

MOVE FOR A BANK AT BOWLING GREEN

To Close During Church Hours Morning and Evening.

TOOK HALF OUNCE LAUDANUM

Twenty-One Sheep Killed by Lightning. Mr. Bostick Resigns as Agent at Orange—New Canning Factory Nearly Ready for Work.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA., July 14.—Mr. L. E. Martin, of Harrisville, W. Va., has been at Bowling Green, Caroline county, for some time working up interest in a State bank to be established at that place. He has induced a number of prominent citizens of the county to take stock in the enterprise, and a charter has been granted in the name of the Caroline County Bank, authorizing it to do business at Bowling Green, with E. D. Coghill, president, and L. E. Martin, cashier.

The farmers of this section are in fine spirits at the prices now prevailing for farm produce. Mr. Price G. Edwards, a prosperous young farmer of Stafford county, has just sold in this market 1,000 bushels of corn at 70 cents per bushel, and his brother sold 500 bushels at the same price. Captain M. E. Rowe, who has farms in Spotsylvania and Stafford counties, has just sold his 1,000 bushels of his new wheat in this city at 80 cents per bushel, and Mr. L. Jett, of Stafford, has delivered 1,000 bushels at a satisfactory price. Wheat and corn are now coming in in large quantities, and will continue to do so as long as prices keep up.

SHEEP KILLED BY LIGHTNING. Mr. L. W. Hill, of Madison county, lost twenty-two sheep of his large flock by lightning during a thunder storm of last week.

Mr. W. P. Bostick has resigned as joint agent of the Southern and Chesapeake and Ohio Railroads at Orange, and, with his family, will return to Burkeville, Va.

Mr. D. A. Ritchie, private secretary of Governor Montague, who was the guest a portion of Saturday and Sunday of Mr. C. I. Stengele, of this city, returned to Richmond to-day.

Mrs. Maudie Owens, of Spotsylvania county, while returning to her home yesterday from this city in a buggy, was badly hurt by her horse running away and throwing her out.

The funeral of Mrs. Maria J. C. Mason, mother of Circuit Judge J. E. Mason, took place this afternoon from St. John's Episcopal Church, at King George Courthouse, Rev. E. T. Turner, the rector, conducting the services. A large concourse of people attended, and the interment was made in the church burying ground by the side of her late husband.

NEW CANNING FACTORY. The new canning factory of E. Herts Brothers, of Baltimore, in this city, is being rapidly put in shape for handling the new tomato crop, and will soon be ready for operation. The season hereabouts has been excellent, and it is expected that the crop of tomatoes will be large, and the factory will secure enough of the product to keep it in operation through the entire season, as a large acreage was planted.

Mr. E. O. Sandy, a prominent citizen of Essex, died a few days ago, and is buried in that county. He is survived by his mother, four sisters and three brothers.

Captain S. J. Quinn, Messrs. S. E. Eastburn and J. E. Alrich have been delegates to the Executive Committee of the Sunday-school Convention to be held at Hebron Baptist Church, in Spotsylvania county, on July 23rd and 24th. Mrs. Mary A. Dixon, George L. Dixon, colored preacher, Rev. George L. Dixon, of this city, who died Sunday at the age of eighty-six, was in her early life maid in some of the most distinguished families of Virginia. She had been married to her husband for six years, and had been a member of Shiloh Colored Baptist Church here for over sixty years.

RECEIVERS ASKED FOR

Stockholders Bring Suit Against Columbian Building & Loan Association. A bill was filed by William R. Humphreys in the Law and Equity Court for the appointment of receivers for the Columbian Building and Loan Association. An order was entered for the appointment of the receiver until the 23d instant. George H. Lamar and Douglas & Douglas are counsel for the plaintiff. The plaintiff files a bill for himself and other stockholders. He holds both investment stock and borrowing stock.

The case on trial in this court yesterday was that of Walter Martin's administrators against the Richmond Traction Company for $10,000 damages. The case will not be completed before to-day.

