

MEMORIAL DAY IN PETERSBURG

The Attendance the Largest in Many Years.

THE STRIKE NEGOTIATIONS.

A Hosiery Factory to Be Built for Reinech & Son—An Exploded Lamp Caused the Destruction of the Sleeping Car Willard.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

PETERSBURG, VA., June 10.—Memorial Day services were held at Blandford Cemetery this afternoon under the auspices of the Ladies' Memorial Association of this city. The attendance was the largest for many years. The graves of the old soldiers were decorated and there was an abundance of flowers. Mayor Pleasant introduced General Stith Bolling, who delivered the oration.

The fourth week of the strike declared by the machinists began today. The situation remains unchanged so far as the strikers are concerned. This morning the striking machinists of Appomattox foundry showed up at the office of the foundry at 7 o'clock at the request of the proprietors.

REJECTED PROPOSITION.

The latter submitted a proposition to pay three of the machinists ten-hours' pay for nine-hours' work and nine-hours' pay to the balance of the strikers. The proposition was rejected, the men declaring that they could not return to work unless all the strikers in the shop receive former wages for nine-hours' work.

It is understood that three machine shops in the city have plenty of work on hand, and the probability is the strike will be settled during the week.

The sleeper "Willard," attached to the south-bound train on the Atlantic Coast line, which left here last night at 7:35, was almost totally destroyed by fire near Jarratt's Station. When the station was reached, and while the train was running at full speed, a lamp on the sleeper exploded. The car was immediately set afire and burned rapidly. All the passengers escaped without injury. The burning sleeper was sidetracked, and after the fire was out the train moved on.

HOSIERY FACTORY.

Messrs. A. S. Reinech & Son, proprietors of the Petersburg Hosiery Company, have given out the plans for their new building to be erected at Guarantee and Brown Streets. The contract for the brick work was awarded W. B. Turner and the wood work to George W. Tucker. The building is to be two stories, 106x49 feet, and will be used exclusively for the purposes of the above company. It will cost between $6,000 and $7,000. Messrs. Reinech & Son expect to occupy the building about October 1st.

A. P. HILL, CAMP.

A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans attended St. Paul's Church last night in a body. Rev. H. L. Derby, who is chaplain of the camp, preached a special sermon.

Mr. Floyd Hatch, son of Mr. B. F. Hatch, of Petersburg, was graduated with high honors from the Bliss School of Electricity in Washington, D. C., and will return home in a few days.

Miss Kate Mason is quite sick at her residence on Hinton Street.

Miss Eva M. Crump, of Baltimore, is visiting relatives in the city.

Miss Ella Booth, Miss Mary Butts, Dr. Herbert Talley and Mr. Edwin Morrison contributed to the pleasure of the evening by singing ballads and war songs. Miss Mary Simpson was the accompanist.

A TALENTED YOUNG ARTIST

SAYS:

"I Give Peruna My Highest Endorsement. It is Well Deserved."

(To The Peruna Medicine Company, of Columbus, Ohio.)

President Jacksonville Art Club.

Miss Sophie B. Smith, President of the Jacksonville Art Club, writes from 17 W. Adams Street, Jacksonville, Fla., as follows:

"From bad to worse is the story of a hard cold when it settles on the lungs and spreads catarrh through the system. From sick to well is the story when you use Peruna. I have tried it twice and each time I had a hard cold, and although one was in midsummer and the other in midwinter Peruna cured me each time. I give it my highest endorsement; it is well deserved."—Sophie B. Smith.

A UNITED STATES SENATOR'S WIFE PRAISES PERUNA.

Mrs. F. E. Warren, wife of the late Governor and now United States Senator F. E. Warren of Wyoming, writes the following voluntary testimonial to the value of Peruna. She says:

"I am never without Peruna either in my home or in my travels. It is truly a great triumph of scientific medicine. I am constantly troubled with colds, coughs, etc., but thanks to your good medicine, Peruna, I always find a prompt cure. I believe no medicine ever brought before the public has effected so many permanent cures as Peruna."—Mrs. F. E. Warren, 1848 Wyoming Street, Washington, D. C.

Catching cold in the summer is a more frequent occurrence than is most generally supposed. Winter is generally supposed to be the time for colds. But cool nights alternating with hot days, sudden showers following sultry heat, profuse perspiration and cooling draughts, are all peculiar to summer, which causes a multitude of people to catch cold.

Summer colds require prompt treatment. They are always grave, and sometimes dangerous. The promptness and surety with which Peruna acts in these cases has saved many Groups of palms were artistically placed in every available space, the stage was banked in towering palms, and behind this screen of foliage the musicians were stationed.

Formalities were dispensed with, stories were told, letters from absentees read, and short speeches made. The climax was the annual dinner, which was a feast of good things—Brunswick stew, mutton, old Virginia ham, spruce chicken, etc.

The company was most congenial and the day, long and eagerly anticipated, passed most pleasantly.
