THE MAYOR'S FIRST VETO

TE OPPOSES THE MAINTENANCE OF COLORED SOLDIERS HERE.

The Board of Aldermon Overraies the Vete Without Discussion Salary for the Assistant Librarian.

The Board of Aldermen held its regular monthly meeting last evening at 7 o'clock in the Council Chamber. owing members answered to the rollcall: President Turpin and Messrs, Allen, Bahen, Blake, Hardwicke, Mitcheil, Moore, Mountcastle, Reeve, Snead, Starke, Vaughan, White, and King. Mayor Richard M. Taylor sent in his first veto message, relating to the appropriation of $2,500 in addition to the amount already appropriated for the amount already appropriated for the construction of an armory for the First battalion, virginia volunteers, infantry (the colored battalion). The document set forth the following:

I return the resolution adopted by the Board of Aldermen September 11, 1894, and concurred in by the Common Council October 1, 1894, appropriating $2,300 for armory for cirst battalion, Virginia volunteers, infantry, without my approval, as I deem it unnecessary, unwise, and against public policy to maintain colored soldiers in this city; and this battalion is composed or colored soldiers.

and this battanon is composed of colors. Soldiers.

Upon motion of Mr. Blake, the Board Unanimously passed the resolution over the veto of the Mayor.

Upon the recommendation of the Committee on Streets, a petition offered by Mr. Warner Moore was rejected, which asked permission for the construction of a side track from the Southern railroad on Dock street, in front of the petitioner's mills, for a distance of about 150 feet.

Upon the recommendation of the Finance Committee, the sum of $6,000 was appropriated for the account of the Committee on James River Improvement. The original resolution, cailing for an appropriation of $10,000, was amended in the above manner by the committee. A ROOM FOR THE LAW LIBRARY.

Upon the recommendation of the Committee on Grounds and Buildings, a resolution was unanimously adopted granting permission to the Bar Association to use as a law library Room No. 16, on the fourth floor of the City Hall, under certain restrictions and with the proviso that the room may also be used by the city for the storage of documents. Captain Reeve, on behalf of the Committee on Health, submitted the report recently published in The Times in regard to the death rate of the city, and a resolution was adopted providing that there be added to the census for each year the percentage equal to the increase since the previous census.

The Board concurred in the following appropriations agreed upon by the Common Council:

The Board also concurred in the resolution providing for the appointment of a special committee of three members from the Council and two from the Board, to consider the question of displaying the names of the streets on street corners; also for the use of electricity on the Marshall-street car line during the Exposition, from October 5th to 19th.

When the question came up as to concurring in the resolution appropriating $3,000 for the completion of the Stuart Horse Guard armory, and the erection of a drill shed between the armory and the one of the Richmond Howitzers, now in course of construction, a good deal of discussion ensued, and Mr. Starke moved to strike out such parts of the resolution as referred to the drill shed. This motion prevailed, and the resolution was agreed upon as amended.

STATE LIBRARY.

A resolution was concurred in appropriating $561 for certain improvements on Park avenue between Boyd and Byrd streets. The Board also concurred in the ordinance providing that the Board of Health should meet at least once a month; also in a resolution donating a section in Oakwood cemetery to the Founding Hospital; appropriating $60 for the furnishing of a room in Washington Hall for the accommodation of the Electoral Board.

The resolution appropriating $33.3.1.3

The resolution appropriating $83.33 1-3 per month, as salary for the assistant ilbrarian, was also concurred in, Mr. Starke alone voting against it.

The Committee on Finance was instructed to borrow $100,000 from time to time, as the needs of the city may require.

NOT TO SELL TREIR BALARIES. The ordinance concerning the payment of the salaries and wages of city officials and employes, and preventing them from selling their salaries, or giving orders for the same, provoked a lively discussion. President Turpin spoke against the measure, saying that he did not think the city officials were bables, needing "so carts" to keep them from failing down. He thought these people should have the privilege of selling their wages, which were their only assets, when they were in a tight place.

privilege of selling their wages, which were their only assets, when they were in a tight place.

Mr. Blake, in favoring the ordinance, said that the president did not seem to understand the situation. He said that some of the city officials did sell their wages, and that they sold them three and four times. He cited an instance, in which an order for a man's pay was presented at the office of the City Auditor three times, only to be turned down, as the wages of the said official had been drawn upon another order.

