

DOUBLE-HEADERS PLAYED YESTERDAY

Result in Most Places Was a Fair Divide.

BROOKLYN TOOK BOTH GAMES

Boston Was Unable to Get Either of the Contests—Both New York and Pittsburgh Were Shut Out in One Game.

Brooklyn, 7-10; Boston, 1-3. NEW YORK, May 30.—Morning game: Boston made Brooklyn a present of the morning game at Washington Park to-day. Kitson was very effective.

Score: R. H. E. Boston.....000001000-110 3 Brooklyn.....010040002-710 6 Batteries: Pittsburg and Moran; Kitson and Farrell. Time, 1:52. Umpire, Cantillon. Attendance, 3,500.

Afternoon game: Bunting by the Brooklyn star batters was the feature of the game. Score: R. H. E. Boston.....020000001-3 9 2 Brooklyn.....22102003-1011 1 Batteries: Hale and Klitzinger; Donovan, Ahearn and Farrell. Time, 1:46. Umpire, Cantillon. Attendance, 10,000.

New York, 7-10; Philadelphia, 5-0. NEW YORK, May 30.—Morning game: The base-ball club signalled its return home to-day by losing a ten-inning game. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia.....100000020-5 12 2 New York.....200000000-0 10 0 Batteries: Duglesby and Jacklitch; Mathewson, Evans, Yeager and Bowen. Time, 2:00. Umpire, Emalle. Attendance, 5,200.

Afternoon game: The home players could do nothing with Frazier's delivery. Score: R. H. E. Philadelphia.....002000130-6 12 3 New York.....000000000-0 4 3 Batteries: Frazier and Doolin; Taylor, Evans, Yeager and Bowmen. Time, 1:45. Umpire, Emalle. Attendance, 21,000.

Pittsburg, 8-0; Chicago, 6-4. (By Associated Press.) PITSBURG, May 30.—Morning game: The champions beat the Chicago in a well-contested, long-drawn-out game, in which Wagner's short-stop play was of the phenomenal order. Score: R. H. E. Pittsburg.....00040301-8 10 1 Chicago.....100000500-6 12 3 Batteries: Doheny, Chesbro and Smith; St. Vrain and Kilns. Time, 2 hours and 20 minutes. Attendance, 6,500. Umpires, Power and Brown.

Afternoon game: Jones' two-bagger, and followed by four other hits, and O'Conner's wild throw gave Chicago four runs and the game. Score: R. H. E. Pittsburg.....000000000-0 10 2 Chicago.....000000000-0 10 2 Batteries: Philippi and O'Conner; Menefee and Chance. Time, 1:50. Umpires, Power and Brown. Attendance, 12,000.

Cincinnati, 9-1; St. Louis, 2-3. ST. LOUIS, MO., May 30.—St. Louis and Cincinnati split even on to-day's double-header, each winning a game. Score: First game: R. H. E. St. Louis.....001001000-2 10 2 Cincinnati.....000201018-5 11 3 Batteries: Popp and O'Neill; Hahn and Peltz. Time, 1:52. Umpire: O'Day. Attendance, 5,000.

Second game: R. H. E. St. Louis.....101001000-3 7 2 Cincinnati.....000000010-1 6 4 Batteries: Dunham and O'Neill; Ewing and Bergen. Time, 1:41. Umpire: O'Day. Attendance, 5,000.

Scores Yesterday. NEW YORK, 7-10; Philadelphia, 5-0. Brooklyn, 7-10; Boston, 1-3. Pittsburgh, 8-0; St. Louis, 2-3. Cincinnati, 9-1; St. Louis, 2-3.

Standing of the Clubs. Clubs. Won. Lost. P. C. Pittsburg.....30 6 .833 Chicago.....23 12 .657 Boston.....15 17 .469 New York.....16 19 .457 Brooklyn.....13 19 .411 Cincinnati.....13 21 .383 Philadelphia.....12 21 .364 St. Louis.....12 21 .364

Where They Play To-Day. Philadelphia at New York. Boston at Brooklyn. Cincinnati at St. Louis. Chicago at Pittsburg.

American League Results. Washington, 9-2; Chicago, 3-1. Baltimore, 12-10; Cleveland, 4-7. Detroit, 10-6; Boston, 5-2. St. Louis, 11-4; Philadelphia, 7-11.

North Carolina League. Charlotte, 6; Greensboro, 4. Newberne, 4; Wilmington, 2. Durham, 5; Raleigh, 1.

