by the 9th District Democrats.

BEISTOL, TENN. Aug. 2.—The Ninth District Virginia Democratic Congressional Convention this morning nominated didge H. S. K. Morrison, of Scott country on the thirteenth ballot. The contest was very spirited, and it seemed for a time that a deadlock was inevitable, as long to the time of Craig, incumbent; Daniel burg, of Washington, and General A. L. themore, of Lee. There was great option developed against Marshall some long of Washington, and General A. L. themore, of Lee. There was great option developed against Marshall some long as and his defeat seemed to be bregone conclusion. The nomination of this is said to be wise, it is claimed he will carry the district by three beauting and fifteen hundred more than any reandidate. All the other factions was enabled in support Morrison, though there is me talk of Pridemore's opposition. The convention adopted the Chicago latform of 1892, and inserted a free-silver plank. The income feature of the tariff was favored President Grover Cleveland's administration was endorsed.

growing out of alleged fraud in the recent numeroal contest.

It will be remembered that in this ward
(the black belt of Norfolk) the white Democratic candidates for the Council were opposed by negro Prohibition-Republican Reformers, that white men of prominence, heretofore Democrats, went to the polls in this ward and worked all day for the Prohibition ticket upon which the names of these negroes were placed;
that at the Newton's Hill precinct C.
Whittle Sams, a young inwyer; Hon. Barton Myers and others objected to certain delay in opening the polls, caused by the absence of the poll-books, and, by authority of the election law as interpreted by them, swore in three negro judges, who in turn appointed negro clerks, and received votes until the going down of the sun.

The Election Commissioners threw out of the Corporation Court hearty more than two hundred witnesses being examined.

Prohibitionists charged fraud against the judges of election, except at the Sams precinct. The case was argued at great length, and Judge Brook took the case, and, after a month's consideration, delivered an opinion which would fill about six columns in The Times, in which he declares the election at the Second precinct, which gave a Democratic majority, electing br. Shepherd Health Officer over Dr. Dupuy (Prohibitionist), fraudulent, and declares filegal the Sams voting place, which sustains the Democratic councilnion.

The Black Flags are the most desperate survivors of the Tarping rebel army, which held at bay for many years the Chinese Empire. When driven by the Chinese trougs in 1805 across the border they took refuge in Tongsin, a part of the country of Anam, which lies to the south of China and east of Slam. There were 5,000 of these rebels under their bold chief. Waitsong, and they continued to gillage as they hand done in the rebellion. Subsequently they upheid Chinese interests in Anam. COREA'S ONE IRONCLAD,

It was Built for Use in the War With Japan

Still in Existence.

Still in Existence,

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Ensign George C. Foulke, U. S. N., who spent several years in Corea in charge of the American Legation at Seoul. in a report to the Navy Department in 1830 wrote regarding Corean strength at sea:

"The old navy consisted of junks, which were armed with grapnels, punching pikes and small firearms. At present there are no vessels kept for war purposes at all. During the lass war with the Japanese an Iron turtle-backed vessel was built by the Coreans and very successfully used against the Japanese wooden junks. From ports under the turtle-oack grapnels were thrown on the Japanese junks, which were then capsized or sunk by having holes punched in them. This ironclad is still in existence at Yong Yong; it is one of the oldest, if not the oldest, ironclad in the world."

SUPPLIES FOR COREA,

Secretary Gresham Asked for a Government Ship to Send Supplies There WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Secretary Gresham has received the application Gresham has received the application from the Christian Herald, of New York, referred to in the morning dispatches, for a Government ship to transport 1,000 barrels of flour to Corea. This is the first notice the department has had that any unusual measure of distress and deprivation exists in the hermit kingdom. Assuming that it is true, the officials do not see how so small a quantity of grain, which the Coreans scarcely know how to use, will be of much avail in a population of about 12,000,000 people. To complicate the situation, it is said that the Chinese and Japanese soldiers now occupy Corea, and are generally living on the country, so that any supplies sent to the people might finally fail into the hands of the foreign soldiery.

Secretary Gresham has not yet disposed of the application, and it will certainly be difficult to comply with. The only war vessel ready for service at San Francisco is the Charleston, and vessels of her chass are not adapted to the carriage of freight on long voyages, when all spare room is needed for coal. There is a precedent for such action in the case of the Constellation, which carried a cargo of potatoes to Ireland many years ago to refleve the famine-stricken people, but she was a large sailing vessel and could carry a heavy freight. An effort was made durins the Russian famine to secure a war vessel to carry over supplies from the Citted States, but so unsuitable were the craft found that the plan was abandoned and a regular freight steamer was chartered for the trip.

