

HATS TO WEAR AT THEATRES

American Girl in Paris Describes Evening Loveliness Worn by Royal Sanderson.

SARAH BERNHARDT'S DREAMS IN DRESS.

Countess of Anglesen, New Miss King, of Georgia, Designs and Leads the Paris Styles. Mrs. Mackay's Mourning Hats. New Ideas for Your Own Hats.

(Copyright, 1896, for The Times.)

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Sunday was beautiful in Paris and the Champs Elysees seemed to have more than its usual crowd of pedestrians. But nobody could feel an inclination to stay indoors on such a perfect day, and everybody seemed to appreciate and wear a rollicking frock which had been a fashion in the States...

ON RHYTHM SANDERSON. A hat that was so charmingly becoming to Miss Rhyl Sanderson was a brown velvet hat with a narrow brim and moderate crown. It was turned up direct-

THE QUERY COLUMN.

SOME OF THE CONTENTS OF THE TIMES MAIL BAG.

Answers to Inquiries on a Variety of Subjects Received From Our Subscribers.

Will you kindly publish a short history of the Marseillaise, and the words, "La Marseillaise," which the unrivalled national song of France, was produced in 1792, by Rouget de l'Isle, an officer then stationed at Strasbourg, and hence originally called "Chant de guerre de l'armee du Rhin." It soon attained popularity throughout the country, and greatly contributed to the victories of the French revolutionary armies. In Paris it was sung for the first time by the band of men who were brought from Marseilles by Barbereau, to aid in the Revolution of August, 10, 1793. Hence it was called "le chant des Marseillais," and afterwards "La Marseillaise."

DEATHS OF INFANTS. The question of infant deaths, which created such a sensation in Paris two years ago, seems to have again come before the public. At Versailles, at Malmaison-Lettre, says the Temps, there has been reported the death of several persons, who have been struck down, it would seem, by this same mysterious disease which was said to have been brought to France in 1833 by exotic parrots. The inquiry made by M. Ducloux-Beaumetz for the Seine Council d'Hygiene resulted, at first in the conclusion that the deaths were merely cases of cholera, but he has again returned to the subject, according to Dr. Dabert, and he sends his new report. In this document M. Ducloux-Beaumetz states that it is very possible that the parrot may have something to do with these epidemics. Eberth and Wolf, he points out, have described how parrots have imported into Europe a septic disease which can be determined by the microscope.

However, Parisians need not be alarmed by the reports which have recently been spread, for at one bird dealer's has been discovered a single diseased parrot. M. Nocard, director of the Alfort Veterinary School, has, however, been making some experiments, which is a direct step toward a solution of the problem as to whether parrots can really spread disease.

I was unable," says M. Nocard, "to find a single parrot imported from America. But I have now got a packet of the wings of birds which died during the voyage from Buenos Ayres to Havre. I have discovered a special microbe, extremely virulent, which does not seem to me to be that observed by the Germans, Eberth and Wolf, and fowls, mice and rabbits which I inoculated with the microbe died in less than forty-eight hours."

"I can even spread the disease without having recourse to inoculation. For example, by placing ten dry wings at the bottom of the cage of a healthy parrot, the bird died in less than twenty hours. The investigation would have been complete had I been able to show that the death of persons in 1833 was also due to the action of this microbe, but I have seen none of these sick people."

As several new cases of the mysterious disease of 1833, have broken out in the department of Seine-et-Oise the Council d'Hygiene is now in a position to investigate the origin of the outbreak.

tenly. Convincing Proof. I was reading Wallace Reed's pleasant reminiscence of Henry Grady in last Sunday's paper, and it carried me back to the last days when he was struggling against fate to make his paper a success. The merchants had not then learned the value of advertising, and Henry poured in vain for a more enterprising man, his nationalistic and left the country, would his property be confiscated?

Under no circumstances could he be forced to take out naturalization papers. Property, however, could be confiscated.