In the Law and Equity Court a suit was brought by J. B. Gooch, through J. Preston Carson, an attorney, against the Richmond Passenger and Power Company for $250 damages. The plaintiff states that he boarded an open summer car on Louisiana Street, in Fulton, on June 18th and was unable to get down at his destination the car turned the curve at Williamsburg Avenue and he was thrown out. He works at the Cedar Works.

In the Law and Equity Court a motion was filed for judgment by J. S. Moore & Son vs. Frank M. Catagni for $1,200.74.

The time and attention of the Hustings Court was given to revenue cases. The Commonwealth's attorney presented a lengthy list of merchants and professional men who had not paid their State licenses. The matter was presented to the grand jury and true bills returned. The cases will now follow the usual course.

In the Circuit Court Irvin East was substituted in place of Thomas Hill (resigned) as trustee of the Moore-Street Missionary Baptist Church.

In the Chancery Court W. O. Nolting qualified as executor of E. H. Simpson.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to Edward H. Kahn and Annie E. Duke, and Hartwell F. Thompson and Ruby E. V. Dornick.

GREAT TENT MEETING

Successful Revival at Twentieth and Grace Streets.

To the delight of the workers of the Railroad Department, a large tent at the corner of Twentieth and Grace Streets was filled with men Sunday afternoon to hear the message by Rev. George H. Wiley. From the first hymn to the benediction there was decided manifestation of the presence and leadership of the Holy Spirit. One of the remarkable instances was the testimony of a man who had been saved on the very spot, where he stood in the tent services one year ago. There was no more hopeless drunkard and no more miserable hovel than his home. As he testified of God's marvelous saving grace, he came home in the true sense of the world's place of a hovel, and had given him purity, peace and plenty in the name of Jesus. The entire company of men were greatly wrought in this manner, and there were at least twenty requests for prayer.

W. L. DOUGLAS UNION MADE $3.50 SHOE BEST IN THE WORLD. Established 1876. For more than a quarter of a century the reputation of W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes for style, comfort, and wear has exceeded all other makes sold for $3.50. They are worn by more men in all stations of life than any other make, because they are the only $3.50 shoes that in every way equal those costing $5.00 and $6.00. They are the standard of the world. These are the reasons W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other two manufacturers.

1899, Total Sales $1,103,820.00 First Six Months $2,340,000.00 1902, Total Sales $2,340,000.00 First Six Months $2,340,000.00

Shoes by mail, 25 cents extra. Catalog free. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

RICHMOND STORE: 623 E. BROAD STREET.

It was by far the best meeting ever held by the Railroad Department. The large male chorus and orchestra of the department demonstrated their efficiency in leading the music, and most of the audience remained during the social hour that followed, and enjoyed the music furnished by them.

REMARKABLE ACCIDENT

Horse Killed and Driver Hurt on Lynchburg's Precipitous Street. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) LYNCHBURG, VA., July 13.—Paul Brown (colored) was seriously hurt here this afternoon while driving a two-horse dray down the steep grade of Ninth Street. The accident was most remarkable. Just after the wagon had passed Main Street a wheel broke and the heavy load of tobacco, with which the wagon was loaded, became freed from the pins which held it and rolled to the ground with a crash. The horses became frightened and plunged down the hill. At the corner of Main and Commerce one of them struck a water plug, which fractured one of its legs in several places. The driver was thrown to the ground and was badly injured. The fallen horse was shot by a policeman three or four times, and as it refused to die a resident of the neighborhood procured an axe and crushed his skull.

Major James C. Robertson, a former resident of Appomattox, who has been living in Mexico for a number of years, is visiting his old friends in this section. During the Civil War Major Robertson was commander of the Twentieth Virginia Infantry.

A Rare Relic. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) FREDERICKSBURG, VA., July 14.—Mayor M. G. White, of this city, has just received a valuable old record, found among the papers of the late Justice Bushrod Washington, of the United States Supreme Court, which is written on heavy paper, and splendidly preserved. It gives the proceedings of the meeting of trustees of Fredericksburg, held April 5, 1742, when Augustine Washington, father of General George Washington, was elected a member of the board to fill a vacancy caused by the death of a member. The proceedings are signed by the members of the board, who were John Tallafere, John M. Patton, Ira Thornton, John Allen, and Robert Jackson. The paper was sent by Mr. B. C. Washington, of Charlottesville, Va., who sent it that it might be preserved among the archives of the city.