Other Games. Harvard, 2; University of Illinois, 1. University of Pennsylvania, 7; Lehigh University, 1. Brown, 4; Cornell, 0. Wesleyan, 6; Williams, 6. Georgetown, 8; Amherst, 1. Holy Cross, 8; Dartmouth, 0.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Has won success far beyond the effect of advertising only. The secret of its wonderful popularity is explained by its unapproachable merit.

Based upon a prescription which cured people considered incurable, Hood's Sarsaparilla Unites the best-known vegetable remedies, by such a combination, proportion and process as to have curative power peculiar to itself.

Its cures of scrofula, eczema, psoriasis, and every kind of humor, as well as catarrh and rheumatism—prove Hood's Sarsaparilla the best blood purifier ever produced.

Its cures of dyspepsia, loss of appetite and that tired feeling make it the greatest stomach tonic and strength-restorer the world has ever known.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is a thoroughly good medicine. Begin to take it TODAY. Get HOOD'S.

PARKWAY HANDICAP WON BY CONTENT

Monahan, the Colt's Owner and His Friends Made a Killing on the Purse.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 30.—Content, running in the Yale Blue and Gold Cap of T. Monahan, won the Parkway Handicap at Gravesend to-day. Monahan and his friends made a killing on the purse, forcing the price down from 9 to 1. When the flag fell, Content rushed to the front and led his field at the half by one length, with Smart Set second, and The Regent third. Rounding the far turn there was a general closing up, but Content, on Content, won cleverly by a length. Summary: First race—high-weight handicap, about six furlongs—Dumurrer (4 to 1) first, Price (7 to 1) second, Eddie Busca (8 to 1) third. Time, 1:10 2-5.

Second race—two-year-olds, five furlongs—Ewo Nations (7 to 1) first, Agnes II (6 to 1) second, H. L. Coleman (8 to 1) third. Time, 1:46.

Third race—The Bedford Stakes, for two-year-olds, five furlongs—Africander (7 to 2) first, Cinquevall (8 to 1) second, Blue Banner (7 to 1) third. Time, 1:02.

Fourth race—The Parkway handicap, mile and a sixteenth—Content (3 to 1) first, Watercure (4 to 1) second, The Roseng (15 to 1) third. Time, 1:46 2-5.

Fifth race—mile and seventy yards—Cornell Padden (7 to 2) first, Carubone (12 to 5) second, Namtor (8 to 5) third. Time, 1:44 2-5.

Sixth race—for two-year-olds, five furlongs—Lady Alberta (10 to 1) first, Marnie Worth (2 to 1) second, Prince of Galore (6 to 1) third. Time, 1:01 1-5.

SEVENTH RACE—The Parkway Handicap, mile and a sixteenth—Content (3 to 1) first, Watercure (4 to 1) second, The Roseng (15 to 1) third. Time, 1:46 2-5.

UNANIMOUS GAIN, which it would be impossible to gain. But in any event there is no remote possibility of a further fight over the proclamation, which if brought up in any shape would again win in a walk. Many members, if not nearly all who voted for submission, would refuse to vote to reopen, and not a few of them are known to be heartily glad of the action of the body in favor of proclamation.

Hon. J. H. Lindsay, of Charlottesville, was warmly congratulated yesterday by his many friends upon his splendid victory for proclamation. Mr. Lindsay was very active in helping to hold the proclamation forces together in the end of the struggle Thursday and in the matter of endorsing the support of new recruits to the cause. Mr. Lindsay has been one of the warmest and most consistent advocates of reform in the body from the first day of the session.

The name of Hon. W. L. Cobb, of Carolina was typographically omitted from the list of proclamation voters in The Times of yesterday. Mr. Cobb voted steadily with the proclaimers throughout the struggle, and has always favored that method of putting the new Constitution into effect.

Hon. George Y. Hunley, of Gloucester and Mathews, was on the floor of the convention yesterday. Mr. Hunley is happy over the proclamation of the new Constitution, and says it is, in his judgment, a fine instrument.

FLOOD IS NOW THE NOMINEE

District Committee Names Him for Congress in the Tenth. Some Fights.

Congressman Harry Delaware Flood, of Appomattox, was yesterday nominated for a second term in the House of Representatives from the Fourth District.

The action, which makes him the candidate of his party for re-election, was taken in this city by the Tenth District Committee, which held a meeting in the office of Chairman Joseph Button, at the Capitol.

