

When the average woman buys her husband a bargain counter necktie she usually buys one that is loud enough to start a riot at a funeral.

SHE IS A WISE WOMAN

Who recognizes in the tell-tale symptoms such as backache, headaches, dragging sensations, nervousness and irritability the true cause and relies on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to a healthy normal condition. For forty years this root and herb remedy has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood such a test of time.

CAN YOU AMUSE YOURSELF?

In the February Woman's Home Companion, Mary Louise Graham writes an interesting article entitled "A Child's Own Resources," in the course of which she makes the following comment on people who have not learned how to amuse themselves:

"A person who cannot amuse himself is, in the long run, constantly in the inferior position. He often finds himself in the awkward place of not being able to get along without people whom he does not thoroughly like, of having to accept favors from those of whom he prefers to be independent."

SHOEMAKING PLANT

For School of Reform—Boys May Make Footwear For Inmates of All State Institutions.

Frankfort.—Shoes for the inmates of the two State prisons and the School of Reform will be made at the School of Reform as soon as new machinery ordered by the State Board of Prison Commissioners is installed.

The boys of the institution are learning the shoemaking trade and have been making their own shoes for some time. The experiment has shown that they could be made there by hand of superior leather and workmanship for $1.49, whereas the commission has had to pay $1.55 wholesale. Some of the shoes are now being tried in the reformatory here. The plan may be extended to comprehend the manufacture of shoes for the inmates of all State institutions.

The experiment of buying cattle and hogs and butchering them at the reformatory has proven so successful that the Prison Commissioners announced that they will extend the plan to the Eddyville penitentiary and the School of Reform.

WHERE'S MOTHER?

When father came from work at night, Before he'd wash his hands and face Or hang his hat upon the peg, His glance would wander 'round the place.

And if dear mother's sunny head Was not within his vision's ken, He'd search for her from room to room, Upstairs and down and all, and then He'd stop and ask, "Where's mother?"

But if he found her in her chair, He'd pester off about the lot, And pick a mess of early greens, Or fix a chicken for the pot; He'd mend a fence, or set a hen, Or do some other homely chore, With only now and then a glance Toward the half-open door That seemed to ask, "Where's mother?"

When father left us sorrowing He followed her within a day; And while we laid white flowers around His smooth-brushed hair, as white as they

We could but think that when the light And beauty of that wondrous place Burst on his newly quickened gaze He must have raised an eager face and simply asked: "Where's mother?"

REVIVE THE 'EMPEROR' FROM SERVICE?

According to a German dispatch "the Hamburg-American Line, in spite of earlier denials say that the boilers of the 'Imperator' have proved unsatisfactory, and that complete rebuilding is necessary in order to reduce the excessive coal consumption and to increase the speed of the vessel." It is said that the builders by their contract were required to compensate the company for the compulsory retirement of the "Imperator" from service, and will have to pay about $1,500 for every day she is laid off.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

To find out the monthly salary of the teacher it is only necessary to divide the annual salary by twelve. The teacher who receives $320 a year gets $26.66 per month and there is no other really fair way to figure it.

Hugo Munsterberg says that America is the only country in the world that gives the education of the young into the hands of the lowest bidder. Somehow, we Americans are slow to learn the real value of the good teacher.

It is the constructive work that counts—whether in the school, in the home, in the editor's sanctum, in the pulpit, or in the shop. It is easy to criticize but that is a species of egotism and would better be supplanted by synthetic processes.

Wendell Phillips once said: "Education is the only interest worthy of the deep, controlling anxiety of the thoughtful man," and we naturally conclude if the man is not thoroughly interested in the subject he is not thoughtful.

A school teacher recently received the following note from the mother of one of her pupils:

"Dear Miss. You write me about whipping Sammy. I give you permission to beat him up any time he won't learn his lesson. He is just like his father an he hev to beet him with a club to lern him anything. Pound nole into him. Don't pay no attention to what his father says, I will handle him."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one advertisement that has been able to cure in all stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars to any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHERNEY & CO., Toledo, O. FOR CHRONIC COUGHS

Milton, Pa., Woman Has Found a Remedy.

Mrs. Howard Wagner of Milton, Pa., says: "I had a bad cold for months, and would cough every night until midnight. I consulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine but got no relief. Vinol was recommended and after taking it a week I could sleep all night without coughing once. I continued its use and now have a fine appetite, never felt better and my cough is entirely gone."

It is a well known fact that when a person is run-down, stomach out of order, or the system overloaded with waste matter, vital resistance is lowered and colds and coughs are easily contracted.

The safest and surest method we know to overcome this condition is by taking our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. In the most natural manner Vinol tones up the digestive organs, promotes a hearty appetite, enriches the blood, and as a specific for chronic coughs, colds and bronchial troubles Vinol is unexcelled.

Try a bottle of Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to help you. J. C. Pecor, Druggist, Maysville, P. S. For rough, scaly skin, try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

DRAG MAKES GOOD ROADS.