It is a rare relic, and will be treasured along with the old records in the court-house here, including the will of Mary Washington, mother of George Washington, and other rare old writings.

Gone to Kentucky. Mr. Randolph Butler, of the Farmville and Powhatan Railroad, accompanied by his mother and sister, left yesterday morning for Russell and Kentucky to be gone until the 1st of August.

Dr. W. C. Slueher, of Floyd Court-house, Va., well known in this city, passed through Richmond en route from Norfolk.

JUDGESHIP AT BRISTOL. The Bar Withdraw Previous Endorsements and Name Another Man. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) BRISTOL, TENN., July 14.—After having endorsed either Judge William S. Stuart, incumbent, or Mr. J. H. Winston for judge of the court of Bristol, Va., the members of the bar held a meeting this afternoon, and after rescinding individual endorsements in the matter, passed resolutions unanimously endorsing Mr. H. Hull, Jr., assistant general counsel of the Virginia Iron, Coal and Coke Company, for judge of the Corporation Court.

Mr. Hull was not a candidate, but will accept if elected. His action of the bar is in their desire to have a candidate on whom the representatives in the Legislature from Washington county and this senatorial district could unite.

An interesting contest is being waged for the Circuit Court judgeship, the candidate being Judge William S. Stuart, of Lebanon; Judge John P. Sheffer, of Marion, and Judge Frank B. Hutton, of Abingdon.

DYING BY INCHES. A Citizen Makes His Will and Awaits the End—A Missing Wife. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) WINCHESTER, VA., July 14.—Johnson Dick, of the county, is dying by inches. Last winter his feet were frozen and gangrene developed. This is slowly creeping up his limbs, and as he is eighty years old he prefers not to have his legs amputated. He has made his will and is calmly awaiting death.

After searching through Shenandoah and Frederick counties Shenandoah discovered his wife, who mysteriously disappeared. The woman was gone four days, and claims to have been in Winchester. They live at Bloom, and neighbors threaten to run out a man said to be responsible for the disappearance.

Mr. N. B. Rhoads, who has been employed as clerk and assistant to Mr. Frank J. Duffy, of the Richmond Traction Company, has resigned his position to accept a better place with Mr. Duffy, who is now superintendent of the Savannah Electric Company, which operates all the street railway lines in Savannah.

Mr. Rhoads is a young man of energy and ability.

WOUND HEALING WELL. Condition of British Sovereign is Highly Satisfactory. (By Associated Press.) LONDON, July 14.—Following is the bulletin of King Edward's condition, posted at 10 o'clock this morning at Buckingham Palace: "The King continues to progress satisfactorily. His general condition is excellent and the wound is healing well." (Signed) "TREVES, 'LAKING, 'BARLOW."

MEASLES ON TRAINING SHIP. The Lancaster Scheduled to Sail, But Placed in Quarantine. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) NEWPORT NEWS, VA., July 14.—An epidemic of measles has broken out on the United States training ship Lancaster, lying off Old Point, and the vessel was placed in quarantine this afternoon. Three cases were discovered to-day. The Lancaster with her three hundred apprentices was scheduled to sail for Tampa Bay to-morrow, but the date of sailing has been indefinitely postponed.

Mr. Cuthbert was a genial, whole-souled man. He was a good story teller, a most entertaining conversationalist, a man of wide acquaintance with public men, and his fund of stories about his life was never exhausted. He made friends wherever he went, and by his amiable and lovable disposition seldom, if ever, lost the friendship of any one. He was a man of many of the qualities of head and heart. And all who knew him intimately, are deeply grieved by his death.