Colonel Button presided and Hon. B. T. Gordon, of Nelson, was present as proxy for Mr. William A. Reinhart, of Albemarle, while Colonel Robert Castlet represented Mr. Frank T. Glasgow, of Rockbridge. The action of the committee was unanimous, the time for entries having passed and no other candidates having filed their names. This obviates the necessity for holding the primary which was fixed for July 1th, and the certificate of nomination was awarded Mr. Flood by Chairman Button.

Judge W. F. Rhea, of Bristol, spent yesterday in Richmond. He, too, is fortunate in not having opposition and will be named by the Ninth District Committee to succeed himself. The same is true of the situation in the First, Fifth and Eighth, and it is not believed that Mr. Hay will have any opposition in the Seventh. In the Second District entries close on June 19th. So far Messrs. Lawrence and Maynard are the avowed candidates, with chances in favor of Dr. J. F. Bryant entering the race.

Harlem Regatta. (By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 30.—Thousands of spectators witnessed the races of the Harlem Regatta Association held on the one-mile speedway course, Harlem river, to-day. The Harlem crew won the senior eight, Frazer the junior single sculls, Scholes the senior singles and the New Yorks the junior eights.

Yale Won From Princeton. (By Associated Press.) NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 30.—Yale surprised even her warmest supporters by winning from Princeton this afternoon in the championship series by the score of 10 to 6. Yale won the game on the merits of her team work, assisted greatly, however, by Princeton's errors.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON DEAD. Was Man Who Told President Cleveland to Attend His Own Business. (By Associated Press.) PORTLAND, OREGON, May 30.—Governor Penney died very suddenly here to-day.

Governor Penney was born in Tompkins county, New York, July 6th, 1831, and was in his seventy-first year. His nomination for the governorship was brought about chiefly by his bold stand against Chinese immigration.

He was brought prominently before the country in 1881 by his refusal to meet President Harrison at the State line, when the latter was on a visit to the Pacific coast. He was again much talked about in 1893, when he told President Cleveland to "attend to his own business."

Yale Won From Princeton. (By Associated Press.) NEW HAVEN, CONN., May 30.—Yale surprised even her warmest supporters by winning from Princeton this afternoon in the championship series by the score of 10 to 6. Yale won the game on the merits of her team work, assisted greatly, however, by Princeton's errors.

PARKWAY HANDICAP WON BY CONTENT

Monahan, the Colt's Owner and His Friends Made a Killing on the Purse.

ARCH ATTACK ON DAVIS

(Continued from First Page.) the site at Twelfth and Broad Streets, and the cost of the arch were all decided upon by the recent general convention at Wilmington. The board was instructed to select a model, nothing more. It has no power whatever, and those well-informed, to change or delay the scheme, if it desired so to do. There are no indications that the members of the board desire to do either of these things.

It is said that in the Wilmington convention Mrs. Kimbrough voted with the others for the memorial arch at Twelfth and Broad, and this action of the convention clinched the matter beyond recall so far as the board is concerned.

Mrs. Kimbrough says in her letter to Mrs. Behan, of the Board, from New Orleans, that she is very much interested in the local Daughters, as Mrs. Behan apparently approved of the arch scheme, and named an artist to compete, Miss Montgomery, whose model is now in Richmond.

The Richmond Daughters of the Confederacy are confident that the letter of their Mississippi colleague in the Picayune will have no effect upon the ultimate decision of the question, which they feel assured will be along the lines announced.

MRS. KIMBROUGH'S LETTER. The following is the full text of Mrs. Kimbrough's letter to the Picayune: Greenwood, Miss., May 25th. Editor Picayune: My Dear Sir,—Some time ago I wrote an article for the Picayune regarding the arch that Mr. Davis had been called upon, through your columns, to give her opinion as to the arch monument, which the ladies of Richmond propose to erect in their city. Mrs. W. J. Behan, of Louisiana, has written me desiring to use in an argument opposing the arch.

I would be glad to give her any assistance in my power to prevent the misappropriation of the money intrusted by the people of the South to the keeping of the women of the South, and to the building of a triumphal arch to our departed President, as not only a misappropriation of the funds created by the people of the South, but a betrayal of a sacred trust as well. The money has never contributed to adorn and beautify the city of Richmond, and has been suggested, but to be erected a suitable monument to him who was the glory and pride of the South. When Mr. Davis' hallowed remains were removed to Richmond, a solemn promise was given to the people of the South, and it is worthy of the name of a promise, which should be kept, and which he suffered would be erected, and this sacred word was begun by the veterans, and by them turned over to the United Daughters of the Confederacy to be completed.

