Spice Abound, and Prisons Full-Murders Open and Secret.-Hatred of the United States-Will be Free at Last.

An interesting story of the present condition of affairs in Cuba is told by Mr. Henry Mencken, of the Baltimore firm of August Mencken & Brother, who has just returned to this city after a two-weeks stay in the little isle now in the throes from Havana last Sunday. from Havana last Sunday.

Mr. Mencken arrived in Baltimore yesterday, having landed at Tampa, Fla.,

He says the feeling among the loyal Spaniards in Havana is very bitter against the United States, and that it is dangerous for a citizen of titls country to venture anywhere in Cuba outside of the cities. Mr. Mencken confined his visit to Havana and Matanzas and was, even at those places, scored at and looked upon with suspicion.

A HOST OF SPIES AND SOLDIERS.

"All of the country around Havana," said Mr. Mencken yesterday, "is suarded by Spanish soldiers, who will arrest any one they take it into their needs to arrest, and if a stranger is arrested he is likely to be cast into prison and never heard of again. In the city the streets, hotels and cafes are constantly patrolled by spies, who watch foreigners—and especially Americans—keenly hanging around in and cafes are constantly patrolied by spies, who watch foreigners—and especially Americans—keenly hanging around in their vicinity and trying to catch fragments of their conversation.

"As an American walks along the streets he can frequently hear slurring remarks made by the Spaniah sympathizers. True, the American cannot always understand what they say, but he can distinguish the word "Americano" uttered in a tone of supreme contempt.

"The Cubans seem unanimously with the insurgents, but they have to keep under cover with their sympathies. Many of the Spaniards, too, go into the plazas and hurrah loudly for Spain, but secretly hope and feel that the insurgests will win their battle.

TALK OF WHIPPING UNCLE SAM.

TALK OF WHIPPING UNCLE SAM. "Because a man is a citizen of the United States," continued Mr. Mencken," be need not count upon being exempt from insult. The Spaniards seem worked up to a reckless frenzy, and do not care what they say or do.

"Why," they remark saveringly to Americans, this little war will be over in

"Why, they remark sheeringly to Americans, this little war will be over in a few months, and then we will go after the United States. We will go up and take Florida, which, by the way, you have never paid for, and then after we have taken Florda, the Mexicans will walk in and take Texas and California." "The Spaniards accuse the United States of being a covaryly nation and profess."

of being a cowardly nation, and profess to believe that we would not fight under any circumstances.
POVEATY IN HAVANA.

POVEATY IN HAVANA.

"Havana is in the depths of poverty.

There is no business doing, the taxes have been raised enormously and the main supporters of the poorer families are in the field with one army or the other. It is a common thing to see women and children also in the streets at night.

It is a common thing to see women and children sleeping in the streets at night and beggars abound on every side.

"The Ingleterra Hotel, the best in the city, is doing no business at all. In time of peace every boat that arrived usually brought from fifty to a hundred persons to this hotel. On the steamer upon which I arrived there were two passengers for the hotel. Another hotel will close May the next ways Cuban and American brok.

I arrived there were two passengers for the hotel. Another hotel will close May 1st, and many Cuban and American brokers doing business in Havana will leave the city then, declining to renew their heeness, which expire at that date.

PRISONS CROWDED.

"All the prisons are now full. They are heavily guarded by Spanish soldiery, and one can hear the cries of the prisoners from the windows. It would be death for a farigner to approach near the prisens and dangerous for him to look up at the windows.

"Whether or not they are murdering people in Moro Castle no one knows. At any rate, the prisoners disappear. A Cuban lady of whom I heard was visiting her husband weekly, he being confined in the castle. Suddenly the authorities put her off, saying her husband could sot be seen at that time. Finally, after six her off, saying her husband could so be been at that time. Finally, after six weeks, they told her that the best thing for her to do was to go into mourning. "That is the only clue she has ever re-ceived as to the fate of her busband. He either died naturally or was put to death. THE SPANISH TROOPS. "There is hitle or no discipline among the Spanish troops. While marching they carry their guns and walk as they please and the officers seem never to interfere. One day while I was in Havana groups of from two to eight Spanish soldiers guddenly appeared in the streets. The seemed dazed and alarmed. We found out later that there had been a skirmish with the insurgents in the suburbs, and that these soldiers had become terrified and fied into the city for safety." PLUCKY CAPTAIN RANDALL.

and fled into the city for safety."

PLUCKY CAPTAIN RANDALL.

One American who stands up for his rights and those of his countrymen. Mr. Mencken says, is Captain Rendall, Commander of the steamer Clivetic, running between Tampa and Havana. While the Olivetic was at Havana a few days ago a Cuban, who was a naturalized citizen of the United States, bearded the ship with his daughter to sail for Tampa. He found something wrong with his tickets and went ashore to correct the mistake. The daughter became alarmed and appealed to a Spanish officer for protection, when the man raised his hand to strike her. Captain Randall rushed to the girl's assistance. He seized the officer and threw him across the deck. "Den't you dare to strike asybody on board this boat," he said to the Spaniard. "If you try any more business of this

"If you try any more business of this kind, you good-for-nothing fellow, I will break your neck and throw you over-board!"

Captain Randall then told the Spaniar that the United States monitor Amphiritie was at Key west, and that he would send her over and blow up Moro Castle. He told Mr. Mencken jokingly that the monitor practiced with her contor practiced with her guns occasionally, and that every time the Spaniards at Rey West heard her shoot they "bled at BASE-BALL. the nose from fear."
BELIEVES CUBA WILL DE FREE.

That the insurgents will win Mr. Mene-ken has little doubt. He bases his belies upon the statement that the enthusiasm of a majority of the resident Spaniards is lukewarm; that the flower of the island is in the insurgent arms; that the sympa-thies of the world are with the revolu-tionists, and that the latter are constantly receiving supplies and equipment for recruits that pour in.—Baltimore Sun.

THE NEW LAW,

Several Liquor Cases Referred Back to the Police Justice.

The recent Legislature so amended the statuter as to give the police justice jurisdiction in all cases of misdemeanor; even those whose punishment embraces a sentence to jail.

The question then arose as to the dispo-

The question then arose as to the disposition of such cases as had already been sent on to the Hustings Court under the operation of the old law.

Judge Witt and Commonweath's Attorney Smith have had the matter under consideration for some days, and yesterday Judge Witt rendered his decision in the matter. He decided that the pending cases should all be referred back to the police justice for trial.

cases should all be referred back to the police justice for trial.

Acting under the decision, Justice Crotchfield at once issued summons in a number of causes. Among them were the liquor cases of John M. Campbell, George Adducks, Daniel Leahy, and Reuben Wilson.
