

THE TIMES COMPANY. THE DAILY TIMES, when delivered by carrier, is ten cents per week or fifty cents per month. By mail, $1.00 per year or $2.00 per month. Sunday Times, $1.50 per year.

DR. HAWTHORNE'S CRUSADE. We have watched with keen interest the crusade which the Rev. Dr. J. B. Hawthorne has been making against vice and corruption in Richmond.

ment, and the days of the Republic are numbered. "Have our opponents given consideration to the scope of the programme which has been outlined by the Chief Executive, that a constitutional amendment shall confer upon Congress the control of State corporations? Do they realize that this would mean the transfer from the State to the Federal courts of the great mass of business affecting personal rights and local interests wherever they come in contact with any corporate body? Do they realize that this policy would mean the degradation of the State courts to little more than the functions of a justice of the peace or a police judge to try cases of individual assault and battery and petty larceny?"

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

decline the honor of nomination if it is tendered to him—Exchange. "The General ought to know that the pros has long since set upon the day when so fat and so honorable an office is not rushing around in search of the man."

There may be, as reported, general apathy throughout the country as to the election of a new president, but it does not prevail in the administration, nearly every man of which, from top to bottom, is doing his best to win up a Republican victory at the polls.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Savannah negro was sentenced to two months on the chain for stealing a pickled pig's foot.—Atlanta Journal.

Virginia cannot afford to be misrepresented at the St. Louis Exposition. The State is a large and important factor at the Jamestown Exposition. Let's quit monkeying about the matter and show the West that the Old Dominion is thoroughly up-to-date.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

Respectfully referred to the Virginia Legislature.

The Hon. Jno. F. Ryan, of Loudoun, has been called upon to decide between remaining a bachelor and being a candidate for Governor.—Manassas Journal.

By which is meant that the unwritten law of Virginia is to the effect that a man who persistently refuses to try to govern a household will not be allowed to try to govern the Commonwealth.

Remarks About Richmond. Blackstone Courier: Our esteemed contemporaries, The Times and Dispatch, of Richmond, were fined two dollars in the Police Court for issuing their papers on Sunday. We fear the reform will make Richmond so good that it will take wings and move off the earth. But, then, just think of the after-collapse. Of course, our contemporaries will continue with their Sunday issues and Richmond will be no worse thereby.

Old Dominion Sun: Richmond is now suffering from a spasm of reform. It was stated that not even a cigar or a newspaper would be allowed to be sold there last Sunday. Like with all spasms a reaction is sure to come, and it may be a question whether the last estate may not be worse than the first. Go slow, neighbor, and don't become Puritanic in your struggle after moral exaltation. Human nature is as human now as it always has been, and you can't by any magician's touch change it.

Fredericksburg Free Lance: If Richmond keeps up her recent record of events she will be called the New York of the South.

Petersburg Index-Appel: A Richmond saloon-keeper is quoted as saying that the Democratic party cannot again enter Richmond in a local election. The ground of this prediction is the reform war now on in that city. This puts it up squarely to the church members, who are conducting this war, to go actively into politics and prove which is the stronger, the church or the saloon.

West Point Plain Dealer: The recent chilly weather did not prevent the Richmond Horse Show from being a warm number.

Farmville Herald: We heard at least one man say that Richmond's Horse Show was just as good as the New York Horse Show, and he said he knew what he was talking about. We have no doubt of it, either, though we have only seen the Richmond variety. That can't be heard. There is nothing small about Richmond, however.

Newport News Press: Some Richmond saloon-keepers who object to closing their bars on Sunday are said to have tarred their heads with the Democratic party if the Sunday closing movement is pushed any further in that city. By all means, no party should want the support of men who object to the rule of the law.

There is a prophet in Virginia somewhere who ought to be hung as high as Haman. He has predicted that when the Legislature meets it will hold on for at least eight months and perhaps a year.

Those Boston missionaries who traded reserved seats in heaven for corner lots and small farms in Hawaii doubtless thought they were doing a land office business.

The white man seems to have found another burden of considerable dimensions in Somaliland, but just why he went that far to look for it is a mystery.

