

IS FULL GROWN THOUGH A CHILD

Richmond Council Enlarging Sphere of Influence.

GRAND COUNCIL HERE NEXT MAY

Local Organization Will Entertain the United Commercial Travelers at the Coming Annual Convention.

Thought not yet six months old, the Richmond Council, No. 133, of the Order of United Commercial Travelers of America, has made a record equalled by few organizations of its kind, and is daily exerting a greater power in the local commercial centers.

On the night of December 25th, 1899, a committee from the Staunton Council, No. 132, came to this city, and the Richmond Council was soon an established fact. There were eleven charter members, and these members have spared no effort, time, trouble or expense to make Richmond Council the leader of the younger councils of the Order, and to them is primarily due the credit for the success already achieved. The gentlemen who were the first interested are Messrs. W. A. Payne,

MR. CARROLL H. JONES, Conductor. (An Enthusiastic United Commercial Traveller.)

G. B. Peasley, T. M. Pullen, J. W. Boston, H. R. Goodall, A. W. Duckhardt, T. C. Perkinson, C. H. Jones, O. D. Minor, G. N. Branham and C. H. Lee.

MEMBERSHIP GROVE Since the night of organization the work of building up the council has been steadily and enthusiastically carried on. The membership grew rapidly, and with it the sphere of activity was enlarged. Today the local council has a membership of forty-five, and this, from present indications, will be doubled and more within a very short time.

At a recent election the following were chosen officers of the council for the ensuing term: W. D. Long, Past Counselor; G. L. Reid,

GRAVES DECKED WITH FLOWERS

Memorial Day Kept in Town of Lexington, Virginia.

DECORATIONS WERE ELABORATE

The Daughters of the Confederacy and of Rebekah Had Charge—The Exercises Opened by Singing, Led by the Choir.

LEXINGTON, VA., May 26.—Special.—Confederate Memorial Exercises were held here to-day in honor of the heroes of the "lost cause." A large gathering of the war-worn veterans were in town from the country, and again fought the battles of the war in anecdote and reminiscence.

The decorations were very elaborate. The Mary Custis Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, had charge of the decorations at the Jackson monument, the Lee re-embment statue and the Lee Mausoleum, while the Daughters of Rebekah, Odd Fellows, decorated the soldiers' square in the cemetery. Confederate and United States flags were intertwined, and each grave in the cemetery of a soldier who wore the gray was marked with a small Confederate battle flag.

NEW BUILDINGS.

Massanutten Academy Will Be Added to Daring the Summer.

WOODSTOCK, VA., May 26.—Special.—Mr. A. J. Neff, a prominent farmer of Cowans, Rockingham county, and Miss Elizabeth Harpne, of New Market, were married by the Rev. J. A. Snyder, of the Lutheran Church.

The Rice-Neff Camp, C. V., of New Market, recently elected C. Shirley as its commander, and John L. Chaffer as adjutant.

More than twenty-five veterans will leave this county on Monday for Louisville to attend the Confederate Reunion. The Southern Railway is preparing for the "Jim Crow" travel in the valley, which will be commenced on July 1st. The negroes in this section bitterly resent the law.

The Pension Board of this county has passed upon and approved eleven new applications for State pension, and twenty-six applications are pending which have not been acted upon.

Massanutten Academy, which was located in this place last summer by the Virginia classes of the Reformed Church, will build additional buildings during the coming vacation at the cost of about $10,000. For the first year the Academy has been a splendid success.

Owing to the large deficit in the usual rainfall in this section during the past few weeks, the farmers do not expect to make much hay or reap much wheat during the coming harvest. The newly planted corn is coming up badly, and that which is up is being injured by the many cut worms.

LICENSE GRANTED.

Judge Gwathmey Holds Act of Legislature Unconstitutional.

WEST POINT, VA., May 26.—Special.—On the day set apart by the County Court to grant licenses, Commonwealth's Attorney H. L. Lewis, representing certain of the applicants who had not given the required thirty days' notice, as required by a recent act of the Legislature, raised the point that the act was unconstitutional, and Judge O. O. Gwathmey decided that the act was in conflict with the United States Constitution, and allowed applicants license without notice.

G. W. LAMBERT CO. CHARTERED

Capital Stock Not to be More Than $5,000—City Hall Courts.

Judge Wellford in the City Circuit Court yesterday granted a charter to the "G. W. Lambert Company," general contractors, for the construction of buildings, repairing railroads, bridges, etc.

