

JOHN THE BEST Washing Powder

HON. W. W. HENRY PASSES AWAY

Distinguished Lawyer, Orator and Writer Died Yesterday Morning.

WILL BE BURIED TO-DAY.

He Was Born In Charlotte County, and Was a Grandson of Patrick Henry.

Sketch of His Long and Brilliant Career.

Hon. William Wirt Henry, who for a number of years has been one of the most distinguished lawyers, and literary men in Virginia, died of heart failure at his residence, No. 415 East Franklin Street, in this city, at ten minutes past three o'clock yesterday morning.

His condition became more alarming on Tuesday, and his law partner, Mr. E. Randolph Williams, who was absent from the city, was called here by wire, and at the instance of Mr. Henry who had rallied to some extent, had a long conference with him regarding some important legal matters.

Mr. Henry sank rapidly, however, during the night, and passed peacefully away, surrounded by all the members of his immediate family at the home named above.

"LET ME LIE DOWN AND REST."

Just before he died Mr. Henry asked his nurse to raise him up in bed and then said: "Let me lie down and rest," these being the last words he uttered.

The funeral will take place from the Second Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock P. M. to-day, and the services will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Russell Cecil, assisted by Drs. Kerr, Witherspoon and Stewart. The interment will be in Hollywood, and the following gentlemen will act as pall-bearers:

Active—Messrs. S. H. Hawes, T. William Pemberton, E. D. Taylor, W. T. Fitzgerald, A. J. Elmer, H. S. Hawes, James Lewis Anderson and A. C. Young.

Honorary—Messrs. F. T. Glasgow, M. M. Gilliam, Judge George L. Christian, Capt. John A. Coke, John S. Munce, M. T. Smith, Howard Swineford, James Blair, Maxwell T. Clarke, George Chiles, J. R. Priddy, Governor J. Hoge Tyler, ex-Governor Charles T. O'Ferrall, Judges Jas. Keith, John A. Buchanan, George M. Harrison, R. H. Cardwell and A. A. Phelan.

A DISTINGUISHED CAREER.

William Wirt Henry was born on February 14th, 1831, at Hills, Charlotte county, Virginia, the family seat and burial place of his distinguished grandfather, Patrick Henry.

He was the eldest son of John and Elizabeth Henry. His father was the youngest son of Patrick Henry, by his second wife, Dorothea Spotswood Dandridge, grand-daughter of Governor Alexander Spotswood.

His mother was a granddaughter of the Revolutionary patriot, Colonel William Campbell, of Union Hill. Mr. Henry was educated at the University of Virginia, where he took the degree of M. A. in 1850. After graduating in law he came to the bar at Charlotte in 1853, and served as Commonwealth's attorney of that county for a number of years.

He was an old-line Whig in politics until the breaking out of the Civil War. He volunteered as a private in an artillery company commanded by Captain Charles Bruce, and served with distinction during the close of the war. Mr. Henry removed to Richmond in 1872 and engaged in the practice of law and in literary and historical pursuits. He once took a high rank as a journalist, and was one of the leading members of the bar of the State up to the time of his death.

AS A LEGISLATOR.

In 1877, Mr. Henry was elected to the House of Delegates from this city, and at the expiration of his term was elected to the State Senate, in both of which bodies he was a distinguished leader. He served with great ability on some of the most important committees, and his advice and counsel were freely sought on all sides.

While always regarded as a leading member of the Richmond city bar, Mr. Henry was, perhaps, more widely known out of the State for his literary and historical work.

Few men in the country have filled so many honorary positions as Mr. Henry. The degree of M. A. was won by him while at the University of Virginia, while the Washington and Lee University conferred upon him the degree of LL. D. On one occasion when in Washington, the privileges of the floor of the United States Senate were, upon motion of Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, extended to him, a distinction rarely accorded to any citizen not a member or an ex-member of Congress.

MANY EXALTED PLACES.

Mr. Henry was for a long time president of the Virginia Historical Society; has served as president of the American Historical Association; president of the Richmond City Bar Association; president of the Virginia State Bar Association; vice-president of the American Bar Association; president of the Virginia Association of the Sons of the American Revolution; president of the Scotch-Irish Society of Virginia.

gina; vice-president of the American Sunday-school Union; chairman of the Advisory Board of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, and Commissioner from Virginia and member of the Board of Trustees of the Peabody Educational Fund.

