

THE DAY THEY CELEBRATE.

Extensive Preparations Have Been Made for the German Festivities.

NEXT WEDNESDAY IS DEUTSCHER TAG.

The Torchlight Procession on Tuesday and a Good Time Generally the Following Day—Birthday of a Warrior-Poet.

Next Wednesday is Deutscher Tag, a day that will bring to many hearts happy realizations of bis-acial anticipations, and the German contingent of this city will have a joyous time from the first broad streaks of dawn until Sol in his majesty shall have rolled down its track in the west.

Not only as a German can appreciate just what these affairs are. There is in all of them a jovial, hearty, enthusiastic manner that does not characterize the usual American celebration, and when the Germans of this city were at the Exposition last October (the celebrating German Day it looked like) they were not only the best of the best, but they were the best of the best.

Every one remembers what a success German Day was last year, what a grand time everybody had at the Exposition, and this year will be a happy repetition of the former event. The festivities will begin on Tuesday evening. This is a custom which has been in vogue for ages in Germany. They always begin their celebration of a festivity the day before. If the Emperor, for instance, has a birthday to be celebrated, the citizens of Berlin will have a torchlight procession, an illumination of houses and a banquet the night before, and Aurora, when she comes to bring away the stars, finds her revelers drinking health to the King, and singing as only Germans can "Die Wacht am Rhein."

This year the custom of the Fatherland will be observed in Richmond, for there will be a grand torchlight procession, here, it is probable that the most will be in line. All who live in the western portion of the city will meet at Tholl's Hall on west Broad street. Those residing in the centre will assemble at Sanger Hall, and the representatives from the east will congregate at Tholl's Hall, Seventeenth and Main streets. The three divisions will each be headed by torch-bearers, and will begin their march from Sanger Hall, the two other divisions meeting the central representatives there. The line of march will be down Broad to Nineteenth, thence to Main, to Fifth, to Franklin, to Laurel, to Broad and return to Sanger Hall. There will be a fourth division composed of the Young Men's German Association, who will form on Broad street near Seventh. Each man will carry a torch, some of the leaders carrying the old pine knot, so familiar to those who have hunted coons, and the sight presented will be a magnificent one.

When the return is made to Sanger Hall there will be informal "commers" or feast, and songs appropriate to the occasion will be sung. There will be no set programme about the affair, for set programmes are unknown at feasts of that sort, but every one will sing, imbibe the foaming production from Richmond, and will depart at midnight for rest for the morrow.

The latter, of course, will be the day. The Young Men's Association will parade, the order of the procession being as follows: Squad of police. Chief Marshal and aides. It is probable that the most will be in line. All who live in the western portion of the city will meet at Tholl's Hall on west Broad street. Those residing in the centre will assemble at Sanger Hall, and the representatives from the east will congregate at Tholl's Hall, Seventeenth and Main streets.

The programme at the Exposition Grounds will be more in the celebration of Koerner's birthday than the celebration of German Day. There will be an overture, a speech by President Alfred N. von Rosenberg, song, "Before the Battle," by the Gesang Verein Virginia, a prologue by a young lady and a biographical oration on Koerner's life by one who will handle the subject in a masterly manner.

There will be dancing during the day, a concert in one of the halls and other amusements that will be welcomed by the visitors. Germans from Petersburg and other Virginia cities will be present, and every comfort and convenience possible will be offered those present.

Mr. C. Fred Kohler, president of the young men of the Association, addressed the letters to Governor McKinney and Mayor Ellison Friday, requesting those gentlemen to review the parade, which takes place on Wednesday morning. The candidates for orders is Mr. C. R. Kuyk, for some months lay reader at Weddell-Memorial chapel, located in Fulton.

Rabbi Calisch preached at Beth Ababa yesterday on "Home Training." The discourse was pronounced a very fine one.

The Death Yesterday of an Old and Well-Known Citizen. Mr. W. A. Spott, a well-known citizen of Richmond for many years and one of the oldest jewelers in the South, died at his residence, No. 614 north Fifth street, in this city at 1:25 P. M. yesterday. Mr. Spott was the senior member of the well-known firm of W. A. Spott & Son, for many years identified with the business of Richmond. He was born at Messenburg, Prussia Saxony, Germany, and came to Richmond in 1818, and married Miss Rosa Lena Harsh, of Hanover, Germany. He was one of General Lee's couriers in the war and a prominent member of the German Lutheran church in this city. He was in his fifty-fifth year. He leaves a wife and six children. Mr. V. E. A. Spott, Charles H. Spott, Mrs. John Krouse and Mr. Emil H. Spott. The funeral will take place from the above-named church at 3:30 P. M. Monday.

