

SCHOOL BOARD IN REGULAR SESSION

Charges, Indirect and Direct, Made by Members.

TO CHANGE DEMERIT SYSTEM

Manchester Cocks Win Out from Henrico, and Backers Scooped in a Nice Purse—Miss Smith, of Chesterfield, to Wed—Southside.

Manchester Bureau, Richmond Times, 112 Hull Street.

Charges of misrepresentation of facts by another paper and indirect insinuations that children of rich parents fared better in the public schools than did the less fortunate pupils were the features at the regular session of the School Board last night. The charge, made by Superintendent D. L. Pulliam, that another paper had done great wrong to the public schools was answered by the representative of that paper, who apologized for any misstatement, saying that he had been misled by a reporter who had based his article on a statement that he had regarded as a thoroughly reliable source. After a lengthy discussion as to changing one of the rules, that which provides for demerit system, there were talks by members that leaned towards the sensational side.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. Showell, Rudd, Wakefield, Phillips, Jones, Broadus and Lipscomb. From Professor Broadus' report on the schools, an explanation of a slight irregularity in his last report that was entirely satisfactory was received. Mr. Wakefield, who had taken a look through the rooms of the school, offering a motion, which was carried, instructing the Buildings and Land Committee to look after the curtains in the rooms, and pay special attention to the rooms of the Messrs. Wells and Brown. Two dozen boxes of crayons, ordered by the clerk for temporary use, were forwarded to the school. It is the intention of the members to use dustless crayons in the future, and they will hunt up some dealer and make a purchase in the next week or so.

It was after the routine business had been transacted that the discussion which inclined to the sensational came up by the resolution of Mr. Rudd to change the rule 23. The amended rule reads: "The principal in the public schools who shall receive in any month fifteen demerits (formerly ten) shall be reported to the principal (superintendent) for chastisement (suspension). Any pupil who shall receive fifteen demerits (formerly ten) for two successive months shall be reported to the superintendent for suspension (expulsion). When a pupil receives fifteen demerits (formerly ten) the teacher shall notify the parent of the fact, which notification shall be endorsed by the principal. When a pupil receives ten demerits (formerly five) the principal shall notify the parent or guardian and urge him to give attention to the matter; state the probability of a suspension, and if he thinks best ask a conference in regard to the case."

The words in parenthesis are the language of the rule as it now stands, and the ones written out are the changes Mr. Rudd wished made. He went over until the next meeting, but from the talks made last night, the members are not likely to make a change in the rules. Mr. Rudd contended that the principal should be given so many demerits that they had to leave the school and attend a private one. He said the poor people of the city, fearing the school, would not send their children to school. This called forth a reply from Messrs. Broadus and Lipscomb that if the school were closed, the city would be a desolation. Then Superintendent Pulliam spoke at length against the changing of the rule, saying that discipline was now maintained under the rule, and that the fear of being suspended that held many of the pupils down. At the first of the month they would get seven or eight demerits and then along towards the end of the month they would be suspended. He would settle down and not get another one.

"Then you had better make the limit two demerits, and the scholars would be good all the time," spoke Mr. Rudd. Miss Smith, of the Chesterfield school, then expressed her opinion of the teachers that the rule as it now stands is a good one and they did not want it changed. Mr. Pulliam showed that there had only been three suspensions in the school. This year seven hundred scholars was doing very well, he thought. He further showed that the rule had been in effect for almost five years, and was not started in the beginning of this year, and had been reported to the board.

Bills for the month past were ordered paid. COCK FIGHT. Pierce and terrific, a fight between two cocks, one from Henrico county, Wednesday night, and after over two hours of hard fighting, Manchester had won four of the six males from the Henrico sports. Over four hundred dollars was won at the fight, and the same amount was bet on the fight. The fight was a grand one, and the light of two lanterns, well shaded, started the mill by dropping the first two cocks down near each other. At about five minutes of the fiercest fighting Manchester had won the Henrico bird receiving such a stab in the leg that he was powerless to continue the battle further.

