MARKET AND OPERA HOUSE TO BE BUILT

Durham Board of Aldermen Let Contract to Local Builder.

SEVERE LIQUOR ORDINANCE

All Applying for License Must Publish Their Intentions in the Daily Papers. Dead Heads on Street Cars Find Their Way to Jail.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) DURHAM, N. C., June 13.—The City Aldermen last night opened bids, of which there were five, for the building of the new market and opera house. The contract was awarded to N. Underwood, of Durham, and work is to start at once and pushed to completion. The board also made an order requiring every person intending to ask for liquor license to publish such intent in both the daily papers for ten consecutive days before July.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) There are twenty-three who will ask for license. They passed a stringent ordinance as to the "dead beats" who have been giving the street car conductors so much trouble. One of the gang is now in jail under a hundred dollar bond, which he cannot give, for his appearance at the Superior Court.

The Widow Calla Barbee, of Cedar Fork township, ran away with young James Hopson, aged a little over twenty, yesterday, brought him to town, got the license herself and married him. The groom did not have on the "wedding garment," but was just as she caught him in the field. She paid the Rev. F. D. Langston ten cents for performing the ceremony and took her hubby home.

JUDGE CLARK'S VOTE. Contrary to everybody's expectations Durham's Democratic Executive Committee gave Judge Walter Clark a large majority as candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. This county was considered the stronghold of his opposition.

The continued drought is making it gloomy for the farmers, and unless it rains soon they will be in a deplorable condition. Their wheat and oat crops were so worthless no attempt was made to harvest them, and corn, cotton and tobacco are fast falling.

PHI KAPPA PSI GERMAN.

Gaiety Preceding the Washington and Lee Finals.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) LEXINGTON, VA., June 13.—The Phi Kappa Psi fraternity of Washington and Lee University held their anti-commencement german to-night. The dancing hall was decorated in the colors of the fraternity—lavender and pink. A large number of visiting girls are here for the finals and took part in the german. Miss Mary Moore of Lexington, with J. W. Moore of Staunton, led the german. Among the couples dancing were:

Mr. Conrad of Winchester, with M. A. Breckinridge of Fincastle; Miss McGuire of Winchester, with A. B. Young of Christiansburg, Ky.; Miss Libbey of Washington, with J. J. Fritchett of Danville; Miss Lewis of New Orleans, with A. E. Larick of Lexington; Miss Wiley of Baltimore, with G. E. Arbuckle of Lewisburg, Va.; Miss Seymore of Hancock, Md.; Miss Polk of Texas, with J. E. Arbuckle of Lewisburg, Va.; Miss Burkes, Jr., of Lexington; Miss Witherspoon of Kentucky, with S. B. Mason, Jr., of Baltimore; Miss Gandy of Lexington, with Prof. W. R. Vance of Washington and Lee; Miss Lee of Virginia, with A. H. S. Rouse of Kabetown, Va.; Miss E. Price of Lexington, with H. S. Osburn of Baltimore; Miss Baxter of Staunton, with J. W. Glass of Winchester; Miss Rosa Tucker of Lexington, with J. E. Price of Charleston, W. Va.; Miss Baker of Virginia, with R. W. Barnwell of Newburg, Va.; Miss Nellie Brockmeyer of Lexington, with J. W. Moore of Staunton; Miss Dora Dennis of Baltimore, with W. P. Lamar; Miss Gandy of Lexington, with H. E. Keable, of Abilene, Tex.; Miss Ravanel of South Carolina, with W. R. Bledsoe of Lexington; Miss Moore of Staunton, with E. Moore of Lexington; Miss Wilkinson of St. Louis, with J. R. Tucker of Lexington; Miss Fannie Dillon of Indian Rock, with D. Barclay of Lexington; Miss Turner of Lexington, with Mr. Campbell of Charleston, W. Va.; Miss G. Howe, of Lexington, with B. W. Crawford of Strasburg, Va.; Miss Faur-

SORROW CAUSED BY OLLIE WILLIAMS

He Destroys the Happiness of Two Families.

FLIGHT OF FANNIE SMITH

The Guilty Pair are Flying Towards North Carolina, but They are Being Pursued and Will Likely be Captured.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) SUFFOLK, VA., June 13.—"I love him dearly, as dearly as I ever did, but I shall never live with him any more after this. I would beg first." These were the words spoken to-day by Mrs. Rosa Williams, wife of Oliver, better known as Ollie Williams, the gypsy, who forsook his wife and eloped Sunday night with Fannie Smith, the pretty 17-year-old daughter of George L. Smith, of Liberty Spring, near whose home the gypsies were camped.

"And I was deceived so badly," she went on. "Only two days before Ollie's going he came to me, and, putting me on the shoulder, he said affectionately, 'Rosa, I love you better than all the women in the world.'" Mrs. Williams cried and cried. She has been crying pretty much ever since Ollie deserted her. Mrs. Williams led to-day for Portsmouth, Va., where her home will be with her husband's mother. She leaves by the country road. She had seen an attorney as to her right to sell the horses and other things left by her husband, and he told her she might sell them. Her mother-in-law has done all she could to comfort Mrs. Williams since the great sorrow came into her life.

