Attorney-General Montague has had many days of triumph since he opened his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor, but yesterday stands out to itself as the greatest of all and bears the palm unless, indeed, he had captured everything in sight; for out of a total of eighty-eight delegates chosen, he got eighty-five, while the other three went to Mr. Swanson.

It was a day of far-reaching, significant triumphs, which are looked upon as practically settling the great contest which has waged so fiercely for months between the Attorney-General and Mr. Swanson, and which many believe will result in a tidal wave which will land the former in the gubernatorial chair next January.

The sweep was confined to no particular section of the State. Commencing up in Clarke county near Maryland, it extended to Mecklenburg on the North Carolina line, catching up Nottoway in the southside as it passed. It went far out into the great Southwest and carried everything before it. Roanoke city, with her 18 Montague votes, and her 11 and Russell, with her 20, fell over each other to get in the Montague "band wagon" as it passed.

The Attorney-General swept Roanoke by about 5 to 1, carrying the city by about 150 majority. The vote in Montgomery was in about the same proportion. Mr. Montague has 154 votes, or just twice as many as Mr. Swanson. He leads his opponents combined by 168 votes; has twelve votes more than all the rest, counting those uninstructed and contested, and lacks only 180 of having enough to nominate him at Norfolk, 734 votes being necessary to a choice.

Perhaps Mr. Montague's greatest victory yesterday was in Clarke county, where he made but little fight and did not really expect anything. This is another

MAY NOT DEPART FROM RICHMOND

Cooler Weather and Electric Fans Will Win Victory.

MANY DELEGATES OUT OF CITY

A Number of Those Now Here Will Visit Old Point To-Day—Sentiment Far from Being Crystallized on the Important Subject to Be Dealt With.

There was less talk last night than since the Constitutional Convention assembled of the body adjourning to some other place. Hon. William A. Anderson, one of the leading advocates of holding the sessions at some place in the mountains, said the electric fans in the hall of the House of Delegates and the cooler weather had caused some of the delegates to change their minds as to going away from here.

There is quite a lobby in town trying to induce the convention to adjourn to the mountains. State Senator Edward Lyle, Colonel S. S. Brooke and Judge E. J. Brand are urging the convention to go to their city, Charlottesville, Bedford City, Rockbridge Alum Springs and the Hot Springs here on "Old Point." Should it be decided to leave Richmond there will be a battle royal as to where the convention shall go.

FEW DELEGATES HERE.

Probably less than a score of delegates were in Richmond yesterday. The most of them had gone off to their homes or to seaside resorts. Nearly all of those who remain in the city will take a run down to Old Point to-day. Nearly all the members of the convention will go to give due and proper consideration to all questions as they come up.

There is no doubt that the suffrage question will be one that will be hard to solve. What will be the western people, as a rule, "disfranchise as many negroes as possible and no whites" is what all the Democrats seem to favor, but how best to accomplish this is the thing which the delegates are not at all agreed.

WHERE HIS BLOOD WAS SPILT.

Judge J. W. Orr, the battle-scarred veteran, who will likely represent Lee county in the convention, became reminiscent the moment he touched palms with Delegate Hunter B. Chapman, the handsome business member from Shenandoah county. "Shenandoah! well, I have always planned to revisit that section. Saw something of it during the war. Considering the lapse of time, you would think I'd get lost, but I believe I could traverse the old route blind-folded, if the hand of progress hasn't turned everything around. Left some blood sprinkled around there."

"How long will we be in session after Tuesday? Probably two or three weeks will suffice to get our bearings, map out the work to be done, get the machinery well oiled, the committees at work, members acquainted with each other's personalities and predilections. And adjournment until September might then be in order."

"No, I have no idea Richmond will be evacuated by the convention. You know it was a rather difficult job for the combined armies of the North to get 35 or 40 years ago. As to the changes that will be made, I don't think I'd get lost, but I believe I could traverse the old route blind-folded, if the hand of progress hasn't turned everything around. Left some blood sprinkled around there."

