The House passed a bill to authorize the States to prohibit, by local laws, the sale of convict-made goods in the original package shipped in from outside the State.

John Bassett Moore, counselor of the State Department, left the department, following the acceptance of his resignation, tendered to the President on February 2.

ANAEMIC SINCE CHILDHOOD

How Miss Holmes Regained Her Health.

If you are anaemic, you need more iron in your blood, and the tell-tale symptoms are a pale face—colorless lips, aching finger nails, poor circulation, and short breath, and more serious diseases are easily contracted when in this condition.

What Vinol did for Miss Yvonne Holmes of Fall River, Mass., it will do for every anaemic run-down person. She says: "I have been weak and anaemic since childhood, always had 'that tired feeling.' Tonic after tonic was tried with little or no result until Vinol was recommended, and after taking three bottles, my appetite and digestion have been improved. I do not suffer any more from insomnia, nor do I have distressing headaches as formerly, and I am stronger than I have been for years."

We ask every anaemic or run-down, weak person in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. J. C. PEAR, Maysville, Ky.

INHERIT TANGO FROM SAVAGES

Psychologist Also Declares Turkey Trot Was Born of Sailor's Awkwardness

At last the lure of the modern dances—the one-step and tango—has been analyzed. The reason why men and women dance for 36 hours on a stretch, the whyfore of tango teas and even tango breakfasts has been found.

Place the psychological binoculars to your eyes and glance over the fashionably dressed men and women you find in the ballroom of Fifth avenue or in the ballroom along Broadway. What do you see? Not the fine feathers and the fine gowns, not the tango shorts and tango shoes; these all fade into oblivion before the psychological binoculars. What you really see is the naked entity of these individuals—an entity unclouded by civilization, restraint or culture, but expressing unconcealed the real motions of the person.

Bang! What was that—you almost dropped the psychological binoculars in your surprise? Oh, you call it consternation instead of surprise. Well, at any rate, it was a stiff jolt as you saw the inner selves of all those people leap into your vision, their paint and powder and gowns and jewels fading before the searching stare of the binoculars. You couldn't believe your eyes? Probably not. But what do you see?

A great host of American Indians, in full war paint and feathers, practicing and skipping about a fire in a wild grotesque, though rhythmic war dance set to the accompaniment of barbaric music.

Now, according to the new theory of Prof. Duryea, that is precisely what an assemblage of fashionable dancers is today—a band of wild American Indians. Of course, Prof. Duryea speaks a trifle figuratively. What he really means is that modern men and women who do the modern dances are crazy about these dances because, of the dances—particularly the one-step or erstwhile turkey trot—are the outgrowth of the most barbaric of the dances the red overlords of North America participated in long before Christopher Columbus and for some time after him.

Reasoning further, his theory is that the men and women of today who love the modern dances must be in reality savages at heart; that civilization has only glossed over their inherent instincts and that their inner selves are finding an outlet for their real inclinations, through dances that are really an outgrowth of the orgies in which their early predecessors indulged years ago.

All of which explains the revelations one may see who looks through what Prof. Duryea calls the psychological binoculars, a set of imaginary glasses which strip a person of outward show and lay bare his inmost personality or self.

"Then," he was asked, "the reason the modern dances are so popular, have such an iron grip on the people, is because we are really savages at heart and in dancing them are merely obeying the dictates of heredity?"

"Exactly," the professor answered. "The psychological binoculars—if any thing such as they existed—would show you in any ball-room, instead of the gayly gowned beauties of the day, a band of pow-wowing red Indians in the midst of a smoke dance or a war dance or what not."

Prof. Duryea has been searching for considerable time for the real reason why the new dances have taken the country.

Representative Langley introduced a bill appropriating $25,000 for the establishment of a Government fish hatchery at Booneville.

CAPTURED A LARGE MINK.

(Augusta Chronicle.) A man by the name of Buskirk, who lives on a houseboat near Bradford, on Monday caught a large mink alive. The animal got tangled up in a fence and Buskirk grabbed it, and his hands were saved from being badly bitten by his having on a pair of heavy gloves. The mink was the largest seen in this section in years, as large as an ordinary fad dog. Buskirk shipped it, alive, to Indianapolis parties, and we are told he received $18 for it.

February failures will prove to be about $25,000,000 as compared with almost $35,000,000 for December.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart appeared by request before the National House Committee on Education to tell of her experiences in educating illiterates in Rowan County.

A TWENTY-DOLLAR SNOWBALL.