Confederacy to be completed. The money diverted to adorn and beautify a certain section of Richmond.

ARCH SYMBOLIC OF VICTORY. This should not be. The trust should be discharged with respect to the personal advancement of any of those who have the matter in charge. From ancient days to the days of Dewey and Schley the arch has stood as symbolic of victory and success. Her motto to our arch would be, "Victory to our brave men and to our brave women." It would be as a monument to the seeming ignorance and folly of those who had the matter in charge.

Aside from this, Mrs. Davis, the widow of him whom we would honor, who was his partner in all of his glory and his companion in all of his sorrows, has lifted up her voice against this folly. To her trained and cultured mind and to her existing sense of the proprieties, this thing comes as a shock, a stunning, overwhelming shock. Her wishes and her preferences should be considered and regarded above the wishes and preferences of all others. The posterity of the nation should be considered in this matter, and so far as the writer has read and heard, only a few women of Virginia favors this stupendous folly. May the women of Virginia call a halt and heed the wishes of Mrs. Davis, and prevent the erection of the arch of the South, who desire to do honor to our beloved and who are also obedient to the wish of his grand and worthy widow.

Respectfully, (Signed) MARY LUTHWORTH KIMBROUGH. MRS. DAVIS' ATTITUDE. With a view to ascertaining Mrs. Davis' present attitude in relation to the erection of an arch, The Times yesterday secured an interesting interview with that lady in New York, which sets forth the following facts: Mrs. Davis has her opposition to the form of memorial. This interview is printed above.

The following special to The Times was also received from New York: "Mrs. Roger A. Fryer, Mrs. Jefferson Davis' closest friend, to-day that the alleged differences between the Daughters of the Confederacy, of Richmond, and Mrs. Davis, over the form of the memorial at Richmond, to the late President of the Confederacy, has been greatly exaggerated.

"Mrs. Davis, after consideration," said Mrs. Pryor, "concluded that the arch would not be the best form for the memorial, and she has several letters to that effect. The letters were all written in a kindly spirit, and Mrs. Davis has in no way, dimmed the patriotic spirit of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who have been interested themselves in the memorial since its inception.

"In fact she had the kindest and warmest feeling for them, whenever there are differences of opinion in matters of this kind, the public takes seemingly great delight in airing their views. This matter will be adjusted to the entire satisfaction of all concerned, and that Mrs. Davis will continue to hold the warm place in the hearts of the ladies of Richmond, which has always been hers.

LETTER FROM MRS. DAVIS. The Times received from New Orleans last night by special the following letter from Mrs. Davis, which was printed in yesterday's Picayune: New York, May 29. Editor New Orleans Picayune: Your telegram of the 29th inst. received. My opinion of the arch has never been solicited except by the Picayune. Had I not been invited to express one, I should never have volunteered to give one. I had not heard where the proposed site was to be until I reached New Orleans.

General E. L. Torrence, commander in chief of the G. A. R., followed the President with a few remarks, and then the services were brought to a close with the playing of 'Amazing Grace' by the band, and the assembly joining, and benediction by Henry S. Stevens, department chaplain.

Immediately after the memorial exercises at the Amphitheatre, the monument erected to the memory of Colonel Edgar O'Connor, of the Second Wisconsin Regiment, was unveiled in the presence of a number of his comrades. The address of the occasion was delivered by Representative John J. Jenkins, of Wisconsin.

At Soldiers' Home, at Battleground cemetery, near the city of New York, Stevens, at St. Elizabeth's and at other cemeteries appropriate services were held. Secretary Shaw delivered the oration at Battleground cemetery.

GRANT'S TOMB. Southerner Made the Memorial Oration at the Victor's Grave. (By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 30.—Memorial services were held at Grant's tomb to-day in the presence of 6,000 people. The exercises were conducted by U. S. Grant Post, of Brooklyn. "America" was sung and Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) Among the holidays which commemorate the turning points in American history, Thanksgiving has a significance peculiarly its own. On July 4 we celebrate the birth of the nation; on May 30 we celebrate the death of those who died that the nation might live, who waged all that life holds dear for the great price of death in battle, who poured out their blood like water in order that the feeble structure raised by the far-seen nation might stand, who were the great leaders of the Revolution, great framers of the Constitution, should not crumble into meaningless ruins.

