CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 27.—Cincinnati and Boston broke even in a double-header to-day. The first was pitchers' battle. The second game was won by Harley's miff of Lush's fly. The second was called in the eighth inning on account of darkness. Attendance, 1,200.

ANARCHISTS IN THE COAL FIELDS

Numbers of Them in the Towns and Mines.

REGULARLY MEET IN A HALL.

Teach Their Children the Anarchistic Doctrines by Use of Literature Which Comes Through the Mails from Paterson, N. J.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) BLUEFIELD, W. VA., Sept. 27.—The number of anarchists in the coalfields is simply astounding. They have been in this section for a long time, but because of our governmental leniency toward them have lived in security and have escaped with little more than passing attention. The foul assassination of President McKinley has aroused general indignation, and the people in this section, in common with law-abiding people everywhere, are up in arms against the hated sect and it will not be surprising to see steps taken soon to drive them out. In fact, it may be said the war against them is already on, and what it will be quiet and may not be known as a war of extermination, it will be none the less sure and effective.

ANARCHISTS IN EVERY TOWN. It is not generally known, but there are anarchists in nearly every town and hamlet in the coalfields where foreign labor is employed. At some points there are colonies of them, and they teach the foul creed to their children. In the young and uneducated the anarchist idea through the means of literature of the faith.

This literature comes through the mails and it nearly all is postmarked from Paterson, N. J. It has been known for a long time that the foreign laborer had a hall where they have regular meetings, but no attention has been paid to them. Since the indignation has been aroused by the assassination of President McKinley, people are paying particular attention to the individual anarchists and may later have something to say about their meetings and the alleged school where anarchist ideas are fostered.

There are many now whose blood boils at the thought that the friends and associates of the assassin of President McKinley are allowed to exist in so close proximity to them.

REASON. The real anarchist has no religion at all. He believes that nothing is good save anarchy, and he cannot, therefore, have a religious belief. They are composed of many nationalities, but the majority in this coalfield are Russian. He asserted that the States in which the fellow-servant doctrine originated in the Supreme Court had both repudiated it by a constitutional amendment. He referred to the States of Massachusetts, New York, Maryland, and South Carolina. Mr. Meredith related the ineffectual efforts that had been repeatedly made to get relief from the Legislature. He called attention to Attorney-General Montague's strong position in favor of the passage of such a bill as a humane and conservative bill as the one proposed ought not to be delayed.

Capt. Parks advocated the resolution in a brief and forcible speech.

JUDGE GEORGE K. ANDERSON desired to have a future session of the committee so that he would be able to make a further examination of the case. He called attention to the great increase in the telegraph and deaths by railroads in Virginia. He presented the following statistics, taken from the Labor Commissioner's report, as to railroad accidents in Virginia since 1897:

Table with 3 columns: Year, Killed, Injured. Rows from 1897 to 1900.

Total killed, 532; 10,832. The committee fixed next Thursday to hear further argument in behalf of the resolution. Hon. W. B. McIlwaine, of Petersburg, Judge Anderson and others will be heard.

MR. TALKED ABOUT GOOD ROADS. The Committee on Public Institutions heard interesting talks last night from Captain Shaw, of Charlottesville, and Prof. Dodge, of the National Department of Highways. These gentlemen spoke in the subject of good roads and stressed the advantage of the convict system of working them. Captain Shaw said he had given the subject of good roads some study for twenty years, and had examined the systems of Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, California, and North Carolina. He gave it as his opinion that North Carolina stood supreme on having practically solved the question.

He said that the Massachusetts roads cost $6,000 a mile, New York, $3,000; New Jersey, $3,000; he had found that with the convict system in North Carolina just as good roads were built at a cost of $1,000 a mile. He described the working of the rock crushers, rollers and other machinery and the system of working the convicts of each county instead of keeping any except the long term ones in the penitentiary.

PROF. DODGE gave a long and valuable account of the various methods of improving the roads of the various States of the Union and the encouraging work the National Government was doing to stimulate and forward the movement. He read statistics showing the great saving to business men, farmers and transportation companies by having roads that could be used every day in the year.

The committee thanked the speakers for their valuable and interesting information.

CONVENTION NOTES. The Committee on Bill of Rights were to have met yesterday afternoon to decide upon a resolution proposed relating to regulation of the liquor traffic, but owing to small attendance Chairman Green did not attempt to have a session.

MAJORITY PLAN MAY BE ADOPTED

(Continued From First Page.) promises to be of absorbing interest until it is finally settled. Employers' Liability Act. The Committee on Corporations yesterday afternoon heard argument on the employers' liability resolution introduced by Mr. Waters. It is a copy of the South Carolina and Mississippi constitutional provisions, and is limited to common carriers.

Mr. Withers explained that if the resolution had included all corporations, it would be defeated; that it was confined to common carriers because of the perilous nature of that employment. He gave a history of the fellow-servant doctrine and declared that it was a relic of the feudal system, and that the Legislature should be charged with the duty of abolishing it.
