

The Richmond Times

THE TIMES COMPANY.

THE DAILY TIMES, when delivered by carrier, five cents per week or fifty cents per month.

THE WEEKLY TIMES, fifty cents per copy by mail.

All unassigned communications will be rejected.

MANCHESTER BUREAU—Carter's Drug Store, 100 N. Main Street.

PETERSBURG AGENT—R. L. Paper, 6 Sycamore Street; Mutual Phone 125.

Rejected communications will not be returned unless accompanied by stamps.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1901.

EXPERIENCES IN SOCIALISM.

In a recent bulletin of the Department of Labor in Washington is a comprehensive and very instructive paper by Rev. Alexander Kent on co-operative communities in the United States.

VISIONARIES still think that Socialism is practicable and in spite of the failures of the past a number of co-operative societies have been organized within the past several years.

One of the most interesting of the latter-day experiments was the Ruskin Colony, which was started up in July, 1894.

It was during the period of hard times and it was a good time to interest men and women in such experiments.

The idea originated with J. A. Wayland, publisher of a paper at Greensburg, Ind., called "The Coming Nation."

He finally told his readers that he did not wish to enrich himself while so many of his brethren were living in poverty, hunger and dirt.

What would an outsider have thought of this nation if he had taken seriously every utterance of this sort that was made by the extreme newspapers and stump-speakers of the land?

But when the colony was formed it was found to be a singular admixture of Socialism and Anarchism, those who believed in regulating everything by law and those who believed in abolishing law altogether.

But after the President was shot there was more exaggeration of another type. Certain newspapers which were friendly to him began to heap abuse upon papers that had criticized the President.

We protest equally against that sort of exaggeration. If the public press is to have any influence in this country for good, it must be brave enough and bold enough to condemn wrongdoing in high places.

Next there was trouble with President Wayland and many of the colonists resigned. New members came in to take their places, and with these changes there was more and more friction.

New Yorkers are after Tammany in good earnest this time, and Mr. Croker has a big fight on his hands. The Republicans and the Citizens' Union have united upon Seth Low for Mayor.

It is a strong combination, and if all the enemies of Tammany will stick together and vote together the Croker regime will doubtless be overthrown.

Mr. Low is something more than a scholar in politics. He is a scholar, but he is also a pretty good politician and he is a man of affairs.

In conclusion Mr. Kent observes that the first fact that forces itself upon the attention, in a study of co-operative life, is that most communities are very short lived.

able to go alone. The second fact is looking at the matter from the American point of view, that those die soonest which ought to live longest.

This is a statement of fact worthy of the most earnest consideration of all true Democrats, and of all persons who have the idea that Democracy means Socialism.

President Roosevelt has been saying some very kind things about the South, and as blood is thicker than water he doubtless feels most kindly towards the people of this section.

The Richmond Times has hit the nail on the head when it says it thinks the Constitutional Convention should leave regulations regarding the liquor traffic to the Legislature.

Such devices as the "understanding clause" are mere makeshifts and evasions, time-serving expedients that bear fruitful and permanent evils.

Mr. Chanler's case is not much more remarkable than that of Frederick C. Rust, now of this city, who, although a sane man, spent 20 years of his life in lunatic asylums.

It is in the Western State Hospital in Staunton. He was and is wealthy, and was sent to the Western State Hospital in Staunton by his father and stepmother from Loudoun county, and kept there until 1888.

Now, for the sake of justice and in behalf of hundreds of property owners, will you now point out to our Solons a way to correct this?

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Dr. J. V. Richardson. Funeral of J. V. Richardson. FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

that all my pains, cares and expectations have come at last to nothing but a Poor, Little, Short, Brown Hog."

"Well, I'll acknowledge I'm disappointed," said Rivers, sourly. "I asked at least fifty people to-day what I ought to take for my cold and not one of them recommended quinine and whiskey."

John T. Stewart is called the richest man in Kansas, his wealth being estimated at nearly $2,000,000. He owns 130 quarter sections in Sumner county, where he lives, and his rentals are said to be $50,000 this year.

She—Mrs. La Salle is always changing husbands. He—Yes. She told me she was wedded to married life—October Smart Set.

Amelie Rives' former husband reappears just at a good time to attract interest to that lady's new novel—Baltimore American.

A special from Binghamton, N. Y., says: In the window of the Eoston store in this city is a handsome pillow, which is to be presented as the gift of Monroe McKinley.

Mallory—After we are married, Marie, you must never hesitate to ask me who you want money.

Charles Grandi, an aged fruit dealer, who came here from Italy a score of years ago, says a dispatch from Findlay, Ohio, was called upon to-day to act as interpreter for some Italian laborers.

Kind Lady—Poor fellow, have you got no friends? Hap Hazard—No, mum; I hain't got nobody but relatives.—London Tit-Bits.

The city of Grinnell, Iowa, has just adopted a drastic liquor law. It is, under the ordinance, a crime for two or more citizens to get together and take a drink of beer or other liquor.

A Wrong Calling for Convention. Editor of The Times: Sir,—In view of the great interest recently manifested by your paper touching the hay field in the Square, I desire to call your attention to a matter which should be speedily corrected.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

that all my pains, cares and expectations have come at last to nothing but a Poor, Little, Short, Brown Hog."

