

NOTHING HEARD ABOUT GARDNER The Traveling Salesman is Still at Large. OFFICERS ARE ON THE ALERT It Was Ascertained Yesterday That Gardner Left Two Pieces of Luggage at Murphy's Hotel—Gone South It is Thought.

Despite all efforts to arrest and locate R. L. Gardner, the traveling salesman of this city who is wanted in Williamson, N. C. for the murder of Mrs. Victoria Barnhill, one of the best known and most popular young ladies of the town, so far as could be ascertained last night no trace of him had been discovered by either the detectives of Richmond or the police of Williamson. The local officers are of the opinion that Gardner has gone south and that if arrested at all he will be found in Texas or Florida.

The detectives ascertained while working on the case here that to a warm personal friend Gardner made known his intention of going to Beaumont, Tex., the new boom town. This fact has been communicated to the officials in Williamson, and the officials of Williamson have been notified to be on the watch for him.

In addition the officers think that Gardner registered at both the Jefferson and Murphy's during his stay in Richmond. It was ascertained yesterday that he registered at the last named hotel last Monday, having with him two handsome dress suits cases. These are still there, Gardner having suddenly disappeared, leaving an unpaid hotel bill. They will be held for ransom, unless someone squares the account.

However, the officers here are not inclined to the opinion that Gardner has gone to Beaumont. They are rather inclined to the belief that since telling his friend of his intended destination he has changed his mind, naturally fearing that he might be located. But still they think the man headed in a southward direction after leaving Richmond, the local train schedules and several other facts strongly substantiating this idea.

An investigation revealed the horrible truth and certain letters pointed to Gardner as the guilty party. The authorities of Richmond were communicated with almost at once, and the entire detective department set about locating the traveling salesman.

Officers charged arrest by only a few minutes, a friend "tipping" him off by telephone. It is now stated that the North Carolina authorities will offer a reward for the capture of the man, and in the meantime further developments with interest.

CAVE IN BENEATH HEART OF TOWN The People Escaped Without Being Endangered.

THE BUILDING TUMBLED OVER Unique Accident at Oliphant, Pa.—Settling was So Gradual the Citizens Escaped—Remained Up All Night.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 2.—Abandoned working of the Eddy Creek colliery of the Delaware and Hudson Company, beneath the very heart of the town of Oliphant, caved in this afternoon and engulfed frame buildings covering an aggregate ground space of six thousand square feet. The settling was gradual and people in the affected territory escaped without accident or being endangered. A gang of men and boys who were at work in the same mine beyond the fall, encountered a flooded "dip" or depression in a vein in making their way out by circuitous routes and had to swim from one rise to the other. No one below ground, however, sustained any injury.

At 3 o'clock the settling began. At 3:50 it was no longer perceptible. In the intervening half hour O'Brien's three-story hotel, Miss Ann Evans' double dwelling, Mrs. Jane Ackery's barber shop building and a one-story barber shop were a mound of debris in the settling pit with the uppermost part of the mound forty feet below the surface. O'Brien's hotel, which plunged first into the opening has entirely disappeared. A few houses are projecting over the edge of the pit. The vein that caved is 115 feet below the surface.

HOW IT OCCURRED. The settling started in the street just in front of the hotel property. The brick street pavement was seen to be working and the telegraph poles and wires along the curb were noticed to be wobbling. The cause was at once apparent and the alarm given to all the neighborhood.

Two sick guests were removed from the hotel and taken two block away to a private house. Some attempt was made at saving the contents of the buildings, but this rapidly increasing size of the opening in the street put a stop to this and everyone fled from the neighborhood. A twenty minute delay in the advance was first noticed the opening had widened until it reached all the way across the street, then with a terrific crash the hotel pitched forward, turned completely over and landed on its roof in the bottom of the abyss. A moment later the adjoining double dwelling of Mrs. Evans fell over the edge and demolished itself on the ruins of the hotel. The Ackery dwelling and the barber shop slid into the chasm about the same time and piled themselves on top of the other debris.

NO ONE WENT TO BED. To-night it is confidently believed that there will be no further settling, but no one went to bed within fifty yards of the disturbed area. The property damage is estimated at $50,000.

District Superintendent Bennett, of the Delaware and Hudson, went into the mine and with a party of officials made an examination about 6 P. M. They came out and reported that the settling had ceased. The timbers in the workings, it is explained by the company officials, supported strata of quicksand and gravel extending to the roof level and timbers rotted in the pit.

Up to midnight no further disturbance has been reported.

MONEY WILL BE ACTIVE TWO WEEKS There is Little Probability of a Change During the Next Fortnight.

