MEXICAN SITUATION A POWDER MINE

The latest news from Mexico can be interpreted to mean peace or war.

The situation in Mexico City is so tense that Huerta may resign his usurped presidency at any minute.

Despite the flabby attitude of Wilson and Bryan at Washington the outlook simply spells WAR.

The Mission pictures on Mexico last night at the Episcopal Church were excellent. Brother Fielding has had quite an educational campaign on Missions showing what his church is doing.

The county officers met with a hearty reception at Orangeburg. They raised $20 for the work. Next Sunday they will be at Dover. We bespeak for them a hearty welcome at Dover.

It was surely some Sunday School day in Maysville. Everybody was there. Some of us did not get all the people we wanted, but then there is next Sunday. Will we let down on our good work or shall we keep it up.

ST. PATRICK CHURCH Beautiful Frescoing Transforms Interior of Stately Edifice—Magnificent Art Glass Windows Shed Lustrous and Radiant Color Tones.

The eyes of the gathering worshippers at St. Patrick Church were delighted when a few days ago on entering that stately edifice, instead of being greeted with the unsightly scaffolding which has obscured the octagonal sanctuary, they beheld the complete transformation which the frescoers had effected in that part of their church. Fresh as the work was from the artist's brush, each beholder as he admiringly gazed on that creation of great beauty could not but feel that, little by little as beautification follows beautification in the sacred edifice, this temple becomes more fitting the King of Kings who therein resides in the Eucharist.

With the beautiful art glass windows as a setting, the artist in a harmony of color and design works out a symphony in tint and scheme. The splendor of the cerulean and gold ceilings suggests the vernal heavens, whilst the stately clustered columns, rising majestically from floor to lofty ceiling reminds the beholder of the antiphon, "Lift up your hearts!"

Within each of the large panels between the columns appears a magnificent Celtic cross, and in the center of each cross is shown the symbolic representation of the four Evangelists—the winged Lion, the winged Lamb, the Eagle, the Angel. As each window in the church tells a complete gospel story, so here in the sanctuary, grouped about the Sacramental God are the four—Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, who in their gospels give invincible evidence of His Real Presence.

The features which more than anything else in the work impress the beholder, are its chaste simplicity in design—the absence of a striving after tawdry effects being noticeable—and the delightful harmony of its colorings. This work, like the church building itself, is but another evidence of the superior taste of the Reverend pastor of St. Patrick's, Father P. M. Jones, whose noble conceptions the brush of a true artist has most admirably executed.

"Mother was a beauty in her younger days."

Mother may smile deprecatingly—but watch her go to the little top drawer and take out the precious photograph "taken before I was married." Chances are she will also tell you of her admirers, and we can believe they were many.

What a priceless record of her younger charms that photograph is to mother, and to you.

Modern photography can do infinitely more to preserve the records of years.

"THE MODEL GARDEN"

Shows What Can Be Done Towards Transforming a Mudhole into a Beauty Spot—A Sermon on Civics.

"A thing of beauty" is what the erstwhile weed-producing, vacant lot just east of Limestone bridge promises to become in the good old summer time. Under the direction of Mrs. R. K. Hoeflich, chairman of the Civic Department, of Mason County Woman's Club, and her ready assistants, this eyesore hence forth to be known as "The Model Garden" is in readiness for planting.

With the "breaking of the globe" our enthusiasm grows stronger and we already feel that the money invested will return us four fold, yea, sixty fold, in encouraging all those who have yards and lots susceptible of any cultivation whatever, to utilize them to their utmost capacity.

Dr. French, in his address at the Forest Avenue Parent-Teacher Association, said that in Maysville and within a radius of five miles was enough undeveloped soil to provide us with all the vegetables we needed; and, that compared with other countries in this matter we were extremely wasteful.

Much time and effort as well as funds have been expended thus far in clearing away the deposit of debris and filling in the depressions, and it is now to be assigned to Supt. Caplinger and Prof. Berry, who have consented to superintend its cultivation by a corps of high school boys, which assures its success and bespeaks each citizen's hearty commendations.

The boys are to be given the products of their labors and prizes are to be awarded for the best gardens. Let every Maysvillian feel a pride in this undertaking and encourage the boys and professors.

NATIONAL SUFFRAGE

Day Splendidly Observed in Maysville Saturday By the Mason County Woman Suffrage League

Large Attendance—Dr. Barbour and A. D. Cole Make Eloquent Addresses

The Mason County Equal Suffrage League held a fine meeting at the courthouse last Saturday, observing National Suffrage Day.