FOREST FIRE SUFFERS. Will The Times inform the public forwarded (with cost to the donor) Capt. Jack Talley, of Buena Vista, for the sufferers from forest fire in that neighborhood? Many persons myself for one could contribute a few articles of clothing, yet not feel able to pay express on them.

Communicate with Mr. E. C. Humphries, Buena Vista, Va.

CIVIL LAW IN NORFOLK. (1) Please inform me in what year President Lincoln declared Civil Law established in Norfolk, Va? (2) After the establishment of Civil Law in the city, had the authorities the right to try a citizen of the place by military court-martial for an offense against the laws of the United States?

Interested. Is "Interested" sure he means "by President Lincoln"? Does he not mean by Lincoln's successor? We await a response.

"SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS" ASKED. Dear Sirs.—The question has been asked me recently, by whom, and under what circumstances, was the motto of Virginia, "Sic Semper Tyrannis" adopted? As I can't answer it, I refer to you. Please also tell me the translation of the motto. "Sic semper tyrannis" means "Thus always to tyrants." The celebrated State convention of 1776, which formed the first written constitution for any State, broke away from the old traditions completely. Royally, and heretofore, its accompaniment felt the other hand, and holding a sword in the other, and treading on Tyranny, represented by a man prostrate, a crown falling from his head, broken chains in his left hand and a scroll in his right.

In the exergon the word "Virgins" over the head of Virtus, and underneath the words "Sic Semper Tyrannis." On the reverse, a group—Libertas, with her sword and plow; on one side of her Ceres, with the cornucopia in one hand, and an ear of wheat in the other; on the other side Astoria with the globe and Phoenix; in the exergon these words "Deus haec omnia fecit." The convention substituted for this last word, "Perseverantia" over the heads of the figures. The inscription of "Sic semper tyrannis" is "So she goes to the stars." IT SHOULD BE BOILING. How hot should water be to scald heads? It should be boiling, otherwise it will not remove the hair.

ONCE REMOVED. What is a first-cousin once removed? The child of your first-cousin. The children of first-cousins are second cousins.

A CEMENT SUGGESTED. Can you suggest a cement for heliometer photographs on glass? The best is a cement dissolved in super-fine spirits of turpentine makes an excellent glue for photographs. The turpentine must be hot when the rubber is dissolved in it; the cement is applied in a liquid form.

VIBRIST AND VIBRIST. Who was called "the finest and meanest of men" by Lord Bacon or Lord Byron? Alexander Pope, in his poem "An Essay on Man," described Francis Bacon, Lord of Verulam, as "the wisest, brightest, meanest of mankind." This was a hundred years before Byron's time.

DIMENSIONS OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS. What were the dimensions of the whale-back steamer, Christopher Columbus? The Christopher Columbus, used as a passenger steamer at the World's Fair in 1893, is 248 feet long, 42 feet wide and 21 feet deep. She has three decks and a net burp of 965.

BANKS IN THE UNITED STATES. How many banks are there in the United States? On October 20, 1894, according to the Comptroller of the Currency's report, there were 223 national banks, 2,556 state banks, 21 loan and trust companies, 192 savings banks, and 301 private banks; a total of 3,328 banking organizations.

"EMINENT DOMAIN." Please give me an illustration of the eminent domain? The condemnation of land for public use or for a railroad or other public enterprise is an exercise by the State of its right of eminent domain, either directly

THE QUERY COLUMN.

SOME OF THE CONTENTS OF THE TIMES MAIL BAG.

Answers to Inquiries on a Variety of Subjects Received From Our Subscribers.

Will you kindly publish a short history of the Marseillaise, and the words, "La Marseillaise," which the unrivalled national song of France, was produced in 1792, by Rouget de l'Isle, an officer then stationed at Strasbourg, and hence originally called "Chant de guerre de l'armee du Rhin." It soon attained popularity throughout the country, and greatly contributed to the victories of the French revolutionary armies. In Paris it was sung for the first time by the band of men who were brought from Marseilles by Barbereau, to aid in the Revolution of August, 10, 1793. Hence it was called "le chant des Marseillais," and afterwards "La Marseillaise."