"Well, I'll acknowledge I'm disappointed," said Rivers, sourly. "I asked at least fifty people to-day what I ought to take for my cold and not one of them recommended quinine and whiskey."

John T. Stewart is called the richest man in Kansas, his wealth being estimated at nearly $2,000,000. He owns 130 quarter sections in Sumner county, where he lives, and his rentals are said to be $50,000 this year.

She—Mrs. La Salle is always changing husbands. He—Yes. She told me she was wedded to married life—October Smart Set.

Amelie Rives' former husband reappears just at a good time to attract interest to that lady's new novel—Baltimore American.

A special from Binghamton, N. Y., says: In the window of the Eoston store in this city is a handsome pillow, which is to be presented as the gift of Monroe McKinley.

Mallory—After we are married, Marie, you must never hesitate to ask me who you want money.

Charles Grandi, an aged fruit dealer, who came here from Italy a score of years ago, says a dispatch from Findlay, Ohio, was called upon to-day to act as interpreter for some Italian laborers.

Kind Lady—Poor fellow, have you got no friends? Hap Hazard—No, mum; I hain't got nobody but relatives.—London Tit-Bits.

The city of Grinnell, Iowa, has just adopted a drastic liquor law. It is, under the ordinance, a crime for two or more citizens to get together and take a drink of beer or other liquor.

A Wrong Calling for Convention. Editor of The Times: Sir,—In view of the great interest recently manifested by your paper touching the hay field in the Square, I desire to call your attention to a matter which should be speedily corrected.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

WARTERS' LITTLE LIVER PILLS FOR SICK HEADACHE. Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER, Etc. They Regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price. TABLED LIQUOR RESOLUTION. A Troublesome Question in the Portsmouth Baptist Association.

THE MONTEREY MULETEERS. City Officials to Go Jaunting at Expense of Wood-Block Paving Concern.

MIDDLESEX COURT. Independent Republican Candidates for House and Senate.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

FARMERS MEET IN NORTH CAROLINA. Main Object to Provide for Holding Cotton Seed for Better Price.

Another Meeting—Many Applicants Indicted for Criminal Assault. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 25.—Ed. Stone, a negro brakeman on the Seaboard Air Line, was badly injured in John Day Street yards here by a fall yesterday.

JUVENILE HOUSEBREAKERS. Three of a gang of five small boys were bound over to court by the mayor to-day under the charge of store robbing.

THE STATE PRISON. Mr. Nathan O'Berry, of the Board of Directors of the State Prison, is here completing the report of his body and states that it will be finished and submitted by Thursday evening or sooner.

AN APPEAL. H. S. Ward has announced his purpose to take an appeal to the Supreme Court against the North Carolina corporation to force them to increase the valuation of railroad property in the State from $22,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Mr. Chanler at Weldon. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) WELDON, N. C., September 25.—No where was the news of Mr. John Armstrong Chanler's reappearance upon the stage of action received with more pleasure than in the little manufacturing town of Roanoke Rapids, four miles above Weldon, the little town he helped to build.

Funeral of J. V. Richardson. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) FARMVILLE, Va., Sept. 25.—The body of the late J. V. Richardson was laid to rest in the Farmville Cemetery this afternoon.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

Draper—Vaughan. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) ROANOKE, Va., Sept. 25.—Miss Junia Agnes Vaughan, the young daughter of L. H. Vaughan, the railroad contractor, and Dr. J. A. Draper, a physician in the company, were married at high noon today at the residence of the bride's parents.

WE'RE SELLING CARRIAGES. In such a great variety that we're sure to have the one which will just fit your needs.

THE IMPLEMENT CO., RICHMOND, VA. 302-1304 E. Main St.

WANTED: TWO NICE FURNISHED ROOMS PRIVATE of bath and parlor; rates reasonable; for gentleman and wife or two gentlemen, with board; situated in nice neighborhood, down-town. COMFORT, care Times.

WANTED: INTELLIGENT BOY, WHO desires to study law, to work in law office; gentlemanly, with good education; speak, read and write English. For information apply to RECRUITING OFFICE, No. 119 E. Broad St.

WANTED: COAT MAKERS ON FINE work; we pay the best union prices. Apply at once CONSTABLE BROS., No. 97 East Main Street.

WANTED: LADY MANAGER TO HIRE clothing store; must be a native of this city; $12 and expenses. Address, with stamp, BURBANK MFG. CO., Morning Times.

WANTED: 10,000 ACTIVE AGENTS immediately by nation's premier for "Life of Wm. McKinley" Memorial edition. Graphic record of his whole illustrious career; contains 1000 photos; best of its kind; retail $1.50; will duplicate any offer on inferior books; credit given; agents clear $15 daily; big sale assured. Free outfit ready; order today. MONARCH BOOK CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

FOR SALE: FARM AND MILLS. FOR SALE: RENT AND EXCHANGE. GEO. F. WELLS, 100 E. Main St.

FOR SALE: A Very Desirable LOT on Grace Street near Lee Monument. COLLARD & BAGBY, 6 N. Eleventh Street.

Hunters and Sportsmen. HOTEL DEL AIR will be kept open for benefit of those who wish to spend the hunting season in the mountains.