Political speakers in Nebraska are complaining of small audiences and poor attention. The people out there are too busy cashing in their big crops.

In the very nature of the case, the White House is a temporary White House, so far as the occupant is concerned.

Virginia sportsmen will please take notice that a boy has been convicted of manslaughter in Connecticut for mistaking his companion for a bird.

They have struck oil in Tennessee. That is getting pretty close by. Surely we will strike a gusher or two in old Virginia next.

When Senator Mason said "I am a Republican first of all, and am not a boiter," the Democrats applauded with greatest enthusiasm.

All the bricks that are keeping ex-Senator Hill dodging are not thrown by Republicans.

And now we are to have a dog show, which can be made something of a social event also.

A doubtful reformer is the youngest who stole a Bible from the East End Church to "reform" by.

It would be only natural if King Oscar's decision against Uncle Sam should dampen the old gentleman's enthusiasm for arbitration.

By the way, where does the National Civic Federation come in on this strike settlement business?

Over in North Carolina the Republicans now have a monopoly on the negro as a disturbing factor in politics.

Somebody evidently has a soft coal snap in Richmond.

With a Comment or Two. General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, says that he will not race for the United States Senate, but he will not

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

decline the honor of nomination if it is tendered to him—Exchange. "The General ought to know that the pros has long since set upon the day when so fat and so honorable an office is not rushing around in search of the man."

There may be, as reported, general apathy throughout the country as to the election of a new president, but it does not prevail in the administration, nearly every man of which, from top to bottom, is doing his best to win up a Republican victory at the polls.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Savannah negro was sentenced to two months on the chain for stealing a pickled pig's foot.—Atlanta Journal.

Virginia cannot afford to be misrepresented at the St. Louis Exposition. The State is a large and important factor at the Jamestown Exposition. Let's quit monkeying about the matter and show the West that the Old Dominion is thoroughly up-to-date.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

Respectfully referred to the Virginia Legislature.

The Hon. Jno. F. Ryan, of Loudoun, has been called upon to decide between remaining a bachelor and being a candidate for Governor.—Manassas Journal.

By which is meant that the unwritten law of Virginia is to the effect that a man who persistently refuses to try to govern a household will not be allowed to try to govern the Commonwealth.

Remarks About Richmond. Blackstone Courier: Our esteemed contemporaries, The Times and Dispatch, of Richmond, were fined two dollars in the Police Court for issuing their papers on Sunday. We fear the reform will make Richmond so good that it will take wings and move off the earth. But, then, just think of the after-collapse. Of course, our contemporaries will continue with their Sunday issues and Richmond will be no worse thereby.

Old Dominion Sun: Richmond is now suffering from a spasm of reform. It was stated that not even a cigar or a newspaper would be allowed to be sold there last Sunday. Like with all spasms a reaction is sure to come, and it may be a question whether the last estate may not be worse than the first. Go slow, neighbor, and don't become Puritanic in your struggle after moral exaltation. Human nature is as human now as it always has been, and you can't by any magician's touch change it.

Fredericksburg Free Lance: If Richmond keeps up her recent record of events she will be called the New York of the South.

Petersburg Index-Appel: A Richmond saloon-keeper is quoted as saying that the Democratic party cannot again enter Richmond in a local election. The ground of this prediction is the reform war now on in that city. This puts it up squarely to the church members, who are conducting this war, to go actively into politics and prove which is the stronger, the church or the saloon.

West Point Plain Dealer: The recent chilly weather did not prevent the Richmond Horse Show from being a warm number.

Farmville Herald: We heard at least one man say that Richmond's Horse Show was just as good as the New York Horse Show, and he said he knew what he was talking about. We have no doubt of it, either, though we have only seen the Richmond variety. That can't be heard. There is nothing small about Richmond, however.

Newport News Press: Some Richmond saloon-keepers who object to closing their bars on Sunday are said to have tarred their heads with the Democratic party if the Sunday closing movement is pushed any further in that city. By all means, no party should want the support of men who object to the rule of the law.