DEATHS OF INFANTS. The question of infant deaths, which created such a sensation in Paris two years ago, seems to have again come before the public. At Versailles, at Malmaison-Lettre, says the Temps, there has been reported the death of several persons, who have been struck down, it would seem, by this same mysterious disease which was said to have been brought to France in 1833 by exotic parrots. The inquiry made by M. Ducloux-Beaumetz for the Seine Council d'Hygiene resulted, at first in the conclusion that the deaths were merely cases of cholera, but he has again returned to the subject, according to Dr. Dabert, and he sends his new report. In this document M. Ducloux-Beaumetz states that it is very possible that the parrot may have something to do with these epidemics. Eberth and Wolf, he points out, have described how parrots have imported into Europe a septic disease which can be determined by the microscope.

However, Parisians need not be alarmed by the reports which have recently been spread, for at one bird dealer's has been discovered a single diseased parrot. M. Nocard, director of the Alfort Veterinary School, has, however, been making some experiments, which is a direct step toward a solution of the problem as to whether parrots can really spread disease.

I was unable," says M. Nocard, "to find a single parrot imported from America. But I have now got a packet of the wings of birds which died during the voyage from Buenos Ayres to Havre. I have discovered a special microbe, extremely virulent, which does not seem to me to be that observed by the Germans, Eberth and Wolf, and fowls, mice and rabbits which I inoculated with the microbe died in less than forty-eight hours."

"I can even spread the disease without having recourse to inoculation. For example, by placing ten dry wings at the bottom of the cage of a healthy parrot, the bird died in less than twenty hours. The investigation would have been complete had I been able to show that the death of persons in 1833 was also due to the action of this microbe, but I have seen none of these sick people."

As several new cases of the mysterious disease of 1833, have broken out in the department of Seine-et-Oise the Council d'Hygiene is now in a position to investigate the origin of the outbreak.

tenly. Convincing Proof. I was reading Wallace Reed's pleasant reminiscence of Henry Grady in last Sunday's paper, and it carried me back to the last days when he was struggling against fate to make his paper a success. The merchants had not then learned the value of advertising, and Henry poured in vain for a more enterprising man, his nationalistic and left the country, would his property be confiscated?

Under no circumstances could he be forced to take out naturalization papers. Property, however, could be confiscated.

FOREST FIRE SUFFERS. Will The Times inform the public forwarded (with cost to the donor) Capt. Jack Talley, of Buena Vista, for the sufferers from forest fire in that neighborhood? Many persons myself for one could contribute a few articles of clothing, yet not feel able to pay express on them.

Communicate with Mr. E. C. Humphries, Buena Vista, Va.

CIVIL LAW IN NORFOLK. (1) Please inform me in what year President Lincoln declared Civil Law established in Norfolk, Va? (2) After the establishment of Civil Law in the city, had the authorities the right to try a citizen of the place by military court-martial for an offense against the laws of the United States?

Interested. Is "Interested" sure he means "by President Lincoln"? Does he not mean by Lincoln's successor? We await a response.

"SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS" ASKED. Dear Sirs.—The question has been asked me recently, by whom, and under what circumstances, was the motto of Virginia, "Sic Semper Tyrannis" adopted? As I can't answer it, I refer to you. Please also tell me the translation of the motto. "Sic semper tyrannis" means "Thus always to tyrants." The celebrated State convention of 1776, which formed the first written constitution for any State, broke away from the old traditions completely. Royally, and heretofore, its accompaniment felt the other hand, and holding a sword in the other, and treading on Tyranny, represented by a man prostrate, a crown falling from his head, broken chains in his left hand and a scroll in his right.

In the exergon the word "Virgins" over the head of Virtus, and underneath the words "Sic Semper Tyrannis." On the reverse, a group—Libertas, with her sword and plow; on one side of her Ceres, with the cornucopia in one hand, and an ear of wheat in the other; on the other side Astoria with the globe and Phoenix; in the exergon these words "Deus haec omnia fecit." The convention substituted for this last word, "Perseverantia" over the heads of the figures. The inscription of "Sic semper tyrannis" is "So she goes to the stars." IT SHOULD BE BOILING. How hot should water be to scald heads? It should be boiling, otherwise it will not remove the hair.

