Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood, reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

A LITTLE LEARNING HELPS.
Pope wrote, "A little learning is a bad thing," or words to that effect. No one cares to get into an argument with a wise man, but it is true nevertheless, that even "a little learning" helps wonderfully sometimes.

There was in our community a blacksmith, a fine man, an honest workman, but who without "book learning," as he said. He was well thought of in church circles, and throughout the entire community. He was left an orphan at 10 years of age, and had to "make his way the best he could"—didn't have time to go to school, and grew to manhood unable to read or write. Perhaps he should not be excused, neither should he be censured, anyway, the fact that he could not read was undeniable. He married a good woman of the community, who, naturally, like himself, could not read or write. He feared to court an educated woman. An educated woman would not select an uneducated man for a wife. And so, these "two birds of a feather" gravitated naturally toward each other. Children were born—two boys and a girl. The girl the eldest of the three. When the children grew to school age the girl was anxious to attend the one-room school two miles away. The boys begged not to go. The girl said "Pap ain't go no schoolin'" and he got on all right. "Pap" used to make marks on a smooth board of his work during the day, and get a neighbor to come over and together they would "charge up" the accounts. How much his losses were yearly, owing to his inability to keep accounts correctly and make proper settlements, he never knew.

After the death of the mother the girl had to stop school, having finished in the lower grades of the school—reading, writing and arithmetic, but she was practical and her knowledge of books, meager though it was, stood her in good stead, as it did also her father's business. She took charge of the books, charging up at night the daily work of the shop. Her first duty was to see that all work done was properly charged, and accounts made out and collected. Her father's helper, a young man who had only "a little learning," charged up on a slate which hung on the wall in the shop, each job as finished and the girl transferred these accounts to a book at night after her evening's work was over.

to school only one or two short sessions to Professor at the Grange Hall, about two miles down the road, but she put in her time, and made the most of it. Just look at that hand writin' he said, showing the check. "Oh, she's a trump. A number of the young fellows around here are crazy about her, but she don't care any thing for 'em a-tall. She is our organ for the Sunday school, and one of the best teachers in town, and all think a sight of Mary McKim."

"Don't hurry, stranger," he said, as I bade him good bye, "spend the day with us, and the night. Tomorrow is preachin' day, and it will do you good to hear Mary play the organ and sing." As I drove along past the blacksmith shop, the old bewhiskered smith was pounding away, and the ring of his anvil followed me until I passed over the hill out of hearing. But I can hear it now, and retain in my memory the image of the girl I incidentally met in the country store.

Some years afterwards I was again in that community. I inquired of the old country merchant and grocery store, my informant said: "The merchant is dead. His son runs the store now, and is doing well. Mary married and has two fine children. Her husband is a member of the Legislature, and is a splendid man," he said.

I thought to myself, that perhaps Pope was wrong. Certainly true it is, that in many cases "a little learning" was a good thing.

DOMESTIC SERVICE.
Although in some places many women are out of employment, yet a large number are reported to be willing to take places as domestic servants. The calling of housemaids continues terribly unpopular, and many women will feel the pinch of hunger before they will enter it. Others might condescend to "accept" such a position, but they require wages three or four times as much as was formerly paid.

FAVORABLE TO TRINKLE.
(Roanoke Times.)
That wasn't particularly reassuring tidings brought to the local Tucker Club last night by Mrs. Tucker Staples, who, asked to state the situation as it exists at the present time with regard to the vote of the women in the approaching gubernatorial primary, declared that "the woman vote will decide the issue," and in the very next breath went on to make it plain to those present that a majority of the women are against Mr. Tucker because they do not like his attitude on the prohibition question, and also because of the position he took in regard to equal suffrage before that issue was settled.

MOTHER'S WAY.

Off within our little cottage,
As the shadows gently fall,
While the sunlight touches softly
One sweet face upon the wall,
Do we gather close together,
And in hushed and tender tone,
Ask each other's full forgiveness
For the wrong that each has done;
Should you wonder at this custom
At the ending of the day,
Eye and voice would quickly answer,
"It was once our mother's way."

Sometimes when our hearts grow weary
Or our tasks seem very long;
When our burdens look too heavy,
And we deem the right all wrong,
Then we gain a new fresh courage
As we rise to proudly say:
"Let us do our duty bravely,
This was our dear mother's way,
Thus we keep her memory precious,
While we never cease to pray,
That at last when lengthening shadows
Mark the evening of life's day,
They may find us waiting calmly
To go home our mother's way."

KEPT HER AWAKE
The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.
Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.
I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. . . I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui. . .
I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stopped down I was not able to straighten up again. . . I decided I would try Cardui. . . By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.
I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

Prominent Western Man Praises Tanlac
G. W. Logan, Peabody, Kansas
"Tanlac has completely restored my health and I feel finer than in years." was the straightforward statement made recently by Mr. George W. Logan, of Peabody, Kansas, one of the most prominent stock-dealers in the Middle West.
"It has not only made a new man of me but I have actually gained thirty-five pounds in weight and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am telling all of my friends about Tanlac but they can see for themselves what it has done in my case."
"When I began taking Tanlac I was in an awfully run-down condition. I was away off in weight, felt weak and nervous all of the time and couldn't take any interest in my work or anything else. My main trouble was indigestion. Nothing seemed to agree with me. At times I would have dizzy spells and at other times by back would ache so bad that I could hardly get up and on with my dehair. This is just the condition I was in when I started to take this medicine. It took just six bottles to make a well man of me. I now have a fine appetite, everything tastes good and my digestion is perfect."
"My wife was also troubled with indigestion at times and it relieved her the same way. You may publish my statement wherever you like and if anyone doubts it, tell them to see me."
Tanlac is sold in Tazewell by John E. Jackson, in Graham by Graham Pharmacy, in Pochontas by Citizens Drug Co., in Richlands by Richlands Pharmacy, and at Bolwing, R. F. D. Tazewell, by J. S. Puckett.