Mr. Cuthbert was born sixty-two years ago in Ireland, coming here while a mere lad. He drifted South and located in South Carolina where he worked as a plasterer. The sectional feeling, which was already running high in South Carolina, was shared by the young man, and one year before the outbreak of hostilities between the North and South he was a member of a military organization, which ultimately became a part of the First Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers. Serving through the war with distinction, he was mustered out in Richmond, where he remained, taking up journalism. About this time he became connected with the Herald. He was sent by the paper to Cuba as its correspondent in connection with the Virginius case, and took some of the best matter printed in connection with this tragic event. In 1891 Colonel Cuthbert became associated with the Richmond Dispatch as news editor, and about eight years ago went to Washington as its correspondent. As such he continued to be one of the best of our city's health for the last two years, precluded his actively participating in the work at times.

He is survived by two sisters in California, and a brother, Joseph D. Cuthbert, a member of the wellknown firm of W. & J. Sloane, of San Francisco. His parents are both dead.

A notable incident of Mr. Cuthbert's life occurred during his residence in Charleston, S. C., where his gallant defense of the South in the columns of the New York Herald so won him the gratitude of the city that he was presented with a gold watch and chain.

MR. E. CUTHBERT DIED SUNDAY

Widely Known Newspaper Man Passes Away.

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

Interment Will Be Made in the Soldiers' Section in Hollywood—Was Long a Resident of Richmond.

The remains of Mr. Eccles Cuthbert, one of the most widely known and popular southern newspaper men, reached Richmond last night from Washington, where he died on Sunday afternoon. Messrs. Allen Y. Stokes, Richard Cuthbert, James P. Wood, P. R. Noel, John Stamper, James I. McRee, Joseph W. Kates, and W. A. Mann served as active pall-bearers. Other friends of the deceased at the Byrd-Street Depot were: Messrs. Alfred E. Williams, Gust E. Deane, W. W. Archer, and George W. Minter.

The body was taken to Laube's temporary undertaking establishment on Brook Avenue, where it will remain until this afternoon. The funeral services will be conducted in the Artillery Chapel at Hollywood, at 4:30 P. M. to-day. Rev. Landon R. Mason will probably officiate. The interment will be made in the soldiers' section in Hollywood.

HIS ILLNESS. "Max" Cuthbert, as he was familiarly known to hundreds of intimate friends, had been in fairly good health for two years. He died at the Garfield Hospital in Washington.

The end came suddenly and unexpectedly. While he was very weak from some heart trouble, it was not thought the end was so near at hand. A nurse left him for a few minutes. He seemed to be sleeping peacefully. When she returned to the room he was dead.

Mr. Cuthbert was visited on Friday by his friend of many years, Mr. James P. Wood. He was then in excellent spirits, and Mr. Wood was greatly shocked when he learned of his death.

Messrs. W. D. Chesterman and John Stamper also visited Mr. Cuthbert recently.

Mr. Cuthbert was widely known and very popular in Richmond. He lived here for a quarter of a century as the southern correspondent of the New York Herald, or as one of the editors of the Dispatch. Some eight years ago he removed to Washington to become the Dispatch's representative there. When representing the Herald, he had charge of the whole southern territory for that paper. In those days he was one of the most widely known newspaper men in the country. It was Mr. Cuthbert, who gave the late Henry W. Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution, the first newspaper work that brought the Georgian into prominence. John E. Kenna, who later on became a distinguished Senator from West Virginia, did newspaper work under him.

A POPULAR MAN. Mr. Cuthbert was a genial, whole-souled man. He was a good story teller, a most entertaining conversationalist, a man of wide acquaintance with public men, and his fund of stories about his life was never exhausted. He made friends wherever he went, and by his amiable and lovable disposition seldom, if ever, lost the friendship of any one. He was a man of many of the qualities of head and heart. And all who knew him intimately, are deeply grieved by his death.

Mr. Cuthbert was born sixty-two years ago in Ireland, coming here while a mere lad. He drifted South and located in South Carolina where he worked as a plasterer. The sectional feeling, which was already running high in South Carolina, was shared by the young man, and one year before the outbreak of hostilities between the North and South he was a member of a military organization, which ultimately became a part of the First Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers. Serving through the war with distinction, he was mustered out in Richmond, where he remained, taking up journalism. About this time he became connected with the Herald. He was sent by the paper to Cuba as its correspondent in connection with the Virginius case, and took some of the best matter printed in connection with this tragic event. In 1891 Colonel Cuthbert became associated with the Richmond Dispatch as news editor, and about eight years ago went to Washington as its correspondent. As such he continued to be one of the best of our city's health for the last two years, precluded his actively participating in the work at times.

