

The Richmond Times

THE TIMES COMPANY. THE DAILY TIMES, when delivered by carrier...

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1901.

A WARNING TO DEMOCRATS.

"The Republicans in Virginia undoubtedly have a better chance to elect a Governor this year than they have had for many years. We are, therefore, going to make a fight against the Democrats that will last until the polls are closed next November."

The Republicans will make their fight upon State issues, preaching economy and reform. They will take Attorney-General Montague's speeches, in which he declared that the Democratic machine in Virginia was corrupt in every part, as their text, and will argue that a complete change of administration would be beneficial to the State.

There is a warning in this to the Democrats of Virginia, which they should heed. The members of the party are abundantly able to settle their own differences and to work any reforms that may be needed without any help whatever from the Republicans.

We are much gratified that the president of the convention, a man whom we all love and honor, a man whose statesmanship and devotion to Virginia are beyond question, should have made such a speech, and we are gratified that the sentiment was heartily applauded by the members of the convention.

Earlier in his address Mr. Goode had said that the wholesale enfranchisement of the negro was a curse to the black man because the Fifteenth Amendment was responsible for most of his troubles in the South, but it was a curse to the white man in more than one sense.

Let Democrats be warned. Let us settle all our differences as Democrats and friends in the Norfolk Convention, and let us make up our minds now that, after that convention shall have made its decision as between the several candidates for Governor, we will all put our differences aside and cordially and enthusiastically unite in the support of the nominee, whoever he may be.

The way to prevent future trouble is for all Democrats to be conservative and stop this campaign of crimination and recrimination, and above all to have a perfectly fair and free fight between the contestants in the selection of delegates and a perfectly fair decision by the convention.

MISLEADING HEADLINES. The New York Sun of yesterday prints a special from Richmond headed thus: "Wouldn't Take the Federal Oath."

"All persons, before entering upon the discharge of any function as officers of this State, must take and subscribe to the following oath or affirmation: I do solemnly swear or affirm that I will support and maintain the Constitution and laws of the United States and the Constitution and laws of the State of Virginia; that I recognize and accept the civil and political equality of all men before the law; and that I will faithfully perform the duty of — to the best of my ability. So help me God." Article III, sec. 5.

Senator Daniel, Mr. Braxton and others who objected to having this oath administered, said that it was a debatable question as to whether or not a member of the Constitutional Convention was, in the meaning of the law, an "officer," and that as it was a question of dispute and of doubt, they did not think it proper for the convention to compel members who did not regard themselves as "officers" to subscribe to this oath against their conscience.

Mr. Glass afterwards pointed out that in Article XII of the Constitution providing how future changes in the Constitution were to be made this language occurs: "Provided, that no amendment or revision shall be made which shall deny or in any way impair the right of suffrage or any civil or political right as conferred by this Constitution, except for causes which apply to all persons and classes without distinction."

Mr. Glass said that it was a well known fact that the chief object in calling this convention was to revive the suffrage, and he did not see how any member could swear to support and uphold the existing Constitution, embodying the clause quoted, and then vote for a measure to disfranchise the negro.

We heard the discussion and we believe that this is an accurate statement of the facts. Of course, there was no objection on the part of any member, per se, to subscribing to the oath of allegiance to the United States.

GOODE STRIKES THE KEYNOTE.

We take the following extract from the speech of President John Goode before the Constitutional Convention as reported in The Times of yesterday: Allow me to express the hope that, as a beneficent result of whatever plan of suffrage you may adopt, politics in Virginia may be so purified that in all the years to come her escutcheon shall not be stained by any act of fraud, bribery, corruption, false registration, false counting, or any debauching and demoralizing methods in the conduct of elections. (Great applause.)

The safety and perpetuity of our free institutions depend upon the purity and inviolability of the ballot. We are much gratified that the president of the convention, a man whom we all love and honor, a man whose statesmanship and devotion to Virginia are beyond question, should have made such a speech, and we are gratified that the sentiment was heartily applauded by the members of the convention.

