

THE NEWS OF NORTH CAROLINA

THE CANDIDATES ARE CONFIDENT

Gen. J. S. Carr Has Opened Headquarters at Raleigh.

CRAIG, WATSON AND OVERMAN

W. A. Hoke and S. B. Alexander Are Being Groomed as Dark Horses.

Great Interest in the Contest Throughout the State.

(Special Dispatch to the Times.)

RALEIGH, N. C., January 6.—General J. S. Carr has opened headquarters as a senatorial candidate in rooms No. 10-9 at the Yarrowburgh.

Howard A. Forshoe of Durham, and Samuel L. Adams, of Alamance, are in charge.

Mr. Adams says General Carr's following will surprise most people, and that his friends are hopeful and enthusiastic.

State Senator Charles A. Webb, of Asheville, who is regarded as D. C. Craig's first lieutenant, declares the prospects for Mr. Craig to win out in the Democratic caucus are very bright indeed.

Mr. Watson seems well pleased with the outlook for his candidacy, and is exceedingly hopeful of his candidacy. His friends are very active.

Overman's stock has gone up several points. His friends claim a majority of the caucus pledged, and seem absolutely confident.

The names of Judge W. A. Hoke and S. B. Alexander are heard mentioned as candidates less frequently than those of the other two.

Mr. Hoke's friends are evidently grooming them as "dark horses."

Charters were granted by the Secretary of State to-day for five new corporations, the following being the most notable:

The Thompson Chair Company, of Greensboro, capital, $25,000.

George A. Thompson, H. J. King and J. L. Armfield, incorporators.

The Petersburg, Norfolk and Western Steamboat Company, of Wilson, capital, $25,000.

With private stock, the company has $100,000.

The stockholders are Paul G. Patterson, of Wilson, and J. W. Phillips, of Petersburg.

The company has authority to carry freight and passengers and operate steamboats, barges, tugboats, etc.

The Griggs Manufacturing Company, of Lincolnville, $20,000 capital, to manufacture hobbins, loom levers and other weavers' supplies.

MECKLENBURG ROADS This County Clearly Leads the South in Having the Best Road.

(Special Dispatch to the Times.)

CHARLOTTE, N. C., January 6.—The most interesting report that has been made here in some time is that submitted by S. B. Snow, superintendent of roads by the State for Mecklenburg county.

The report shows that Mecklenburg leads the South in the matter of good roads.

FREIGHT RATES Meeting at Greensboro Protests Against Alleged Discrimination.

(Special Dispatch to the Times.)

CHARLOTTE, N. C., January 6.—In response to a call recently sent out by President Z. W. Hines, of the Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce, ninety representatives of Chambers of Commerce and business men generally of North Carolina met in Greensboro to-day and appointed a committee to take steps to hold conferences with railroads with the object of securing an abatement of the discrimination in freight rates, which it is alleged, exist against North Carolina points.

At the conclusion of the meeting about sixty copies of cotton mill properties held a session and discussed insurance and other matters.

It was the sentiment of the meeting that the restrictions on mutual companies should be removed by the Legislature to an extent that would induce them to again enter the State.

Resolutions were passed for presentation to the Legislature pledging the mills to enter improved conditions of labor in the textile factories of the State.

A RUNAWAY MATCH Parental Objection No Bar to a Happily Arranged Marriage.

(Special Dispatch to the Times.)

GREENSBORO, N. C., January 6.—Mr. Frank G. Dunklee, of Christiansburg, Va., and Miss Lettie Ash Hairston, of Walnut Cove, were united in marriage in this city last night.

The ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Dr. W. A. Lash, on North Elm Street.

Rev. Dr. H. Baldwin Dean, rector of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church, officiated. The couple left on the midnight train for Christiansburg, where they will reside.

Miss Hairston had been visiting in Dr. Lash's home, and she came here yesterday and brought her to Greensboro on last evening's train, having previously arranged for the wedding to take place here.

It is reported that the pair, who had been engaged for some time, but whose love triumphed and their romantic courtship culminated in a happy marriage in this city.

Mr. Dunklee is a traveling salesman, representing a wholesale drug house.

HORTON CASE IN COURT AT DURHAM Horton and Crabtree Will Both Be Represented by Able Counsel at the Trial.

(Special Dispatch to the Times.)

DURHAM, N. C., January 6.—The case of the State against Dan Horton for alleged secret assault on Officer W. C. Crabtree some ten days ago, in which the officer was badly lacerated on the head with brass knucks, and excited as much interest as any case ever tried here, both sides have employed eminent counsel.

The case was contested, the State will be assisted in the prosecution by Messrs. Gutierrez and Guthrie, Manning and Foushee and V. S. Bryant.

Horton will be defended by Messrs. W. A. Lash and B. H. Moore, the latter being counsel for the State.

The City Aldermen met last night in regular session, and Mr. P. L. Fuller, as a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, appeared before them with regard to getting a depot here adequate to the demands of the public.

The Aldermen sit next Monday night to hear and discuss the matter in full.

The postoffice here sold in 1902 over $2,000 in stamps, in addition to which was a money order and registered letter business of over $100,000.

AFTER OSTEOPATHS IN LEGISLATURE Modified Bill to Be Offered Shortly, Making Them Stand an Examination.

Another big fight is brewing in medical circles, the upshot of which, it is said, will be the introduction in the Legislature shortly of a bill designed to require osteopaths to appear before the State Board of Medical Examiners before practicing their profession in Virginia.

