QUALIFICATIONS FOR GOVERNOR.

In yesterday's Times we printed a communication from "Many Citizens," of Bristol, Va., propounding certain questions to Hon. J. Hoge Tyler, whose candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination in Virginia has been announced.

OUR CUBAN POLICY.

It is said that the new administration will not depart from the general policy of the Cleveland administration in dealing with the Cuban question.

THE GOSPEL OF PEACE.

We learn from a Western exchange that when the news of the death of the late General Shelby, the ex-Confederate leader, reached Nevada, the chairman of the committee of the Grand Army of the Republic in that State hung the Stars and Stripes at half mast over the quarters of the post.

THOSE WHO DEAL IN POLITICS.

We note in the local columns of one of the city newspapers the statement that the work of the Electoral Board, in making up lists of registrars and judges for the year is creating considerable comment among those who deal in local politics.

THE PRINCESS CHIMAY'S FIGURES ARE TOO HIGH FOR THE THEATRICAL MANAGERS.

The Princess Chimay's figures are too high for the theatrical managers. She acts as if she thought she was the only risqué creature in the business.

THE VISITORS TO NEVADA WILL HAVE TO

for a living, but are interested in local politics—in clean local politics, and in an honest ballot and good government for Richmond and for the State of Virginia. These, and their name is legion, are greatly gratified at the action of the Electoral Board, and accept it as the sure indication of a popular demand for good government and honest elections.

MCKINLEY IS APPROACHABLE.

In one respect, certainly, President McKinley is wiser than Grover Cleveland, for he is cultivating friendly relations with the leaders of his party, especially those in Congress.

WITH RICHMOND WOMEN

ANNUAL MEETING OF MANAGERS OF THE WOMAN'S EXCHANGE.

Mrs. Virginia Newton Succeeds Mrs. S. H. Hawes as President—The Other Officers. Rumors of a Big Entertainment.

The annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Exchange for Women's Work was held yesterday at noon at the Exchange, resulting in the election of Mrs. Virginia Newton as president for the ensuing year, and Mrs. W. S. Donnan as treasurer.

In the case of all the other officers, re-election took place. They are: Vice-presidents, Mrs. George Watt, Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, Mrs. T. William Pemberton, Recording Secretary, Miss Virginia Pleasants; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Mary G. Crenshaw.

The members of the Board of Managers are Mrs. Otway S. Allen, Mrs. Alex. W. Archer, Mrs. W. J. Blunt, Mrs. G. R. Cannon, Mrs. Preston Cooke, Mrs. John A. Coker, Miss Mary G. Crenshaw, Mrs. Edward T. Crump, Mrs. Annie W. H. Christian, Mrs. J. M. Adams, Mrs. W. S. Donnan, Mrs. J. Taylor Elyson, Mrs. P. P. Gibbs, Mrs. Regina G. Ham, Mrs. Thomas F. Jeffers, Mrs. James Lyons, Mrs. Thomas L. Moore, Mrs. R. B. Mumford, Mrs. Virginia Newton, Mrs. R. W. Nolan, Mrs. T. William Pemberton, Mrs. James Pleasants, Mrs. George L. Street, Miss Ella M. Thomas, Mrs. S. W. Travers, Mrs. George Watt, Mrs. J. S. Wolford, Mrs. William S. Withers, Mrs. Henry T. Wickham, and Mrs. S. G. Wallace.

There was an inevitable touch of sadness about yesterday's meeting, due to the recent death of Mrs. S. H. Hawes, founder of the enterprise, its first president, and constant friend.

Reports were presented by Miss Virginia Pleasants, recording secretary; Mrs. Watt, Mrs. Elyson, Mrs. T. William Pemberton, Mrs. James Lyons, Miss Fannie Mumford, and Miss Helen Monaghan. These showed an improvement in receipts, but stress was laid upon the supplementary need for more annual subscribers if the work is to continue to hold its beneficent place in the community.

Miss Pleasants, in presenting in outline her interesting record of the year, reverted fondly to the irreparable loss sustained in the death of that true and gracious woman, Mrs. S. H. Hawes.

"The past year," said she, "has been a very trying one; business all over the country has been dull; but the fact is, the Richmond Exchange has much reason to be thankful. * * * The trade has been brisk, and while not so large as last year, our profits have been greater. This year's subscribers list shows a considerable increase in the number. The number of contributors is not quite so large. This is due to the high standard we have made and keep, preferring to have fewer doing really first class work than many who do not come up to the standard. The year of the Exchange will with bright hopes and consignments of that class, and in this way we reach and help persons who are needy, but not able to work with their hands."

"The Exchange is not self-supporting, and to place it on a firmer basis we must have more annual subscribers. Two dollars, the price of an annual subscription, does not seem much, but a goodly number would save the board many anxious hours, and we are sure that our friends who have helped us in any way in the past, and bespeak their continued interest in this work."

As a matter of fact the magnificent work which is undertaken by the Exchange is scarcely so well known and so appreciated as it should be. Its sole object is to help needy women to help themselves. Almost every kind of work that a woman can do at home is brought to the Exchange for sale, all well-made and at prices that are reasonable. The articles are the work of women who have, in many cases, been suddenly obliged to support themselves and their families. The work is done in a quiet, unobtrusive way, and the work is done in a quiet, unobtrusive way, and the work is done in a quiet, unobtrusive way.

Miss Annie H. Walker left yesterday for Fort Monroe, where she will be the guest of Miss Jean Hoskins.

Master Charles Fort, the little son of Mr. J. M. Fort, the popular assistant passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, has been confined to his bed for four weeks as the result of the spinal affection, which is causing the friends of the household such solicitude. He is a fine young man, however, and bears his illness philosophically.

Mrs. W. H. Brauer left for Old Point on Thursday, to join her sister, Mrs. Teresa Kackel, of Cincinnati, with whom she will spend several weeks.

Miss Mary Currie Donnan, who has been visiting in New York for the past two months, returned to Richmond last week.

It is rumored that a lady who is the very close of fashion, etc., proposes to give, during Easter week, or that following, a private entertainment if private be a legitimate work in this connection, which, among other things, will be to aid a struggling charity. Her idea is the result of interest in the