An Excellent Recommendation. The grand jury of the Henrico County Court failed last week to bring in true bills of indictment against several butchers in the county who had been previously reported for allowing nuisances to exist on their premises. The jury, however, recommended to the court the appointment of a commissioner whose duties it shall be to inspect these houses.

The Grays Defeated. The Richmond Grays ball team was yesterday defeated by the Sunflowers by a score of 8 to 2. One of the spectators during the progress of the game said laconically that the military men couldn't "catch the measles, much less a base-ball."

Ravel, the great French clown, pleases the children immensely. Special matinee Saturday for their benefit at the New Richmond Theatre.

"Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre. Four nights, and special matinee for children, beginning Wednesday, September 23d.

"Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre. Four nights, and special matinee for children, beginning Wednesday, September 23d.

"Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre. Four nights, and special matinee for children, beginning Wednesday, September 23d.

"Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre. Four nights, and special matinee for children, beginning Wednesday, September 23d.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

Bits of News Gathered Here and There by the "Times" Reporters.

Dr. W. C. Day, of Danville, was in the city yesterday on an extended visit to Baltimore.

Miss Annie Lee Kenney has returned home from an extended visit to Baltimore.

Mr. F. Rothheimer sailed Friday for Europe, and will be absent two months.

Miss Lina Blum has returned home after a pleasant visit to the Virginia mountains.

Miss Edith Morton, of Pulaski county, is visiting Mrs. Bowman at No. 514 north Eighth street.

Miss Jennie Snyder, of Barton Heights, is visiting her friend, Miss Jean Johnson, of Bon Air.

Miss Jennie McPhail is still very ill with fever, but late last evening was resting a little easier.

Miss Edna Johnson, of west Franklin street, left yesterday afternoon to visit friends in Baltimore.

Dr. J. M. Roberts left the city yesterday evening to spend several days in Washington and Baltimore.

Libertus Lodge of Perfection, No. 5, A. and A. Scottish Rite, will meet at St. Albans Hall to-morrow night.

Miss Mattie Johnson, of Bon Air, is spending a few days with her friend, Miss Blanche Snyder, at Barton Heights.

Mr. Edgerton S. Rogers is expected to land in New York next Friday, and arrive in Richmond on Monday following.

Miss Grace Culpeper is quite ill with fever at the residence of her father, "The Madison," following the 13th street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Gavin, of Memphis, Tenn., en route home from Saratoga, are spending a few days here with their daughter, Mrs. R. J. Taylor.

Miss Alice Maegill Drewry has gone to Covington, where she will spend a short time before entering school at the Linwood Female Institute.

Mr. Horace H. Harton, the engineer who was so badly injured at Charlottesville September 15th, will reach the city to-day at 3:30 o'clock P. M.

The Board of Police Commissioners will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock to investigate charges against Officers W. T. Foster and W. H. Fore.

Mr. James B. Doherty left Friday night for Indianapolis, Ind., as delegate to the Cigar-makers' International Union, which convenes in that city to-morrow.

The local committee are arranging for the meeting of the National Funeral Directors' Association, which will be held in Richmond October 7th and 8th next.

Mr. Arthur G. Seal, special agent of the Hammond Typewriter Company, is on a visit to Richmond. Mr. Seal was at one time connected with the Baltimore Gazette.

Mr. James S. Atkinson, assistant secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, has recovered from a long illness, and will be able to attend to his duties at the Association building.

Miss Willie Green, of south Third street, who has been the guest of Mrs. General Terry, at the Soldiers' Home, returned yesterday to Richmond. She will be visited this week by Miss Hattie Hersey, one of Washington's society belles.

IN THE CHURCHES.

The Pastors Have Returned and All the Pulpits Will be Filled—Interesting Services.

The ministers of Richmond with two exceptions have returned from their summer vacations and every pulpit in the city will be filled to-day for the first time for several months.