It will be recalled that such a measure was offered at a former session of the present Assembly, but it did not pass.

The new measure proposed is less drastic, in that it will only require the osteopaths to stand upon those questions upon which they profess knowledge, and not on all subjects relating to the practice of medicine.

The former measure required them to pass the regular examination prescribed for other applicants.

While this is considered something of a concession by the medical profession, yet a prominent legislator who is a friend of osteopathy, said last night that to bring the osteopaths before a board upon which they had no representation was like taking sheep before wolves to be destroyed.

"They would simply eat 'em alive and put them out of the business," he said.

When you may look for another big fight when the bill is introduced. Prominent osteopaths here have gotten wind of the proposition to fight them again, and are ready to "do business" when the bill is offered.

They may be found about the hotel lobbies at night, seeking the friendly offices of the members on the subject.

REPUBLICANS ARE KEPT GUESSING

Anxious Awaiting Developments at Washington.

CLAIM EVERYTHING IN SIGHT This Seems to Be the Policy of Each Faction—Judge Edmund Waddell Taking No Hand in the Fight.

(Special Dispatch to the Times.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 6.—The situation concerning the two Norfolk Federal judges, the collectorship and the postmastership, continues shrouded in doubt and uncertainty, and it may be safely said that so far as actual knowledge is concerned the Virginia Republican leaders, in consultation assembled, know as little about it as the rank and file of their followers in their State.

The ranks of those already in Washington were swelled today by the arrival on the scene of Bowdoin Alvah Martin and Nichols. Bowdoin has held his endorsement for Nichols to be postmaster and is working hard for him and Banks.

Rumors come from one quarter that Hugo Gordon Miller has no possible chance for the collectorship, and from another quarter that he has a very good chance.

With both sides it is a case of "claim everything in sight." As to the postmastership the chances of Waddell for reappointment are apparently very good. He has a clean record, and he is nothing against him but the statement that he is a back number politically.

It is pointed out that the President would gain nothing by removing him and giving Nichols his place. Of course, Bowdoin and the "organization" are back of Nichols, but that may or may not have weight with Roosevelt in this instance.

An effort has been made to have Judge Waddell take a hand in the matter of these two appointments, but he has declined to do so unless he is consulted by the President. He has not been to the White House nor will he go unless he is sent for.

The best informed man here in doubt here to-night as to the outcome of the collectorship fight. They say it is the toss of a coin as to who will win, and that "Tody," a variable, is to do the tossing makes it all the more uncertain.

FIELD-ELLIOTT Beautiful Home Wedding at Randolph on Thursday Evening.

(Special Dispatch to the Times.)

RONDOLPH, VA., January 6.—A beautiful home wedding took place at the home of Mr. W. H. Elliott Thursday evening, when his daughter, Miss Daisy Elliott, became the bride of Mr. W. H. Field, telegraph operator and agent of the Southern Railway at this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Granberry, Jr.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with wreaths and festoons of evergreens. Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Miss Mabel Burkdale, and the bride party entered as follows: Mr. John Cole and Mr. Nathaniel Lovelace, as ushers; Miss Inez Hutchinson and Miss Bessie Lovelace, wearing white and carrying red carnations; Mr. J. W. Haynie and Dr. Richard Booth, all standing so as to form a semi-circle; then the groom, with his brother, Mr. Willie Field, who was best man, and Miss M. Elliott, sister of the bride, wearing white and carrying white carnations, entered alone as maid of honor. The bride, wearing a gown of cream silk tulle, with veil and carrying bride's basket, entered with her father, who was best man.

Supper was served after the happy pair had received the congratulations of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Field were the recipients of many handsome presents. They left on Friday, both of the contracting parties being well known young people of Northumberland county. They will reside near Wicomico Church. In the future, Adolphus D. Davis and Miss Virginia Agnes Rock, both of this county, were united in marriage in Baltimore, on Monday.

OBITUARY. Dr. Willi M. F. Farrar.

Dr. William Field Farrar, for nearly fifty years a practicing physician in Richmond and Henrico county, died yesterday morning at his residence, No. 701 East Franklin Street, after a long and painful illness.

Five years ago his health failed, and since that time he had not been an active practitioner.

Dr. Farrar was born in King William county, where he spent his youth until he was the forty-fifth year, when he entered the Jefferson Medical College, at Philadelphia, from which he graduated two years later, and returned to Richmond to practice his profession.

In the county and the city he soon built up a large practice, and established drugstores, which were a source of considerable income. When the war broke out, Dr. Farrar was appointed surgeon in the Confederate army, and served with distinction for a time being in charge of the old Chimborazo Hospital, and in this capacity, served during the last years of the war.

He was twice married, his second wife, a Miss Davidson, of Richmond, dying a little over two years ago. Five children he survived him. They are, by his first marriage: Mrs. J. F. Pace, of South Hill; Mrs. R. H. Sutherland, of Denver, Colo.; by his second wife: Dr. Joseph D. Farrar, of Philadelphia; Miss Lillian Farrar, and Mr. R. Vivian Farrar, of Richmond.

He leaves one sister, Mrs. Lizzie Halstead, of No. 57 West Main Street. The funeral service will take place at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon from the Second Presbyterian Church.

A. A. Solomon. News has been received in this city of the death at 2 o'clock yesterday at a home in Philadelphia of Mr. A. A. Solomon. Mr. Solomon married Miss Bert's Thalheimer, of this city, and is a brother-in-law of the Messrs. Thalheimer here.

Mr. Solomon will be buried to-day in Philadelphia.
