The marriage of Mr. Thomas Edward Burton and Miss Ethel Clara Harding in Banbridge Street Baptist Church last evening at 7 o'clock was the most beautiful one in the city for some time.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Burton boarded the train leaving Richmond for Washington.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a brown traveling dress with a green sash. She carried a large bouquet of white and pink roses.

After an illness of only nine days, with malarial fever, Virgie Ann, the twelve-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Toney, died yesterday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock, at their home on Hull Street.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from the home of Rev. E. V. Baldy, pastor of the Central Methodist Church.

Charged with feloniously and unlawfully attempting to shoot Alex. Hix, a negro man, while he was eating his supper in his home on Hull Street, near Fourteenth, Mr. Samuel Hague, a man of about forty-five years, and well known in the city, was arrested last night.

While at work at the Southern shops Wednesday Mr. W. A. Moore was very painfully wounded on the head, a piece of iron striking him just above the right ear and cutting a deep gash.

There was no quorum of the Light Committee last night, and the business had to be over.

There will be a Klondike Tea at Banbridge Street Baptist Church to-night, on Wednesday, January 15th, from 7 to 10 o'clock.

At the home of Miss Ida Woodward Monday night there will be a "E. E. Lee Tea," the proceeds to go to the Central Methodist Church.

FIVE BOYS WERE KILLED BY TRAIN

They Were Coasting in a Sled Down a Hill When Express Came Along.

(By Associated Press.) SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 15.—Five boys, whose ages range from thirteen to fifteen years, while coasting to-night, were struck by a train on the Philadelphia and Reading Railway and instantly killed and another was fatally injured.

Dennis McGinley, John Coyle, Owen Cahill, Patrick Cahill, unknown boy, who was mangled beyond recognition, John Haubner, the sixth victim, is said to be at the point of death.

The boys were coasting on a bob sled when the railway crosses the street at the bottom of the hill and the sled and express train reached the crossing simultaneously.

These gentlemen left Richmond last night for Washington prepared to present their respective sides of the question and each confident of success.

The delegation which is in favor of the Shafter site, is composed of Messrs. John E. Purcell, Egbert G. Leigh, J. A. McCune, H. C. Cabell, E. A. Catlin and O. J. Sanda.

A dispatch to The Times from Washington last night stated that this party claimed the support of every organized body in Richmond.

The train carrying the anti-Shafter building party had not arrived in Washington at 2 o'clock.

These gentlemen are armed with a lengthy petition for the change of site, and will present the same to the committee.

The committee will give the Richmond delegations ample consideration and a lengthy hearing, as no other matter will engage the body's attention to-day.

THIS COMMITTEE WANTS LARGE SUM

One hundred and seven thousand, six hundred and forty-nine dollars and fifty cents is the estimated amount of money estimated to be needed by the Health Department for the erection of the settling and coagulating basins were discussed in an informal sort of a way, it being the desire of the committee to get the work started just as quickly as possible.

The committee on Light met last night and adjourned after auditing the current bills and ordering them and the pay-roll paid.

At the meeting of the committee on Grounds and Buildings last night Superintendent Bowman, of the Stewart Iron Works, reported that the new city jail would be ready for occupancy this afternoon at 6 o'clock, and the committee decided to hold a special meeting Monday afternoon at 7 o'clock for the purpose of inspecting the work.

Having been recommended by the Common Council the rules for the regulations of the park system of the city and the Speedway at Reservoir were taken up, the clerk read the rules, the president, the ministers and the amendment to the famous subsection 7, as prepared by Councilman Bottom, requiring that the Speedway be closed on the Sabbath.

The committee refused to allow the budget to be given out until after it has been acted upon by the Finance Committee, but it is known that the total estimate of money needed for the year is fixed at $30,361.

Mr. Peterson said that foremen and other bosses sometimes make mistakes, and on several instances of insubordination by the miners. Some of these instances, he said, were due to the influence of the union. The witness thought the union ought to change some of its ways.

In the question of the union restricting the number of cars each miner should load, the witness admitted that he did not think the total output of the mines was restricted. He did not know why the workers wanted to load only six cars a day except that some of the employees said six cars a day were enough.

In reply to Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Peterson said he did not know whether the men at the present time are getting out all the coal they possibly can. He did know, however, that since the strike ended the men have been responsible for some of the loss time.

H. C. McMillan, of West Pittston, assistant superintendent of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, testified that the relations between the company and the men prior to the strike of 1900 were always pleasant. He also said that the men do not mine all the coal they are capable of doing.

The witness read a list of names of miners who had not been taken back because of acts of insubordination. T. C. Hogan, of Avoca, a mine foreman of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, said that prior to the advent of the miners' union the relations between employer and employee were pleasant. He said that President Dempsey, of the Moosic Local Union, notified him on November 1900 that the miners should send out only a certain number of cars each day.

John T. Clark, a foreman at the Barnum colliery, No. 2, at Hightstown, and Seward Butten, a foreman of Avoca, corroborated Hogan's testimony with reference to restricting the output. Butten said the rule, however, had been in existence since 1885, several years previous to the advent of the union.

A recess was then taken.

NEW CITY JAIL HAS BEEN FINISHED

Committee Will Inspect Property Monday Afternoon—Will Improve Parks.

At the meeting of the committee on Grounds and Buildings last night Superintendent Bowman, of the Stewart Iron Works, reported that the new city jail would be ready for occupancy this afternoon at 6 o'clock, and the committee decided to hold a special meeting Monday afternoon at 7 o'clock for the purpose of inspecting the work.

Having been recommended by the Common Council the rules for the regulations of the park system of the city and the Speedway at Reservoir were taken up, the clerk read the rules, the president, the ministers and the amendment to the famous subsection 7, as prepared by Councilman Bottom, requiring that the Speedway be closed on the Sabbath.

The committee refused to allow the budget to be given out until after it has been acted upon by the Finance Committee, but it is known that the total estimate of money needed for the year is fixed at $30,361.

ALDERMEN WOULD DOCK THE CITY TUG

"Thomas Cunningham," Sr., May Go Out of Commission.

MR. GORDON'S AMENDMENT TO REDISTRRICT

Board of Aldermen Held a Short Adjourned Session—Meeting Was Practically Featureless—Routine Matter.

By a vote of fourteen to three the Board of Aldermen, in adjourned session last night, decided to put the tug, "Thomas Cunningham, Sr.," out of commission, and if the Common Council concurs in the action the vessel will within the next month be tied up at the city wharf, where it will remain in charge of a care-taker until the Council again orders that it be recommissioned.

This action and the passage of a joint resolution, by Mr. Allen, recommending that the charter be so amended as to give a single committee of either branch of the Council powers equal to those now conferred upon a joint committee of the two bodies were the only matters of any interest considered.

Mr. Allen, before offering his resolution, moved that the recent action by which a special investigating committee was created be considered. This was done with the unanimous consent of the Board, after which, on motion by the same gentleman, the matter was laid on the table.

Then Mr. Allen offered the resolution, asking that the charter be amended, and it was passed. As it is a joint resolution, the Common Council will have to concur, and it is predicted that a fight will be made on the measure in this body.

Just before the Board adjourned a communication from Hon. L. T. Christian, member of the House of Delegates from Richmond, was read, in which he recited the urgent necessity of having such matters of local interest as may require the attention of the General Assembly attended to. The letter was referred to the Committee on Ordinances, Charter and Reform.

Present at the meeting last night were Messrs. Allen, Adams, Bahen, Burton, Cottrell, Gilman, Gordon, Gunst, Mann, Minor, Satterfield, Gray, Sheppard, Washburn, Whittier, Wood and Turpin—17.

There was much routine work done.

TILLMAN IS HOT AFTER GEN. KNOX

He Also Takes a Few Whacks at the President.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Tillman continued his arraignment of trusts and monopolies and again charged the Attorney General as being primarily responsible for lack of action with regard thereto.

Mr. Tillman declared that the railroads are absolutely in the saddle on the coal question. They mine and market coal and fix the price, he charged, without regard to a solitary independent operator.

He said it was an infamy the way the press of the country was prostituted and lending itself to befuddle the minds of the people and deceive them into the idea that the railroads are willing and anxious to relieve the distress occasioned by the coal famine, but that somebody, somewhere called an independent operator, is responsible for the present condition of affairs.

The President deems no credit, said he, except for his attempt to effect a settlement of the question, "but the actual fact is," he added, "that J. Pierpont Morgan gave orders to his co-conspirators or servants to attempt the arrangement between the monopoly and strikers." The Attorney General had been, he said, derelict in the people can point and say, "you have murdered all those who have frozen to death, and you are the man who deserves the opprobrium and hate of the poor and oppressed of this land."

In the course of his remarks Mr. Tillman said that he has closely questioned by Mr. Spooner, that W. R. Hearst had charged that the United States District Court at New York had received orders from the Attorney General not to submit his report of his investigation regarding trusts. To his mind, he said, a case had been made and the evidence and facts have been unanswered. The law, he said, was too plain for anyone to dispute it.

The bill went over to the House.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The House to-day completed the consideration of and passed the army appropriation bill and began consideration of the department of commerce bill under a special rule, making it a continuing order until disposed of.

"The Art which we profess has beauty for its object."

Beauty is the object triumphantly attained by the various painters of the six pictures appearing in

PART V. OF THE HUNDRED BEST PICTURES!

NOW READY. Price: 25 cents, or 31 cents postpaid.

Every one of these beautiful photographs represents one of the acknowledged masterpieces of the world, and, as such, is an integral part of the history of the world's art. In purchasing them, therefore, you acquire not only charming decorations for the walls of your home, but pictures of approved educational value. These are the examples of noted painters to be found in Part V.:

I—"THE ANGELUS,"—By Jean Francois Millet. The peasant painter, among his many noble and poetic achievements, painted no more worthy subject than this of the weary peasant and his wife, listening with reverent to the sound of the Angelus bell. It is no little wonder that it brought the enormous sum of $100,000 when sold by public auction.

II—"THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD,"—By W. Holman Hunt. Ruskin said of this picture: "For my own part, I think it one of the very noblest works of sacred art produced in this or any other age." The pathetic figure of Our Saviour knocking for admittance at the door of the world most appeal to the thoughtful of all creeds.

III—"BEGGAR BOYS,"—By Murrillo. "Two Little Vagabonds" might well have been the title of this picture, which has preserved for us through nearly three centuries a delightful incident of the street life of old Seville. Just two beggar boys! But the two rascals, in their happy insouciance and "joy of life," suggest that happiness, after all, does not depend on mere wealth.

IV—"THE WATERFALL,"—By Ruysdael. Though it was chiefly by his marvelous studies of foliage that the Dutch landscape painter attained the fame that has kept his name alive for over two centuries, it would be difficult to parallel the fidelity of this magnificent study of rushing water, which takes its place among the greatest pictures of all times.

V—"COURT OF A DUTCH HOUSE,"—By Pieter de Hoogh. The carefully conscientious Dutchman painted merely what he saw, and yet this realistic presentation of every-day life about him is not lacking in imagination. Merely the sunlit courtyard of a seventeenth century Dutch house, but we share the trim housewife's expectancy as she gazes out, awaiting the good man's return, and the delight of the little toddler brought by the "chick girl" to greet her "daddy." Human nature is the same to-day as in the far-off times of Pieter de Hoogh.

VI—"SIR WALTER SCOTT,"—By Sir Henry Raeburn, R. A. "The Wizard of the North" still holds his own on the hearts of all English-speaking peoples. No finer portrait of the author of "Ivanhoe" was ever painted than this magnificent presentation by his brother Scot. It should find an honored place on the wall of every lover—and who is not a lover?—of the Waverley novels.

Thus is suggested a mere foretaste of the feast of artistic treasures to be found in the Fifth Part of
