

STOCK MARKET PROFESSIONAL

Business Transacted Was Smallest of the Year.

PRICES FELL AT THE CLOSE.

Selling Out of Professionals Was Occasion of the Reaction—Bonds Were Slightly Irregular—The Local Markets.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Any hopes of a revival of speculation at this time still further receded to-day, and the business transacted at the Stock Exchange was the smallest of the year.

Monday's selling movement had apparently aroused some hope that a renewed buying movement in force might be imminent. This raised the professionals on the buying side and accounted for the upward movement, while the closing out of their accounts was equally responsible for the reaction.

London was reported a buyer in this market to-day, considering the narrowness of the market. This, coupled with a free supply of grain bills, caused a further reaction in the sterling exchange market. The London money market at the same time hardened appreciably, in part owing to the demand for the exchange market.

The supply of exchange bills is in some part connected with the making of sterling loans, and any such loan would be likely to bring a demand for exchange in connection with the receipt of the loan.

Money and Exchange—Money on call closed steady at 2 1/2 per cent. Sterling exchange steady at the decline with actual business in bankers' bills at 8 1/2 per cent.