Women Should Learn to Swim,

Wemen Should Learn to Swim.

It is not too much to say that those who spend a great part of their time on the water ought to feel under an actual obligation to learn to swim. Not every one is strong enough to keep it up for a long distance, but many lives might be saved if people could keep themselves affoat for only a few minutes until rescuers could reach them. Yachtsmen, as a rule are swimmers, but many of the women who accompany them are not. This places more responsibility upon the men. In case of accident they must risk their lives in making exertions to save those who might just as well save them.

The Chinese fleet makes no effort to leave the coast. Fast Japanese cruisers are constantly watching.

Chief Officer Tamplin, of the transport Kowshing, said in an interview to-day concerning his experiences at the time of the sinking of the transport:

"I was in the water for some time before the Japanese picked me up. The Japanese were kind to me and gave me every attention. The Chinese aboard the Kowshing fired at me white I was in the water. The Japanese fired at the Cainese in the Kowshing's boats, but did not fire at the drowning Chinamen.

The Century War Book.

In the Century War Book Martin T. McMahon writes the following graphic sketch of the death at Spottsylvania of General John Sedgwick." "After the First New Jersey Brigade, by Sedgwick's direction, had been withdrawn through a little opening to the left of the pleces of artillery, the General, who had watched the operation, resumed his seat on the hard-tack box and commenced talking about members of his staff in very complimentary terms, ite was an inveterate tease, and I at once suspected that he had some joke on the staff which he was leading up to. He was interrupted in his comments by observing that the troops, who during this time had been filling from the left into the rifle-pits, had come to a hait and were tyling down, while the left of the line partiy overlapped the position of the section of artillery. He stopped abrupay and sain. "That is wrong. Those troops must be moved farther to the right; I don't wish them to overlap that battery. I started out to execute the order, and he arose at the same moment, and we sauntered out slowly to the gun on the right. About an hour before, I had remarked to the General, pointing to the two pieces in a half-jesting manner, which he well inderstood, "General, do you see that section of artillery? Well, you are not to go near it today." He answered good-naturedly, "McMahon, I would like to know who commands this corp, you or I?" I said, playfully, "Well, General, sometimes I am in doubt myself," but added, "Seriously, General, I beg of you not to go to that angle; every officer who has shown himself there has been hit, both year-day and today." He answered quietly, "Well, I don't know that there is any reason for my going there." When afterward we wilked out to the position in licatea, this conversation had entirely exaped the memory of both.

I gave the necessary order to move the troops to the right, and as they rose to execute the movement the exemy opened a sprinkling fire, parily from sharpshooters, As the bullets whistled by, some of the men dodging. The Genera

For a third time the same shrill whistle, closing with a dull, heavy stroke, inter-rupted our talk, when, as I was about to resume, the General's face turned slowly to me, the blood spuring from his left cheek under the eye in a steady stream. He fell in my direction; I was so close to him that my effort to support him falled, and I fell with him.

Offerings and Sales at the Richmord Tobacco Exchange-Internal Revenue Collections-Foreign Advices.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—The Railway and Miscellaneous share market was strong and higher during the morning session on a belief that the tarial conferees would reach a settlement shortly and report a bill to their respective. Houses. In addition, the stering exchanges took a downward turn, and posted rates were reduced to 4875-26-489. This was considered as meaning that the gold exports would stop for the season, and contributed not a little to the strength of the share market. The grain markets had still less influence on stocks, and buil traders in the latter were confident that the damage alleged to have been sustained to corn will not be borne out by the Government report, due to-morrow. The stocks most in demand were the Louisville and Nashville, the Grangers, Lead, Tobacco, and others in which there is known to be a large short interest. Louisville and Nashville advanced 25 to 525, Manhattan 25 to 1405, Western Union 15 to 885, Cotton Oil 15 to 305, Tobacco 15 to 355, Denver and Rio Grande preferred to 35 to 365, Ontario and Western 1 to 165, and Union Pacific 5 to 35. Toward midday the general list showed a reaction of 4,25 per cent, the result of infimations from Washington that the House conferees were standing out for further concessions, including free coal. This induced some of the buils to lighten their loads, but near the close, when Louisville and Nashville advanced to 1656, then raillied to 1655. Chicago Gas was weak throughout and sold down 14 to 744-6745. Lead, however, was in request, and on unfavorable rumors scored an advance of about a point.
