

BALLOTS WILL BE FORTHCOMING

Convention Votes to Inspect Cold Harbor Precinct.

MR. WITHERS' FURTHER REPORT.

His Committee Recommends Important Changes in Regard to Educational Matters—Short Session of the Convention.

The convention was in session less than an hour and a half yesterday. There were sixty-three members present and much of the time of the session was devoted to the discussion of a resolution offered by Mr. Gillespie, of Tazewell, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, asking that the convention order the ballots for Cold Harbor Precinct, in Hanover county, in the Treat-Gregory election to be inspected by the committee.

There was a considerable fight over the resolution, but it was finally adopted by a large majority. Mr. Withers, chairman of the Committee on Reduction of Expenses, presented a further report cutting off appropriations for educational institutions not wholly owned by the State, and reducing the number of school superintendents. Mr. Waddill submitted a minority report, representing the views of himself and Mr. Terry. Both reports were laid on the table to be considered by the convention at some future date.

The session was devoted, in large measure, for the little spot over Mr. Gillespie's resolution. All the members seemed glad of an opportunity for a brief rest, and there was no doubt about the vote on Mr. Withers' motion to adjourn. Most of them left the city on the afternoon train, and will return here on August 22, refreshed and invigorated for their most important work.

MEET AT 11 O'CLOCK. The convention was called to order at 11 o'clock by President Good, and prayer was offered by Rev. W. B. Beauchamp, of Broad-Street Methodist Church.

Among the prominent visitors who occupied the front rows of the convention were Messrs. J. W. Willard and Chairman J. Taylor Ellison.

Sixty-three members answered to their names and the reading of the journal of Friday's proceedings was dispensed with on the motion of Mr. Withers.

The new rule offered by Mr. Daniel was read and laid on the table again in conformity with the rules. Under the call of standing committees, Mr. Gillespie, from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, asked that the ballots of Cold Harbor Precinct, in Hanover county, east in the Treat-Gregory election, be brought before the committee to be examined by them.

He wanted the committee to make an order to this effect. It was opposed by Chairman Harrison, of the committee, who contended that it would be an unnecessary expense, as it involved only two or three different and they could not change the result.

Mr. Green was opposed to exposing committee secrets on the floor. Mr. Turnbull opposed sending for the ballots. Mr. Gillespie was asked by Mr. Thom to ask the committee to bring the ballots. He did so by saying that he did not know what would be the result of the contest and it might hinge on a very narrow vote.

MR. FLOOD OPPOSES. Mr. Flood opposed the bringing the ballots, because he thought it an unnecessary expense and would not alter the result.

Mr. Pollard and Mr. Moore, of Monticello, did not think that they would change the result, but if the gentleman from Tazewell desired to see them, they favored letting him do so.

Mr. Dunaway made a similar statement. Mr. Willis wanted the ballots brought, and Mr. Gillespie made a strong appeal in favor of his resolution.

Mr. Green thought it was curious that the members should vote in committee to ask the ballots be brought, and then oppose it on the floor of the convention. He therefore wanted them brought and said it would not cost $5.

Mr. Wyser said if the counting of these ballots would not affect the result, he thought they should be counted for the contestant, in order to relieve the minds of his friends.

A STRONG APPEAL. Judge Hancock said he believed when a man held a seat in the convention, he ought to hold it clear of any suspicion whatever. If a single member of the committee wished to see certain papers and have the votes inspected for a single precinct, don't let it be said that the question of $5 expense precluded the opportunity of showing that the title was not obtained with fraud, even if we do have a Committee on Deduction of Expenses.

Mr. Gillespie said he did not consider the information relevant, but asked for it in deference to himself for Mr. Treat. Judge Hancock, continuing, said he had not yielded the floor. Mr. Wyser suggested that the five votes, as it had been acknowledged they would not affect the result of the election, be counted for Treat and that Treat should then treat.

NO QUORUM PRESENT. Captain Wyse called the previous question, and on this no quorum voted, there being 45 yeas and 18 nays.

Mr. Flood moved a call of the House. Mr. Thom asked a question, and Mr. Wise raised the point that, pending a call of the House, no other business was in order. Mr. Thom replied that no point of order could be entertained with no quorum present.

