife and one brother and sister, and a number of other relatives to mourn his loss. He joined the Baptist church in his boyhood, and in late years united with the Methodist church and left bright hopes that he was going home. May God comfort the sorrowing hearts of the wife and other relatives. And we will meet in that fair land Where life's brief dream is o'er. Is it for this we grieve, for this The burning tear drops flow? And would we seek to call him back, To earth's dark scenes of woe? We will not murmur more, Father, No longer against Thee rebel, Meekly we'll bow unto Thy will, And own Thou doest all things well. A FRIEND.

Delicious refreshments were served, consisting of ice cream, decorated in large red strawberries, several kinds of cake and coffee.

MABE NOT GUILTY OF KILLING WIFE

Charged With Murder, But Exonerated by Magistrate at Richlands Yesterday.

Will Mabe, a white man, living on Big Creek, near Richlands, was arrested Wednesday night by Constable L. D. Boyd, charged with the murder of his wife, Maggie Mabe.

Mabe was given a preliminary hearing before a Magistrate at Richlands yesterday and released the evidence showing that his wife had died from natural cause, presumably heart trouble. Dr. Williams, who had been attending her for the past year, stated that she had been in very poor health, and that her death at any time would have been no surprise.

The husband of the dead woman has been completely exonerated of the charge.

It was established at the hearing that the dead woman had been addicted to the habit of eating dirt, which accounts for the fact that her mouth was full of dirt when she was found.

Graduated with Honor