Mr. Henry had been a member of the Board of Trustees of Hampden-Sydney College; member of the Long Island Historical Society; the Massachusetts Historical Society; the American Antiquarian Society; the Southern Historical Society; the Bible Society of Virginia; the Scotch-Irish Society of America. Mr. Henry was recently made an honorary member of the Virginia Historical Society, and Dr. Alexander Brown, the distinguished historian, being the only two Virginians upon whom this honor has been conferred.

HIS LITERARY LABORS.

Mr. Henry has long been an industrious laborer in the literary and historical field, and his published works have been widely read. He has again and again called upon to deliver addresses on patriotic and historical occasions, and always acquitted himself with great credit.

The most important among Mr. Henry's writings are his three volumes containing the life and letters of Patrick Henry, which received so much praise from the Northern and Southern press, and which are lasting monuments to his splendid literary ability.

Perhaps the most important addresses delivered by Mr. Henry were: In Philadelphia on the "Centennial of the Motion for Independence in the Continental Congress" in Washington, D. C., on the centennial of the laying of the cornerstone of the capitol, and his inaugural address before the American Historical Association, which distinguished body conferred upon him the honor of representing the Congress of History at the Hague in 1898.

MR. HENRY MARRIED EARLY.

In 1854 Mr. Henry married Lucy Gray, daughter of Col. James P. Marshall, a soldier in the war of 1812. He is survived by Mrs. Henry and four children—Mrs. James Lyons, Mrs. Matthew Bland, Mrs. Henry H. Hoge, and Mrs. Henry Marshall Henry, both of Charlotte county.

Mr. Henry had long been a faithful member of the Second Presbyterian church, and took an active part in religious work. He was a warm friend and admirer of the late Dr. Hoge, in whose church he was an elder during most of his life. He was out to attend communion services at his church on the 11th of November. He gave much time and attention to writing on religious subjects, and wrote extensively on behalf of the Presbyterian and especially his distinguished grandfather, took in behalf of religious liberty.

He had been in failing health for several years, and spent the greater part of last summer at the Virginia Sulphur and Virginia Hot Springs in an effort to regain his strength. He was truly a great man, and will be sorely missed in the community.

LOOKS BRIGHT FOR "NICK."

Gilligan May Get a New Trial—Mr. Wise's Motion.

It begins to look as if A. C. Gilligan may have another chance for freedom from his dark cell in the Virginia Penitentiary.

It was learned yesterday upon the very best authority that his chances for a new trial are excellent.

The record made up by the clerk of the County Court of Isle of Wight is very defective. It seems that the clerk has not had very much experience in writing out the records in important cases, and there are several flaws in the paper that will probably compel the Court of Appeals to grant a new trial.

In the event that Gilligan gets a new trial, it is probable a jury will have to be summoned from outside of Isle of Wight, as nearly every man in that county has made up his mind and expressed his opinion as to this case.

At the hearing of this case, counsel for A. C. Gilligan, appeared before the Supreme Court yesterday, and moved that tribunal to enter an order directing that Gilligan be removed to the county jail of Isle of Wight, pending the decision of the court on the motion for granting a new trial, a writ of error having been granted and set for hearing at the January term of the court.

Attorney-General Montague, on behalf of the State, resisted the motion, and the court took the matter under advisement until to-day, which is regular opinion-day.

Gilligan, whom it will be remembered was convicted of the murder of Mr. D. C. Turner in Isle of Wight county last Christmas, has just begun to serve the eighteen-year sentence in the penitentiary, which was the term fixed by the court. The Supreme Court grants Mr. Wise's motion, the prisoner will be taken to Isle of Wight and there confined in the county jail until January, when his fate regarding a new trial will be determined by the court.

Much interest is being manifested in the case, and there are those who believe the prisoner still stands a chance for his freedom.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of Barbara Smith, the eight-year-old daughter of W. L. and Fannie T. Smith, will take place this morning at 10 o'clock. The interment will be in Oakwood Cemetery.