Rev. Dr. Hoge is home again, after spending several Sundays in Baltimore and other city pulpits. During his absence his church, the Second Presbyterian, has undergone a thorough renovation inside and out, including new upholstery and evening. The reopening of the church with the return of its beloved pastor will make an occasion both interesting and attractive. He will preach at 11 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Rev. Robert P. Kerr, of the First Presbyterian church, who has been quite ill since his return to the city, has recovered, and will preach to his people to-day, both morning and evening.

Rev. George G. Smith, D. D., whose work of preaching to children has gained him a wide reputation, will hold three services at Trinity Methodist Episcopal church to-day. He will preach specially to parents at 11 A. M., and will preach also at 4 P. M. to the children and again at 5 P. M. to the general congregation. The public is invited.

Rev. W. V. Tudor, D. D., will preach as usual, both morning and evening. The church conference last Wednesday night will commence to-day with a special service at 3:30 P. M., and will continue each night thereafter, commencing at 8 o'clock. Mr. Tudor's subject to-night will be "A Critical Time."

Commencing Sunday night Rev. C. C. Westcott will begin a series of services at Laurel-street Methodist church. Rev. J. Wiley Bledsoe will conduct the service to-morrow night, and Rev. L. B. Turnbull, of the Old Market Presbyterian church, will preach Tuesday night.

Rev. H. H. Pitt will preach on the subject of "Preaching for Rain" at Venable-street Baptist church this morning, a matter that has created a good deal of interest through the newspaper discussions led off by Dr. Noah K. Davis, of the University of Virginia.

HAPPY MR. DEPEW.

All Care Left Behind While He Jambots Through Europe.

Major Pond, who has just got back from England, met Dr. Depew in London.

"It beats all how that man can enjoy himself," he said yesterday. "He's left absolutely behind him every care, and he's traveling around there with the boys as though he never had anything else to do or never expected to have anything else to do. I met Major Bundy, too, and Cornelius Vanderbilt and a lot of others. They hired a special train, not long ago, and went off into Italy. They were gone a week and nobody knew what had become of them. It's astonishing how many Americans there are now doing the continent. I was in Ver-sailles on the terrace a week ago. There was an enormous crowd there waiting for the fountain to play. I'm a pretty good judge of numbers, and I guess there was not less than a thousand, every one of them Americans. It was the same in Hampton, the same in Brussels, the same in Antwerp and Amsterdam—just full of American tourists. Go up to Warwick, and you find a crowd, and another in Edinburgh. Why, at the Hotel Royal in Edinburgh the halls were filled with Americans waiting for rooms. At Glasgow they are thick, everywhere down through Ireland just the same and at Liverpool the hotels are jammed with people just waiting for a chance to get back home. They spend their money liberally—they have to be well treated. They pay fancy prices at hotels, and they put up with frauds they'd no more think of tolerating in this country than they would of flying."

Perhaps a Last Chance. It is possible, yes, even probable, that the excursion trip to Norfolk and Newport News next Saturday night will be the last one that will be made by the A. R. The boat leaves Richmond Saturday night, September 20, 1891, at 10 o'clock sharp, arrives at Newport News at 6 A. M., and Norfolk at 7 A. M. Leaves Norfolk Sunday at 4 P. M. and Newport News at 5 P. M., arriving at Richmond at 12 Sunday night.

Tickets also good to return the following Tuesday, September 23th.

Auction Sales of Real Estate. Our real estate agents are fast appreciating the fact that THE TIMES' columns are read by many parties looking out for real estate investments, and are using the same to good advantage. Three most excellent auction sales were made by Messrs. J. Thompson Brown & Co., real estate agents, last week, who report the attendance good and the prices satisfactory. The same firm sold at auction on yesterday a frame house on south Pine, and the forty-foot lot in rear of same, as advertised in THE TIMES.

"Kajanka" was pronounced by the New York Herald as the "finest production seen at Niblo's since the 'Black Crook'."

"Kajanka," the greatest spectacle ever in Richmond, Four nights, beginning Wednesday, New Richmond Theatre.

"Kajanka," four nights and matinee. New Richmond Theatre.

"Kajanka" opens an engagement Wednesday, September 23d. New Richmond Theatre.

"Kajanka" will please the old and the young. Wednesday, September 23d. New Richmond Theatre.