Earlier in his address Mr. Goode had said that the wholesale enfranchisement of the negro was a curse to the black man because the Fifteenth Amendment was responsible for most of his troubles in the South, but it was a curse to the white man in more than one sense. It was a curse to the whites because it gave us black and tan rule and disorganized our system of government and caused distress that cannot be uttered. But that was not all, nor even the worst of it. In order to protect ourselves from negro carpet-bag rule we resorted to expedients at the ballot-box which brought our elections into contempt and spread demoralization broadcast. These methods in the beginning were winked at by the great body of Virginia Democrats, who in their hearts despised the thing, because self-preservation is the first law of nature and they felt that the end justified the means. But had men took advantage of this condition, and the negro was frequently made the pretext for employing these devious devices when there was no occasion for it, and sometimes, be it told to our shame, they were employed by one faction in the Democratic party against another faction, by white men against white men, by Democrat against Democrat.

The people of Virginia are tired of this wretched business and they have determined to be rid of it and to wipe out this shame upon the old Commonwealth. That is the motive of this convention which has now assembled, and that is the great work that the convention will have to perform. Other reforms in the direction of taxation and government expenses and the machinery of government may be made, and we hope will be made, but all these are, and must, in the deliberations of the body, be made subservient to the great question of the suffrage and the purification of our election methods.

GOVERNOR TYLER'S ADDRESS. Governor Tyler did well to give his address before the Constitutional Convention yesterday a practical turn. He did well to suggest that the members put aside their "mildewed prejudices," address themselves to the living questions of to-day and draft an up-to-date Constitution that would adjust itself to new conditions and that would aid in the material progress and development of the State. Some of our methods are undoubtedly behind the times. A system that was adapted to conditions of a hundred years ago will not do for conditions existing in the twentieth century. Our machinery of government is in many respects antiquated and needs to be modernized; the same may be said of our tax system, of laying taxes and gathering taxes; improvements may also be made in our system of proceedings at law. The members of the convention will do well to have these subjects in view in framing a new Constitution, and they should carefully study the most modern constitutions of the most progressive States in the Union.

But there is a negative side to the question. Let the convention be very careful not to do anything that will tend to check development and progress, that will tend to intimidate men of means who would, under favorable conditions, invest their money here in industrial enterprises. We do not agree with Governor Tyler in the view expressed that capital invested in mining and manufacturing enterprises should be exempt from taxation. We do not believe in granting any special favors under the law to any class of tax-payers. We do not believe in giving special privileges to banks or railroads or manufacturing enterprises or corporations of any character. But let the convention be careful not to put any provision or provisions in the Constitution to be made that will operate to the detriment of banks or railroads or legitimate corporations of any kind. Let us have a fair and equitable system of taxation that will make the burden fall, as nearly as possible, equally and uniformly upon all classes of property; let us have laws that will protect property rights and discriminate against none, and make every investor in Virginia feel that his property will be safe and his vested rights protected. Do this and capital will seek investment here without exemptions or other measures of favoritism.

GRADUATES GET THEIR DEGREES.

Closing Exercises of Richmond College Last Night. COLLEGE AND THE COMMUNITY.

Dr. Hatcher Delivers the Commencement Address and Tells of Mutual Duties. The Work of the Trustees.

The scholastic year of 1900-'01 at Richmond College closed last night with the formal commencement exercises. These were held in the chapel, which was well filled with friends of the graduates and filled with friends of the college.

The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. M. F. Hatcher, of Petersburg, and in an appropriate speech Mr. Samuel L. Kelley awarded the "James D. Crump" prize in mathematics to Miss Isabel Hart, of Richmond, College, while Dr. Hatcher, in his address, presented the "Tanner" prize, in Greek, to Mr. Percy Pemberton, of this city.

DR. HATCHER'S ADDRESS. The commencement address was delivered by Rev. Dr. William F. Hatcher, D. D., president of the Board of Trustees, of the college, and drew comparisons between the old school and the new, declaring that in no age were the blessings of education so widely beneficial or so great as now.

facturing enterprises or corporations of any character. But let the convention be careful not to put any provision or provisions in the Constitution to be made that will operate to the detriment of banks or railroads or legitimate corporations of any kind. Let us have a fair and equitable system of taxation that will make the burden fall, as nearly as possible, equally and uniformly upon all classes of property; let us have laws that will protect property rights and discriminate against none, and make every investor in Virginia feel that his property will be safe and his vested rights protected. Do this and capital will seek investment here without exemptions or other measures of favoritism.

GRADUATES GET THEIR DEGREES.

Closing Exercises of Richmond College Last Night. COLLEGE AND THE COMMUNITY.

Dr. Hatcher Delivers the Commencement Address and Tells of Mutual Duties. The Work of the Trustees.

The scholastic year of 1900-'01 at Richmond College closed last night with the formal commencement exercises. These were held in the chapel, which was well filled with friends of the graduates and filled with friends of the college.

The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. M. F. Hatcher, of Petersburg, and in an appropriate speech Mr. Samuel L. Kelley awarded the "James D. Crump" prize in mathematics to Miss Isabel Hart, of Richmond, College, while Dr. Hatcher, in his address, presented the "Tanner" prize, in Greek, to Mr. Percy Pemberton, of this city.

DR. HATCHER'S ADDRESS. The commencement address was delivered by Rev. Dr. William F. Hatcher, D. D., president of the Board of Trustees, of the college, and drew comparisons between the old school and the new, declaring that in no age were the blessings of education so widely beneficial or so great as now.

In speaking of the community, Dr. Hatcher said that no college could exist without its community, and that mutual duties existed. "That community," he said, "is the college, which the college cannot control or govern, but in which the college is a power and an influence for good."

"The college should not carry with it the olden idea of seclusion, but be in touch with the community in which it is. The idea of not being a part of the people was of the old school; it was to be seen in the old time professor's every word and deed. Then, too, was there a feeling that the college was to attract or interest the people, and the difference existing between the college and the community was typical of the college itself. But in this the college was not solely to blame, but there was a fault on the part of the people who are but little in sympathy with the cause of education. The college and the community should be married in common union. The college needs the community and the community needs the college, and they will be helped and benefited, for they have mutual interests."

"Professor Harris, one of the University of Virginia's noblest and greatest men, once said that 'a college disassociated from the community is a dead letter, and there is a profound truth in this assertion, and I may say, that in the degree that a college does its duty by and disseminates its blessings among a community, in that degree is its own beauty and its own glory. The college community should repay the college for its benefits to it. Happy indeed is that community which looks up to the college as a thing of light and of beauty, and let that community be worthy of the college and the college of the community."

Dr. Hatcher then spoke of the delightful life of Richmond College and reviewed its growth and progress, giving many interesting reminiscences.

DEATHS.

Mr. John D. Woody, of Baltimore, died suddenly yesterday at the residence of his brother, Mr. C. B. Woody, No. 219 Venable Street. He was in the fifty-fourth year of his age.

The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Funeral of W. N. Gentry.

The funeral of W. N. Gentry took place at the First Baptist Church yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Caroline M. Garland.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) LYNCHBURG, Va., June 13.—Mrs. Caroline M. Garland, wife of Mr. Wm. H. Garland, died here this morning at the home of her nephew, Mr. Maurice H. Garland, aged ninety-four years.

Mrs. Garland was the daughter of Spotswood Wood, who for forty years was clerk of Nelson County Court. Her mother was Lucinda Rose, granddaughter of Rev. Robert Rose, first rector of Albemarle parish. Mrs. Garland was born October 28, 1807, in Nelson county, and in 1828 was married to Mr. Wm. H. Garland, of the Lynchburg law firm of S. and M. H. Garland. Her husband died in 1841, leaving her one son, who at the outbreak of the Civil War went to the front as a member of the Guard as his captain. He was soon promoted for gallantry, and when he was killed, in the early part of the war, at Boonsboro, Md., he was a brigadier-general.