Of the six fights Henrico only had two to credit, Manchester getting four. Into this city yesterday morning at an early hour walked a few of those who had witnessed the terrific contest for supremacy.

Mr. G. M. Myers, the well known shoe-maker, of Winchester Avenue and Fourteenth Street, Ashland, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are like true friends—the longer you know them the better they are appreciated. I can add nothing to the statement I first made in 1896, after I procured the remedy at the Ventura Drug Company and took a course of the treatment, which cured me. I was absolutely free from all backache for nearly three years; then I noticed a slight ache, as the result of a cold, in my back. A box of Doan's Kidney Pills disposed of it. I have recommended this remedy to many and have never heard of one who did not endorse the claims made for it."

HAD PLANNED TO ELOPE TOGETHER

Miss Haynes and Miss Coleman Were Going to Lynchburg.

Behind the sudden disappearance of Miss Nannie Haynes from the home of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Eitel, of No. 614 State Street, Fulton, and her subsequent location in Manchester yesterday afternoon, after a fruitless search of twelve hours, is a story of peculiar interest because it has to do with the wedding plans of a pretty fourteen-year-old girl and Miss Coleman, the step-daughter of Mr. R. T. Eitel, of No. 87 Centre Street, at Lynchburg. The girl had secured employment in a distant part of the State, miles from home and friends. They intended going to Lynchburg and get position in the branch of the American Tobacco Company's factory at that place.

Miss Haynes for some time past has been employed in the Whitlock branch of the American Tobacco Company. Wednesday morning she left home in the belief of a special appointment. At 10 o'clock she arrived at the factory, where shortly she complained of feeling ill and was permitted to leave by the foreman. From that moment until located in Manchester yesterday afternoon by her mother no trace of the girl could be ascertained. It was reported to the police, and a search was instituted. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Eitel ascertained the whereabouts of her daughter, known her intention of visiting Miss Coleman in Manchester, and she was found there.

Mrs. Eitel administered a severe scolding to her wayward daughter, after which she escorted her mother home. The girls were accompanied by Miss Haynes and Miss Coleman intended eloping to Lynchburg.

MUCH MONEY ASKED FOR LOCAL HARBOR

$12,500 Wanted by James River Committee.

HARBOR NEEDS DREDGING

$8,000 Will Be Spent in Deepening the Waters Around Richmond—$4,500 Needed for the City Tug.

The estimates of the needs of the Committee on Improvement of James River have been carefully compiled, and were filed yesterday with City Auditor Warren, who will forward them to the Council Committee on Finance when it meets next week to make up the budget. The amount asked for is $12,500, which, coupled with the $38,000 already pledged to river improvement by the Council, runs the total expenditures contemplated for river improvement this year up to $50,500.

Without the extra $38,000 appropriation, which will be expended in paying for a new dredge, the order for which will be placed by the committee at its next meeting, the estimates of needs for this year are no more than for last year. Members of the committee express strong hope that the financiers will see their way clear to making the appropriation in the budget.

Eight thousand dollars of the money asked for by the James River Committee will, in the event it is appropriated, be used in having the harbor dredged as quickly as possible by some outside concern, it having been realized that the scarcity of water in the James about Richmond at the present time is alarming and detrimental to the best interests of the city.

WANT TO HURRY WORK. The members of the committee and the City Engineer estimate that it will require at least six months in which to build the new dredge, the money for which is already guaranteed. It will, therefore, be early fall before the plant will be ready for operation, and in the meantime the sand and dirt will continue to accumulate.

Captain Curtis, chairman of the committee and one of the best authorities in the city on river condition, said recently that he was firmly convinced that there was not over twelve feet of water in the harbor to-day. With the spring freshets close at hand and no means for cleansing the harbor, it is feared that the dredging will suffer greatly unless some immediate action is taken to relieve the situation.