In the audience there was about a dozen men, most of whom were there perhaps through curiosity.

On the wall was the following motto: "For the long work day, For the taxes we pay, For the laws we obey, We want something to say."

County President Miss Alice Lloyd called the meeting to order and stated its object. Rev. J. M. Literal of the Third Street M. E. Church offered an eloquent invocation.

The Maysville High School Quartette led the audience in singing the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

In a few brief remarks Miss Lloyd introduced Dr. John Barbour, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Barbour is a forcible speaker and holds the attention and went straight to the heart of the subject.

He said in part: That he was not here to prove anything to anybody. That on great fundamental principles it was not to be wondered at that patriots would honestly differ.

He never tried to convert himself to woman's suffrage. He said in 1873 when in law school in Louisville he read John Stewart Mills on woman suffrage, and later would give us some of his sentences upon the subject.

The doctor took the broad ground that suffrage conferred no rights. That suffrage depends upon maturity and character.

The chief objections offered to woman suffrage are: Subversion of society, alteration in the nature of things, involves an alteration to her companion. He said woman suffrage is in complete harmony with the word of God, and they were the absolute loyalty to the teaching in the word of God in both the Old and New Testaments.

Not more suffrage, a larger view point. We have man's point of view and now we need the view point of woman. Woman is different from man therefore she has a different way of looking at things. The feminine and masculine minds are needed. Her chief view point is her home.

He referred to Mary Livermore, her great love for home and children.

It is a fair question, "The effect of equal suffrage upon the home." He referred to Florence Nightingale, her thought for home and her executive ability though but a nurse in the Crimean war, she brought order, and business to bear upon her vocation.

Life is more complete, more spiritual and thus demands woman's voice and vote to keep it right.

The Doctor has dreams when we can sit at home and exercise the right of suffrage.

We should give woman suffrage because she needs it. No patience with those who wish to push this matter aside. Intelligent women need it for their defense. What ever comes out of the soul is worthy of respect. He spoke of Mrs. Belmont and Mrs. Gibson, the great work they are doing. I will give woman her proper sphere. There sphere is the sphere God gives them. How can a mere man describe her sphere.

Bruce in his Training of the Twelve gives the right idea of the woman's sphere when he speaks of the woman anointing the Master's feet. The average woman goes beyond her sense of modesty.

We need women for her sense of order. He quoted John Stewart Mills in the science of Government. Said there were more great queens and kings. He spoke of the Hindu Government and three out of the four greatest were women.

The suffrage on the school question was a fatal admission as to woman's ability.

Hon. A. D. Cole was next introduced by the county president.

Mr. Cole said in part, the woman's suffrage question was not a superficial one, but one that reaches down to the bottom of our government.

It would make life more abundant, bring about happier conditions. There is one maxim laid down by politicians, "All just government derives its support from the governed."

But when it comes to the woman question the politicians temporize, and evade the issue.

Is it a JUST government where one half of the governed do not get to express their opinions?

Family is the greatest unit of society. God has endowed woman with the same faculties as man. Woman's intuition surpasses man's judgment.

He spoke of the father's making will for the benefit of their daughters yet not safeguarding their interests. He form, because in some States they can vote for President.

And when that comes to pass these politicians who evaded, temporized, and thought the time had not come will be found saying they had always been for suffrage.

The two speakers surely presented the cause in a forcible, logical manner.

TWO STRAIGHTS

Taken By Brewers From Burley Cubs —Local Team Not in Good Running Condition.

The Newport team took their second straight victory from the locals by the score of 12 to 10.

Linnie started the game for the locals and pitched nice ball until the infield had a general blow-up in the fourth inning and four runs scored.

Maysville came back strong in the same frame and tied the score.

Both teams scored intermittently throughout the rest of the game, but Maysville got the short end of the count.

Both teams batted well, but it seemed as if the Maysville bunch could not get together in the field.

Now is the time for the Maysville fans to show their loyalty to the team. Things have been breaking bad for the boys and the majority of them are not in playing condition on account of the bad weather of last week, which gave nearly everyone a sore arm. When Barrett gets back in the game this week, everybody playing in their right position and the pitchers start to going good, a big change is bound to occur and you had better keep an eye on Chappie's boys.

The score of yesterday's game by innings follows:

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 — R H E
Newport 0 0 0 4 0 5 2 1 0—12 18 5
Maysville 0 0 0 4 1 0 2 1 2—10 11 7