The funeral of Mr. R. C. Pemberton took place at 11 o'clock yesterday morning from the Soldiers' Home Chapel. The interment was in Hollywood Cemetery.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Powell will take place at 3 o'clock this afternoon from Emmanuel Church, Henrico county.

The funeral of Mrs. D. A. Carter will take place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the residence, No. 117 South Belvidere Street.

The funeral of Colonel John R. Popham took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The interment was in River View Cemetery.

No Action Taken.

There are no new developments in the matter of the proposed removal of the headquarters of the Internal Revenue Collector from Petersburg to Richmond. Nothing will be done until a new Colonel Brady's successor is appointed. Captain Rogers is only acting collector.

Tobacco Exportsations.

This will be a record-breaking month in the exportation of tobacco from Richmond. The probability of the tariff being raised in January will be the cause of the article and reduced on local is causing the manufacturers to rush the work on big orders.

Other Minor Cases.

A distinguished and well ordered crowd gathered in the Big White Chamber today to catch the precepts and judgments of the Great Ruler of the people from the Cedar Works to the Soldiers' Home and from Byrd Island to Bacon Quarter Branch, and they did marvel greatly at his wisdom and made much merriment at his sayings.

Justice John dived into the Police Court docket yesterday like the centre rush on the Virginia team in a championship football game and then tackled and ran around the enemy until he kicked goal with all four feet up.

Several times the enemy got on his five-year line, but he held 'em every time for downs.

He was so aggressive in his rushes that he got the whistles blowing, rattled and made a policeman say that the first Monday in January came on Tuesday, and Sergeant Thomas declare that the 7th was New-Year-Day.

When he had everything cowed he strode in and out of heads like a Minnesota reaping machine on a prairie wheat field.

BAD PLUMBING.

T. Nelson was fined ten dollars on the complaint of the plumbing inspector and city engineer's department for employing other than a licensed plumber and having work done on his premises not in accord with the plumbing regulations.

B. Caselli, bar-keeper for Grolomi, was charged with assaulting Charlotte Banks (colored) with a beer glass. It turned out to be only a light wine glass and that the lick was in response to some very inflamed and lurid language on the part of Charlotte Banks. The lawyer in the case, in Washington, D. There were present at the meeting: Messrs. Mills, Glenn and Whitlock, the City Engineer, and Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Department.

The pole-route question was discussed at some length, and the sub-committee finally determined to recommend routes on Franklin Street from Governor to Twenty-first; from the foot of Ninth Street, on Ninth to Canal, and on Canal Street to First, to Cary, to Adams and to Canal; on Twenty-sixth Street from Main to Franklin; on Main Street from Fourteenth to Twenty-seventh; on Cary Street from Adams to Cherry to Main, to Harrison to Franklin Street.

The committee reserved the right at any time to require the company to put up iron poles or use distribution tubes along these routes.

The committee returned to the application in regard for "sweeps," which connect the wires in the conduits with the poles.

The horse, frantic with fright, ran into a telegraph pole and was injured so that it was necessary to have him killed almost instantly.

Miss Nolting was taken into a house near by, where she was treated at once by Dr. W. T. Oppenheimer, who happened to be visiting a friend at that place. A little later she was well enough to be removed to her home, No. 49 East Main Street.

It was stated at her home that Miss Nolting's injuries were not so serious as at first thought. Miss Nolting is a daughter of the late Mr. E. O. Nolting and a sister of the members of the well-known family of Nolting's Sons. She is highly esteemed here and her mishap will cause general regret.

A GRATEFUL WOMAN

Mrs. F. J. Lynch, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. F. J. Lynch, 324 South Division Street, Grand Rapids, Mich., writes: The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen,—I earnestly recommend Peruna to any suffering woman, as it cures quickly. I had a most persistent cough which nothing seemed to cure. Two bottles of Peruna did more for me than all the doctors seemed to do. In a couple of weeks I found myself in excellent health, and have been enjoying it ever since. Hence I look on Peruna as a true friend to women.

Catarrh is the Continual Scourge of Christendom.

Catarrh hovers ominously over every city, and nestles treacherously in every hamlet. It flies with vampire wings from country to country and cuts a black shadow of despair over all lands. Its stealthy approach and its lingering stay makes it a dread to the physician and a pest to the patient.