Mr. Turpin thought a person who did that was nothing more than a thief. He knew there were some dishonest people in the city government, if the refusal to pay a debt was to be called dishonesty.

Mr. Starke stated that he would have to vote for the measure in order to make impossible such a report as he heard a day or two ago, to the effect that a member of one of the committees was shaving the bonds of a man employed in his own department.

A motion made by Mr. Allen, to refer the matter to the Committee on Claims and Saiarres, was voted down. The original ordinance was then concurred in by a vote of 10 to 4, with an amendment, repealing any ordinance or part of ordinance conflicting therewith.

NOT TO CUIRGE WATER PENT.

Adderman Mitchell presented a resolution, requesting the Committee on Water to ascertain the number of water takers alleging that they do not receive the quantity of water for which they pay, and to inform the board as to the loss which the city would sustain if no charge was made for such faucets and closets. The measure was referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Starke presented a resolution providing for the issuing of $25,000 worth of 4 per cent. city bonds, the proceeds of which are to be expended in the construction of the proposed new school building. The matter was referred to the Committee on Finance.

On motion of Captain Reeve, the board decided that chairmen of the various committees should report the codified city ordinances as soon as revised to Captain Alexander Coke, the reviser, so that they might be presented to the Council in one volume as proof.

After the transaction of some routine business of minor importance the board adjourned.

FEATS ITS COMPETITORS.

The Norfolk City Guard Scenres Second Prize, and the Monticello Guard, of Charlottesville, Takes Third.

Yesterday was a day of surprises to those who were interested in the competitive drill, and had an idea that they were in a position to predict the probable result. People who had witnessed the drills of Companies A and B of the Blues' Battalion, on and near the Capitol Square, became deeply impressed with the good work put in by the two companies, but it was generally conceded that Company A. the old Richmond Light Infantry Blues, was ahead of the junior company, if not in the manual of arms, certainly in marching and loading and firing.

marching and loading and firing.

Evening after evening I witnessed the drills of the two commands, and, debarring any attempt of appearing to be partial, I came to the same cosclusion as all the others. Of course, the general impression prevailed that Company B would also carry off a prize, but I venture to say that hardly one outsider could be found who expected that Company B would secure the first prize.

that hardly one outsider could be found who expected that Company B would secure the first prize.

During the whole time that the preparations for the great contest were going on, the best feeling prevailed between the two commands, and when the members of Company A felt yesterday that they would not be "in it." to use a common, street expression, they endeavored to render their moral assistance to Company B as soon as their time arrived, and they cheered the junior company heartly and with a will when they saw how smoothly and promptly all their orders were carried out. were carried out.
That Captain Ainslie was the proudest man at the Exposition Grounds last evening, next to the men of his compa-ny, was perfectly natural, for no one knew better than he what sacrifices had been necessary to bring his company to that perfection which secured it the palm that perfection which secured it the paim of the day.

**MORK SUBURISES**

But with the victory of Company B the surprises did not end, for while the drill went on the general impression prevailed that Company A, of the Blues, would, if not the first, certainly secured the second prize; but when it was announced that Company B (Norfolk City Guards), Fourth Regiment, had secured second prize, and Company D (Monticello Guards), Third Regiment, third prize, every spectator indulged in more or less commenting and wondering as to how all this came about.

There were three prizes of $250, $250 and $166 offered by the Virginia State Agricultural and Mechanical Society and First Lieutenants Duval, Wask and Mott, U.S. A., of Fortress Monroe, had been selected as judges. Entries were made by Companies A and B, of the Blues Battalion, the Norfolk and Charlotteswille companies. It was also expected that the Harrisonburg Guard, Captain O. B. Roller commandins, would enter the competition, but as that gentleman wrote yesterday to a former member of his organization, who now resides in this city, his men had been rather hard up, and although he tried until last Saturday, he found it impossible to secure the necessary number. Had they really entered the race there would have been no telling as to the probable result. During the competitive drill at Staunton last week the Harrisonburg Guard secured 28.3 points out of a possible 30, the Charlottes, ville Company 14.5.

Originally the drill had been set down for 1 P. M., but for some reason it had been put off until 2 o'clock, and the piage for the exhibition was designated as Lie race track in front of the grand stand. The recent rain had made the ground rather heavy, and when, shortly before 2 o'clock, Jupiter Pluvius once more opened his flood gates, it became apparent that the companies would have to overcome considerable difficulties.