He is survived by two sisters in California, and a brother, Joseph D. Cuthbert, a member of the wellknown firm of W. & J. Sloane, of San Francisco. His parents are both dead.

A notable incident of Mr. Cuthbert's life occurred during his residence in Charleston, S. C., where his gallant defense of the South in the columns of the New York Herald so won him the gratitude of the city that he was presented with a gold watch and chain.

Mr. Cuthbert was widely known and very popular in Richmond. He lived here for a quarter of a century as the southern correspondent of the New York Herald, or as one of the editors of the Dispatch. Some eight years ago he removed to Washington to become the Dispatch's representative there. When representing the Herald, he had charge of the whole southern territory for that paper. In those days he was one of the most widely known newspaper men in the country. It was Mr. Cuthbert, who gave the late Henry W. Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution, the first newspaper work that brought the Georgian into prominence. John E. Kenna, who later on became a distinguished Senator from West Virginia, did newspaper work under him.

A POPULAR MAN. Mr. Cuthbert was a genial, whole-souled man. He was a good story teller, a most entertaining conversationalist, a man of wide acquaintance with public men, and his fund of stories about his life was never exhausted. He made friends wherever he went, and by his amiable and lovable disposition seldom, if ever, lost the friendship of any one. He was a man of many of the qualities of head and heart. And all who knew him intimately, are deeply grieved by his death.

Mr. Cuthbert was born sixty-two years ago in Ireland, coming here while a mere lad. He drifted South and located in South Carolina where he worked as a plasterer. The sectional feeling, which was already running high in South Carolina, was shared by the young man, and one year before the outbreak of hostilities between the North and South he was a member of a military organization, which ultimately became a part of the First Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers. Serving through the war with distinction, he was mustered out in Richmond, where he remained, taking up journalism. About this time he became connected with the Herald. He was sent by the paper to Cuba as its correspondent in connection with the Virginius case, and took some of the best matter printed in connection with this tragic event. In 1891 Colonel Cuthbert became associated with the Richmond Dispatch as news editor, and about eight years ago went to Washington as its correspondent. As such he continued to be one of the best of our city's health for the last two years, precluded his actively participating in the work at times.

He is survived by two sisters in California, and a brother, Joseph D. Cuthbert, a member of the wellknown firm of W. & J. Sloane, of San Francisco. His parents are both dead.

A notable incident of Mr. Cuthbert's life occurred during his residence in Charleston, S. C., where his gallant defense of the South in the columns of the New York Herald so won him the gratitude of the city that he was presented with a gold watch and chain.

Mr. Cuthbert was widely known and very popular in Richmond. He lived here for a quarter of a century as the southern correspondent of the New York Herald, or as one of the editors of the Dispatch. Some eight years ago he removed to Washington to become the Dispatch's representative there. When representing the Herald, he had charge of the whole southern territory for that paper. In those days he was one of the most widely known newspaper men in the country. It was Mr. Cuthbert, who gave the late Henry W. Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution, the first newspaper work that brought the Georgian into prominence. John E. Kenna, who later on became a distinguished Senator from West Virginia, did newspaper work under him.

A POPULAR MAN. Mr. Cuthbert was a genial, whole-souled man. He was a good story teller, a most entertaining conversationalist, a man of wide acquaintance with public men, and his fund of stories about his life was never exhausted. He made friends wherever he went, and by his amiable and lovable disposition seldom, if ever, lost the friendship of any one. He was a man of many of the qualities of head and heart. And all who knew him intimately, are deeply grieved by his death.

Mr. Cuthbert was born sixty-two years ago in Ireland, coming here while a mere lad. He drifted South and located in South Carolina where he worked as a plasterer. The sectional feeling, which was already running high in South Carolina, was shared by the young man, and one year before the outbreak of hostilities between the North and South he was a member of a military organization, which ultimately became a part of the First Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers. Serving through the war with distinction, he was mustered out in Richmond, where he remained, taking up journalism. About this time he became connected with the Herald. He was sent by the paper to Cuba as its correspondent in connection with the Virginius case, and took some of the best matter printed in connection with this tragic event. In 1891 Colonel Cuthbert became associated with the Richmond Dispatch as news editor, and about eight years ago went to Washington as its correspondent. As such he continued to be one of the best of our city's health for the last two years, precluded his actively participating in the work at times.