The Federal government will in a short time let the contract for deepening the channel of the James and Dutch Gap, and it is only a question of time before the river up this far will be navigable for a vessel of almost any proportions. But such will not be the case with the Richmond harbor, as the shoals are not to be cleaned and deepened in this way.

The improvement the government proposes making in the channel will be of little use to Richmond if a vessel could get into the harbor for the purpose of docking and discharging her cargo and taking on one of locally manufactured goods.

The other $4,500 of the amount asked for by the committee will be used for the purpose of maintaining the city tug. Captain Curtis will appear before the Finance Committee in the interest of the appropriation.

LAMB—PETERS Beautiful Home Marriage Ceremony in Sussex County.

(Special Dispatch to The Times.) BELLSVILLE, Va., Jan. 22.—One of the most beautiful home marriages ever celebrated in Sussex was celebrated at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Hawksville, the residence of the bride's mother, again she is a daughter of the late Mrs. J. H. Peters, when she was married to Mr. J. H. Peters, when she was married to Mr. J. H. Peters. The parlor was handsomely decorated in white and green. An improvised altar was draped with white satin and below it were placed flowers, ferns, palms, and other potted plants of exquisite loveliness, surrounded by a circle of smiles, twined standards connected by floral chains. From the altar, the bride and groom were immediately in front of the altar, suspended a lovely floral design, beneath which the vows were said.

Promptly at the appointed hour to the organ, the wedding march, "The Swan Song," was played. The bride entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her maid of honor, Miss Mary Elizabeth Peters, sister of the bride, and was met at the altar by the groom with his best man, Mr. Edward Nicholas Ward. The parlor was darkened and under the glow of a softened light from the chandeliers the beautiful ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. W. Rosebro, of Fredericksburg, where they will be glad to see friends.

SMOTHER A COUGH.

You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs. Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

FORMAL VERDICT IN TILLMAN CASE

The Inquest Was Held Last Night—Eye-Witnesses Give Testimony.

(By Associated Press.) COLUMBIA, S. C., January 22.—Less than one hundred people, including the jury, officers and witnesses, were present at the inquest in the Tillman case, conducted by Coroner Green in the county courthouse to-night.

J. W. Thurmond, of Edgefield, prosecuting attorney of the Fifth Circuit, ex-Attorney-General G. Duncan Bellinger, who has been called in to assist him, and C. L. Blease, of counsel for the defense, were present, but merely as spectators. State Senators Brown and Talbird, who were with Tillman when he fired the shot; J. P. Sims, J. A. Lamott, County Physician Knowlton, who performed the autopsy, and Clerk of Court Frost Walker were examined.

The verdict, found in less than five minutes after the jury retired, was a plain statement that "The deceased, N. G. Gonzales, came to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by the hand of James H. Tillman on the fifteenth day of January, 1903."

Senator Talbird was the most important witness. New matter in his testimony was that he first saw Mr. Gonzales, who had approached within ten or fifteen feet, and turned to the left to the inside of the sidewalk. Tillman being on the outside, Tillman said: "I received your message," and almost instantaneously fired. Talbird rushed to Gonzales, and exclaimed: "This must stop," Gonzales said: "Here I am; finish me," or something to that effect.

Senator Blease's testimony was substantially that he has already been published in his statement. He had turned to speak to a lady friend, did not see the shot fired and heard nothing save the report of the pistol.

J. F. Sims swore that his attention was first attracted by the report of the pistol, and that he heard at about the same time Tillman say: "I received your message." He emphasized that the pistol shot first attracted his attention.

Clerk Walker was asked of the pistol and the bullet that passed through Mr. Gonzales' body, and they were exhibited. Lamott's testimony bore chiefly on inquests occurring immediately after the shooting when he went to Mr. Gonzales' assistance.

Dr. Knowlton read a technical report of the autopsy, which has been published substantially. He expressed the opinion that the shot was fired at close range, and rather from the side than from the front. Tillman has made no statement.