It fell to the lot of Company A, of the Blues to appear first in the arean, and after the commandants of the various organizations had secure

Never before was Company A more perfect in the manual of arms and in the company drill, but what brought about its downfall was the company inspection. One or two serious mistakes were made in that portion of the exhibit, and besides the uniforms and belts were not found in as good a condition as in the other commands. The guns were also designated as unserviceable—they are furnished by the State—and, as one of the officers who acted as judges expressed himself afterwards, he would not attempt to put any man armed with such a gun on guard duty.

afterwards, he would not attempt to put any man armed with such a gun on guard duty.

By the time Company A had finished its drill the rainfall had become heavier, and the Monticello Guard, who had been waiting in a neighboring field, were drenched before they entered the drill. They were commanded by Captain Keller, but for some reason it was impossible to secure a list of their men. They inbored under difficulties, but did the best they could under the circumstances. When they had ended the Military Committee of the Society, consisting of Messrs, Lee Lorraine and William F. Wickham, decided that the remainder of the programme should be executed in the Music Hall. After some unavoidable delay, Company

After some unavoidable tears, company B, of the Blues, came to the front and was loudly cheered by the many spectators who filled the galleries, the platform, and the sides of the hell. Their drill went off like clock-work, and but one or two unimportant mistakes were noticed.

The last company to enter the drill was the Norfolk Company, but by the time they put in their appearance it had become so dark that a good many of the spectators lost their interest and left the building.

At the close of the drill the judges had a brief consultation in the plesident's office to compare notes and subsequently the general result was announced as stated above.

quently the general result was announced as stated above.

At the suggestion of the military committee the three army officers will remain here until Thursday. They will today in detail ascertain the percentage of the four companies and they will also be in readiness, if any additional military drill should be decided upon by the committee.

An Evening of Story and Song at the Rich. mond Theatre.

The combination of talent that is to appear at the Richmond Theatre Thurs-appear at the Richmond Theatre Thursday night, October 18th, will afford an opportunity to lovers of wit, humor, eloquence and music, for all these elements will be called into play for the benefit of those who attend. Polk Miller never wanes in the interest of the public, for he is unique. He will delineate, in his own delightful manner, with several new sketches, the old-time plantation darky, a character which possesses such a peculiar charm to all southern people. Doubtless many of our visitors will take this opportunity of hearing Richmond's popular delineator.

None the less charming are the stories of the war as told by Judge Farrar, our own "Johnny Reb," who for over a quarter of a century has found favor with thousands by virtue of his wit and oratory. Judge Farrar's versatality is well known, and he will be gladly received by hosts of personal friends and admirers. By the way, he lectured last night, and also lectures to-night at Nashville, Tenn. If you have never heard him the opportunity should not be slighted.

Professor S. T. Ford. of New York, has been specially engaged for the occasion. He is an elocutionist and impersonator of the best order, and his humorous recitations will add a delightful feature to the unusually brilliant programme. The Imperial Quartette, in negro dialect, songs and choruses, together with the Jordans, whose clever manipulation of the mandollin, guitar and banjo is so well known, are down on the bill for several numbers. The vocal and instrumental selections by these two features will contribute largely to the pleasure of the audience. The management says the curtain will rise promptly at 8:15, and the programme be rendered without hitch or interruption.

Judging from the merit of the entertainment offered and the popularity of the participants, the Theatre will be packed to the doors.

The Stuart Horse Guard, Captain E. J. Euker commanding, yesterday celebrated its anniversary. In view of the fact that the troop took part in the big parade in connection with the opening ceremonies of the Exposition, there was no official programme drawn up for the proper observance of the day. Late in the evening an informal gathering took place at the temporary quarters of the command in the old City Hall, where numerous delicacies were spread to tickle the palate of those present. Owing to the severe rainstorm the attendance was rather small, but those who did come spent a very enjoyable evening. The Eleventh Anniversary,