Mrs. Garland was a sister-in-law of the late Mrs. Mary L. Garland, who died here in 1888; aged ninety-eight. She was also a sister of Dr. L. C. Garland, who, at the time of his death, was chancellor emeritus of Vanderbilt University. Among her near relatives who survive here are her nieces, Mrs. General Meem, of Seattle; Mrs. Haskins, of Laffax county; Mrs. Rose Lewis, of Birmingham, Ala.; and Mrs. Eugene A. Smith, of Richmond. She also leaves two nephews—Mr. Spot, Garland, of Wilmington, Del., and Mr. M. H. Garland, of Lynchburg. Besides these immediate relatives, she was connected with the oldest and staunchest of the Old Dominion Chapter, U. D. C. She was fond of literature, a fine reader and a good conversationalist; she was liberal and generous and a high type of the old Virginia matron.

Captain R. H. Mann.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) PETERSBURG, Va., June 13.—Captain Richard H. Mann, Sr., died at his residence in Petersburg this morning at 4 o'clock of heart disease and dropsy.

Captain Mann was for many years in the employ of the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company in various capacities, and more recently was in the employ of the city. He was for six years a member of the Common Council from First Ward. He came from Appomattox county originally, but had resided here for the last forty years and was in the 64th year of his age.

Captain Mann leaves a widow and five children, namely: Messrs. William Henry Mann, R. H. Mann, Jr., Edward G. Mann, Miss Annie V. Mann, and Mrs. H. V. Mann. He was one of the oldest Old-Fellows in the city, having been a member of Appomattox Lodge since 1863. His funeral will take place from Blandford Methodist Chapel to-morrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Robert Wesley White.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) WAKEFIELD, Va., June 13.—Robert Wesley White, a prominent citizen and farmer, died yesterday. His death did not come unexpectedly, as he had been confined to his room and bed for several weeks with lingering disease, superinduced by old age.

Mr. White was a soldier in the Confederate service as a private at Appomattox. Farming brought to him high success, and out of his prosperity he never forgot the poor, always mindful of their necessities. Mr. White leaves a wife and five children.

Horace M. Wade.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) LEXINGTON, Va., June 13.—Mr. Horace M. Wade, son of the late Thomas Wade, of this place, died yesterday morning at his home in Philadelphia, aged 55 years. Early in life he went North, but at the outbreak of the Civil War he returned to Virginia and entered the Confederate service as a member of the Twelfth Virginia Regiment. After the war he returned to Philadelphia, where he has since lived. Two brothers are living here, Benjamin F. Wade and Major T. M. Wade. His wife also survives.

GRADUATES GET THEIR DEGREES.

Closing Exercises of Richmond College Last Night. COLLEGE AND THE COMMUNITY.

Dr. Hatcher Delivers the Commencement Address and Tells of Mutual Duties. The Work of the Trustees.

The scholastic year of 1900-'01 at Richmond College closed last night with the formal commencement exercises. These were held in the chapel, which was well filled with friends of the graduates and filled with friends of the college.

The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. M. F. Hatcher, of Petersburg, and in an appropriate speech Mr. Samuel L. Kelley awarded the "James D. Crump" prize in mathematics to Miss Isabel Hart, of Richmond, College, while Dr. Hatcher, in his address, presented the "Tanner" prize, in Greek, to Mr. Percy Pemberton, of this city.

DR. HATCHER'S ADDRESS. The commencement address was delivered by Rev. Dr. William F. Hatcher, D. D., president of the Board of Trustees, of the college, and drew comparisons between the old school and the new, declaring that in no age were the blessings of education so widely beneficial or so great as now.

In speaking of the community, Dr. Hatcher said that no college could exist without its community, and that mutual duties existed. "That community," he said, "is the college, which the college cannot control or govern, but in which the college is a power and an influence for good."

"The college should not carry with it the olden idea of seclusion, but be in touch with the community in which it is. The idea of not being a part of the people was of the old school; it was to be seen in the old time professor's every word and deed. Then, too, was there a feeling that the college was to attract or interest the people, and the difference existing between the college and the community was typical of the college itself. But in this the college was not solely to blame, but there was a fault on the part of the people who are but little in sympathy with the cause of education. The college and the community should be married in common union. The college needs the community and the community needs the college, and they will be helped and benefited, for they have mutual interests."

"Professor Harris, one of the University of Virginia's noblest and greatest men, once said that 'a college disassociated from the community is a dead letter, and there is a profound truth in this assertion, and I may say, that in the degree that a college does its duty by and disseminates its blessings among a community, in that degree is its own beauty and its own glory. The college community should repay the college for its benefits to it. Happy indeed is that community which looks up to the college as a thing of light and of beauty, and let that community be worthy of the college and the college of the community."

