SOUTH'S PROGRESS.

The convention of the Southern Industrial Association, which met in Philadelphia last week, deserved more notice than it received at the hands of the manufacturers of Philadelphia.

THE GLASGOW EXPERIMENT.

Our readers have heard a great deal concerning the city of Glasgow, which operates street-railroads, telephone, gas and electric-light works and acts as landlord for the good of its citizens.

Despite the absence of the capitalists to whom the representatives had hoped to display the resources and opportunities of the Southern States, the discussions and speeches were full of practical suggestions and fruitful ideas.

For the first time in forty years the South has found herself in a position to develop her own resources, and the power of that discovery is being felt from the Gulf of Mexico to the Potomac River, and from the Rio Grande to the Albemarle Sound.

The invitation of the gospel is wide, full and unlimited. There is nothing wanting on God's part for the salvation of the souls of all mankind. The Father is ready to love and receive. The Son is ready to pardon and cleanse from all sin.

There is the fullest warrant for sinners to draw man to God through Christ. The word "Come" is addressed to all, without any exception. Are men laboring and heavy laden? "Come to Me," says Jesus, "and I will give you rest."

Many trivial excuses were offered, in one point only all here agreed. They would not come. We have thus shown a vivid picture of the reception of the gospel. Thousands everywhere are practically doing what the parable describes. They are invited and urged in every way to come to Christ and they will not come. It is not ignorance of God that ruins the soul of man.

Mr. Bemiss also gives us some interesting points on the political question involved. He says that there are 132,000 registered voters in Glasgow, of whom 4,500, or 5 per cent., are city employees, while there are 1,500 other employees—women or children—or residents of the suburbs; but the city officials deny that these workers exert any undue influence on local politics.

Some interesting facts are also given with reference to the municipal telephone system, which has 4,800 subscribers scattered over the 143,000 miles of the telephone district. The private company was charging ten pounds, or nearly fifty dollars, for each subscriber. The city charges about twenty-six dollars for unlimited service on individual wires, or about seventeen dollars and two cents a call for those who prefer the limited service.

This is not Socialism. A municipality is for the most part a business corporation, and there are undoubtedly some public utilities and natural monopolies, as they are called, which the city should own. But we believe that in this country, at least, it is far better for the city to farm out such utilities and have them operated by private corporations under municipal regulations and restrictions.

THE GREAT SUPPER.

(Selected for The Times.) "A certain man made a great supper and bade many, and sent his servant at supper time to say to those that were bidden: 'Come, for all things are now ready.'"

The Sun states that Bishop Potter, of New York city, will receive the degree of LL. D. at the Tale bi-centennial in October. The teacher was telling about the sick man who, upon being made whole, took up his bed and walked.

Miss Ruth, daughter of Senator Hanna, has accepted an invitation to christen the cruiser Cleveland now being built at Bath, Me. The Cleveland, it is understood, will be launched within a short time.

Olle Reimer, an inmate at the Mercer County (Pa.) Almshouse, for eighteen months has refused to eat. In order to save her life a rubber hose is inserted through her mouth into her stomach daily and she is fed on milk. Her mania is to starve herself.

"Why is Justice pictured as a woman holding a pair of apothecary's scales?" "I don't know, but it would be manifestly absurd to represent her as an iceman with an iceman's scales."—Philadelphia Times.

More than 2,000,000,000 of checks are used annually in the United States, and of this amount something like 15,000 are "raised."

A young Arizona lawyer who recently visited Detroit gave the following as an example of the style of justice that prevails in some remote sections of the frontier:

A certain justice of the peace, whose knowledge of the law was never gained from books or actual practice before the bar, was hearing an assault and battery case. The lawyer for the defense was shouting his arguments when the court said: "That will do. Set down."

"Richmond," says The Times, "now has an establishment where they do nothing but shine shoes. This city is getting more polished every day." Our contemporary better be careful or it will blacken Richmond's reputation.—Columbia State.

It seems a wave of moral reformation has engulfed our capital city. They, perhaps, wished to get things in clean shape before the meeting of the Legislature. A good precaution.—Blackstone Courier.

Detectives in Richmond, Va., according to a newspaper, recently found two gold watches, which had been stolen, under a hen engaged apparently in the ambition of hatching spring chickens. It is believed that the thieves put the watches there to set them.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Fifty little negro caddies at the Hermitage Golf Club, near Richmond, Va., are on a strike. Wouldn't it be a good idea for our scientists to begin investigating the "strike" phenomenon? Its existence in the atmosphere is strikingly in evidence.—Baltimore News.