The officers are: President, W. J. Kimbrough; G. W. Lambert, secretary and treasurer; Directors, the above and H. S. Ragland, W. E. T. Bass and Louis H. Blair.

Suit was instituted in the Circuit Court yesterday by E. W. Gates' Son & Company vs. C. W. Jones for $125.50.

An amendment was also granted in the charter of the Richmond Dry Cold Storage Company, to provide all necessary applications, etc., for the preservation of meats fruit, etc., and to manufacture and sell ice.

In the law and Equity Court yesterday judgment was rendered in the suit of Clara M. Carter against Christopher Wilkerson for $1,667.61, the said Wilkerson being surety for B. F. Turner, guardian for Clara M. Carter.

COURT OF JUSTICE JOHN.

Short Docket With Few Cases of Any Importance.

The docket in the Police Court yesterday was not long, nor were there any cases of special interest.

The most interesting one that came up was a charge against Colonna Jacobini, of hitting Antoinette Latero with a block of wood. The evidence was voluminous, in several languages and dialects, one side being represented by Councilman Harry Glenn and the other by Senator Conway R. Sands. It was not clear to the Great Dispenser as to which were the respective sides represented by counsel, nor did he ing the scholars of Madison School, but when his case was stated the judge was unable to allay the injured feelings of the scholars by depositing $250 and costs with the Keeper of the Exchequer.

Marshall Robinson (colored) was shown to have beaten Guy Morris, and the costs were charged up against him.

Garfield Bates (colored) suffered similarly at the hands of the Great Dispenser. Garfield could not disprove the charge of having hit Coleman with a rock.

David Johnson (colored) beat Fannie Anthony $10 worth.

Isaac Miner, Sylvester Miner and Thomas Br'neck (colored) were mixed up in a rock-battle, but the affair was settled by the payment of costs all around, amounting to $130 each.

Isaac Turner and W. J. Nichols, white, got drunk. The former was given sixty days and the latter ten days.

The case of Morris Walters (colored), charged with cutting William Corbin with a knife, was continued to the 29th instant.

NO EXTRA SESSION.

Not Much Likelihood That One Will Be Called.

Governor Tyler has not yet made up his mind as to whether or not he will convene the present General Assembly in special session for the purpose of providing for the election and holding of the Constitutional Convention.

He states yesterday that in arriving at a conclusion on the subject, he would be guided by the wishes of the people and that he would consult the leading men of the party in the State and ascertain their views.

"Another thing," said the Governor, "which I shall look to in making up my mind is the pledge of the Norfolk Convention that the expenses incident to changes in the organic law of the State should be kept down as much as possible."

The Governor did not care to say more for publication until he had looked further into the matter.

The sentiment in favor of an extra session of the present Legislature, seems very general among Democratic leaders here.

With one accord, however, they favor deferring action in the matter until after the next election, which will be "A. S. P. M." night.

They point out that a further agitation of the question at this time would probably have the effect of making the National Republican Committee redouble their energies in the State and very likely endanger the election of some of the Democratic nominees for Congress.

It is, therefore, altogether, unlikely that the General Assembly will be convened before next winter to consider the matter.

Most of the party leaders here seem to favor a special session in January and the election of the delegates the following spring.

No Casualties Reported.

Mr. L. B. Vaughan, of this city, has received the following letter:

New York, May 24, 1906. L. B. Vaughan, Esq., Richmond, Va.: Dear Sir—We are in receipt of your letter of the 22nd inst. and yesterday received cable from Liverpool, instructing us to send out powerful tug with equipment to assist the Carinthia, and the Merritt wrecking steamer, I. J. Merritt, called this afternoon for that purpose.

We do not hear of any casualties and presume none have occurred to any members of the crew or persons on board. Yours truly, VERNON H. BROWN & CO.

The above is from the Cunard Steamship Company's New York agents, with reference to the Carinthia, which ran aground off the south coast of Haiti, and on which were Messrs. Joseph Vaughan and Moore Kellam, well known young Richmond men.

Cumberland County, VA., May 26.—Special.—Majority for the convention in Cumberland county is seventy-four.

BAHEN WANTS TO GET IN CAUCUS

It is Said He Can Now Speak the Language of the Tribes.

HE WILL MAKE APPLICATION.

The Meeting Will Be Held on Next Tuesday Night, When Candidates Will Be Nominated for City Offices.

