Farmers Meeting

The Grangers of Preble county held a large meeting in the Court House on Saturday last, and organized by electing JOHN M. DOUGHERTY, Esq., President, and a Vice President from each Township in the County. Several very excellent speeches were made at the meeting. The farmers in this County are in earnest. We expected the Secretary to furnish a report of the meeting, but up to the time of "making up," we have had nothing. The following we understand to be the Vice Presidents and other officers:

A. J. Burrough, Lanier township; Robt. Bell, Esq., Jackson; H. A. Yost, Gasper; Hezekiah Morton, Isreal; Wm. Campbell, Twin; Martin Swisher, Dixon; Daniel W. Harshman, Jefferson; Wm. Randall, Monroe; James B. Duffield, Some's; John Hendrix, Gratis; Geo. Weaver, Harrison. B. D. Moses, Recording Secretary; J. L. Chambers, Corresponding Secretary; Benj. Deardoff, Treasurer.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the Court House, at 1 o'clock, on the 1st Saturday in January.

Proposed Remodeling of the Court Room

On Friday last, an impromptu meeting of the Bar and Officers of the Court was called in the Court room, to take into consideration the propriety of remodeling the same, so as to make it more convenient for those who do business there, and for the comfort of visitors and witnesses. J. H. Foss, Esq., was called to the Chair, and J. A. GILMORE, Esq., appointed Secretary. The object of the meeting was explained by the Chairman and a general interchange of sentiment showed conclusively that the Court room needed a remodeling in order to accommodate the public. A committee was appointed to wait upon the Commissioners and point out to them the defects complained of and to urge the early reconstruction of the room.

We were present at this meeting, and after hearing the defects of the Judges Bench and Clerk's desk pointed out, we were fully convinced of the propriety and the necessity of the movement. The whole interior of the Court room, as now arranged is cumbersome, inconvenient to situate and out of style. The Judges seat and Clerk's desk take up more than four times the space they should, and besides this, they are too high, and the latter in the wrong place. As now arranged the Sheriff has no desk and both he and the Clerk have to occupy positions immediately in front of the Judge. There is no witness stand, and the Bar, witnesses, prisoners and spectators, are all huddled around the Judge's Bench, which arrangement leads to confusion in the heat of important cases and generally retards and delays public business. Again, the old cumbersome and combined seats should be removed and the Court room supplied with chairs, and as suggested by one of the Bar, an iron railing should be placed from east to west across the Court room at a convenient distance in front of the Judge's seat, and the doors entering the Jury rooms changed. With these improvements made, less confusion would occur in Court and the public business more speedily despatched. More than double the outlay of these improvements would be saved to the public within a few terms of the Court. We, therefore, heartily endorse the proposed remodeling, and hope the Committee will meet with success in their interview with the Commissioners, although it would seem from the public spirit of these gentlemen, who are the guardians of our County buildings, that there is but little hope of goading them to a sense of their duty. Our Town Clock has been dead, for 10, these many years—our County prison a disgrace, and now the bell of our defunct time piece sounds like the jingle of a cracked cow-bell—and yet no move has been made for the repairing of these great public necessities. Why is it? Let the citizens petition the Commissioners for these improvements, and demand that they be made without delay.

The late heavy rains caused some extra work to be done on the Odd Fellow's building. Every one of our old subscribers who bring us a new name for the DEMOCRAT, will get his paper for $1.50 next year. We are obliged to those who have responded to our call for money, but they are few compared with what should have come. Come in. Grant's message makes no allusion to "Divine Providence." Grant seems to be getting along without much of that nowadays. High waters prevailed all over the country, during the past week. Our Twin and Seven Mile were bank full, but we heard of no particular damage being done from it.

What the Farmers Have Done

The movement inaugurated and pressed by the farmers has already had a great and beneficial effect upon the politics of the country. Whilst it has been derided by some, opposed by others, and treated with indifference by many, all now begin to see the manifest results of the agitation it has produced. This movement had to come; it was born in due season and owed its creation to those causes which inevitably bring a well defined purpose out of chaotic confusion. The objects and principles of the farmers are not novel, nor have they been the first to discover the ills which have so long afflicted the body-politic; but the farmers were the first and best class of people to impart the motive power which gave the cause a meaning and an active momentum. The grievances of the farmers are the grievances of all, but only the farmer could embody these in a tangible, living reality, and present the naked tale to the consideration of a public that had become tired and disgusted with the clap-trap androdomontade of party. The late elections are full of encouraging portent, and carry with them the story of wrongs endured, but now happily discovered by a resolute body of men who intend to stand fast to the pledges they have made to rid the country of corruption, maladministration, Credit Mobiliers and salary-grabbers. No man, no matter for his party professions, can now find favor with the people unless he be not only honest, but also suspicious. The farmers have begun a process which will weed out of office and place the men who have abused their trusts, and betrayed a confiding public. Republicans and Democrats alike, will share the same fate in this moral and political revolution, which is destined to sweep out of existence every man and measure that has the taint of corruption. The Republican party possessed the power to organize and carry forward this reform, because it was in the excess, and their failure to do so has administered a blow to that party which it cannot survive. It is true that the whole party is not responsible for the crime, but the party is judged by the conduct of its chosen representatives, and there is no escape from the effects of their action. The people have an abiding consciousness that they have been surfeited too much with party, party professions and demagoguery. They want less buncombe, less twaddle upon absolute abstractions, and more earnest, positive material relief from oppression and misrule. Political acrobats may endeavor to gull them into the delusion that there are essential differences between the two parties, but the people cannot be caught with such bait any longer. They have paid for that whistle too often. This is what the farmers movement means. It was not designed for the special relief of farmers, as a class, but for the amelioration of the common public. It appeals to the interests of the merchant, mechanic, artisan, laborer, professional man, all who are co-equal sufferers from general misrule and spoliation. It means reform in a general sense, a correction of the abuses which partisans could not, would not and dared not attempt. It is immaterial what this new party, organized only as parties should be, for the occasion, calls itself. It must be a party of reform; it must be sincere, and vitalized with that energy which will insure its triumph, and carry with it the insignia of practical, earnest purposes to illustrate its declared objects. In future contests loyal Republicanism will save no man from repudiation, unless he possesses the elements demanded by the occasion. These facts are all obvious to those who have the ability to see the specs about the political horizon.

Girard Saving Society

About a year ago, we noticed in our local columns the organization of a saving society by some of the young men of Eaton, but could say nothing definitely of the organization. From the report made by the Secretary to the Society at the first annual meeting, held last Saturday evening, we glean the following: The number of shares was limited to twenty, and the holder of each share was required to pay into the Treasury 25 cents per week for the period of five years. Almost every one seemed afraid to enter and be the first to make the experiment, so that when the time limited for the taking of shares expired (June 1st, 1873) there were but 07 shares taken. During the last few months however, numerous applications have been received, but refused. The total amount of monies received during the year from dues, fines, donations and interest amounts to $255.15; deduct from this the expenses and dues $223.25 and we have a clear gain of $31.90, or about 14 per cent, on $13.00, the amount paid on each share during the year. Remembering that the share started at 25 cents, this is really a very large per cent. Since the organization of the society, one member has died, Lamont Brooks, and his share transferred to his brother.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, J. H. Foss; Vice President, J. H. Gilmore; Secretary, E. H. Allison; Treasurer, J. T. Holmes; Finance Committee, W. D. Quinn, J. H. Foss and G. W. Nelson. Bring your ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS and new subscriber.