There is a prophet in Virginia somewhere who ought to be hung as high as Haman. He has predicted that when the Legislature meets it will hold on for at least eight months and perhaps a year.

Those Boston missionaries who traded reserved seats in heaven for corner lots and small farms in Hawaii doubtless thought they were doing a land office business.

The white man seems to have found another burden of considerable dimensions in Somaliland, but just why he went that far to look for it is a mystery.

Political speakers in Nebraska are complaining of small audiences and poor attention. The people out there are too busy cashing in their big crops.

In the very nature of the case, the White House is a temporary White House, so far as the occupant is concerned.

Virginia sportsmen will please take notice that a boy has been convicted of manslaughter in Connecticut for mistaking his companion for a bird.

They have struck oil in Tennessee. That is getting pretty close by. Surely we will strike a gusher or two in old Virginia next.

When Senator Mason said "I am a Republican first of all, and am not a boiter," the Democrats applauded with greatest enthusiasm.

All the bricks that are keeping ex-Senator Hill dodging are not thrown by Republicans.

And now we are to have a dog show, which can be made something of a social event also.

A doubtful reformer is the youngest who stole a Bible from the East End Church to "reform" by.

It would be only natural if King Oscar's decision against Uncle Sam should dampen the old gentleman's enthusiasm for arbitration.

By the way, where does the National Civic Federation come in on this strike settlement business?

Over in North Carolina the Republicans now have a monopoly on the negro as a disturbing factor in politics.

Somebody evidently has a soft coal snap in Richmond.

With a Comment or Two. General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, says that he will not race for the United States Senate, but he will not

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

decline the honor of nomination if it is tendered to him—Exchange. "The General ought to know that the pros has long since set upon the day when so fat and so honorable an office is not rushing around in search of the man."

ment, and the days of the Republic are numbered. "Have our opponents given consideration to the scope of the programme which has been outlined by the Chief Executive, that a constitutional amendment shall confer upon Congress the control of State corporations? Do they realize that this would mean the transfer from the State to the Federal courts of the great mass of business affecting personal rights and local interests wherever they come in contact with any corporate body? Do they realize that this policy would mean the degradation of the State courts to little more than the functions of a justice of the peace or a police judge to try cases of individual assault and battery and petty larceny?"

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

decline the honor of nomination if it is tendered to him—Exchange. "The General ought to know that the pros has long since set upon the day when so fat and so honorable an office is not rushing around in search of the man."

There may be, as reported, general apathy throughout the country as to the election of a new president, but it does not prevail in the administration, nearly every man of which, from top to bottom, is doing his best to win up a Republican victory at the polls.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Savannah negro was sentenced to two months on the chain for stealing a pickled pig's foot.—Atlanta Journal.

Virginia cannot afford to be misrepresented at the St. Louis Exposition. The State is a large and important factor at the Jamestown Exposition. Let's quit monkeying about the matter and show the West that the Old Dominion is thoroughly up-to-date.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

Respectfully referred to the Virginia Legislature.

The Hon. Jno. F. Ryan, of Loudoun, has been called upon to decide between remaining a bachelor and being a candidate for Governor.—Manassas Journal.

By which is meant that the unwritten law of Virginia is to the effect that a man who persistently refuses to try to govern a household will not be allowed to try to govern the Commonwealth.

Remarks About Richmond. Blackstone Courier: Our esteemed contemporaries, The Times and Dispatch, of Richmond, were fined two dollars in the Police Court for issuing their papers on Sunday. We fear the reform will make Richmond so good that it will take wings and move off the earth. But, then, just think of the after-collapse. Of course, our contemporaries will continue with their Sunday issues and Richmond will be no worse thereby.

Old Dominion Sun: Richmond is now suffering from a spasm of reform. It was stated that not even a cigar or a newspaper would be allowed to be sold there last Sunday. Like with all spasms a reaction is sure to come, and it may be a question whether the last estate may not be worse than the first. Go slow, neighbor, and don't become Puritanic in your struggle after moral exaltation. Human nature is as human now as it always has been, and you can't by any magician's touch change it.

