

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

EIGHTH ANNUAL MEETING HELD.

The President's Report Shows the Last Session to Have Been the Most Prosperous. Managers and Officers Elected.

The eighth annual meeting of the Virginia Mechanics' Institute was held at 602 east Main street last evening. President W. J. Whitehurst was in the chair, and Captain Thomas Elliott recorded. The attendance of the board of managers was large.

President W. J. Whitehurst, in his annual report about the workings of the institution during the past year, makes the following statements:

"I beg leave to make this, the eighth annual report, to your honorable body, as required by the by-laws, which embodies the operations of this institution from July 13, 1891, to the date of the last report, to this day. It is with pleasure that I can say that this institution has done a greater and more satisfactory work through its night school of technology during the past session than ever before. The success of the school, taking greater interest and making much greater progress in their various studies. This must necessarily continue until our curriculum is a complete one.

"The eighth annual meeting of the Virginia Mechanics' Institute was held on Tuesday last evening, on the annual reports of the president, treasurer, secretary, committee on finance and committee on schools were read and adopted. At this meeting a resolution was passed accepting and adopting a charter for the institution for the year ending on January 25, 1892, under which charter, by operation of law, the same board of directors, elected on July 8, 1890, held over for one year. They were as follows: Henry C. Jones, J. E. Montague, W. E. Sims, W. T. Hart, A. W. Fahr, C. Q. Ely, J. E. Taylor, J. E. Utz, M. A. Campbell and Matthew Morton.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

"The night school of technology commenced its eighth annual session on October 1, 1891, and closed on April 23, 1892. Most of the classes at the opening of the session were filled to their limit, and many of them had to receive applicants for the following session. The day school opened there had been seventy-seven applicants refused; matriculating during the session 374. I desire to call the special attention of the institute to this state of affairs, which should not be, as the night school, ought to be, a source of revenue to the institute. It is not to be done until the institute secures a permanent home.

MANCHESTER MATTERS.

Notes of Interest From the City Over the River.

The city council met in adjourned session last evening with all the members present. They were: Chairman O'Brien, E. W. Weisiger, E. T. Morris, W. E. Starke, C. S. Sims, W. T. Hart, A. W. Fahr, C. Q. Ely, J. E. Taylor, J. E. Utz, M. A. Campbell and Matthew Morton.

A communication from Hon. H. A. Maurice relative to amending the ordinance in regard to cows running at large at night, and to provide means of maintenance whilst in the city pound, was referred to the committee on ordinances.

Chairman O'Brien appointed the following standing committees: On Finance—E. W. Weisiger, (chairman), J. E. Utz, J. E. Taylor, C. H. Sims and John C. Jones.

On Streets—J. E. Utz, (chairman), J. E. Taylor, W. E. Starke, A. W. Fahr and M. A. Campbell.

On Buildings and Land—E. W. Weisiger, (chairman), E. T. Morris, W. T. Hart and J. E. Taylor.

On Light—George Q. Ely, (chairman), John E. Taylor and W. T. Hart.

On Fire—Matthew Morton, (chairman), George Q. Ely and W. E. Starke.

On Water—Charles H. Sims, (chairman), John E. Taylor and W. T. Hart.

On Cemeteries—W. E. Starke, (chairman), John E. Utz, A. W. Fahr and M. A. Campbell.

On Poor—E. T. Morris, (chairman), Matthew Morton, W. T. Hart and E. W. Weisiger.

A communication was received from Mr. Washington Gilman, Kansas City, asking for the position of city engineer. It was referred to the street committee.

The council then adjourned.

The Forest Hill base-ball team had a practice at Island Park yesterday afternoon for the league game which takes place next Saturday. They intend to put themselves through rough practice in the game, and will play a wicked nine from Swansboro at Forest Hill Thursday. The Free Staters' first game of the league series will be with the Virginia Saturday. They will have as their battery Hattori and Luck, and intend to give the Virginia a hard contest.

During the night, yesterday afternoon an armature at the power-house of the Richmond and Manchester railway was burned out. A house at Nineteenth and Hull streets was struck by lightning and the chimney pipe destroyed. Mr. Hill's house was slightly scorched at Hull street.

Mrs. W. R. Pugh, of Petersburg, who has been visiting Miss Cora Lumpkin at the Brewery mansion, left for her home yesterday afternoon.

Miss Cora Lumpkin is visiting her uncle, Mr. L. Lumpkin, in Richmond.

Mr. Thomas Williamson, of this city, was called to Amelia county yesterday on account of the illness of his grandmother.

Mrs. L. R. Thornhill is visiting friends in Chesterfield county.

A new iron safe was sent by Mr. J. H. Lumsden to the city, and is to be put in the safe which will be the home of the money which has been contributed, and the names of the contributors will appear in Sunday's paper. The Times Company is authorized to hold the funds, and any additional names received will appear in the list. The Free Staters think they will win the pennant.

Mr. J. F. Foulke has gone to Roanoke to visit friends.

Miss Maude Jennings has returned from a visit to relatives in the country.

Mr. George F. Conway, of Buchanan, Va. formerly of this city, is here on a visit.

Mrs. Mary Burton, of Danville, formerly of Coalfield, is visiting friends in Manchester.

