tainly be repressed, if it is undertaken. Virginia is not a place where anything of that sort will be tolerated.

THE NEW YORK HERALD'S special correspondent at Managua, Nicaragua, telegraphs that paper that he has had an interview with a leading statesman of Nicaragua in which the Nicaraguan said:

"Our government has received official advice from Washington by which we are notified that the Americans have turned their backs upon us and refuse to succor us in the hour of trial."

"The English have at least pluck in their favor. They have the insolence to defy through us the entire American continent, while the United States can never justify their weakness of action, which will remain a blot upon their history."

"Week and small as our nation is, we have shown more courage than the United States, who encouraged us, only to desert us at the last moment."

That discloses the whole inspiration of the conduct of Nicaragua and of the other Central and South American countries which are continually kicking up their heels in the face of the countries of Europe.

They have heard that President Monroe announced long ago that this country proposed to take them all under its wing and fight their battles for them, they have heard further that the idea was a popular one in the United States; they were encouraged to think this when Mr. Blaine was Secretary of State, and they have accordingly felt free to treat the citizens of European nations just as they pleased.

This is why Nicaragua maltreated Mr. Hatch, the British Consul there, and other British citizens. If Mr. Blaine were still Secretary of State Nicaragua would possibly not receive the lesson she is now getting, and it is entirely probable that Mr. Blaine would have involved us in war with Great Britain, in an effort to prevent Great Britain from pursuing the course she is now taking, that she was compelled to pursue or to abandon her position as a self-respecting power, that will secure justice for its citizens whenever they are treated with injustice.

Nicaragua has an area of 9,500 square miles, and according to the census of 1846, of a total population of 300,000, but 20,000 are whites, 20,000 negroes, 150,000 half castes, and 100,000 pure-blooded Indians.

In December, 1888, according to the estimate of the Bureau of American Republics, the population was somewhat greater, being 323,845, but the burden of government still rested upon a very narrow basis. The standing army numbered 1,200 men, with 5,000 in the militia and reserve forces.

The total revenues in the last named year were $3,841,000, expenditures $4,024,602. In 1889-90 the imports were worth $2,783,400, of which amount about one-third were from England, one-fifth from the United States, and smaller proportions from France and Germany.

Now this is the country for which it was proposed for this nation to engage in the most gigantic war ever known, that it may shield it from the consequences of pillaging and insulting innocent people who happen to get within its power. It may be said that we have a great stake to protect in our interest in the canal. That is true, and we will protect that stake when it is menaced.

M. Constant has proposed a startling reform in the French criminal law in the Chamber of Deputies. It is that every person arrested shall be examined within twenty-four hours to see if there is probable cause for the arrest, and that he shall be then attended by counsel, or if too poor shall have counsel assigned him.

It is strange that such a law should be proposed now for the first time in France since the revolution of 1789.

With a stroke of irony peculiarly unusual to it, the Washington Star observes: "The Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia declines to allow Belva Lockwood to practice before it. The Old Dominion is evidently of the opinion that the intricacies of law which tolerates illegal racing and bookmaking are too many for the feminine intellect to follow."

No. Not if they hail from Washington, D. C.

Moses P. Handy, in his weekly letter to the New York Mail and Express, tells an interesting story of the late George W. Childs. He says that the late editor once made his city editor join all the secret and beneficial societies in Philadelphia, and send his bills for initiation fees, dues and assessments to him. It is presumed that the city editor was a single man.

A Tennessee editor exhausted his vituperative vocabulary editorially at the expense of a sheriff, and the latter swooped down upon the sanctum of the former and made a clean sweep. He arrested the editor, the typos, the circulation press and everything, and locked 'em up. The advertisers are the only people who escaped. Moral for editors. Don't monkey with the sheriff.

The London Globe says: "The Monroe doctrine is not an axiom of international law, nor so far as we are aware, binding upon anybody save its inventor, President Monroe." The extended Globe has evidently not yet heard of the death of Mr. Monroe.

A Syracuse editor says that the man who stole two vacant lots in Brooklyn leaving nothing but a hole in the ground, must have been a Democrat. A Republican would have stolen the hole as well as the lots.

Chicago has no intention of seceding from Illinois, a Windy City journal declares. Of course not. If there is to be a separation Illinois ought to do the seceding.

The latest in base-ball comes from Albany. The local nine failing to win a game fairly on the diamond goes to the hotel and whips the visiting nine.

The Monroe doctrine should work both ways. The South American republics ought to be bound over to keep the peace.

Kind Words for Mr. W. J. Carter—Thieves at Work—The Attendants at the Junior German—Personal.

MANCHESTER BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES, 1 No. 1121 Hull Street, BEATHE BLOCK.

The Grand Lodge, I. O. O. The route will probably be from the City Hall on Broad to First street, thence to Franklin, to Sixth, down Sixth to Main, to Ninth, down Ninth to Free bridge, across to Manchester, thence to Masonic Temple and disband.

Mr. Carter was always pleased to see Mr. Carter, and regretted very much that he could not be with us on the first and second days. Perhaps there is no one in Virginia or North Carolina who has done more to advance the cause of the 'high-bred horse' than he. Mr. Carter is a great lover of the sport, and is regarded as a walking encyclopedia on matters relating to the turf."

RESCUED FROM TORMENT Every Joint in His Body Racked by Rheumatism.

Could Not Move His Arm and Was in Constant Pain—A True Story of a Remarkable Cure.

William F. Maier, 18 Park Place, Zanesville, Ohio, writes: "About a year ago I had to quit work on account of rheumatism. I had the disease in my hip, back and arms, in fact, in every joint in my body. The pain was intense, and I suffered the most excruciating agony. My doctor could not do anything for me, and I tried every remedy that could be suggested; none of them did me any good, and finally my joints became stiffened and sore. At times I could not move my right arm, and was in constant pain. I procured a bottle of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and within a short while was completely cured. I am free from stiffness and pain, and can cheerfully recommend Munyon's Remedy as the best I have ever known."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure acts almost instantaneously, curing many obstinate cases in a few hours. It is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism cured in from one to five days. It promptly cures lameness, stiff and swollen joints, chronic rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or pain in the back are speedily cured. It seldom fails to give relief after one or two doses, and almost invariably cures before one bottle has been used.

One Fardian (Grant), Two Revised. Governor O'Ferrall yesterday granted a pardon to Peter Payne, colored, who, in 1882, was sentenced in the Pittsylvania County Court to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. The pardon was granted because the prisoner is afflicted with epileptic fits and is liable to die. The pardon was recommended by Superintendent Lynn and Judge Brown, of that county, where he has been working on the public roads. The Governor declined to pardon the following: Josh Tanner, who, in October, 1882, was sentenced in the Campbell County Court, to ten years' imprisonment