Dr. Hatcher then spoke of the delightful life of Richmond College and reviewed its growth and progress, giving many interesting reminiscences.

President Boatwright then conferred degrees on the following:

Bachelors of Law—Myron Edison Bristol, Northampton county; Beverly Arnold Davis, Richmond; Henry Carrington Davidson, Loudoun county; James Ware Durham, Essex county; Willis Edward Lowe, Loudoun county; James Pleasant McCabe, Bedford county; Percy Howard Myers, Georgia; William Russell Owen, Norfolk county; Percy Cumberland, Richmond; E. W. Province, Florida; George Pendleton Quarles, Richmond; Gus Maurice Schwarzchild, Richmond; Warren Mosby Say, Fluvanna county; B. West Tabb, Warwick; Leslie Harvey Walton, Pennsylvania; Arthur Thomas Woodward, Pennsylvania.

Bachelors of Science—Harold Gordon Blundon, Northumberland county; John Benjamin Swartwood, Henrico county; Masters of Arts—John Walter Campbell, Orange county; Howard Lee McCabe, Richmond; Henry Martin, Caroline county; Cullen Sandridge Pitt, Henrico county; John Watson Shepard, Tennessee.

Honorary Degrees:

Doctor of Divinity—Rev. George W. Quick, of Springfield, Mass.; Rev. E. S. Pollard, of Washington, D. C., and Rev. F. H. Martin, of Salem, Va.

Doctor of Laws—Dr. S. E. Woody, of Loudoun.

Prof. Boatwright announced that Miss Quares was the first lady to receive the degree of bachelor of arts from Richmond College.

WORK OF THE TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees met yesterday and elected Mr. J. L. Camp, of Franklin, Va., to the vacancy on the board.

The Committee on the President's Report, recommended the starting of a class in Biology and also better management of the grounds, which was approved. It is not to establish a separate chair of biology, but to have a class as a beginning. No arrangements has been made for the conduct of such an addition.

The Committee on Instruction recommended the condition of Literature with the School of English under Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, and it was agreed also that arrangements should be made for history, under Dr. S. C. Mitchell, now professor of Latin. Dr. S. C. Mitchell will be asked to conduct the history in connection with his present work.

The Library Committee reported an addition of 45 volumes, making a total of 13,865 volumes now on the shelves of the college. The committee also recommended the annex built for Government publication sent to the college. A verbal report on the proposed union of Richmond College and the Woman's College was made, but no action was taken.

RICHMOND FEMALE SEMINARY.

Interesting Exercises Yesterday and a Dance. Distinctions Awarded.

The commencement exercises began yesterday at the Richmond Female Seminary, with a reception to the day scholars, and a dance, which was attended by many, and passed most pleasantly. After the reception the students were assembled in the chapel and awarded their certificates of distinction for class standing and department. Following the readings of the program, Miss Anna Rena King, music; Miss Lizzie Mann,

Mrs. Williams, the retiring principal, a beautiful silver bowl as a token from the pupils of their love and esteem. Mrs. Williams accepted the gift with a brief speech of thanks. The exercises light refreshments were served on the lawn.

Last night the farewell dance was given in the Seminary Hall, which had lost all traces of books and study. Among those present were Miss Belle McGill, Eliza Coberly, Rose Watkins, Lenore Tinsley, Rebecca Leigh, Augusta Freeman, Margaret Williams, Eleanor Benson, Berkeley Nelson, Bertha Adams, Sadie Leitch, Lucy Leigh, Lucy Evans, and Messrs. Richard Biddood, Pleasant Conquest, Percy Montague, William Reid, Walter Jones, Emil Baughman, Carl Walker, Lindsay Walker, Charles Bowe, Charles Willis, Kent Rankley, Dr. Foster, John R. Lightfoot, Jr., Howard Sutton, Deane Maury.

This evening at 8 o'clock in the school chapel the commencement exercises will be held, including the awarding of the degrees, and the address of the retiring principal will be delivered by Mr. John P. McGuire. The concluding feature of the closing will be the annual concert.

