

of Judgment. Thou foolish one! Many a man and woman will sit in the day of judgment and see how fortunes of opportunity have been squandered and wasted by careless lives. The exhortation then is to "Come to Knowledge. What kind of knowledge shall we seek?"

First, we should know our MORTALITY. "Lord make me to know my end, the measure of my days, what it is; that I may know what time I have here." How frail I am! A great chinked a papal pontiff to death. A small hair in a glass of milk strangled a Roman Councillor to death. A rain seed stopped in the throat of Amazeon and he died. We are too frail long to offer successful resistance to death, of the body. What then shall I do? Prepare armies to fight the foes of my soul; order my house before I die; let not my eyes go agadding after earthly pleasures to the exclusion of spiritual needs; let not the ear go itching after rumors and gossips; I must not let the mind wander too far afield while DEATH IS IN MY HOUSE. Your body is not brass, it will break. Your strength is not as stone, it will fail. Your life is not as permanent, it will cease. Your breath is vapor it will vanish away. Your life, your career is as a stranger, a sojourner in a strange land; as a wanderer it will soon pass out through the gates of existence to come no more for ever.

Second, we should know our IMMORTALITY. Have a heed for that within you which will not cease its demands for eternal existence. That demand of the heart is the Divinity stirring within you. Therefore seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, all else shall be added. Enter into all the possible experiences which divine grace has placed at our disposal.

Finally, we should know GOD. "This is eternal life to know God and Jesus Christ whom He hath sent." He is the wisest who does the most important thing first. Have you found Christ? What, ever else you may have found is insufficient to show great wisdom on the part of him who has found much.

Christ tasted death for every man. Upon Him was laid the iniquity of us all. None other name whereby we must be saved. It is Christ or none. With Christ peace and joy and life; without Christ, fear, and dread and death. To let your heart come to highest wisdom, let it come to the knowledge of Christ.

"NUMBERING OUR DAYS"

Sermon For The Dead Applied To The Living—Dr. Bunton Preaches The Words That Heal at Last Night's Revival Meeting.

At The Third Street Methodist Church Wednesday evening Rev. Dr. Bunton preached upon the theme, "Numbering Our Days," Psalms 90:12. In part he said:

"This text is usually used on funeral occasions, but I have never had any satisfactory response from the dead to any entreaty I have ever made, so I am going to try it on the living. This is taken from the oldest of all the Psalms. The ninth Psalm was composed by Moses. It is the Dirge of a great career; it would be sufficient as a funeral chant of all creation. It rolls and echoes like a great organ chant. Moses was the last survivor of Egypt. He had witnessed the awful east of unbelief. For 40 years he had watched the penalties of transgression. One false step had cost him his opportunity of going into Canaan; and because of that moment of anger and unbelief he must die on the outside of Canaan. In recounting the hurt and injury of sin, Moses exclaims, "Thou turned away to destruction." He is carried away as with a flood. He is soon cut down and withereth. "By thy wrath are we troubled." Our iniquities are set in the light of thy countenance. He looked upon the marks that the years had left upon him and prayed the text, "Teach us to number our days that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

We like Moses stand at a critical point; behind us is a sinful past that must be placed under the atoning blood of Christ, and before us is the great day of reckoning of deeds done in the body. Then why should we account of our days? Because there is so short a time and so much to do; because of provisions that must be made for eternity; preparations to be made for right living and proper dying.

There is but one way to account of our days, but one way to measure life, that is in the light of the Moral, Spiritual, and Eternal issues which are involved.

How shall we number the days of life? By the Calendar? No. That is only mathematical. You can't depend upon the calendar. Each day has not the same value as its neighbor day. Many days add nothing to the meaning or the value of individual life. Some other days detract and subtract from life's real worth. Whole years in some lives are as if that life had never lived. Keeping the "Diary" is not living.

Too many are wasting life. I see three pictures: First, a man in a summer resort lighting a cigarette with ten dollars bills, while millions are going hungry daily. That man is a fool for want of sense. Second, I see a man at Atlantic City standing on the pier casting into the sea, pearls, diamonds, rubies, emeralds, and gold eagles; while there are 500,000 girls working this day with less than enough to satisfy hunger. A gain we say that man is a fool. But I see diamond days, golden months, priceless years cast into the sea of eternity by men and women everywhere. These are wasteful souls piling up responsibility to run up against at the day

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me, so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSING, Route No. 1, Florence, South Dakota.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

OUR NATIONAL BANK HAS A CHARTER FROM THE U. S. GOVERNMENT

A National Bank, before being permitted to do business, must first receive a charter from the U. S. Government. Before this charter is granted, the Government must be satisfied that there are men of both character and financial responsibility behind a bank. A National Bank must operate under strong restrictions for safety, laid down by the Government at Washington, which includes being regularly examined by representatives of the Treasury Department.

Farmers

Have you ever tried our way of borrowing money to pay for a farm? You, of course, know that most farms are sold for one-third cash and the balance of the payment is represented by lien notes due in one and two years. You also know that there are times when it is impossible to pay these notes when they become due.

Our specialty is lending money on good farms for LONG PERIODS. Wouldn't you rather have five years to pay the balance than two years? Any one expecting to buy farms this March will do well to come in and consult us about getting the money.

We have been giving satisfactory service for 24 years.