Auction Sales of Real Estate. Our real estate agents are fast appreciating the fact that THE TIMES' columns are read by many parties looking out for real estate investments, and are using the same to good advantage. Three most excellent auction sales were made by Messrs. J. Thompson Brown & Co., real estate agents, last week, who report the attendance good and the prices satisfactory. The same firm sold at auction on yesterday a frame house on south Pine, and the forty-foot lot in rear of same, as advertised in THE TIMES.

"Kajanka," "Kajanka," "Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre, four nights and matinee for ladies and children. Engagement commencing Wednesday, September 23d, the superb spectacle "Kajanka." Unusual show but regular prices.

The BEST ONE-PIECE OF FINE SUN-CURED TOBACCO that can be bought in America is Hickok's No. 1.

The music was all specially composed for "Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre Wednesday, September 23d, and balance of the week.

Ravel, the great French clown, is a great attraction now with "Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre. Four nights and special matinee, beginning Wednesday.

For Malaria, Liver Trouble, or Indigestion, USE BROWN'S IRON BITTERS

Auction Sales of Real Estate. Our real estate agents are fast appreciating the fact that THE TIMES' columns are read by many parties looking out for real estate investments, and are using the same to good advantage. Three most excellent auction sales were made by Messrs. J. Thompson Brown & Co., real estate agents, last week, who report the attendance good and the prices satisfactory. The same firm sold at auction on yesterday a frame house on south Pine, and the forty-foot lot in rear of same, as advertised in THE TIMES.

"Kajanka" will delight every one who sees it. New Richmond Theatre four nights and special matinee, beginning Wednesday, September 23d.

"Kajanka," Wednesday night. "Kajanka," Thursday night. "Kajanka," Friday night. "Kajanka," Saturday night. "Kajanka," Sunday matinee. New Richmond Theatre.

"Kajanka." New Richmond Theatre. Four nights, and special matinee for children, beginning Wednesday, September 23d.

The Marine Troup of Acrobats is with "Kajanka," the finest spectacle of the day. New Richmond Theatre. Four nights and matinee, beginning Wednesday, September 23d.

Let all the children look forward to Saturday matinee, especially for their benefit, at the new Richmond Theatre—"Kajanka."

Auction Sales of Real Estate. Our real estate agents are fast appreciating the fact that THE TIMES' columns are read by many parties looking out for real estate investments, and are using the same to good advantage. Three most excellent auction sales were made by Messrs. J. Thompson Brown & Co., real estate agents, last week, who report the attendance good and the prices satisfactory. The same firm sold at auction on yesterday a frame house on south Pine, and the forty-foot lot in rear of same, as advertised in THE TIMES.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Baltimore. BALTIMORE, MD., Sept. 19.—Flour steady and unchanged; receipts, 7,797 barrels; shipments, 14,747 barrels; sales, 2,000 barrels. Wheat No. 2 red steady, spot, $1.02 1/2 @ 1.03 1/2; No. 2 white, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 mixed, $1.00 1/2 @ 1.01 1/2; No. 2 extra, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 winter, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 spring, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 fall, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 summer, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 winter, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 spring, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 fall, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2; No. 2 summer, $1.01 1/2 @ 1.02 1/2.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Condition of the Grain, Stock and Provision Markets.

QUOTATIONS FROM THE MONETARY WORLD

Movement of Wheat During the Past Week. One of the Largest Ever Known—Wheat Product Suffers a Decline.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Condition of the Grain, Stock and Provision Markets.

QUOTATIONS FROM THE MONETARY WORLD

Movement of Wheat During the Past Week. One of the Largest Ever Known—Wheat Product Suffers a Decline.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and fine weather for the maturing of growing crops is the cause of the decline. Should dry weather continue there will undoubtedly be large receipts of corn the latter part of November. Stocks are accumulating, and it would seem to require main strength and momentum to raise prices.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

Condition of the Grain, Stock and Provision Markets.

QUOTATIONS FROM THE MONETARY WORLD

Movement of Wheat During the Past Week. One of the Largest Ever Known—Wheat Product Suffers a Decline.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The movement of wheat during the past week has been one of the largest ever known. The relative price for cash and future delivery remains about the same as one week ago, both obtaining an advance of about half a cent per bushel, which would indicate a strong and healthy condition.

Cash corn closed about 10c. per bushel lower than a week ago. The large receipts and