He is survived by two sisters in California, and a brother, Joseph D. Cuthbert, a member of the wellknown firm of W. & J. Sloane, of San Francisco. His parents are both dead.

A notable incident of Mr. Cuthbert's life occurred during his residence in Charleston, S. C., where his gallant defense of the South in the columns of the New York Herald so won him the gratitude of the city that he was presented with a gold watch and chain.

Mr. Cuthbert was widely known and very popular in Richmond. He lived here for a quarter of a century as the southern correspondent of the New York Herald, or as one of the editors of the Dispatch. Some eight years ago he removed to Washington to become the Dispatch's representative there. When representing the Herald, he had charge of the whole southern territory for that paper. In those days he was one of the most widely known newspaper men in the country. It was Mr. Cuthbert, who gave the late Henry W. Grady, of the Atlanta Constitution, the first newspaper work that brought the Georgian into prominence. John E. Kenna, who later on became a distinguished Senator from West Virginia, did newspaper work under him.

A POPULAR MAN. Mr. Cuthbert was a genial, whole-souled man. He was a good story teller, a most entertaining conversationalist, a man of wide acquaintance with public men, and his fund of stories about his life was never exhausted. He made friends wherever he went, and by his amiable and lovable disposition seldom, if ever, lost the friendship of any one. He was a man of many of the qualities of head and heart. And all who knew him intimately, are deeply grieved by his death.

Mr. Cuthbert was born sixty-two years ago in Ireland, coming here while a mere lad. He drifted South and located in South Carolina where he worked as a plasterer. The sectional feeling, which was already running high in South Carolina, was shared by the young man, and one year before the outbreak of hostilities between the North and South he was a member of a military organization, which ultimately became a part of the First Regiment of South Carolina Volunteers. Serving through the war with distinction, he was mustered out in Richmond, where he remained, taking up journalism. About this time he became connected with the Herald. He was sent by the paper to Cuba as its correspondent in connection with the Virginius case, and took some of the best matter printed in connection with this tragic event. In 1891 Colonel Cuthbert became associated with the Richmond Dispatch as news editor, and about eight years ago went to Washington as its correspondent. As such he continued to be one of the best of our city's health for the last two years, precluded his actively participating in the work at times.

He is survived by two sisters in California, and a brother, Joseph D. Cuthbert, a member of the wellknown firm of W. & J. Sloane, of San Francisco. His parents are both dead.

The largest selling brands of Cigars in the world! CUBANOLA 5¢, CREMO 5¢, FLORODORA 3 for 10¢, GEO. W. CHILDS 5¢, JACKSON SQUARE 5¢. One Band from "FLORODORA" Cigars or Two Bands from "CUBANOLA," "CREMO," "GEO. W. CHILDS" or "JACKSON SQUARE" Cigars are of same value as one Tag from "E. RICE GREENVILLE," "DRUMMOND" NATURAL LEAF, "OLD PEACH & HONEY," "STAR," "GOODLUCK," or "RAZOR" Tobacco.

Cafeterian AND IT STAYS CURED. Cures Headache. Cafeterian is harmless, and may be taken freely. It contains no Morphine, Cocaine, Opium, Phenacetine or any other dangerous drug. Cafeterian is pleasant to the taste; it braces the nervous system, invigorates the mind and relieves mental exhaustion; it cures insomnia and all forms of nervousness and nervous dyspepsia. Cafeterian does not depress, as nearly all other headache remedies do; there are never any unpleasant effects after taking Cafeterian; the headache is gone, that is all. Cafeterian is recommended by physicians to the ladies, whose social claims demand late hours, and to the gentlemen who have indiscreetly lingered too long with convivial companions. Cafeterian is sold both as a pleasant tasting liquid and as an effervescent salt. It is undoubtedly the best headache remedy ever offered the public. For sale by druggists and at the soda fountains. Sample bottles 10 cents.