OUR RELIGIOUS CONTEMPORARIES.

How fresh and fair the world was when we threw open the blind this morning! The night and the day had made a wonderful change, and the GROWTH IN law and the fields of RELIGION, looked up to the rising sun with a fresh life and vigor.

One must not be always a child. Children are with the ways of the man, but it would be an unspeakable distress if it remained a babe, and there came no toddling steps, no beginnings of prattle, no thought and love growing on the face.

There is also meat for strong men. The demand for a simple gospel has a just foundation, but the Christian believer has given to him the great doctrine of the grace of God whereby he must be nourished and grow up into a strong and useful manhood.

WAR ON CURIOUS VAGARY. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE, miscalled Christian Science, because, so far as we can see, it has not the remotest relation either to Christianity or to science, repudiates the most fundamental teachings of Christianity, and contradicts that in Christ's religion which has always been considered an essential part of it.

As usual he was monopolizing the newspaper. "Please let me have the woman's page,"

THE SUN STATES THAT BISHOP POTTER, OF NEW YORK CITY, WILL RECEIVE THE DEGREE OF LL. D. AT THE TALE BI-CENTENNIAL IN OCTOBER.

The teacher was telling about the sick man who, upon being made whole, took up his bed and walked. One of the pupils artlessly remarked: "So he was still unable to leave his bed, teacher."—Boston Transcript.

astounding hallucination has gained quite a following in this land, and not only of "the free of the brave," but of the eccentric and unbalanced of all known kinds.

There are thousands and tens of thousands all over this land, and some of them far from the ignorant and uncultured, who have been led astray by this modern prophesy of error.

The Culpeper Enterprise says that "a wave of freemen's determination to put an end to machine rule is sweeping the State as Virginia has never been swept before."

The Salem Times-Register in an article on public education well says that "the real heart of the county lies very near the public school system where the lives of the children are being moulded."

Mr. Powhatan Bouldin addresses a communication to the Danville Free Press, in which he says: "I have just seen your article about me and the dewberry. You are right; if I were editing the Danville Times now, I should certainly open up the 'Free Press' and sign it 'The Dewberry'."

THE DANVILLE REGISTER MENTIONS THE FACT THAT A COW IN PATRICK COUNTY RECENTLY DIED FROM EATING LEAVES FROM A WILD CHERRY TREE.

"If the genes as reported from Newport News have been faithfully reported," says the Farmville Herald, "then indeed have we fallen upon evil times. But if these things shall have the effect of bringing about a reform in Virginia they will not have been in vain."

"There is a good circus in town," says the Bristol Courier, "and the scissors are a help when time is so valuable." There is a two-pointed paragraph for you.

The Staunton News says that duelling is so dead in Virginia that there is no occasion to prohibit it in the Constitution, any more than there is occasion to prohibit bull-fighting.

The Lebanon News says that more than one-half of the editors of South-west Virginia are unmarried and most of them young. The girls are advised that the Virginia Press Association will meet at Luray on July 15th.

The Clinch Valley News, one of the best weekly papers in Virginia, has entered upon its fifth year under the present management with a large and growing list of subscribers.

The Staunton News says that many people in that part of the country call him "Montaigne."

The Culpeper Exponent contains a sensible article on advertising, and says that "the most potent advertising the town of Culpeper has had within the last four or five years are the annual exhibitions of the Culpeper Colt and Horse Club."

To Sleep. (Published by Request.) A flock of sheep that leisurely pass by One after one; the sound of rain, and bees Murmuring; the fall of rivers, winds and seas, Smooth fields, white sheets of water, and pure sky; I've thought of all by turns, and yet do Sleepless; and soon the small birds' melodies Must hear, first utter'd from my orchard trees, And the first cuckoo's melancholy cry.

On Music. (Published by Request.) Many love music but for music's sake; Many because her touches can awake Thoughts that repose within the breast Half dead, and in the slumbering state. And rise to follow where she loves to lead. What various feelings come from days gone by! What tears from far-off sources dim the eye, When light fingers with sweet voices play, And melodies swell, pause and melt away, Mind how at every touch, at every tone, A spark of life hath glister'd and hath gone. Walter Savage Landor.

BRITISH PLAN. Will Probably Be Adopted as the Only One Feasible. (By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 15.—The news dispatches from Peking convey to the official mind here the belief that what is known as the British-American plan for settling the indemnity question is making headway and will in the end be adopted as the only feasible scheme.