Following is a list of the young ladies receiving distinction for conduct and class standing:

CONDUCT CERTIFICATES. Those having received no demerits during the session were: Elsie Anderson, Susie Bolton, Minnie Bolton, Lelia Blair, Ida Beveridge, Linda Beveridge, Eleanor Benson, Helen Borchers, Rosa Bick, Elizabeth Hodson, Elizabeth Washington, Bernard Cooke, Louise Camp, Mary Curtis, Virginia Carrington, Katherine Conard, Carrie Darst, Rhoda Davis, Edna Davis, Naomi Ford, Hawise Glazebrook, Rena King, Estie Brook, Elsie Holmes, Coats, Elizabeth Hodson, Frances Hutchison, grammar, spelling; Miss Elizabeth Atkinson, rhetoric, literature, composition, algebra, history, spelling; Miss Elsie Anderson, reading, poetry, arithmetic, history, mythology, poetry, Latin, French, spelling; Miss Kate Benson, composition, geometry, music, history, spelling; Miss Eleanor Benson, music, poetry, composition; Miss Minnie Bolton, composition, geometry, Latin, French, spelling; Miss Linda Beveridge, reading, spelling, dictation, geography, history, grammar, arithmetic, poetry, composition; Miss Lelia Blair, writing, French, dictation, poetry, composition; Miss Fannie Bland, geometry; Miss Rosa Bick, writing, reading, spelling; Miss Helen Borchers, composition; Miss Estie Brook, composition; Miss Susie Bolton, composition, poetry; Miss Mildred Boyd, French, German, poetry, composition; Miss Helen Borchers, reading, writing, spelling, dictation, geography; Miss Ida Beveridge, reading, writing, dictation, geography, history, grammar, arithmetic, composition, poetry, music; Miss Virginia Carrington, writing, reading, dictation, spelling, history, mythology, composition, poetry; Miss Fannie Bland, reading, writing, dictation, spelling, history, mythology, literature, composition, algebra, music, spelling; Miss Margaret Carrington, German; Miss Katie Copeland, writing, history, composition, poetry; Miss Mildred Boyd, reading, writing, dictation, spelling, geography, history, grammar, composition, poetry, arithmetic; Miss Bernard Cooke, writing, dictation, spelling, geography, history, grammar, composition; Miss Olga Coberly, music, poetry; Miss Estie Brook, music, poetry; Miss Edna Crenshaw, geometry; Miss Edna Davis, writing, poetry, composition, spelling; Miss Rhoda Davis, writing, history, composition, spelling; Miss Carrie Darst, locution, history, spelling, poetry, composition, physical culture; Miss Mary Drake, writing, reading, composition; Miss Mary Drewry, reading, composition; Miss Edna E. Ellis, history, poetry, writing, reading, poetry, dictation, geography, grammar, arithmetic, composition; Miss Mattie Fourcroy, writing, reading, spelling, dictation, geography, history, rhetoric, etymology, literature, composition, poetry; Miss Zaida Gannaway, writing, dictation, painting; Miss Kate Gannaway, writing; Miss Rosa Bick, writing, reading, spelling, dictation; Miss Hawise Glazebrook, grammar, arithmetic, composition; Miss Sallie Harris, spelling, poetry, composition; Miss Jessie Hazard, literature, poetry, composition, geography; Miss Lusha Hutchison, literature, composition, poetry, arithmetic; Miss May Haupt, writing, grammar, poetry, composition, history, dictation; Miss Fannie Hobson, writing, rhetoric, arithmetic, mythology, history; Miss Elsie Hodgson, writing, reading, spelling, dictation, geography, physical geography, history, physical arithmetic, rhetoric, literature, etymology, composition, poetry, arithmetic, Latin, French; Miss Elsie Holmes, rhetoric, literature, etymology, composition, algebra; Miss Emily Hutchison, rhetoric, literature, French, composition, history, spelling; Miss Rose Hutchison, rhetoric, literature, geography, history, grammar, composition, poetry, arithmetic; Miss Elizabeth Kent King, reading, writing, spelling, physical geography, arithmetic, composition, music, algebra, literature, composition, history; Miss Mattie Lambert, rhetoric, etymology, music, algebra, literature, composition, history; Miss Sallie Lawson, painting; Miss Rebecca Leigh, reading, writing, dictation, mythology, composition, poetry, arithmetic, French, music, history, spelling; Miss Katie Lewis, reading, rhetoric, etymology, literature, composition; Miss Mary Leadbeater, composition, music, history; Miss Rose Lewis, rhetoric, literature, etymology, composition, rhetoric; Miss Bessie Lee Lucke, reading, writing, history, geography, grammar, poetry, arithmetic, composition; Miss Patty Lyell, writing, reading, spelling, dictation, grammar, poetry, arithmetic, composition; Miss Rena King, music; Miss Lizzie Mann,