ONCE REMOVED. What is a first-cousin once removed? The child of your first-cousin. The children of first-cousins are second cousins.

A CEMENT SUGGESTED. Can you suggest a cement for heliometer photographs on glass? The best is a cement dissolved in super-fine spirits of turpentine makes an excellent glue for photographs. The turpentine must be hot when the rubber is dissolved in it; the cement is applied in a liquid form.

VIBRIST AND VIBRIST. Who was called "the finest and meanest of men" by Lord Bacon or Lord Byron? Alexander Pope, in his poem "An Essay on Man," described Francis Bacon, Lord of Verulam, as "the wisest, brightest, meanest of mankind." This was a hundred years before Byron's time.

DIMENSIONS OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS. What were the dimensions of the whale-back steamer, Christopher Columbus? The Christopher Columbus, used as a passenger steamer at the World's Fair in 1893, is 248 feet long, 42 feet wide and 21 feet deep. She has three decks and a net burp of 965.

BANKS IN THE UNITED STATES. How many banks are there in the United States? On October 20, 1894, according to the Comptroller of the Currency's report, there were 223 national banks, 2,556 state banks, 21 loan and trust companies, 192 savings banks, and 301 private banks; a total of 3,328 banking organizations.

"EMINENT DOMAIN." Please give me an illustration of the eminent domain? The condemnation of land for public use or for a railroad or other public enterprise is an exercise by the State of its right of eminent domain, either directly

THE QUERY COLUMN.

SOME OF THE CONTENTS OF THE TIMES MAIL BAG.

Answers to Inquiries on a Variety of Subjects Received From Our Subscribers.

Will you kindly publish a short history of the Marseillaise, and the words, "La Marseillaise," which the unrivalled national song of France, was produced in 1792, by Rouget de l'Isle, an officer then stationed at Strasbourg, and hence originally called "Chant de guerre de l'armee du Rhin." It soon attained popularity throughout the country, and greatly contributed to the victories of the French revolutionary armies. In Paris it was sung for the first time by the band of men who were brought from Marseilles by Barbereau, to aid in the Revolution of August, 10, 1793. Hence it was called "le chant des Marseillais," and afterwards "La Marseillaise."

DEATHS OF INFANTS. The question of infant deaths, which created such a sensation in Paris two years ago, seems to have again come before the public. At Versailles, at Malmaison-Lettre, says the Temps, there has been reported the death of several persons, who have been struck down, it would seem, by this same mysterious disease which was said to have been brought to France in 1833 by exotic parrots. The inquiry made by M. Ducloux-Beaumetz for the Seine Council d'Hygiene resulted, at first in the conclusion that the deaths were merely cases of cholera, but he has again returned to the subject, according to Dr. Dabert, and he sends his new report. In this document M. Ducloux-Beaumetz states that it is very possible that the parrot may have something to do with these epidemics. Eberth and Wolf, he points out, have described how parrots have imported into Europe a septic disease which can be determined by the microscope.

However, Parisians need not be alarmed by the reports which have recently been spread, for at one bird dealer's has been discovered a single diseased parrot. M. Nocard, director of the Alfort Veterinary School, has, however, been making some experiments, which is a direct step toward a solution of the problem as to whether parrots can really spread disease.

I was unable," says M. Nocard, "to find a single parrot imported from America. But I have now got a packet of the wings of birds which died during the voyage from Buenos Ayres to Havre. I have discovered a special microbe, extremely virulent, which does not seem to me to be that observed by the Germans, Eberth and Wolf, and fowls, mice and rabbits which I inoculated with the microbe died in less than forty-eight hours."