"There is so much to be done and not to be done, one feels dizzy in the contemplation. We have master minds to guide us, though, and patriotic hearts to trust in, and I believe all will be well."

MR. CHAPMAN'S VIEWS.

Delegate Hunter B. Chapman, of Woodstock, Shenandoah county, is a typical representative of the mercantile and farming interests in the convention and of the young progressive element of his State. Discussing the plan to move the convention from Richmond he said it would be a mistake. It was not business. He is a strong advocate of a more uniform system of taxation, better methods of financing State and county affairs and fewer elections.

As to the limitation of the franchise, Mr. Chapman declared that until he had more light on the question he was not

BAILEY RECAPTURED A PRISONER,

He Was Himself Confined at State Farm, and the Chief Executive Was There on a Visit—Two Convicts Run Down by Bloodhounds.

H. Quincy Bailey, a young white man, who was yesterday a convict at the State Farm, is now a free citizen as a result of one of the most dramatic incidents that has occurred in this section of the State in a long time.

Governor Tyler and the Board of Directors of the penitentiary went up to the State Farm yesterday morning on a tour of inspection. Hardly had they left the train when three negro convicts made their escape from one of the guards, disarming him of his rifle before taking their leave. Bailey, who is a "trusty," was refused, but the guard finally gave Bailey his pistol, and he got in gunshot of the negroes and demanded that they "halt." They did not obey, and he opened fire. One of them became frightened and he was captured and taken back to the farm.

PARDONED ON THE SPOT.

The circumstances were related at once to His Excellency, and he called Bailey before him and told him that henceforth he should be a free man. The Governor communicated with Major Heth Tyler, in Richmond, by the long-distance phone, and the latter met his father at the farm last night with the papers for Bailey's pardon all made out, and the Governor signed them at the station in the presence of a number of spectators and a large crowd of negroes.

Meanwhile the other two negroes were caught by bloodhounds and locked up at the farm. A young farmer assisted Bailey in the chase, and he was given $20 reward by the board upon the recommendation of the Governor.

Bailey is said to be a young man of good family, and was convicted in Greensville of manslaughter, and sentenced to one year last April. The case against him was not an aggravated one, as in a drunken "scrape" he drew a pistol and killed a man at whom he did not aim, his pistol having been caught by a bystander and his aim diverted.

Bailey came down on the train with the Governor's party, and was a very happy man when the Governor so handsomely rewarded his brave and noble deed.

Dr. W. E. Hatcher was on the train also and witnessed the signing of the paper, and said the reward was a well deserved one.

IMPROVPTU DUEL.

Uncle and Nephew, Who Are Brothers-in-Law, the Principals.

SWAINSBORO, GA., June 15.—John Stroud and Thomas Moxley, uncle and nephew, respectively, also brother-in-laws, fought an impromptu duel near here yesterday afternoon, as a result of which Moxley is dead. Stroud reproached Moxley for circulating false stories about him. The quarrel grew bitter. Moxley drew a pistol and Stroud retreated behind a stump and got a double-barreled shotgun. As Moxley fired his pistol Stroud sent a load of shot into his chest. Stroud has surrendered to the authorities.

CONTRACT LET FOR THE HOSPITAL

Mr. Ancarrow's Bid Accepted and Work Will be Begun Without Delay.

The contract for the erection of the proposed Charlotte Williams Hospital has been let to Mr. Newton E. Ancarrow.

The Building Committee met in the office of the chairman, Dr. George Ben Johnston, last night and received and opened the six bids which had been submitted. The contract was later signed with Mr. Ancarrow and the work on the new building will be begun this week. The contract calls for the completion of the hospital by July 1, 1902.

The plans are those of Mr. A. W. Fuller, of Albany, N. Y., the architect of the Albany General Hospital. Mr. Ancarrow is the builder of All Saints' Church, the Union Theological Seminary building, and other structures of note in this city.

The Charlotte Williams Hospital will be the largest residence of its kind in the South, with the exception of the Charity Hospital of New Orleans. The hospital will be thoroughly modern and up-to-date in every way. The furnishings and appliances will be of the latest design and of the most improved character. It is the intention of those interested to have the institution the most thoroughly equipped hospital in the South, and to rank with any of the well-known and foremost hospitals in the country.

The work on the construction of the new buildings, as has been stated, will be at once begun. The contract calls for its completion within a year and fifteen days. The old residences on the site of the new building at Twelfth and Broad Streets have long since been razed and all is in readiness for the excavations and the laying of the foundations.

The plan that was originally adopted by the Building Committee, it was found, would call for a much larger expenditure than had been provided for. The plans were discarded and Mr. Fuller's services secured. His designs were adopted some time ago and bids were asked for.

When the Ingalls struck the side of the dock she lay with her stock of oil almost an even line with the ground, but since then sufficient water has been pumped in to right her considerably. Portions of the deck are severely crushed, and it is feared that a number of her steel plates have been started. The general damage, however, is reported to be considerably less than at first supposed.

REPORTED SALE TO CONTINENTAL

What is Believed to be Authentic Report of Absorption of a Local Factory in Petersburg.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

PETERSBURG, VA., June 15.—The report that a local company has sold to the Continental Tobacco Company was revived again to-day. Investigation fails to ascertain anything definite.

The Continental Company has two representatives in Petersburg, and what is believed to be an authentic report is that negotiations were consummated this afternoon. The three factories heretofore mentioned in connection with the deal are: T. W. Venable & Co., Cameron & Brother, and Watson & McGill.

It is not known which of these firms has been absorbed. All of them manufacture plug tobacco, but the Continental Company, it is understood, will transform the local plant into a smoking tobacco and cigarette factory.

Mr. Courtland H. Smith Carried Off the Blue Ribbon for Four-in-Hands With His Splendid Team of Sorrels—Fine Hunters and Saddlers Make Judges' Task a Hard One.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.)

UPPERVILLE, LOUDOUN CO., VA., June 15.—If any section of Virginia, or, for that matter, any section of the whole United States, deserves the appellation "God's Country," certainly this part of the State can justly lay claim to the title.

Frequent visits, covering a period of ten years or more, have fully convinced me of this fact. The country side never looked better than it does now. The long rains of the spring did wonders for the grass and the wheat crops. The luxuriant growth of both testifies to the fact that this is pre-eminently a fine grass and cattle country. For miles on every side stretch the beautiful green fields of waving wheat only. At a short distance it has the appearance of a fine, close-cut lawn and the effect is such a velvety green surface extending for miles over the foothills is one of indescribable beauty.

It would seem as if Nature had purposely arrayed herself in her best bib and tuck for the single idea of winning the eyes of Upperville's guests at the Colt and Horse Show just closed.

A GREAT SHOW.

Never before in the history of this, the oldest horse show in the country, has there been such a magnificent exhibit of horse-flesh or so many entries. Truly, the management has cause to congratulate itself on the pronounced success of the eleventh annual show of the Upperville Colt and Horse Club.

Perfect weather marked the opening days, and if some thought it a trifle hot, it was not altogether objectionable, for the skies were blue and there were no clouds, no any suggestions of that "marvelous" "show" weather. For miles in all directions the crowds drove—distance seeming to be no barrier—Prince William, Clarke, Warren, Loudoun and Fauquier counties contributing the largest number of visitors.

As if to accentuate the meagre resources of some with their carry-alls, there also appeared among the "fixers" as they cry on the wheels in this part of the State is called, smart city traps, rubber-tired runabouts, high carts, tandems, all set off by perfectly groomed horses, sleek and high-stepping thoroughbreds, three-quarter nags.

These town "rigs" and horses are not "fetched" here from the cities, but are the property of the better class of farmers and horse-breeders of the neighborhood.

IT WOULD JOLT YOU.