The Season of the Summer Girl and Her Shirt Waist Apparel.

Underskirts for summer wear, in blue or white striped, light-weight material, with double ruffle at foot, 48 cents. Shirt Waists, Shirt Waist Hats and Shirt Waist Suits in large variety, and particularly attractive styles in their airy summer textures. They are the fashionable wear for the beach and other summer resorts and should receive the attention of all who are contemplating going to the seashore or mountains.

Special at $1.50. Waist, front made of tucks and embroidery, back collar and cuffs tucked, bishop sleeves, an actual $1.88 garment, for $1.50. Shirtwaist suits, for ladies and misses, in all the newest summer fabrics, such as duck, linen, crash, denim, and pique, and an actual $1.88 garment, for $1.50.

Special at $2.38. White Pique or Natural Linen Hats of the Knox shape series, stylishly trimmed with long white or black feather breasts, actually worth $3.50, for $2.38.

Special at $4.95. Suit of linen-colored batiste, waist, bias large sailor collar edged with black batiste and trimmed in cream insertion, tucked white muslin shield and collar, skirt is a new fabric with two ruffles, an exceedingly noble suit, worth $5.98, for $4.95.

Special at $3.50. White Pique or Natural Linen Hats of the Knox shape series, stylishly trimmed with long white or black feather breasts, actually worth $3.50, for $2.38.

Kaufmann & Co., Fourth and Broad Sts.

In Real Estate Realm.

Happenings of Interest in the field of local realty told in The Sunday Times history, composition, arithmetic, natural history, physical geography; Miss Xannie Montague, writing, reading, spelling, dictation, geography, history, grammar, arithmetic, physical geography, dictation, geography, history, grammar, poetry, arithmetic, composition; Miss Nell French, geometry, writing, composition, history, spelling; Miss Edith McCarthy, writing, dictation, rhetoric, etymology, literature, composition, arithmetic, French, spelling; Miss Alice McRae, rhetoric, literature, composition, algebra, grammar, geography, history, composition, poetry, arithmetic; Miss Belle McGill, geometry, music, composition, poetry; Miss Berkeley Nelson, composition, writing, history, spelling, dictation; Miss Gussie Reinhardt, reading, dictation, poetry, grammar, composition, arithmetic; Miss Bessie Roundtree, writing, reading, composition; Miss Nora Scott, writing, reading, spelling, composition, arithmetic, history, grammar, composition, arithmetic, poetry; Miss Rosa Satterfield, reading, writing, dictation, Latin, rhetoric, etymology, literature, composition, poetry, geometry; Miss Lucy Sheldon, writing; Miss Elizabeth Starnes, history, physical geography, arithmetic, composition, reading, writing, history, spelling; Miss Annie Sydney, physical geography, natural history, mythology, composition, spelling, rhetoric, etymology, writing, dictation; Miss Helen Stagg, writing, reading, history, grammar, composition, arithmetic; Miss Mary Spencer, algebra, poetry, composition; Miss Mattie Shotwell, physical geography, arithmetic, composition, reading, dictation, poetry, music, geography, history, grammar, spelling, composition, physical geography; Miss Mary Taylor, writing, reading, dictation, spelling, geography, composition, grammar, spelling, composition, poetry; Miss Eugenia Taylor, writing, reading, rhetoric, spelling, etymology, literature, composition, poetry, arithmetic, history; Miss Pauline Terrence, writing, reading, dictation, spelling, geography, grammar, composition, history, physical geography, physical culture; Miss Lenore Tinsley, geography, history, grammar, arithmetic, physical geography; Miss Willie Thompson, writing, history, rhetoric, etymology, literature, composition, composition, algebra, spelling; Miss Rose Watkins, reading, writing, dictation, poetry, geometry, Latin, French, music, composition; Miss Margaret Williams, poetry, composition; Miss Katherine Williams, composition; Miss Margaret Watkins, music; Miss Louise Williams, literature, composition; Miss Edna Wood, rhetoric, literature, composition, geometry, French; Miss Louise Yancey, history of art, physical culture, composition, poetry.