Dr. James Brown, of Ensley, Ala., is visiting his mother, at the Pemberton place, near Spring, Chesterfield.

Judge B. J. Hancock and Judge John H. Ingram have gone to Old Point to attend the meeting of the State Bar Association.

Miss Nannie B. Bearing, of Dorset, Powhatan county, is visiting her cousins, the Misses Jennings, in the Seattle building.

The mayor's court yesterday morning, Sidney Giles (colored) was fined for trespassing upon the premises of the Richmond and Petersburg railroad.

A number of young ladies and gentlemen of this city had a dance yesterday evening at the residence of Mr. R. Stanley Robertson, at Woodland Heights.

Mr. E. W. Weisiger has lost his pug dog Ginty.

The street committee will have a meeting to-night and will probably elect an engineer. There is some talk of the work being given to Captain J. A. Lipscomb.

Miss Jennie Pool, of this city, and Mr. James M. Hankins, of Pittsylvania county, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon. Rev. Father Frolic, of St. Peter's cathedral, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few of the most intimate friends of the contracting couple. They left on the Richmond and Danville train for Pittsylvania, where they will in the future reside.

The committee in charge of the dedication of the new Methodist church at Chester, which takes place next Thursday, have secured reduced rates on the Richmond and Petersburg railroad for the occasion. The fare from Manchester and return will be fifty cents only. There will be an old-fashioned Fourth of July on the grounds, and an excellent programme of exercises will be rendered.

The board of police commissioners held a meeting Tuesday night in the mayor's court-room for the purpose of electing police officers for the ensuing term of two years. Those present were Mayor A. Maurice, C. H. Sims, J. C. Jones, W. T. Hart, E. W. Weisiger, all of whom were re-elected, as follows: J. A. Lipscomb, chief; R. C. Jones, first assistant; R. P. Smith, second assistant; and W. L. Moles, third assistant. The only other application for a position on the force was from Mr. F. J. Wood, and the application was filed. Mr. Weisiger was made permanent clerk of the board.

At Pittsburgh Lodge, No. 73, I. O. O. F., last night, W. S. Ford, lodge deputy, installed the following officers for the ensuing term: W. T. Hart, W. E. Starke, W. G. A. Webb, V. G. A. Hargrove, secretary; S. H. Herndon, treasurer; Charles E. Lee, R. S. N. G.; James M. Bishop, L. S. N. G.; F. J. Winston, warden; H. H. Henley, conductor; Charles Bass, R. S. N. G.; C. B. Bennett, L. S. N. G.; Henry Wood, O. G.; James H. Woodard, L. G.; A. M. Vaden, R. S. V. G.; John Boucher, L. S. V. G.

At Richmond Lodge, No. 1, I. O. O. F., had a very fine meeting Monday night. Considerable routine business was transacted, and the officers for the current term were installed: W. T. Hart, W. E. Starke, W. G. A. Webb, R. M. Lewis, A. Tucker, secretary. After the installation a number of the members of the new Capital City Lodge were initiated, and the night was one of the most eventful in the history of the lodge.

The Committee on Shocks Creek of the City Council met in the Council chamber last evening for organization. Messrs. Turpin, Bowden, Mitchell and Turpin were present.

On motion of Mr. Turpin, the old chairman of the committee, Mr. Bowden was re-elected, and it was decided to hold the meeting subject to the call of the Chair.

Another attempt was made to secure a meeting of the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform for the purpose of organization, but Mr. Allen was the only member present. The absentees were: Messrs. Gray, King, Guilan and Murphy.

A third call has been issued for the committee to meet this evening at 8 o'clock.

Hustings Court. James Walker, the husband of Helen Walker, the woman who was sent to jail for six months for cruelly treating a child, was arraigned before Judge Witt yesterday on a similar charge. He was acquitted, however, a number of witnesses who had known him for thirty-five years testifying to his good character.

It Saves the Children. An eight-months-old child of G. W. Lutz, Zion's Hill, Va., had a very severe attack of bloody flux. He tells how it was cured: "After several days we commenced giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, according to directions. We were very uneasy about the child and sent for a physician. I told him what had happened, and he said he would give me the best thing we could do to go about and give your remedy. We used about half of a small bottle and cured the child, although the child was so low that he had no use of medicine."

Owners of Minor Drug Company, 1007 east Main street.

OLD HANOVER TROOP.

THEIR REUNION AT ASHLAND PARK.

A Day Pleasantly Spent Beneath the Oaks and Pines—Brunswick Stew, Barbecued Lamb and Buttermilk.

To the men who followed Lee there is no occasion more pleasant than the annual reunion which are held in the environs of Richmond, and no event is fraught with more genuine enjoyment than that of the Hanover Troop Association, which each year meets at Ashland Park. Again yesterday did the veterans who followed Wickham meet there, and again were fought with words the battles participated in by that noble command.

After the showers of the day previous the sun shone and its rays were tempered by a delightful breeze. The artillery of heaven was heard in Richmond, but none penetrated the peaceful calm of Ashland Park, and the veterans were happy, contented and pleased.

At 5 o'clock on the Northern train, while the city followed on the 12 o'clock train.

By 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.

At 1 o'clock the reunion was in full operation and the picture presented was one that would never fail to please. No arranged programme kept the participants under restraint, but all were allowed to act as their fancy dictated.