"I have heard that it is rumored Ollie and I were not legally married," Mrs. Williams said again. "That is a falsehood. I suppose I am getting too old for Ollie. I am 42 years old." Ollie's mother said her son had traveled much and been in good company and had company, but she had never known him to do such a thing before.

The saddest feature of the whole case is the grief-stricken home of the Smiths. The mother has wept by day and night, and the father has shed bitter tears of anguish.

"I thought once that I would not care if Fannie never came back," said Mr. Smith, "but now I feel like I want to see my girl. A father's love is very strange. I want to see and talk to Fannie." The girl just came to the only daughter in the home. There were three sons. Fannie Smith was enamored not only of Ollie Williams, but of his roving careless life. She used to go around the camp frequently, and she grew to be very friendly with Mrs. Williams, 24 years of age, who had never known when Ollie would be gone for a day or so.

Once or twice Fannie was heard to remark when referring to the camp, "How nice it is to lead a Gypsy's life! I wish I were a Gypsy."

THE SADDEST FEATURE. The day before Fannie left, she was especially gay. She tripped around the house and hummed a gay tune. The principal words were: "Just One More Day." Before Fannie went into the world with the Gypsy, she cut from a paper a sentimental poem, which was left where it might be seen.

On Sunday Fannie declined to go to church. She told her mother she had written a letter to relatives in Portsmouth, and she was going over to Frank Turner's, who would be in Portsmouth next day, and get him to deliver it. She haven't seen her since. She is said to have gotten in Williams' buggy and ridden some distance under cover of the lap robe. Williams told his wife he was going to look for Tom, who was employed to see after his horses.

TOOK HER CLOTHES. Fannie carried two frocks, both of which were worn, and some changes of underwear. She and Williams also stopped at a country store and bought some things.

They drove almost to Petersburg, where Williams learned he was being sought by officers and changed his course. It is believed that the couple is making for North Carolina, and that they will soon be captured.

Photos of each ate in the hands of detectives.

A LAWYER'S ACCIDENT.

A Flouring Mill at Remington Station Burned.

Big Damage Suits.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) WOODSTOCK, VA., June 13.—Counsel for the administrator of John F. Ridenour, William J. Botts and John W. Bauserman have instituted six suits against Lane Brothers and Company, railroad contractors, for damages, which aggregate $45,000. In an accident at Lane Brothers and Company's quarry, near Strasburg, on the 26th of last June, by the explosion of a blast, John F. Ridenour was killed, and John W. Bauserman, hearing and eyesight permanently impaired, as well as having his arm blown off, and William J. Botts was badly injured about his body and face, and had his hands mutilated.

MILLER—GRIMSLEY. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) TWYMAN'S MILL, VA., June 13.—A beautiful and impressive marriage was solemnized at the home of Rev. T. F. Grimsley, of Madison Courthouse, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, when Mr. Burnett Miller, a prominent lawyer of Culpeper, led to the altar Miss Lulu Grimsley, only child of Rev. T. F. Grimsley, of the Baptist Church, and a niece of Judge Grimsley, of Culpeper.

Rev. William Lewis officiated. The bride is one of Madison's most popular and attractive young ladies.

Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded couple left for an extended tour.

COURTS-MARTIAL IN UNITED STATES ARMY

Enlisted Men Convicted Where Officers Are Acquitted Under Similar Conditions.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—Representative Hay has introduced in the House a resolution directing the Secretary of War to inform the House of Representatives how many courts-martial have been held in the army from the first day of April, 1900, to the first day of April, 1902, including in this information how many courts-martial have been held on officers and how many on enlisted men and how many convictions have been had of enlisted men when in trial by court-martial for similar offenses.

"I want to show that a much larger number of enlisted men proportionately have been tried than officers, and that of those who have been brought before courts-martial, a still greater number of convictions have followed in the case of the enlisted men."

"As a matter of fact, enlisted men have frequently been convicted upon charges and under circumstances similar to those under which officers have been discharged."

EIGHT DAYS ON HIS BACK. And two rubbings with the celebrated Dixie Nerve and Bone Liniment cured him.

Owens & Minor Drug Company, Richmond, Va.—I have been using your Dixie Nerve and Bone Liniment on my back, and find it acts like a charm. For eight days I had been on my back and could not move, and after two applications I am now out and at business.

Very truly yours, E. C. OGBURN, North View, Va.