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.-In order to ecure a crew for the cruiser Minneapolis Secretary Herbert has decided to put the coast defence monitor Miantonomoh out of commission, and utilize the men now on that vessel. The Miantonomoh requires extensive repairs, and instead of allowing her men to reamin idle during the long stay she is to make at the League island navy yard, their service will enable the Government to make use of the fastest ship in the navy. It is understood that when the Olympia is ready for for commissioning, the crew of the Montercy will be transferred to that ship, and that the policy of putting ships out of commission when extensive repairs are required is now fairly inaugurated. We, the committee appointed by the Tobacco Associations of Petersburg, Va., at their meeting held on Monday, the list of October, 1894, to consider the expediency of consolidating the Loose Tobacco Association and the Tobacco Exchange, would recommend the consolidation of the report is as follows:

ency of consolidating the Loose Tobacco Association and the Tobacco Exchange, would recommend the consolidation of the two associations, the fee for membership to be $14 per annum, payable annually in advance from 1st October, 1894. Any one joining later to pay a full membership fee from the 1st of october preceding, and each one now a member of either association to be entitled to a credit on his dues of which he has paid in advance of 1st of October, 1894.

We also recommend that the charge of $10 initiation fee be abolished; also, that article second of the by-laws of the Tobacco Exchange, imposing a tax of twelve and a half cents on each sample offered on the Exchange by a member not paying a box rent (seller), be abolished and the box rent be $10 per annum, payable in advance, but optional with the members as to renting. We recommend that no salary be paid to the time-keeper on the loose sales, also, that the salary of the secretary and treasurer be one hundred and fifty dollars per annum from October 1, 1894.

Calpeper Cun Club.

CULPEPER, VA., Oct. 3.—Special.—The unlawful killing of game and catching of fish has been carried on in this county so continuously that our citizens were compelled to take a decisive stand against this pernicious practice, and accordingly six of our most prominent huntsmen petitioned the judge of the Circuit Court of this county to issue to them a charter to form a Gun Club, whose object would be "to protect the game of this county from uniawful killing, and social intercourse." The charter was granted with many well wishes for the club's success. Last night about thirty-five of our Davy Crockett and Izak Waiton young men assembled in the Mayor's office and proceeded to carry out the object of the charter. The club will be known as the Culpeper Gun Club.

The following officers were elected: President, S. L. Cooper: Vice-President, I. L. Johnson; Secretary, C. M. Watte, and Treasurer, R. F. Booten.

Sixty-three members were enrolled. The club issued a circular this morning offering $5 reward for the conviction of any person caught violating our game laws. MARIAN MAKES A RECORD

MORRIS PARK, N. Y., Oct. 9.-The card here to-day was first-class in every respect, the weather good, and attendance fair. As the track was in excellent shape, record breaking was in order, and this was accomplished in the first race when Maid Marian broke the five furlong turf record by covering the distance in .56%. The best previous record ored cemetery, is under arrest for stealing a coffin from around the corpse of a colored woman, which was buried in the cemetery on Wednesday last.

This morning Dr. Lankford, president of the Board of Health, was called upon by the relatives of the deceased woman. They told him that they had been informed that Cemetery Keeper Norris was seen digging out the grave Wednesday night in which the body of their dead sister had been interred Wednesday afternoon. of .57 flat was made by Dr. Hasbrouck in 1892. The principal event of the day was be race for the Dunmow stakes, for two-year-olds, which was productive of a stirring tinish. It was a bitter fight all the way between Perry Belmont's Magfeian and nis brother's, O. P. H. Belment's handsome colt, Brandywine. The last furlong of the race was contested inch by inch, and the pair crossed the line heads apart.

The surprise of the day came in the result of the first three-year-old serial handicap, in which Black Hawk, a rank outsider, at 160 to 1, took the lend at the start, maintained it to the end, and won by an open length from Jack of Spades, who was a hot favorite in the McCaul in Loudoun.

HAMILTON, VA., Oct. 2.—Special.—Pat McCaull expounded Republican doctrine for an hour and a half in the town hall here last night to a small audience, fully two-thirds of which were negroes and boys. His speech was delivered in the same breezy, clownish style that has characterized his campaign efforts from the beginning, which tickled the boys, but disgusted the few intelligent men present, some of whom left the room before the conclusion of the long list of contradictions. He was quite bitter in his arraignment of the Wilson bill, which he unsatisfactorily explained, had been framed in the interests of English manufactories, and tried to make a hit on Mr. Wilson's recent visit to England, but failed. He stated in conclusion, that we had had thirty years of sentimental parties, and that it was time to turn the tables. Loudoun will roll up a big majority for Mr. Meredith. Mr. T. T.