Fredericksburg Free Lance: If Richmond keeps up her recent record of events she will be called the New York of the South.

Petersburg Index-Appel: A Richmond saloon-keeper is quoted as saying that the Democratic party cannot again enter Richmond in a local election. The ground of this prediction is the reform war now on in that city. This puts it up squarely to the church members, who are conducting this war, to go actively into politics and prove which is the stronger, the church or the saloon.

West Point Plain Dealer: The recent chilly weather did not prevent the Richmond Horse Show from being a warm number.

Farmville Herald: We heard at least one man say that Richmond's Horse Show was just as good as the New York Horse Show, and he said he knew what he was talking about. We have no doubt of it, either, though we have only seen the Richmond variety. That can't be heard. There is nothing small about Richmond, however.

Newport News Press: Some Richmond saloon-keepers who object to closing their bars on Sunday are said to have tarred their heads with the Democratic party if the Sunday closing movement is pushed any further in that city. By all means, no party should want the support of men who object to the rule of the law.

There is a prophet in Virginia somewhere who ought to be hung as high as Haman. He has predicted that when the Legislature meets it will hold on for at least eight months and perhaps a year.

Those Boston missionaries who traded reserved seats in heaven for corner lots and small farms in Hawaii doubtless thought they were doing a land office business.

The white man seems to have found another burden of considerable dimensions in Somaliland, but just why he went that far to look for it is a mystery.

Political speakers in Nebraska are complaining of small audiences and poor attention. The people out there are too busy cashing in their big crops.

In the very nature of the case, the White House is a temporary White House, so far as the occupant is concerned.

Virginia sportsmen will please take notice that a boy has been convicted of manslaughter in Connecticut for mistaking his companion for a bird.

They have struck oil in Tennessee. That is getting pretty close by. Surely we will strike a gusher or two in old Virginia next.

When Senator Mason said "I am a Republican first of all, and am not a boiter," the Democrats applauded with greatest enthusiasm.

All the bricks that are keeping ex-Senator Hill dodging are not thrown by Republicans.

And now we are to have a dog show, which can be made something of a social event also.

A doubtful reformer is the youngest who stole a Bible from the East End Church to "reform" by.

It would be only natural if King Oscar's decision against Uncle Sam should dampen the old gentleman's enthusiasm for arbitration.

By the way, where does the National Civic Federation come in on this strike settlement business?

Over in North Carolina the Republicans now have a monopoly on the negro as a disturbing factor in politics.

Somebody evidently has a soft coal snap in Richmond.

With a Comment or Two. General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, says that he will not race for the United States Senate, but he will not

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

ment, and the days of the Republic are numbered. "Have our opponents given consideration to the scope of the programme which has been outlined by the Chief Executive, that a constitutional amendment shall confer upon Congress the control of State corporations? Do they realize that this would mean the transfer from the State to the Federal courts of the great mass of business affecting personal rights and local interests wherever they come in contact with any corporate body? Do they realize that this policy would mean the degradation of the State courts to little more than the functions of a justice of the peace or a police judge to try cases of individual assault and battery and petty larceny?"

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

decline the honor of nomination if it is tendered to him—Exchange. "The General ought to know that the pros has long since set upon the day when so fat and so honorable an office is not rushing around in search of the man."

There may be, as reported, general apathy throughout the country as to the election of a new president, but it does not prevail in the administration, nearly every man of which, from top to bottom, is doing his best to win up a Republican victory at the polls.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Savannah negro was sentenced to two months on the chain for stealing a pickled pig's foot.—Atlanta Journal.

Virginia cannot afford to be misrepresented at the St. Louis Exposition. The State is a large and important factor at the Jamestown Exposition. Let's quit monkeying about the matter and show the West that the Old Dominion is thoroughly up-to-date.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

Respectfully referred to the Virginia Legislature.

The Hon. Jno. F. Ryan, of Loudoun, has been called upon to decide between remaining a bachelor and being a candidate for Governor.—Manassas Journal.