"I can even spread the disease without having recourse to inoculation. For example, by placing ten dry wings at the bottom of the cage of a healthy parrot, the bird died in less than twenty hours. The investigation would have been complete had I been able to show that the death of persons in 1833 was also due to the action of this microbe, but I have seen none of these sick people."

As several new cases of the mysterious disease of 1833, have broken out in the department of Seine-et-Oise the Council d'Hygiene is now in a position to investigate the origin of the outbreak.

tenly. Convincing Proof. I was reading Wallace Reed's pleasant reminiscence of Henry Grady in last Sunday's paper, and it carried me back to the last days when he was struggling against fate to make his paper a success. The merchants had not then learned the value of advertising, and Henry poured in vain for a more enterprising man, his nationalistic and left the country, would his property be confiscated?

Under no circumstances could he be forced to take out naturalization papers. Property, however, could be confiscated.

FOREST FIRE SUFFERS. Will The Times inform the public forwarded (with cost to the donor) Capt. Jack Talley, of Buena Vista, for the sufferers from forest fire in that neighborhood? Many persons myself for one could contribute a few articles of clothing, yet not feel able to pay express on them.

Communicate with Mr. E. C. Humphries, Buena Vista, Va.

CIVIL LAW IN NORFOLK. (1) Please inform me in what year President Lincoln declared Civil Law established in Norfolk, Va? (2) After the establishment of Civil Law in the city, had the authorities the right to try a citizen of the place by military court-martial for an offense against the laws of the United States?

Interested. Is "Interested" sure he means "by President Lincoln"? Does he not mean by Lincoln's successor? We await a response.

"SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS" ASKED. Dear Sirs.—The question has been asked me recently, by whom, and under what circumstances, was the motto of Virginia, "Sic Semper Tyrannis" adopted? As I can't answer it, I refer to you. Please also tell me the translation of the motto. "Sic semper tyrannis" means "Thus always to tyrants." The celebrated State convention of 1776, which formed the first written constitution for any State, broke away from the old traditions completely. Royally, and heretofore, its accompaniment felt the other hand, and holding a sword in the other, and treading on Tyranny, represented by a man prostrate, a crown falling from his head, broken chains in his left hand and a scroll in his right.

In the exergon the word "Virgins" over the head of Virtus, and underneath the words "Sic Semper Tyrannis." On the reverse, a group—Libertas, with her sword and plow; on one side of her Ceres, with the cornucopia in one hand, and an ear of wheat in the other; on the other side Astoria with the globe and Phoenix; in the exergon these words "Deus haec omnia fecit." The convention substituted for this last word, "Perseverantia" over the heads of the figures. The inscription of "Sic semper tyrannis" is "So she goes to the stars." IT SHOULD BE BOILING. How hot should water be to scald heads? It should be boiling, otherwise it will not remove the hair.

ONCE REMOVED. What is a first-cousin once removed? The child of your first-cousin. The children of first-cousins are second cousins.

A CEMENT SUGGESTED. Can you suggest a cement for heliometer photographs on glass? The best is a cement dissolved in super-fine spirits of turpentine makes an excellent glue for photographs. The turpentine must be hot when the rubber is dissolved in it; the cement is applied in a liquid form.

VIBRIST AND VIBRIST. Who was called "the finest and meanest of men" by Lord Bacon or Lord Byron? Alexander Pope, in his poem "An Essay on Man," described Francis Bacon, Lord of Verulam, as "the wisest, brightest, meanest of mankind." This was a hundred years before Byron's time.

DIMENSIONS OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS. What were the dimensions of the whale-back steamer, Christopher Columbus? The Christopher Columbus, used as a passenger steamer at the World's Fair in 1893, is 248 feet long, 42 feet wide and 21 feet deep. She has three decks and a net burp of 965.

BANKS IN THE UNITED STATES. How many banks are there in the United States? On October 20, 1894, according to the Comptroller of the Currency's report, there were 223 national banks, 2,556 state banks, 21 loan and trust companies, 192 savings banks, and 301 private banks; a total of 3,328 banking organizations.