(Dover News.) Last Sunday week Fulton Ladenburger, of Covington, lost a $20 gold piece from his pocket while in Dover. The next day snow covered the ground to a depth of several inches. Search for it was futile. Last Saturday the snow softened up and was disappearing rapidly while the boys were in an exciting game of snow-balling. Tommy Fox stabbed up a handful of snow and in making it into a ball discovered it contained something solid. On investigating he found it to be a $20 gold piece. On his way home he met Lawrence Laycock and asked what it was he had found. On finding it was good money he knew at once to whom it belonged, and took it to Mr. Ladenburger and received a reward for his honesty and good luck.

FISCAL COURT TO GIVE PLACE TO COUNTY COMMISSION.

Frankfort.—Indications are now that the Clay bill, providing for County Commissioners to take over the functions of the Fiscal Court instead of Magistrates in five counties, including Jefferson, will be enacted into law at this session of the Legislature. The Clay bill carries an amendment which applies solely to Jefferson County, and it makes possible the substitution of the commission form on January 1, 1916, with the proviso that after they are relieved from Fiscal Court duties, the eight Magistrates in office will continue to draw until the end of the four-year term for which they were elected $3 a day for each working day in the month. This will amount to about $78 a month for each Magistrate, and approximately about $13,000 for the remaining two years of their terms.

LEGISLATORS PLAYING FOR AN EXTRA SESSION.

Frankfort, Ky., March 4.—Much talk in the hotel lobbies about an extra session to revise the revenue laws gives rise to the suspicion that some of Kentucky's ten-dollar-a-day legislators are willing to sacrifice the time, if the Governor thinks the exigency justifies the expense. Some of them show apparent willingness to create the exigency.

THE DAVIS-FELIX NUPTIALS A BEAUTIFUL EVENT.
(Augusta Chronicle.) "Oak Corner," the ancestral home of the Doniphans was a blaze of light and beauty, decorated with southern smiles, ferns and pink carnations, in honor of the marriage of Miss Bess Marshall Felix, this city, and Mr. John Johnstone Davis, of Louisville, which was beautifully solemnized Wednesday at 6:30 p. m., by Rev. W. W. Landrum, D. D. from Broadway Baptist Church, Louisville. Mrs. Chas. G. Steen played a violin solo "Souvenir" by Dr. Dr. Dr., accompanied by Miss Harbeson, before the procession approached.
The bridal costume was a magnificent gown of white brocade crepe de chine with rose point lace and Juliet cap of rose point, with orange blossoms worn by the bride's mother. The bouquet was a shower of Bride roses with lilies of the valley. At her throat she wore a handsome diamond necklace, a gift of the groom.
The bride is the charming daughter of Mrs. M. L. Felix, known socially throughout the State, and a descendant of a long line of distinguished Kentuckians. Mr. Davis and bride left at once over the C. & O. for New York and the Bermudas to remain several weeks, after which they will be at home in Louisville.
Out of town guests were: Mrs. R. C. Davis, Mr. Summers Davis, and Mr. W. W. Crawford, Louisville; Miss Jennie Lee, Cleveland, Miss Anna Bradford, Lexington; Miss Ada Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Powers, Judge and Mrs. Matt Harbeson, Covington; Miss Taylor and Miss Sumbar, Cincinnati; Mrs. Thomas Best, Miss Louise Best, Mrs. Ella Allen, Mrs. E. T. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitzgerald, of Maysville.

"The Greatest Kidney Remedy on Earth," Says a Grateful Woman
I want to tell you how much good your Swamp-Root did me. About four years ago, I suffered from what the doctors called fistula and for two years of that time, I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflammation of the bladder and I tried doctors medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.
After giving it a thorough trial, I received relief, so kept on using it and today I am a strong and well woman. If I ever feel badly or out of sorts, I take Swamp-Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure for me to send my testimony and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.
Respectfully yours,

A REDUNDANCY OF RUDOLPH.
(Mayfield Messenger.)
A protracted revival in progress at the New Hope Presbyterian Church in McCracken County has developed one of the most amusing incidents reported in some time.
In the course of the revival Thursday night the minister called upon "Brother Rudolph" to lead in prayer.
From out the silence that followed twenty-five "Brother Rudolphs" stood upon their feet and began to earnestly exhort.
"Hold on!" exclaimed the astonished minister, "let Brother John Rudolph do the leading." Nineteen Rudolphs sat down with alacrity, and six remained on their feet earnestly praying.
The revivalist wilted and said no more, and the sextet continued unto the end.
The Rudolph family is reputed to be the largest in McCracken County.