WANTED.

WANTED—ALL WHO WISH TO SAVE a stated sum regularly every month, be it little or much, to look into the Provident Loan and Savings Bank, 227 East Main Street. Try our $20 special.

WANTED—IF YOU WISH TO BORROW one or two thousand dollars at five per cent on first-class real estate see us at once. A. J. CHEWNING CO., 4 North Tenth Street.

WANTED—GENTLEMAN WHO WISH a perfect fit, elegant material and reasonable prices to come and see us. We are up-to-date and solicit your orders. H. H. ROSSBERG & CO. of late with Harry E. Meyer, 227 East Main Street. Try our $20 special.

WANTED—IF YOU WISH TO BORROW one or two thousand dollars at five per cent on first-class real estate see us at once. A. J. CHEWNING CO., 4 North Tenth Street.

WANTED ANGRY GOATS. TWENTY-five or less, give price. Address J. O. L. WALKER, 1000 Castleton, Rappahannock county, Va.

WANTED FARMS AND RESIDENCES to sell to customers. W. H. BURKE, Clifton Springs, New York.

HELP WANTED—Male.

WANTED A COOK, WHITE OR COLORED, at Laurel Industrial School. Apply to JOHN W. CRINGAN, Superintendent, School P., Va.

HELP WANTED—Female.

WANTED A GOOD COOK. APPLY AT 1128 Park Avenue.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—NICE HOUSE IN COUNTY, fifteen minutes from town, 7 rooms, excellent neighborhood, large yard. Apply to Mrs. BARNETT, Chamberlayne Avenue, near Union Theological Seminary.

FOR RENT, ROOMS, WITH OR WITHOUT board, No. 313 East Marshall Street, city.

AMUSEMENTS.

ACADEMY.

THE GIFFEN COMPANY IN "East Lynne."

A tremendous success, and, in spite of all obstacles, the curtain down at 11 o'clock.

CASINO SUMMER THEATRE.

TO-NIGHT (MATINEE) The successful AT 8 (SATURDAY) HOYT FARCE, TRIP TO CHINA. Times—AGREE. News—IT IS A HIT. Leader—GREAT.

EXCURSIONS.

$1 ROUND TRIP TO OCEAN VIEW, WITH STOP-OVER PRIVILEGE AT OLD POINT. TRAIN LEAVES AT 8:15 A. M. SATURDAY, JUNE 15th. Monumental Sunday-School.

Children (12 years and under) and nurses, 50c. Tickets for sale by members of the school and on the train. Leave C. and O. Depot, 16th and Broad, at 8:15 A. M. Reaching Old Point 10:30. Ocean View 11:30. Norfolk 11:45. Returning, leave Norfolk 5:30 P. M., Ocean View 5:50, Old Point 7:00, reaching Richmond 9:30 P. M.

PRESBYTERIAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION BASKET PICNIC. THURSDAY, June 20th. Trains leave C. & O. Ry., Broad-Street Depot, 7:15 A. M. Returning, leave Backlog 8 P. M.

Adults, $1.00; children and nurses, 50c. These tickets will be sold by members of the schools, by the superintendents at the depot, on the trains, and at Briggs' drug-store, First and Broad Streets, Richmond. Tickets for 50c Main Street, C. & O. passenger office, 809 Main Street. SUMMER BOARDERS WANTED AT THE HOUSE OF THE GREAT BRIDGE, LEDGE, JOHNSON,