By which is meant that the unwritten law of Virginia is to the effect that a man who persistently refuses to try to govern a household will not be allowed to try to govern the Commonwealth.

Remarks About Richmond. Blackstone Courier: Our esteemed contemporaries, The Times and Dispatch, of Richmond, were fined two dollars in the Police Court for issuing their papers on Sunday. We fear the reform will make Richmond so good that it will take wings and move off the earth. But, then, just think of the after-collapse. Of course, our contemporaries will continue with their Sunday issues and Richmond will be no worse thereby.

Old Dominion Sun: Richmond is now suffering from a spasm of reform. It was stated that not even a cigar or a newspaper would be allowed to be sold there last Sunday. Like with all spasms a reaction is sure to come, and it may be a question whether the last estate may not be worse than the first. Go slow, neighbor, and don't become Puritanic in your struggle after moral exaltation. Human nature is as human now as it always has been, and you can't by any magician's touch change it.

Fredericksburg Free Lance: If Richmond keeps up her recent record of events she will be called the New York of the South.

Petersburg Index-Appel: A Richmond saloon-keeper is quoted as saying that the Democratic party cannot again enter Richmond in a local election. The ground of this prediction is the reform war now on in that city. This puts it up squarely to the church members, who are conducting this war, to go actively into politics and prove which is the stronger, the church or the saloon.

West Point Plain Dealer: The recent chilly weather did not prevent the Richmond Horse Show from being a warm number.

Farmville Herald: We heard at least one man say that Richmond's Horse Show was just as good as the New York Horse Show, and he said he knew what he was talking about. We have no doubt of it, either, though we have only seen the Richmond variety. That can't be heard. There is nothing small about Richmond, however.

Newport News Press: Some Richmond saloon-keepers who object to closing their bars on Sunday are said to have tarred their heads with the Democratic party if the Sunday closing movement is pushed any further in that city. By all means, no party should want the support of men who object to the rule of the law.

There is a prophet in Virginia somewhere who ought to be hung as high as Haman. He has predicted that when the Legislature meets it will hold on for at least eight months and perhaps a year.

Those Boston missionaries who traded reserved seats in heaven for corner lots and small farms in Hawaii doubtless thought they were doing a land office business.

The white man seems to have found another burden of considerable dimensions in Somaliland, but just why he went that far to look for it is a mystery.

Political speakers in Nebraska are complaining of small audiences and poor attention. The people out there are too busy cashing in their big crops.

In the very nature of the case, the White House is a temporary White House, so far as the occupant is concerned.

Virginia sportsmen will please take notice that a boy has been convicted of manslaughter in Connecticut for mistaking his companion for a bird.

They have struck oil in Tennessee. That is getting pretty close by. Surely we will strike a gusher or two in old Virginia next.

When Senator Mason said "I am a Republican first of all, and am not a boiter," the Democrats applauded with greatest enthusiasm.

All the bricks that are keeping ex-Senator Hill dodging are not thrown by Republicans.

And now we are to have a dog show, which can be made something of a social event also.

A doubtful reformer is the youngest who stole a Bible from the East End Church to "reform" by.

It would be only natural if King Oscar's decision against Uncle Sam should dampen the old gentleman's enthusiasm for arbitration.

By the way, where does the National Civic Federation come in on this strike settlement business?

Over in North Carolina the Republicans now have a monopoly on the negro as a disturbing factor in politics.

Somebody evidently has a soft coal snap in Richmond.

With a Comment or Two. General Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina, says that he will not race for the United States Senate, but he will not

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

ment, and the days of the Republic are numbered. "Have our opponents given consideration to the scope of the programme which has been outlined by the Chief Executive, that a constitutional amendment shall confer upon Congress the control of State corporations? Do they realize that this would mean the transfer from the State to the Federal courts of the great mass of business affecting personal rights and local interests wherever they come in contact with any corporate body? Do they realize that this policy would mean the degradation of the State courts to little more than the functions of a justice of the peace or a police judge to try cases of individual assault and battery and petty larceny?"

and to promote the moral welfare of the community. It is for the officers to carry out the law in such a way as in their judgment and discretion best tends to produce that result, holding themselves accountable, to be sure, for transcending their authority or neglecting their duty.