The call was proceeded with and the sergeant-at-arms closed the doors. The motion, however, was withdrawn and Mr. Flood moved to adjourn in order to discover the presence of a quorum.

A QUORUM MUSTERED. The vote on this motion was: Aye—none; noes—59, and a quorum was evident. Mr. Thom renewed his question as to whether a majority of the committee had voted to send for the ballots. Mr. Harrison, chairman of the committee, admitted that they had. Then there was much cross firing between Messrs. Willis, Flood and Gillespie. Mr. Flood taking the

Poison Oak Poison Ivy BOTANICAL REPTILES

Their Sting Sets the Skin on Fire and Fills the Veins with a Violent, Lingering Poison

These plants seem to partake of the nature and character of the serpent; in winter time being comparatively harmless, but when warmed into life by spring and summer heat they become extremely venomous and spiteful, emitting a milky juice that burns and blisters like a fiery acid, producing quick inflammation and painful swelling. Some persons are so susceptible to these vegetable poisons that coming in their vicinity will produce almost as much discomfort and pain as handling them; their thin and sensitive skins seem to absorb from the surrounding atmosphere the acrid juices emanating from these plants. There is seldom a picnic or family gathering in the woods but that some member of the party comes in contact with Poison Ivy, Oak or some other hurtful plant or weed, and through the open pores the poison is carried to the overheated blood. Poison Ivy is found clinging to tree trunks, fences or rocks, sometimes reaching great heights; the leaves are nearly square in shape, smooth and shiny and three on each stem; the flowers are of a greenish white color, and the berries pale green or white. The Oak is a small shrub, seldom more than three feet high, its size depending upon the nature of the soil, location, etc.; the leaves are long and pointed with saw-like edges and a downy appearance underneath. While the two plants are entirely unlike in appearance, the poisonous effects are very similar. After the swelling subsides the skin remains for a long time in a rough and inflamed condition, dotted here and there with bad looking ulcers and little festering sores. It is truly remarkable with what regularity and certainty the disease returns, and always on schedule time, appearing the same month, day and hour, almost, that it did the year before. Don't be deceived should all the signs of the poison vanish soon after the first attack—the acrid juices have been taken through the open skin pores into the blood, and the most persistent and faithful use of external remedies can never dislodge them, and next season, and for years to come, you may expect to endure the same bodily tortures; the blood in the meantime becoming so saturated and charged with the poison that each succeeding attack leaves the body weaker and recovery more uncertain and slow, and thus the once simple remedy ends disastrously.

For every poisonous plant, tree, shrub or flower, nature has wisely provided an antidote or cure. The roots and herbs of which S. S. S. is composed quickly, surely and permanently overcome and drive out of the blood and system the effects of Poison Ivy, Poison Oak, Virginia Creeper, Thunder Weed, Sumac and vegetable poisons of every variety. S. S. S. will be found an invaluable and perfect antidote for poisons of this class. There is never any return of the aggravating symptoms after a course of S. S. S., as it destroys every vestige of the poison.

RETURNED EVERY SPRING FOR 18 YEARS.

Mrs. A. N. Bennett, of Toccoa, Ga., whose case is similar to that of others who come in contact with these plants, says: "When eight years old my little brother and I were poisoned by handling poison oak, and it broke out on us every spring for eighteen years. Some one recommended S. S. S., which cured us completely, and we have seen no signs of the eruptions for several seasons."

Can Keep Cool. If You Know How to FEED YOURSELF. (Reasons below.) Try GRAPE-NUTS.

HOT WEATHER FOOD. The selection of food for hot weather is an important question. We should avoid an excess of fats, cut down the butter, meat and indulge more freely in fruits and food of a cooling nature. One meal per day is sufficient during hot weather. An ideal breakfast is Grape-Nuts, treated with a little cream (which, by the way, supplies the necessary fat in a very digestible form) a cup of Postum Cereal Food, coffee, hot or if cold, it should have a little lemon juice squeezed in; then some fruit, either cooked or raw; also perhaps two slices of entire wheat bread with a very thin spread of butter. A breakfast of this sort is so perfectly adapted to the wants of the system that one goes through the heat of the day in comfort as compared with the sweaty, disagreeable condition of one improperly fed. Once put in practice, the plan will never be abandoned during the hot days, for the difference in one's personal comfort is too great to be easily forgotten.
