

THE CHERUBS WIN BACK.

A HOULY-CONTENDED AND CLOSE GAME WITH NORFOLK.

Claussen Pitched Superb Ball and Never More Than a Single Hit Was Gotten Off Him in an Inning.

NORFOLK, VA., May 4.—Special.—Very much to the surprise of some 1,500 rooters, who assembled at League Park today, Richmond took a game from Norfolk.

Portsmouth and Norfolk in their palmett days were considered the best of the best in the South.

In the first inning McFarland hit, Leamy went out to Wells, Shaffer walked, Weddle flew out to Goodenough, Welch drew a base on balls, and Wentz went out from Harley.

Wells, having hit, went to second on an infield out, stole third, but could not score. Norfolk's three all went out from Kain to Wells.

The seventh was also unproductive to both sides. Wells did not hit, Kain hit, and was thrown out at second trying to steal. Foster perished for Wentz to Shaffer.

It was in this inning a Norfolk player tossed the ball over the fence. Captain Wells called for a foul ball, but it was not a foul ball. Norfolk did not see it, though, and a lively row ensued.

"Mac" wanted to turn the bear loose, but remained in the game upon urgent request by Kain. He tallied on Wells' hit, trying the score.

In the ninth it was one, two, three with Norfolk. Richmond came in, Hargrove fouling out to Nie; Sholta got first and second on Wentz's error, third on Goodenough's error, and scored on Jake's long single, winning the game! Score: NORFOLK.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies.

Nervous dyspepsia often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness.

THE WORST SCANDAL YET.

IN THE SOUTH CAROLINA DISPENSARY ORGANIZATION.

Confiscated Liquors Appropriated by Dispensary Officers and a Trunk Missing—Officers to be Arrested.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 4.—Special.—The latest dispensary scandal threatens to assume proportions, and may reach that institution.

Some time ago the trunk of a Mr. Beckroge, of Savannah, was seized in Charleston, where he was to be married. He brought suit in the United States Court and recovered $800 damages, but upon investigation it was found that the trunk, which together with its contents of wines, liquors, cigars and clothing, which had been shipped to the State Dispensary here was missing.

A TRUNK MISSING. Inquiry being instituted, it was since developed that the trunk was given away by the dispensary officers.

The Attorney-General immediately took the matter in hand, and has secured enough evidence to place the matter in the hands of the grand jury.

Mr. A. W. Sharper, of No. 61, Prospect Street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratification prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

PROMINENT MEN.

Some of the Leading Scientists Agree Upon It is not only natural, but just, that proof should be demanded by the public for every statement or claim that is made to the public.

Dr. William T. Cutter, State Chemist of Connecticut, says: "Duff's Pure Malt Whiskey contains no deleterious or injurious qualities, and its absolute purity, as well as scientific mode of manufacture, must recommend it to general use and favor."

Rev. B. Mills, L. L. D., says: "I have used Duff's Pure Malt Whiskey with great benefit to my wife, who is a confirmed invalid, and a Presbyterian clergyman and a Doctor of Divinity, but I am not afraid to recommend Duff's Malt Whiskey as the purest and most efficient preparation as a medicine that I know of, and my experience is a large one."

Hundreds of additional statements could be furnished, but the merits of this article, which has been before the public so many years, amply prove in themselves its great power and value. Do not be persuaded by any druggist or grocer to accept anything but the pure, the real, Duff's Malt.

A CONVICT'S STRATEGY.

FILLS A GUARDS' EYES WITH STRONG TOBACCO JUICE And Tries to Make His Escape—A Bullet From the Gun of the Other Guard, However, Brings Him to Terms.

Quite a little excitement was created yesterday on the State farm near Maiden county, when it appeared that the State convict, Major J. W. Lynn, the superintendent of the institution, had made the following statement:

"I have some land rented on the opposite side of the James river, in Powhatan county, and I have a small farm. The land belongs to Mr. Dan Tucker, and we are raising tobacco on it. As usual a force of twenty-four convicts was sent to the farm to guard the tobacco. We have a ferry there, and no lunch has ever occurred there."

"TOBACCO JUICE STRATEGY." It seems, however, that a conspiracy had been formed by the convicts to make their escape. Suddenly one of them, Richard Christmas, by name, stepped up to the guard, and, holding a bottle of tobacco juice in his hand, he poured it into the eyes of the guards. He was afterwards captured in North Carolina and brought back to the State farm, where he was imprisoned for making his escape."

His movements, however, were noticed by the other guards by the name of Quarles, who at once fired at Christmas, and Higgins, who had in the meantime struck Christmas, and promptly subdued. He had been taken over to the State farm in a wagon, and he was afterwards taken to the institution, attended him in camp.

ONE ESCAPES. "The other convicts were safely taken back to the institution, with the exception of one from Alleghany county, who made his escape. Christmas has been an inmate of the penitentiary before and while in the State farm, and he has been in the institution for some time. He was afterwards captured in North Carolina and brought back to the State farm, where he was imprisoned for making his escape."

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Special.—The fight which various Republicans are making upon National Committeeman Bowen, with a view to obtaining a reversal of the action of the Postoffice Department, by which he was appointed postoffice referee, is not meeting with much encouragement.

Four gentlemen from the Eighth district called at the Postoffice Department, and protested against the appointment of postmasters in that district upon the recommendations of Mr. Bowen. They argued, as did the delegation from the Second district, on Saturday, that the defeated candidate for Congress should be selected as referee in the district.

Hon. Patrick McCaul, it was stated, should be consulted, and not Mr. Bowen, with regard to the Eighth-district appointments.

Postmaster-General Gary, who listened patiently to the arguments advanced against him, said that if the argument of his visitors was correct, Mr. Bowen should not have been elected National Committeeman.

"If you did not want him respected as the head of the party machinery in the State," he said, "you should not have elected him to that position. It is not my duty to be bound to the contrary. Mr. Gary continued, Mr. Bowen should be regarded as the head of the party organization in the State. In every other State not represented by Republicans in the House and Senate, he said, the party machinery was controlled by the National Committeeman. It had been in Maryland, he said, during the time he had been identified with the politics of that State, and there could be no reason why an exception should be made in the case of Mr. Bowen."

"You think," he said, "I am deciding this matter for you. I am simply stating the kind of you decide yourselves who should represent you in the national organization, and I merely take the machinery of the State as I find it."

Referring to Mr. McCaul, he said that he had not yet seen him. Mr. McCaul, he said, was a member of the Postoffice Department had no means of knowing that the two were not working together in perfect harmony.

The delegation did not pursue the subject further, and left the Department thoroughly impressed with the fact that Postmaster-General Gary had greater influence than they thought possible. It is now thought to be certain that Mr. Bowen will be continued as postoffice referee for the entire State, except the Ninth and Tenth districts.

Dr. Richard A. Wise, however, is of a different opinion, and seems to be entirely satisfied with the result of the visit made by the delegation from the second congressional district, which called on the Postmaster-General Saturday. After a lunch at the Capitol with Representative Yost this morning, he stated to the delegation that he had no objection to Mr. Bowen's selection as National Committeeman Bowen's selection as referee in postoffice matters was made without any reference whatever to the patronage of the Second district, and, as evidence, that no appointment of postmasters had been made in the district until this time.

Dr. Wise is somewhat satisfied with the turn affairs have taken
