DR. DOTY, MALARIA AND MOSQUITOES

Interesting Statement From Former About Connection Between

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Dr. Alvah H.

Doty, health officer of this port, who has of late been carrying on a warfare against mosquitoes, beginning his operations on Staten Island, to-day issued a statement concerning these operations which have been prosecuted with a view to determining definitely, if possible, whether the malarial fever parasite is transmitted from one person to another by the female of the anapheles species of by the female of the anapheles species of

Dr. Doty, at the New York quarantine Dr. Doty, at the New York quarantine laboratory, has been carrying on his investigations for a year past. He first selected a low lying district in which were many stagnant pools, and on which were hundreds of small houses. Inspection showed that at least 30 per cent. of the inhabitants were suffering with acute or chronic forms of malaria. Samules of chronic forms of malaria. Samples of water from the pools and cisterns, cessivates and barrels disclosed larvae of the mosquito. Large glass tubes were distributed among the houses for the purnoses of securing the most of mosquitoes which infested the neighborhood, and among those collected were found the anapheles or malariai mosquitoes. In one of the houses a little girl seven years old was found suffering from acute malaria. Dr. Doty was allowed by the mother to secure a drop of blood from the lobe of secure a drop of blood from the looe of the ear. A bacteriological examination of this was made in the laboratory and the parasite found.

In the meantime some of the anapheles will be dissected to discover, if possible, the presence of the parasite. Dr. Doty next describes the apparatus he used in spreading the oil, the latter being forced to the bottom of the pends from which it rose to the top, bringing with it quantities of the larvae.

Dr. Doty sums up by saying: "The result of this investigation, from a scientific point, has been of great interest; first, because it has shown the intimate relation between the mosquito and malarial fevers; second, because it has revealed to those who have been identified with this inves-tigation the true breeding places of the mosquito, which I am quite sure are not generally known; third, it has shown that petroleum oil will surely and promptiy destroy mosquito larvae, and, so far as careful experiments indicate, it is the only agent which can be depended upon for that purpose."

Columbia Won Race on Time Allowance by About Thirty Seconds. (By Associated Press.)

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 12 .- The Constitution covered the triangular course of thirty miles to-day in 33 seconds less. of '99, however, wins the race on time allowance by about thirty seconds .No corrected time can be given as the boats have not yet been remeasured as re-

In previous races the Constitution had allowed the Columbia one minute and seventeen seconds. What changes in stitution has made is not known, but it is estimated that she allows the old boat only a rew seconds less time, if any. The langh to-day was the noteworthy and only exciting feature of the contest. When within a mile of the line the Constitution made a short tack that undoubtedly lost her the race. Captain Rhoues put the Constitution about on the port tack, crossed the Columbia's bow and immediately tacked again. While the new boat's sails were twice shaking in stays the Columbia with a is estimated that she allows the old boat shaking in stays, the Columbia with a good full, still on the starboard tack, was bowing along at good speed, headed only a few hundred yards to the lee of

The short time that the Constitution was gathering headway after the last tack, the Columbia reached through her and went ahead, though still slightly in the lee of the new boat. It was an exciting fee of the few boat. It was an ex-citing finish and every eye was strained to watch what promised to be a finish full of sensation. Constitution put about and made for the line; Columbia fol-lowed at once, but the new boat, having a better speed at the time, was quicker in stays and was well away while the old boat was tacking. She luffed under the bow of the committee boat exactly one minute ahead of Columbia, but she had started 27 seconds ahead, and thus in actual time only beat the old boat

SOUTH ATLANTIC'S MANAGER.

He is Spoken of as One of the Best Insurance Men in the South. The Atlanta Constitution, referring to the election of Mr. W. R. Harper, of that city, as third vice-president and general manager of the South Atlantic Life In-Surance Company, of this city, says: Mr. Harper has been in correspondence what the officials of the South Atlantic for some time, but only yesterday succeeded some time, but only yesterday succeeded in getting a release from his contract with the Aetna, whereupon he immediately closed with the South Atlantic. The management of the Aetna's business in this State under the joint direction of Mr. Harper and Mr. Green has been hig.ly successful. During the first six months of 1901 this agency produced more business than any other of the company's forty-five agencies in the United States and Canada This success has in a large measure beer due to the efforts of Mr. Harper, and Mr.

of the Actna were very unwilling to give him up.

Mr. Harper's career as an insurance man has been phenomenal. He has been in the business only four years, all of this time having been spent in the service of the Actna. For several years he was a student at the Georgia School of Technology, being a member of the class. was a student at the Georgia School of Technology, being a member of the class of 1883. After leaving school he was associated with John M. Green in the fertilizer business prior to his entering the insurance field. While in college he took a prominent stand in all lines and this record he has well sustained in his after life. As third vice-president and general manager of the South Atlantic he will have entire charge of the operating or business getting department of this rising business getting department of this rising young company and will find a wide-op-portunity for the display of the business talents and executive ability which he has shown in his present connection with

"While, of course, I shall hate to leave Atlanta, which I consider the heat town earth which I consider the best town on earth, I cannot afford to miss the opportunity which is offered me in this appointment. My associations with Mr. Green and with the Aetna Life Insurance have always been of the most satisfactory character, and it is with sincere regret that I shall terminate relations which have been so uniformly pleasant. However, as I see it, uniformly pleasant. However, as I see it, it is to my interest to accept the position offered me by the South Atlantic and I shall act accordingly," said Mr. Harper. Robert L. Foreman, manager of the Equitable for Georgia, who at the time of the formation of the South Atlantic was elected to the position now offered to Mr. Harper, was seen yesterday afternoon, and when told of the election of Mr. Harper, said: "I am glad to hear it. The South Atlantic was organized only a little more than a year ago and since the nhas done a profitable business. Its success is said to be due, in a large measure, to the wise direction of its financial officers. The officers of the company are man of prominence and of profitable as men of prominence and of practical ex-perience in the life insurance business, while the board of directors includes such men as Samuel T. The average daily attendance at the Pan-American Exposition from May 1 to July 1, was 28,60. The average daily at-tendance at former fairs for their ful! terms was as follows:

Omaha, Transmississippi Expo., 17,082
Philadelphia, International Export

The comparison is highly encouraging to the Pan-American Exposition. The first two months of fairs are usually the poorest in point of attendance, owing principally to the almost general belief that the exhibitions are not completed until July. The Pan-American has passed until July. The Pan-American has passed this point and the attendance is growing daily. By the first of August the increase in the average daily attendance will show a very large increase, with the mest months still to come. The Pan-American is now complete and to see the exterior of the buildings is alone worth a long trip. The illumination with 500,000 lamps is also a wondrous sight.