There will be a caucus of the Democratic members of the City Council on Tuesday evening next, May 29th, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the new County Board, to be elected by the several city offices, at its first meeting in July.

Perhaps never before in the history of the city were so many of the old members re-elected to both branches of the Council.

When the joint caucus is called to order on Tuesday night only seven new members will answer to their names. They are Messrs. Glenn, Stein and Adams, of the lower branch, and Messrs. Beck, Wood, Thomasson and Mann, of the Board.

But even all seven of these do not succeed gentlemen who desired re-election. ONLY THREE DEFEATED.

There were only three old members defeated. They are Messrs. Hardwick, Smith and Neale, and were succeeded by Messrs. Wood, Beck and Adams, in the Board and Common Council respectively.

Three of the other new members—Messrs. Thomasson, Mann and Glenn—succeeded Messrs. Cutchins, Montgomery and Mr. Stein takes the place of Councilman Heeke, who, after being renominated, died before the election was held.

It is regarded as a tribute to the worth of the present Council that so many of its members should have been continued in office by the people.

The first business transacted on Tuesday night will probably be the holding of separate caucuses to nominate officers for the two branches. Mr. James Caskey, president of the Common Council, is a candidate for re-election to that office, and he is being opposed by Mr. Fred. C. Ebel, of Madison Ward.

The friends of Captain M. R. Mills, of Jefferson Ward, will put him forward for re-election to the Council. Mr. Joseph Wallerstein is the incumbent, and will stand for re-election.

There is no opposition thus far to Mr. W. M. Turpin, who has held the office of years, and is the able president of the Board, and it is altogether likely that he will be renominated by acclamation.

WILL BE RE-ELECTED. Probably the first business before the joint caucus will be the election of a city clerk, a sergeant-at-arms of the Council, and a clerk to the Council committees.

There is no opposition to any of the incumbents for the three offices, and Messrs. August, Rusket and McDowell, all of whom are very efficient and popular, will be chosen to succeed themselves unanimously.

But when this is done "then comes the tug of war."

There is a clean-cut, hard, straight fight for the office of city attorney, now filled by Hon. Henry R. Pollard, between that gentleman and Mr. L. O. Wendenburg, a prominent attorney and Democrat.

Both gentlemen are hard at work, and are very popular, and the result of the struggle will be watched with interest.

Another city officer who will be opposed for re-election is Mr. T. C. Walford, the present collector of delinquent taxes. Those who aspire to succeed Mr. Walford are Alderman J. Harry Lawler, of Marshall Ward, and Mr. Wirt E. Taylor. All three gentlemen are of much political sagacity and experience, and are putting up good fights for the place.

It is not thought that there will be any serious opposition to any of the other officers to be chosen by the caucus, though for the places to be filled by the various Council committees there are a great number of candidates.

BAHEN WANTS TO COME IN. This class embraces park-keepers, clerks and weigh-masters of the markets, janitors and others.

An important question which will come up in the caucus Tuesday night, and which is of some interest, is that of the admission of Alderman James Bahen, of Jackson Ward, to membership in the body.

It seems to be practically settled that application will be made by Mr. Bahen, and some of the best politicians seem to think he will be admitted. They point out that he was practically nominated and elected by the Democrats of Jackson Ward, and if he makes application for a seat in the Democratic caucus, and states that he is a Democrat, they contend that it would be but right that he should be admitted.

It was stated on good authority yesterday that the application would be made, and that if the question of Democracy should be raised, it was thought the Jackson Ward Alderman could "speak the language of the tribes."

Says He Lost Money. Major Howard has received information from Fredericksburg that pockets reaped a rich harvest at the "E. A. B. celebration" there Friday. Should any of them make their appearance here, the local detectives will send them away. The man now being held in Manchester as a suspicious character will, at the expiration of ten days, be turned over to the Richmond police, and Major Howard will have his photograph taken and put him through the measurements of the Bertillon system. The man says he is very much disappointed at being detained here, when he had no intention of stopping, but was, in company with his friends, on his way to Fredericksburg, where he intended "getting in the push." He says he has lost money in consequence.

Funeral Services. The funeral of Miss Pauline H. Nolting took place at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from St. James' Episcopal Church. The interment was in Shockoe Hill Cemetery.

The remains of little Annie Garrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, of No. 230 East Marshall Street, were taken to Gordonsville, Va., yesterday, where they were interred.

Little Estelle Mayo, who died at her father's residence on Friday, was buried in Oakwood Cemetery yesterday.
