

THERE SHOULD BE A CHAPLAIN So Said Rev. W. B. Beauchamp in His Sermon on Sunday.

HE GIVES HIS REASONS.

Annual Sermon to the Veterans. Bishop Gibson at Christ Church. Services in all the Churches on Last Sunday.

The Duty of the State to Provide a Chaplain for the Penitentiary was the subject of an address by Rev. W. B. Beauchamp, at Broad-Street Methodist church Sunday morning.

He said that there were two reasons in his mind why the chaplain should be appointed because the prisoners were in need of one in whom dependence could be put, and for the sake of society, as a safeguard to the people outside the prison walls.

There was a large congregation on Sunday morning to hear a sermon on the Confederate Veterans by Rev. Dr. H. Spenner at the Grace-Street Presbyterian church.

The subject of the discourse was "The Future State," and he chose as his text, "We Shall be Like Him, for we Shall See Him as He Is."

Dr. Strickler's remarks were forceful and delivered in his most excellent style and choice language. He held the attention of his hearers completely.

When it shall be the continuing order. He said, in making his motion, that too many important measures were rushed through, and that even if the main question of the last campaign were the election of a United States Senator, that had not done and the members should get down to work and do something for the benefit of their constituents.

This motion was voted down, and before the question was put as to its engrossment, Mr. Early stated that he would vote for the bill; that it was a proper measure, and that he came here to do other things than to vote for United States Senators.

Its debate was introduced in, and Mr. Ryan stated that political graves caused him no fear, and he hoped the House would adopt the measure.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Southall, modifying the operation of the bill to some extent, and further debate followed, until 1 o'clock to-day, for further discussion.

Dr. Priddy introduced a bill amending the act regulating the transportation of bodies dead of infectious diseases, provided that the bodies of those who died of cholera, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or typhoid fever may be transported if wrapped in a sheet thoroughly saturated with a strong solution of bi-chloride of mercury in the proportions of one gallon of water, and inclosed in an air-tight coffin, hermetically sealed and inclosed in a tight wooden box of material not less than one inch in thickness.

Two bills were introduced by Mr. Patterson, providing for the preparation of general reports of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals, what to be printed and how, and how copies shall be distributed, etc.

The object of the bill is to fix the fees of clerks of Court of Appeals, and to give the appellant a right to have the record of his case printed by contract under suitable restrictions, instead of being compelled, as is now the case, to have the work done through the printer.