THE PUBLIC WANT TO KNOW. The Council has refused to investigate the charges that have been made by the grand jury against some of its members, and the people must submit.

decline the honor of nomination if it is tendered to him—Exchange. "The General ought to know that the pros has long since set upon the day when so fat and so honorable an office is not rushing around in search of the man."

There may be, as reported, general apathy throughout the country as to the election of a new president, but it does not prevail in the administration, nearly every man of which, from top to bottom, is doing his best to win up a Republican victory at the polls.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Savannah negro was sentenced to two months on the chain for stealing a pickled pig's foot.—Atlanta Journal.

Virginia cannot afford to be misrepresented at the St. Louis Exposition. The State is a large and important factor at the Jamestown Exposition. Let's quit monkeying about the matter and show the West that the Old Dominion is thoroughly up-to-date.—Fredericksburg Free Lance.

Respectfully referred to the Virginia Legislature.

The Hon. Jno. F. Ryan, of Loudoun, has been called upon to decide between remaining a bachelor and being a candidate for Governor.—Manassas Journal.

By which is meant that the unwritten law of Virginia is to the effect that a man who persistently refuses to try to govern a household will not be allowed to try to govern the Commonwealth.

Remarks About Richmond. Blackstone Courier: Our esteemed contemporaries, The Times and Dispatch, of Richmond, were fined two dollars in the Police Court for issuing their papers on Sunday. We fear the reform will make Richmond so good that it will take wings and move off the earth. But, then, just think of the after-collapse. Of course, our contemporaries will continue with their Sunday issues and Richmond will be no worse thereby.

Old Dominion Sun: Richmond is now suffering from a spasm of reform. It was stated that not even a cigar or a newspaper would be allowed to be sold there last Sunday. Like with all spasms a reaction is sure to come, and it may be a question whether the last estate may not be worse than the first. Go slow, neighbor, and don't become Puritanic in your struggle after moral exaltation. Human nature is as human now as it always has been, and you can't by any magician's touch change it.

Fredericksburg Free Lance: If Richmond keeps up her recent record of events she will be called the New York of the South.

Petersburg Index-Appel: A Richmond saloon-keeper is quoted as saying that the Democratic party cannot again enter Richmond in a local election. The ground of this prediction is the reform war now on in that city. This puts it up squarely to the church members, who are conducting this war, to go actively into politics and prove which is the stronger, the church or the saloon.

West Point Plain Dealer: The recent chilly weather did not prevent the Richmond Horse Show from being a warm number.

Farmville Herald: We heard at least one man say that Richmond's Horse Show was just as good as the New York Horse Show, and he said he knew what he was talking about. We have no doubt of it, either, though we have only seen the Richmond variety. That can't be heard. There is nothing small about Richmond, however.

Newport News Press: Some Richmond saloon-keepers who object to closing their bars on Sunday are said to have tarred their heads with the Democratic party if the Sunday closing movement is pushed any further in that city. By all means, no party should want the support of men who object to the rule of the law.

There is a prophet in Virginia somewhere who ought to be hung as high as Haman. He has predicted that when the Legislature meets it will hold on for at least eight months and perhaps a year.

Those Boston missionaries who traded reserved seats in heaven for corner lots and small farms in Hawaii doubtless thought they were doing a land office business.

The white man seems to have found another burden of considerable dimensions in Somaliland, but just why he went that far to look for it is a mystery.

Political speakers in Nebraska are complaining of small audiences and poor attention. The people out there are too busy cashing in their big crops.

In the very nature of the case, the White House is a temporary White House, so far as the occupant is concerned.

Virginia sportsmen will please take notice that a boy has been convicted of manslaughter in Connecticut for mistaking his companion for a bird.

They have struck oil in Tennessee. That is getting pretty close by. Surely we will strike a gusher or two in old Virginia next.

When Senator Mason said "I am a Republican first of all, and am not a boiter," the Democrats applauded with greatest enthusiasm.

<