"EMINENT DOMAIN." Please give me an illustration of the eminent domain? The condemnation of land for public use or for a railroad or other public enterprise is an exercise by the State of its right of eminent domain, either directly

THE QUERY COLUMN.

SOME OF THE CONTENTS OF THE TIMES MAIL BAG.

Answers to Inquiries on a Variety of Subjects Received From Our Subscribers.

Will you kindly publish a short history of the Marseillaise, and the words, "La Marseillaise," which the unrivalled national song of France, was produced in 1792, by Rouget de l'Isle, an officer then stationed at Strasbourg, and hence originally called "Chant de guerre de l'armee du Rhin." It soon attained popularity throughout the country, and greatly contributed to the victories of the French revolutionary armies. In Paris it was sung for the first time by the band of men who were brought from Marseilles by Barbereau, to aid in the Revolution of August, 10, 1793. Hence it was called "le chant des Marseillais," and afterwards "La Marseillaise."

DEATHS OF INFANTS. The question of infant deaths, which created such a sensation in Paris two years ago, seems to have again come before the public. At Versailles, at Malmaison-Lettre, says the Temps, there has been reported the death of several persons, who have been struck down, it would seem, by this same mysterious disease which was said to have been brought to France in 1833 by exotic parrots. The inquiry made by M. Ducloux-Beaumetz for the Seine Council d'Hygiene resulted, at first in the conclusion that the deaths were merely cases of cholera, but he has again returned to the subject, according to Dr. Dabert, and he sends his new report. In this document M. Ducloux-Beaumetz states that it is very possible that the parrot may have something to do with these epidemics. Eberth and Wolf, he points out, have described how parrots have imported into Europe a septic disease which can be determined by the microscope.

However, Parisians need not be alarmed by the reports which have recently been spread, for at one bird dealer's has been discovered a single diseased parrot. M. Nocard, director of the Alfort Veterinary School, has, however, been making some experiments, which is a direct step toward a solution of the problem as to whether parrots can really spread disease.

I was unable," says M. Nocard, "to find a single parrot imported from America. But I have now got a packet of the wings of birds which died during the voyage from Buenos Ayres to Havre. I have discovered a special microbe, extremely virulent, which does not seem to me to be that observed by the Germans, Eberth and Wolf, and fowls, mice and rabbits which I inoculated with the microbe died in less than forty-eight hours."

"I can even spread the disease without having recourse to inoculation. For example, by placing ten dry wings at the bottom of the cage of a healthy parrot, the bird died in less than twenty hours. The investigation would have been complete had I been able to show that the death of persons in 1833 was also due to the action of this microbe, but I have seen none of these sick people."

As several new cases of the mysterious disease of 1833, have broken out in the department of Seine-et-Oise the Council d'Hygiene is now in a position to investigate the origin of the outbreak.

tenly. Convincing Proof. I was reading Wallace Reed's pleasant reminiscence of Henry Grady in last Sunday's paper, and it carried me back to the last days when he was struggling against fate to make his paper a success. The merchants had not then learned the value of advertising, and Henry poured in vain for a more enterprising man, his nationalistic and left the country, would his property be confiscated?

Under no circumstances could he be forced to take out naturalization papers. Property, however, could be confiscated.

FOREST FIRE SUFFERS. Will The Times inform the public forwarded (with cost to the donor) Capt. Jack Talley, of Buena Vista, for the sufferers from forest fire in that neighborhood? Many persons myself for one could contribute a few articles of clothing, yet not feel able to pay express on them.

Communicate with Mr. E. C. Humphries, Buena Vista, Va.

CIVIL LAW IN NORFOLK. (1) Please inform me in what year President Lincoln declared Civil Law established in Norfolk, Va? (2) After the establishment of Civil Law in the city, had the authorities the right to try a citizen of the place by military court-martial for an offense against the laws of the United States?

Interested. Is "Interested" sure he means "by President Lincoln"? Does he not mean by Lincoln's successor? We await a response.

"SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS" ASKED. Dear Sirs.—The question has been asked me recently, by whom, and under what circumstances, was the motto of Virginia, "Sic Semper Tyrannis" adopted? As I can't answer it, I refer to you. Please also tell me the translation of the motto. "Sic semper tyrannis" means "Thus always to tyrants." The celebrated State convention of 1776, which formed the first written constitution for any State, broke away from the old traditions completely. Royally, and heretofore, its accompaniment felt the other hand, and holding a sword in the other, and treading on Tyranny, represented by a man prostrate, a crown falling from his head, broken chains in his left hand and a scroll in his right.

In the exergon the word "Virgins" over the head of Virtus, and underneath the words "Sic Semper Tyrannis." On the reverse, a group—Libertas, with her sword and plow; on one side of her Ceres, with the cornucopia in one hand, and an ear of wheat in the other; on the other side Astoria with the globe and Phoenix; in the exergon these words "Deus haec omnia fecit." The convention substituted for this last word, "Perseverantia" over the heads of the figures. The inscription of "Sic semper tyrannis" is "So she goes to the stars." IT SHOULD BE BOILING. How hot should water be to scald heads? It should be boiling, otherwise it will not remove the hair.

ONCE REMOVED. What is a first-cousin once removed? The child of your first-cousin. The children of first-cousins are second cousins.

A CEMENT SUGGESTED. Can you suggest a cement for heliometer photographs on glass? The best is a cement dissolved in super-fine spirits of turpentine makes an excellent glue for photographs. The turpentine must be hot when the rubber is dissolved in it; the cement is applied in a liquid form.

VIBRIST AND VIBRIST. Who was called "the finest and meanest of men" by Lord Bacon or Lord Byron? Alexander Pope, in his poem "An Essay on Man," described Francis Bacon, Lord of Verulam, as "the wisest, brightest, meanest of mankind." This was a hundred years before Byron's time.

DIMENSIONS OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS. What were the dimensions of the whale-back steamer, Christopher Columbus? The Christopher Columbus, used as a passenger steamer at the World's Fair in 1893, is 248 feet long, 42 feet wide and 21 feet deep. She has three decks and a net burp of 965.

BANKS IN THE UNITED STATES. How many banks are there in the United States? On October 20, 1894, according to the Comptroller of the Currency's report, there were 223 national banks, 2,556 state banks, 21 loan and trust companies, 192 savings banks, and 301 private banks; a total of 3,328 banking organizations.

"EMINENT DOMAIN." Please give me an illustration of the eminent domain? The condemnation of land for public use or for a railroad or other public enterprise is an exercise by the State of its right of eminent domain, either directly

RAILROADS.

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT SUNDAY, MAY 4, 1896.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like Richmond, Petersburg, Lynchburg, etc.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

SCHEDULE EFFECTIVE TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1896.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like Norfolk, Suffolk, etc.

YORK RIVER LINE VIA WEST POINT.

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT NOV. 1, 1895.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like West Point, York River, etc.

W & W Norfolk & Western R.R.

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT DEC. 1, 1895.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like Norfolk, Suffolk, etc.

RICHMOND RAILWAY AND ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Street-Car Transfers.

ADDITIONAL FACILITIES OFFERED TO THE TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

Commencing JANUARY 1, 1896, this company extended its Transfer System to embrace all connecting lines...

RAILROADS.

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT NOVEMBER 1, 1895.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, etc.

ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

SCHEDULE EFFECTIVE TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1896.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like Norfolk, Suffolk, etc.

YORK RIVER LINE VIA WEST POINT.

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT NOV. 1, 1895.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like West Point, York River, etc.

W & W Norfolk & Western R.R.

SCHEDULE IN EFFECT DEC. 1, 1895.

Table with columns for S. A. L., No. 40, No. 22, Daily, and various station names like Norfolk, Suffolk, etc.

RICHMOND RAILWAY AND ELECTRIC COMPANY.

Street-Car Transfers.

ADDITIONAL FACILITIES OFFERED TO THE TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

Commencing JANUARY 1, 1896, this company extended its Transfer System to embrace all connecting lines...