From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

PARKWAY HANDICAP WON BY CONTENT

Monahan, the Colt's Owner and His Friends Made a Killing on the Purse.

ARCH ATTACK ON DAVIS

(Continued from First Page.) the site at Twelfth and Broad Streets, and the cost of the arch were all decided upon by the recent general convention at Wilmington. The board was instructed to select a model, nothing more. It has no power whatever, and those well-informed, to change or delay the scheme, if it desired so to do. There are no indications that the members of the board desire to do either of these things.

It is said that in the Wilmington convention Mrs. Kimbrough voted with the others for the memorial arch at Twelfth and Broad, and this action of the convention clinched the matter beyond recall so far as the board is concerned.

Mrs. Kimbrough says in her letter to Mrs. Behan, of the Board, from New Orleans, that she is very much interested in the local Daughters, as Mrs. Behan apparently approved of the arch scheme, and named an artist to compete, Miss Montgomery, whose model is now in Richmond.

The Richmond Daughters of the Confederacy are confident that the letter of their Mississippi colleague in the Picayune will have no effect upon the ultimate decision of the question, which they feel assured will be along the lines announced.

MRS. KIMBROUGH'S LETTER. The following is the full text of Mrs. Kimbrough's letter to the Picayune: Greenwood, Miss., May 25th. Editor Picayune: My Dear Sir,—Some time ago I wrote an article for the Picayune regarding the arch that Mr. Davis had been called upon, through your columns, to give her opinion as to the arch monument, which the ladies of Richmond propose to erect in their city. Mrs. W. J. Behan, of Louisiana, has written me desiring to use in an argument opposing the arch.

I would be glad to give her any assistance in my power to prevent the misappropriation of the money intrusted by the people of the South to the keeping of the women of the South, and to the building of a triumphal arch to our departed President, as not only a misappropriation of the funds created by the people of the South, but a betrayal of a sacred trust as well. The money has never contributed to adorn and beautify the city of Richmond, and has been suggested, but to be erected a suitable monument to him who was the glory and pride of the South. When Mr. Davis' hallowed remains were removed to Richmond, a solemn promise was given to the people of the South, and it is worthy of the name of a promise, which should be kept, and which he suffered would be erected, and this sacred word was begun by the veterans, and by them turned over to the United Daughters of the Confederacy to be completed.

Confederacy to be completed. The money diverted to adorn and beautify a certain section of Richmond.

ARCH SYMBOLIC OF VICTORY. This should not be. The trust should be discharged with respect to the personal advancement of any of those who have the matter in charge. From ancient days to the days of Dewey and Schley the arch has stood as symbolic of victory and success. Her motto to our arch would be, "Victory to our brave men and to our brave women." It would be as a monument to the seeming ignorance and folly of those who had the matter in charge.

Aside from this, Mrs. Davis, the widow of him whom we would honor, who was his partner in all of his glory and his companion in all of his sorrows, has lifted up her voice against this folly. To her trained and cultured mind and to her existing sense of the proprieties, this thing comes as a shock, a stunning, overwhelming shock. Her wishes and her preferences should be considered and regarded above the wishes and preferences of all others. The posterity of the nation should be considered in this matter, and so far as the writer has read and heard, only a few women of Virginia favors this stupendous folly. May the women of Virginia call a halt and heed the wishes of Mrs. Davis, and prevent the erection of the arch of the South, who desire to do honor to our beloved and who are also obedient to the wish of his grand and worthy widow.

Respectfully, (Signed) MARY LUTHWORTH KIMBROUGH. MRS. DAVIS' ATTITUDE. With a view to ascertaining Mrs. Davis' present attitude in relation to the erection of an arch, The Times yesterday secured an interesting interview with that lady in New York, which sets forth the following facts: Mrs. Davis has her opposition to the form of memorial. This interview is printed above.

The following special to The Times was also received from New York: "Mrs. Roger A. Fryer, Mrs. Jefferson Davis' closest friend, to-day that the alleged differences between the Daughters of the Confederacy, of Richmond, and Mrs. Davis, over the form of the memorial at Richmond, to the late President of the Confederacy, has been greatly exaggerated.

"Mrs. Davis, after consideration," said Mrs. Pryor, "concluded that the arch would not be the best form for the memorial, and she has several letters to that effect. The letters were all written in a kindly spirit, and Mrs. Davis has in no way, dimmed the patriotic spirit of the Daughters of the Confederacy, who have been interested themselves in the memorial since its inception.