BAR TO MEET NEXT TUESDAY

Three-Cornered Fight for Chancery Judge to Be Settled.

The great fight for judge of the Chancery Court to succeed Judge James C. Lamb, who will voluntarily retire from the bench on October 5th, will be settled next Tuesday.

The following call was issued for a meeting of the bar yesterday afternoon: "At the request of the several candidates, we, the undersigned, have fixed upon Tuesday, July 22d, at 11 o'clock A. M., as the time, and the hall of the Chamber of Commerce as the place, for a meeting of the white members of the Richmond bar, to be held in recommending a successor to the Hon. James C. Lamb as judge of the Chancery Court of the city of Richmond."

GEORGE L. CHRISTIAN, GEORGE D. WISE, B. RAND, WELFORD, OVEN, ON HOWARD, S. S. PATTENSON, SOL. CUTCHINS.

The fight is a three-cornered one, and while good-natured and on a high plane, it has become very spirited. The candidates are Messrs. Daniel Ginnan, Spencer Guy and G. Carlton Jackson, all splendid lawyers, well recognized, especially in the chancery branch, and they are men of the very highest character. It is said that Mr. Ginnan is leading, with nearly a hundred lawyers behind him, and that the next highest man is Mr. Guy, whose friends are claiming that he has over seventy supporters. Mr. Jackson has strong backing, but it is not so heavy as that of his competitors. The meeting will be one of the most important of the year, and not only of the Bar Association. The friends of the three aspirants are all hard at work and will continue their activity until the battle is over. There has been rumors of combinations, but it is known that any such move is contemplated. The meeting of the bar promises to be the largest ever held in the city, and nearly every practicing lawyer is expected to attend.

The appointment will be made by Governor Montague, as the Legislature will not be in session when the vacancy occurs. It is understood that His Excellency will name whoever the bar shall endorse.

Died From Fright. (Special Dispatch to The Times.) TAZEWELL, VIRGINIA, July 14.—A white man by the name of Houc, who resides in Abys Valley, was returning from Pochontans drunk Thursday and on his way home he overtook John Bolen, a colored youth. Upon approaching the boy he drew a pistol from his pocket and ordered him, as he expressed it, "to dip in." The boy, being frightened, ran very fast for a short distance, but was soon overcome by heat and very shortly had convulsions, from which he died.

NOT BADLY HURT

Mrs. Gordon McCabe Only Slightly Injured.

A special telegram to The Times from Warrenton, Oregon, says: "The report that Mrs. Gordon McCabe, of Richmond, was seriously hurt last Saturday was exaggerated. The team driving the Hot Springs bus ran away and threw several occupants out, among whom were Mrs. McCabe and the streams run slightly bruised and her nerves shocked. She returned to Richmond the same day. The driver fared the worst. The bus was torn to pieces and some of the occupants were hurt, but none seriously. The parties who know the full damage refuse to give newspaper men any information whatever, consequently the exact injury cannot be gotten."

To Put on News Shows.

Captain Pizzini is expected to return to the city to-day or to-morrow. Manager Fritchhorn, of West-End Electric Park, said last night that he expected some ten additional shows as a result of President Pizzini's visit to the North. A new feature on the midway is the view of the Boer War, a realistic picture of a group of English soldiers on duty. The natorium was emptied yesterday afternoon during the storm and was thoroughly scrubbed. The clean water was turned in last night, and the bath will be full by 3 o'clock if the streams run on schedule time, so the pool will be ready for those who take their early morning dip in the natorium. The principal deposit in the natorium was a large quantity of chewing gum.

Want Advice About Your Eyes,

or eye-lashes? If you are going on your vacation, you would do well to let us inspect your eye-lashes and put them in good condition. You have doubtless experienced the difficulty and inconvenience of getting glasses repaired, or lenses properly adjusted in the mountains and at the seashore. Smoke-gases are just the thing to wear to prevent ill effects from the glare of the sun on the bright sand at the seashore! Better let us fix you up before you leave!

Lumsden 751 MAIN ST.