RUNAWAY TRAIN ON A MOUNTAIN GRADE

All Hands Jump and There is a General Wreck—The Brakes Refused to Work.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) LEXINGTON, VA., June 13.—A few days ago Mr. Taylor, the furnace superintendent of the Victoria furnace at Cochen, undertook to run a special to the recently opened iron ore mines back of the mountains adjacent to Rockbridge Alum Springs, and take some of the owners with him. As only freight flat cars are in use on this road, an engine and coach were borrowed from the Springs Company's road for the occasion. The party was carried safely to their destination by Mr. Grady, the engineer in charge, up the mountains. Just after the disembarking of the party and when the engineer attempted to turn the train around for the return trip, the brakes refused to work. Down the mountainside gathering momentum as the distance was past, sped the train, in a regular runaway. With coolness under the intense strain incident, the engineer called to the fireman and brakeman to jump for their lives which they did and landed in bushes adjacent the track without much injury. The engineer also jumped and was saved by the dense undergrowth which caught him. The train and engine rushed down the incline with terrific speed and finally left the track and a general smashup and demolition occurred with the engine and coach. Six days go-as-you-please was the order of return for the magnates of the hidden treasures of Mother Earth without calling attention to the exercise incident.

RICHMOND ARTIST'S WORK. Well Loved Professors Presented on Canvas in Familiar Guise.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) LEXINGTON, VA., June 13.—Handsome oil portraits of the late Colonel John T. L. Preston and General Thomas H. Williamson have been received at the Virginia Military Institute and will be unveiled and placed in the State Library during the commencement, week after next.

They were ordered by the Board of Visitors of the V. M. I. and are three-quarter portraits, life size. Miss Adèle Williams, of Richmond, was the artist. The exercises were conducted by the artist and adjudged to be very fine by the few permitted to see them when unpacked.

During the June term of the City Court at Buena Vista, closed yesterday, the grand jury found indictments against Mrs. E. R. Jones, W. C. Agnor, W. C. Agnor, Henry Wright and W. T. Agnor for violating the local option law prevalent in that city, and the cases were referred to the Mayor for trial this week.

ST. MARY'S ACADEMY. The Alexandria Kindergarten Association Elects Officers.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) ALEXANDRIA, VA., June 13.—The annual commencement exercises of St. Mary's Academy, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross, were held this afternoon in the opera-house before an unusually large gathering. An interesting musical and literary programme, in which the scholars participated, was rendered. The exercises were concluded with remarks by Rev. Father H. J. Cutler, after which certificates of distinction and medals were awarded. The graduation gold medal and diploma were conferred on Miss Katherine Florence McKenna, of Washington.

The Alexandria Kindergarten Association has elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing year: Mrs. John Ledbetter, president; Mr. K. Kamper, vice-president; Miss E. C. McKnight, secretary; Mr. Robert S. Jones, treasurer; Mr. John W. Herffum, press correspondent; Miss Janet B. Fawcett, kindergarten.

Interesting Announcement. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) LEXINGTON, VA., June 13.—Major and Mrs. Emily M. Houston have announced the marriage of their eldest daughter, Miss Ann Bruce Houston, to Mr. William Emrys Davis, of Knoxville, Tenn., to take place Tuesday, June 24, at their home, "Clifton," at Lexington. Miss Houston is an attractive and accomplished young lady, and is a favorite in the social circles of Lexington.

ELEGANT COUNTRY WEDDING. Miss Emma Trotter McClintic the Bride of Mr. W. P. Campbell.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) MONTEZUM, VA., June 13.—One of the most notable society events that have taken place in Highland county in many years occurred at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, when the marriage of Miss Emma Trotter McClintic, the only daughter of Mrs. Mary McClintic, and Mr. Walter P. Campbell, was solemnized in the Stone Run Church, near Bolar Springs, Va. Rev. J. H. H. Winfree, of Augustana county, officiated. The church was beautifully and artistically decorated with evergreen and potted plants. Around the altar were banks of ferns, intermingled with cut flowers. Just before the altar, a large arch tastefully arranged with vines, and suspended a floral bell, under which the ceremony was performed.

BUSINESS HOLDS UP VERY WELL INDEED

Prosperous Condition of Agricultural Sections and Bright Outlook for Crops.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, June 13.—R. G. Dun and Company's weekly review of trade to-morrow will say: No discrimination in business is apparent from labor controversies, owing to the prosperous condition of the agricultural sections and the bright outlook for this year's crop. Retail distribution of lightweight wearing apparel has felt the stimulus of a higher temperature. Railway earnings in May were 8.1 per cent. larger than last year and 2.1 per cent. above those of 1900.

There continues to be a wide discrepancy between the amount of business offered and the contracts closed in many branches of the iron and steel industry owing to the inability of producers to assure delivery at a specified time. Contracts running well into next year indicate that the end of activity is not near. Pressure is still most conspicuous for railway and structural supplies and agricultural implements works are crowded with orders.

Limited stocks are still the cause of steadiness in all branches of textiles. Holders are not urging sales and buyers show a disposition to wait. Purchasers of cotton goods are influenced by the prospect of cheaper raw material after the new crop begins to move. Cotton rose slightly on a higher temperature. Weather reports, but the outlook is very bright in many States.

Grain markets have shown the effect of conflicting crop estimates and weather reports. Failures for the week numbered 162 against 170 last year.

RECUERATION—There is not so much in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage, takes Hood's Sarsaparilla this summer.