"In fact she had the kindest and warmest feeling for them, whenever there are differences of opinion in matters of this kind, the public takes seemingly great delight in airing their views. This matter will be adjusted to the entire satisfaction of all concerned, and that Mrs. Davis will continue to hold the warm place in the hearts of the ladies of Richmond, which has always been hers.

LETTER FROM MRS. DAVIS. The Times received from New Orleans last night by special the following letter from Mrs. Davis, which was printed in yesterday's Picayune: New York, May 29. Editor New Orleans Picayune: Your telegram of the 29th inst. received. My opinion of the arch has never been solicited except by the Picayune. Had I not been invited to express one, I should never have volunteered to give one. I had not heard where the proposed site was to be until I reached New Orleans.

General E. L. Torrence, commander in chief of the G. A. R., followed the President with a few remarks, and then the services were brought to a close with the playing of 'Amazing Grace' by the band, and the assembly joining, and benediction by Henry S. Stevens, department chaplain.

Immediately after the memorial exercises at the Amphitheatre, the monument erected to the memory of Colonel Edgar O'Connor, of the Second Wisconsin Regiment, was unveiled in the presence of a number of his comrades. The address of the occasion was delivered by Representative John J. Jenkins, of Wisconsin.

At Soldiers' Home, at Battleground cemetery, near the city of New York, Stevens, at St. Elizabeth's and at other cemeteries appropriate services were held. Secretary Shaw delivered the oration at Battleground cemetery.

GRANT'S TOMB. Southerner Made the Memorial Oration at the Victor's Grave. (By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, May 30.—Memorial services were held at Grant's tomb to-day in the presence of 6,000 people. The exercises were conducted by U. S. Grant Post, of Brooklyn. "America" was sung and Lincoln's Gettysburg address was read.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) Among the holidays which commemorate the turning points in American history, Thanksgiving has a significance peculiarly its own. On July 4 we celebrate the birth of the nation; on May 30 we celebrate the death of those who died that the nation might live, who waged all that life holds dear for the great price of death in battle, who poured out their blood like water in order that the feeble structure raised by the far-seen nation might stand, who were the great leaders of the Revolution, great framers of the Constitution, should not crumble into meaningless ruins.

From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

THE PRESIDENT MAKES ADDRESS. (Continued from First Page.) From time to time there occur in our country, to the deep and lasting shame of our people, lynchings carried on under circumstances of inhuman cruelty and barbarity—a cruelty infinitely worse than any that has ever been committed by our troops in the Philippines; worse to condemn these lynchings, and yet to clamor about what has been done in the Philippines, are indeed guilty of neglecting the best and most difficult duty that man has to perform.

Our soldiers conquer; and what is the object for which they conquer? To establish a military government? No. The laws we are now endeavoring to enact increase the power and domain of the civil at the expense of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities, and to render even more difficult the task of the military authorities.

PARKWAY HANDICAP WON BY CONTENT

Monahan, the Colt's Owner and His Friends Made a Killing on the Purse.

ARCH ATTACK ON DAVIS

(Continued from First Page.) the site at Twelfth and Broad Streets, and the cost of the arch were all decided upon by the recent general convention at Wilmington. The board was instructed to select a model, nothing more. It has no power whatever, and those well-informed, to change or delay the scheme, if it desired so to do. There are no indications that the members of the board desire to do either of these things.

It is said that in the Wilmington convention Mrs. Kimbrough voted with the others for the memorial arch at Twelfth and Broad, and this action of the convention clinched the matter beyond recall so far as the board is concerned.

Mrs. Kimbrough says in her letter to Mrs. Behan, of the Board, from New Orleans, that she is very much interested in the local Daughters, as Mrs. Behan apparently approved of the arch scheme, and named an artist to compete, Miss Montgomery, whose model is now in Richmond.

The Richmond Daughters of the Confederacy are confident that the letter of their Mississippi colleague in the Picayune will have no effect upon the ultimate decision of the question, which they feel assured will be along the lines announced.

MRS. KIMBROUGH'S LETTER. The following is the full text of Mrs. Kimbrough's letter to the Picayune: Greenwood, Miss., May 25th. Editor Picayune: My Dear Sir,—Some time ago I wrote an article for the Picayune regarding the arch that Mr. Davis had been called upon, through your columns, to give her opinion as to the arch monument, which the ladies of Richmond propose to erect in their city. Mrs. W. J. Behan, of Louisiana, has written me desiring to use in an argument opposing the arch.

I would be