THOUSAND DOLLARS TO BUILD CREMATORY

At the meeting of the Council Committee on Health last night, considerable opposition manifested itself when the question of asking the Finance Committee for a special appropriation of $1,000 with which to purchase a site for the erection of a new and additional crematory was taken up for consideration. Regardless of this, however, the request was forwarded, and in the event the money is appropriated, it is probable that a new crematory will be erected in the eastern section of the city.

CLIMBED TO TOP OF BRIDGE CABLES

Thousands Looked on While a Stranger in New York "Did His Act."

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, January 22.—Hundreds of persons on Brooklyn Bridge to-night were horrified when they saw a man run out from the throng and start to climb one of the big supporting cables that extend from the shore masonry to the top of the Manhattan tower. The man did not hesitate, and never for an instant seemed to appreciate the danger of immediate death.

Without a backward glance he climbed up and up, now almost breaking into a run, and again slowing up a little. Once in a while he would raise his hands to a couple of smaller supporting cables that follow the line of the big steel rope upon which he walked, as if to steady himself, but he did not stop until he reached the point nearest the big tower beyond which no one could get. Then he rested a hundred and thirty feet above the surface of the bridge roadway.

Meanwhile a crowd of several thousand persons had gathered to watch the daring feat and traffic was blocked. A policeman was sent up to bring the performer down. He did not travel so rapidly, but finally he reached the tower, where a man was standing, looking about him. The watchers below expected to see a desperate fight on top of the tower, but in this they were disappointed, for in a moment both men were seen making the descent. Half way down the man nearly collapsed. He threw up his hands, however, and caught the smaller cables and clung to them, sliding down the remainder of the distance. He was arrested at once, but vouchsafed no information regarding himself or his hazardous feat.

It is understood that a great cock main, in which twenty-two game cocks participated, was pulled off in Henrico county last night not far from this city. There was a purse of five hundred dollars, and a large number of the lovers of the sport journeyed out to witness the match.

WRANGLE OVER A NEW OFFICER

The Committee on Asylums and Prisons yesterday took up the bill which was recommended by the House fixing the duties and salary of the new commissioner of State charities, but it was passed by until a future meeting of the committee. This bill is a bone of contention in both houses. When the matter came up in the Senate the other day on fixing the salary of the new officer, Messrs. Wickham and McIlwaine made quite a colloquy. On the wallo matter Mr. Wickham saw opportunities for the building up of a political machine in the interest of the appointing power, which was likely to work injury to the State.

Mr. McIlwaine could not make any discovery, nor could Mr. Wickham make him see it. Several times the Hanover Senator declared excitedly that the battle would have to be fought, and it might as well come at one time as another. But the Petersburg leader said he saw no reason for a crossing of swords, and the amount of salary was finally stricken out to await the action of the body on the question of the duties of the new officer. The Committee on Asylums and Prisons has fixed the salary at $300, and then at $500. There may yet be a fight on the matter.

FAKIR IMPOSING ON RICHMOND T. P. A.

He is Soliciting Funds from Merchants Under False Pretenses.

The regular monthly meeting of Post A, Travelers' Protective Association of America, was held at headquarters, corner of Third and Main streets, last night. J. B. Edwards, in the chair, with Mr. H. L. Harwood, secretary, recording. After the reading of the minutes reports from the various committees were heard from, and from each and all the departments of the association indicated a healthy condition.

The Committee on Railroads reported that its attention had been called to a certain person representing himself as a member of the association, and the commercial men generally for the purpose of securing funds for an interchangeable mileage campaign, and it is desired to let the merchants and the public generally know that the Travelers' Protective Association of America has no interest in this kind of a line of work, but has been very successful in securing in a great measure interchangeable mileage all over the country without having solicited from the merchants funds for this purpose.

Mr. Harwood, in his report, said that the business manager of the National Travelers' Protective Association of America, being present, was called upon and intelligently made known many striking features of the work of this fast growing organization.