NEW YORK, January 2.—Money was in sufficient demand today to make nine to ten per cent the rates for most of the funds put out. This level was quoted by the banks in most instances when renewals or new loans were asked for, and while increased ease was reported in the time money situation, heavy lenders quoted the 10 and 1/2 per cent rate as the only basis at which they would release funds. This attitude was explained by the large banks in the prediction that the banks in most instances when renewals or new loans were asked for, and while increased ease was reported in the time money situation, heavy lenders quoted the 10 and 1/2 per cent rate as the only basis at which they would release funds.

for the use of the public, while Mr. Bottom was equally as much opposed to such action. Mr. Gilman did not commit himself at that time, but last night he joined forces with the chairman of the body.

This being the case, the vote on Rule 7 would have been a tie had not Mr. Bottom yielded for the time being, stating, however, that he would endeavor to have have it before the Committee of the Whole. This, was, an adroves were taken while the light on rule seven was natural, deep interest to the people of Richmond, and the vote will be governed by them in the future.

Rule No. 8 of deep interest to the owners of automobiles, motor cycles, bicycles and tricycles, inasmuch as it deprives them the use of the roadway, while a single horse is upon it. The rules in full follow: "Be it ordained by the Council of the city of Richmond:

1. That the parks of the city shall be improved and maintained for the convenience, comfort and pleasure of the citizens of the city and other persons lawfully frequenting and using the same and the following are hereby declared to be the rules and regulations for the management of the parks of the city of Richmond and of the Speedway at New Reservoir Park:

(1) Every person frequenting or visiting any or all of the parks of the city of Richmond shall conduct himself in an orderly, lawful and decent manner.

(2) No person shall in any way damage, injure or destroy any of the property of the city located in any of the parks, or injure or destroy any of the plants, trees or shrubbery in or around any of said parks.

(3) No person shall be allowed to ride, or run any bicycle, tricycle, motorcycle or automobile on any of the paths or roadways of any of the parks of the city, except upon such roadways as are provided for vehicles of a general character.

(4) No person shall ride or drive over any of the roadways of any of the parks (provided for such purpose) at a greater rate of speed than six miles an hour, and such person riding or driving over said roadways shall at all times exercise the greatest care to prevent accidents or injury to persons walking along said road or driveway, and at the New Reservoir Park, no horse, carriage or other vehicle shall be allowed to stop on the roadway, and no person shall possess horses, known as race horses, shall be permitted to be used at any and all times for the trials of speed and for racing, and all persons shall drive to the right from entrance to said speedway.

(5) No person shall be permitted to enter upon said speedway unless they be riding horseback or driving a horse hitched to a buggy or some light vehicle, provided, however, that when there are no horses hitched to a vehicle, that rule shall not prohibit any person from riding or driving over said speedway in any bicycle, motorcycle or automobile, but it is expressly provided that upon the entrance of any horse upon said speedway, the rider or driver of such bicycle, motorcycle or automobile shall immediately leave said speedway and surrender the same to the exclusive use of such horse or horses.

(6) No person shall be allowed to wade up or swim in any of the lakes of the parks of the city or to throw or deposit anything in them, and fishing shall only be allowed in the discretion of the park keepers.

All ordinances for the government of streets, alleys and other public places of the city, so far as applicable, shall be considered in force for the management and government of the parks.

The Mayor hereby authorized and required to enforce a strict observance of each and all of the foregoing rules.

Any person violating any of the foregoing rules shall upon conviction be fined not less than two ($2) and not more than ten ($10) dollars for each and every offense, and in the discretion of the Police Justice be confined in the city jail not exceeding thirty (30) days. This ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage.

When Judge Sener had finished the President thanked him and the delegation and then, after a long and extended, and said that for a long time he had wanted to come to the University of Virginia and sincerely hoped he would be able to fulfill his wishes in the near future. As to the date mentioned, "said Mr. Roosevelt," I cannot say at this time. I must be at St. Louis on the 20th of April at the anniversary celebration of another of Jefferson's great deeds and after that I go West. It has long been the custom to visit all parts of the country and I have no doubt that I will be able to do until it is decided upon. If, however, it will be impossible for me to accept your hospitality on the 15th of June, I hope most sincerely you can have me on another time.

The President then turned on the subject of colleges and universities, and showed a surprising familiarity with the university. "Perhaps you gentlemen do not know," he said, "when we made up our minds to restore the White House to its original form, one of the first things we did was to send for pictures and the columns and pillars of the style of the country, and I have not made out your itinerary as yet, and cannot tell what I will be able to do until it is decided upon. If, however, it will be impossible for me to accept your hospitality on the 15th of June, I hope most sincerely you can have me on another time."

INFORMAL TALK. The meeting between the President and the committee was, after the introductions a Judge Sener's speech were over, of the most informal nature. The President stood leaning against a chair at the head of the table, while the members of the committee stood around him. When the subject of the architecture of the university was under discussion Mr. Moore took occasion to say:
