

DISSINGUISHED VISITORS.

A FEW OF THE PAN-AMERICAN CONGRESS HERE.

Visit to the Principal Places of Interest in the City.—Reception by the Governor and Mayor.—Lunch at the Westmoreland.

OTHERS EXPECTED LATER.

Others expected to arrive in the city on Monday next. The South American mail sailed yesterday.

RECEPTION OF THE VISITORS.

The Chamber of Commerce was appreciative of the opportunity of extending the hospitality of the people of the capital of Virginia to all the strangers within their gates.

PLACES OF INTEREST.

Of course the headquarters of Washington, the old stone house, came in for its share of questionable curiosity.

A JULEP AND A STORY.

It is strange, but nowhere else can the julep be found in such fullness of fragrance as in Virginia, and all places in Virginia.

AT THE CAPITOL.

After chaffing at the sight of the streamer and the crowd, they turned their backs and drove down Grace street to the Capitol.

RECEIVED BY THE GOVERNOR.

Governor McKinney stood in the open aisle, in front of the grand stand of the Delegates of Virginia, and here received informally the gentlemen who composed the company of distinguished visitors.

WHY CAME AND WHY DID NOT.

The following are the names of the members of the Congress who were expected to be present: H. Benson Whitcomb, secretary.

TOOAK TUD MURKEL DANUM

SUICIDE OF MAURICE SCHROEDER, OF BALTIMORE.

Traveling Salesman For Becker Bros.—His Repeated Calls For Milk Excited Suspicion at Ford's Motel—Remains to be Taken Home.

These were the dying words of Mr. Maurice Schroeder, after having drunk four hot-half ounce vials of laudanum at Ford's Hotel Sunday afternoon.

WANTED TO GO TO SLEEP.

When asked why he had taken so much laudanum he pointed to the empty vial and replied: "That's not much, I frequently take large doses. I want to go to sleep and could not go to sleep."

BECAME SPEECHLESS.

When Dr. Riddell reached the room with Mr. McKeown, Schroeder was speechless. The doctor called in Drs. Edwards, McGuire and Carrington, and every effort was made to arouse the man, but to no avail.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

The annual report of Mr. Charles E. Bolling, Superintendent of the City Water Works, for the year 1895, has just been issued and sent to the Mayor.

NO EXCUSE.

Sunday night about 8 o'clock, Coroner Taylor was notified that a young man, who he believed to be the same man who had been arrested for the same offense.

IN THE COURTS.

Supreme Court.—The case of the Commonwealth against the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical Society, continued.

POLICE COURT.

Police Court.—Charles Sales (colored), charged with feloniously entering a house to steal a pair of shoes, the property of Spencer Jackson, dismissed.

BETTER POSTAL CLAIMS.

In response to many complaints made by Postmaster Russell, the authorities at Washington have decided to issue a circular that the postal cards hereafter will be of better quality.

CLUB REORGANIZES.

This club, which has heretofore been in a certain extent a secret organization and limited in its membership, at its meeting on Monday night, reorganized.

ANOTHER APPOINTMENT.

Mr. John Q. Lovell, who has been for several years on the United States ship Thetis, in the Arctic regions, has been stationed at Norfolk, Virginia, as paymaster.

MAGNIFICENT STEAMER COMING.

This magnificent and handsome excursion steamer Tolchester will arrive here, commanded by Lucien B. Tatum, Esq.
