Where They Play To-Day. Norfolk at Richmond. Wilmington at Tarboro. Charlotte at Raleigh.

The second half of the Virginia-North Carolina championship season started off here yesterday with a victory for the former.

Richmond had the best of it in hitting, and most of the hits were good and hard, and the visitors reaped the benefit of many dumb plays and several errors, and unfortunate wildness on the part of Thomas.

WELL-EARNED VICTORY. The crowd saw the game go by the board, and urge the Richmond boys on as they would, nothing could have prevented the well-earned victory of the Norfolk team.

Of Richmond's six runs five were earned, showing that with perfect game and with an umpire that did not see through his glasses darkly, the result would have been entirely different.

THE COSTLY ERRORS. The errors were not many, but they counted, and the Norfolk team had the last in the game.

Richmond's six runs five were earned, showing that with perfect game and with an umpire that did not see through his glasses darkly, the result would have been entirely different.

MR. "CAB" MADDOX DIES SUDDENLY

Expired in This City of Heart Failure Yesterday Morning. WELL KNOWN IN VIRGINIA. Familiar Figure in Hotel Lobbies Here and in Washington--Was Fond of Horses and a Great Favorite With Everybody. Will Be Buried in Fauquier.

Mr. H. "Cab" Maddox, the well-known commercial traveler, who for years had been a familiar figure in this city, Washington and throughout Virginia, died suddenly about 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mr. Maddox had been a guest at the Washington Hotel, where he usually stopped when in the city, since Sunday, June 16th, and had been complaining for several days and under medical treatment.

Being unable to sleep early yesterday morning he went to his room at the hotel and joined some friends in a nearby club, hoping he might feel better after a social chat. He became suddenly worse in a short while and rose to the fresh air, when he sank to the floor and died without a murmur.

Some friends rushed to Mr. Maddox's assistance and asked if they could do anything for him, but he refused to be buried. His brother, Mr. E. A. L. Gray had been summoned the night before to Washington, but he was unable to get to the city.

MISS MAYO'S WEDDING. Was Quietly Married Late at Night--Couple Leave for Europe. The Washington Star of yesterday says: It was an occurrence somewhat out of the ordinary when Mr. John R. Young, clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, resigned his position at his residence on R Street about 9:30 o'clock last Thursday evening from a party of three--two gentlemen and a lady--and was requested to issue a marriage license forthwith.

Mr. Young, who is a commissionaire, and as his visitors had at the door a stylish equipage drawn by a handsome team of horses he offered to proceed to the City Hall and issue the license. The suggestion was acted upon, and the license authority to wed was desired for Lloyd A. Turner and Adeline L. Mayo.

The other young man of the party was Fred Vincent. The license having been issued, the party returned to the carriage. Mr. Young was honored with a seat beside the bride-elect, Mr. Vincent mounted the box next to the driver, while the bridegroom, Mr. Turner, was seated in the rear. The ceremony was performed on the floor of the vicarage. The route was along F Street to Fifteenth Street. Proceeding to No. 1465 Fifteenth Street, Rev. John M. Schick, who resides there, officiated.

For some time past Mr. Turner, who is a young man of wealth and whose permanent home is in San Francisco, has resided at the Portland, at Fourteenth Street and Thomas Circle, with his mother. The latter has been very anxious to secure for her son a commission in the navy. The family is well known. Miss Mayo is from Richmond, Va. It is said that when she married Mr. Turner she had known him only a week. Those who have heard of the wedding Thursday evening express the deepest interest in the affair. Rumor has it that Miss Mayo was engaged to be married to a New Yorker. When the day set for the wedding approached she was being desirous of marrying her fiancé, quietly departed from Richmond and came to this city, and proceeded to the home of friends.

The affair has been the chief topic of conversation in the Portland during the past two days. Miss Mayo, now Mrs. Turner, is a daughter of George W. Mayo, of Richmond. Her girl associates called her "Lina." She has an extended acquaintance in this city, having made many friends on the occasions of visits to relatives who reside here.