(Owensboro Messenger.) Heeding the admonition and warning of D. Ward King, the promoter of the "split-log drag," the farmers in all sections of Daviess County have worked and worked conscientiously on their roads, with the result that not in recent years have the county roads been in such splendid shape as at the present time.

While the farmers are availing themselves of the drag, Supt. Davis, of the street cleaning department, is busy with the good road promoter on the streets of Owensboro. He said Saturday that "he liked it better every day." Not in recent years have the streets of Owensboro been in such splendid condition at this particular season. Supt. Davis attributes it all to the split-log drag. Streets that were formerly veritable quagmires have undergone a complete transformation and the ravages of the winter will have no ill effects on them, as was formerly the case in the event of a severe winter.

MRS. MARTIN'S ADDRESS

Brilliant Kentucky Woman and State Chairman Home Economic Department, Talks to Woman's Club.

The Woman's Club met Friday afternoon. Mrs. E. L. Worthington in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read, in which an account of Mr. Allen's visit to Maysville in the interest of a municipal abattoir, was given. Mrs. Martin of Louisville, State chairman of the Home Economic Department, was introduced by her hostess, Mrs. Louis Merz.

Mrs. Martin took up the subject of Municipal Abattoirs, introduced in the minutes, by saying it properly belonged to Home Economics, for we could not conserve the interest of the Home without pure, wholesome food, and we could not have that without modern abattoir methods; that meats entered largely into our daily menus and that without proper inspection and sanitation they were reeking with germs and impurities. Mrs. Martin told of very revolting conditions she had found in slaughter-houses she had visited. She impressed upon housekeepers the importance of a knowledge of food values in order to safeguard the health of their households. She spoke of woman's position in the Home, where she was the intelligent, economic, sympathetic partner upon a perfect plane of equality, and the antithesis to this picture was that of the careless, indifferent wife who allowed the means provided for the maintenance of the Home to be dissipated in a slothful, wasteful manner. She impressed the fact that indiscriminate charity fostered vagrancy; that charity should be given in systematic channels. She advocated domestic science should be taught in the schools, but very eloquently declared that sex hygiene, if taught at all, should be taught at the mother's knee. She spoke of the wonderful aid to housekeeping through electrical appliances and cited the case of a Mrs. Patterson of New Jersey who had dismissed three maids and run her household beautifully with these electrical aids. Mrs. Martin's practical, interesting and forceful talk was listened to by an audience of intelligent thoughtful women, and much good must result from it, for the home is the most interesting the most profitable study for woman. Soomon describes the perfect woman as "she who looketh well after the ways of her household." She can not do this without a knowledge of the great issues of the hour.

26,122 "RAIL FAILURES" ANNUALLY.

(Engineering News.) According to the Rail Committee of the American Railway Engineering Association there were 26,122 rail breakages for the year ending October 31, 1912.

The statistics cover 182,000 miles of railway, with 14,132,982 tons of rail (10,156,935 bessemer, 3,580,021 open-hearth, 296,026 tons special steel or special sections).

The results of wear tests are quoted in the report, but they are conflicting and in no case point to marked superiority of one type of steel, or indeed of the special steel over normal rail steel. In this the wear tests agree with the breakage records, although the latter are far too few to permit a conclusion even as definite as this.

GRANT AND BUCKNER.

(New York World.) In the case of Ulysses S. Grant and Simon Bolivar Buckner, winner and loser meet once more in a new relation. Buckner, now dead at ninety-one, was Grant's friend at West Point in youth, his companion in the old army, his enemy in the Civil War, and again his friend in peace.

Buckner was born in 1823, one year later than Grant. He graduated in 1844 again one year later than Grant. Young officers in the Mexican war, they both gained distinction, and they met as foes fourteen years later at Donelson, where, abandoned by his superiors, Floyd and Pillow, Buckner was compelled by circumstances to make an "unconditional surrender," against which he protested in vehement language.

This capitulation gave Grant fame. It humiliated Buckner and made him a prisoner. As was the custom at that time, Buckner was exchanged and resumed his command, becoming eventually a lieutenant general, serving as such during further years of hard fighting. Grant went on to Shiloh, Vicksburg, Chattanooga, the Wilderness, Appomattox, the presidency and undying glory. Buckner, in Louisiana, in 1865, surrendered and went home to Kentucky, first to face broken fortunes but later to become Governor, to be respected by his fellow-men in sections once hostile, to renew his cordial relations with his conqueror, who in his triumph proved a friend indeed, and to live to a great old age, almost the last of his time.

History has no parallel to the scene enacted at Mount McGregor, in this State, twenty-nine years ago, when Grant, voiceless and dying, received in affectionate embrace Buckner, always the friend; Buckner, always the patriot; Buckner, always the true American, in spite of conflicting principles.

From that sad height in 1865, when both winner and loser were revealed as victors in a realm morally as great as any that ever hung upon the issue of battle, a message of peace and brotherhood went forth to Americans that will endure for the ages.
