THE DEATH OF THE POPE.

"In ancient times," said Pope Pius X, rousing himself from the coma of approaching death, "the Pope might have stopped the slaughter by a word. Now he is powerless." So is every other lesser pontiff of religion. In the Twentieth Century christianity and civilization are laid aside as easily as a garment is flung aside in preparation for a fight. Women and children are trampled under the feet of ruthless soldiers, private property is destroyed wholesale. Whole populations are driven from cities that were scenes of peace and hope and thrive a few weeks ago. All of the ghastly injustice of war is inflicted upon the defenseless in hideous struggle for more power. It is a saddening spectacle. Religion and civilization seem paralyzed. With assumed piety one emperor prays to God before going to the slaughter, and he is no worse than the rest. Monarchs closely related by ties of blood are at each other's throats like blood thirsty wolves. Despite religion, despite education despite the enlightening influence of steam transportation, despite everything we have thought was making the present time better than any other "held to all ages" Europe is flung back into barbarism and America will be lucky if she escapes being dragged in. Small wonder that Pope Pius died broken-hearted.—State Journal.

HAY FEVER SEASON IS NOW OPEN

New York.—Throughout the length and breadth of the land, the official hay fever season opened Sunday to the accompaniment of approximately 653,427 sneezes. (That's the number of hay fever victims are said to suffer annually in the United States.) There may have been numerous hay fever sneezes heard previous to today but these were merely desultory caresses. They were, so to speak, the advance guard of the forces which opened with the heavy artillery of sneeze Sunday. By some strange fate or law of nature, which as yet is not explained, the victims of this obnoxious malady some times after the date, according to many victims, they are attacked. It is about that time that the pollen from dandelions and other growths begin to float through the air, and it is the presence of these all but invisible tiny particles in the air that causes the hay fever. Only after the first frost do the majority of sufferers get relief from constant sneezing and other uncomfortable effects of hay fever.

The date of the opening of the regional banks may be determined at a conference which has been called for September 4 by the Federal Reserve Board with many prominent bankers of the country. By resuming the issuance of through bills of lading the railroads facilitated the shipment of foodstuffs to Europe. Prejudice may be briefly described as that intangible thing which inspires the general antipathy to side whiskers.

SOME OF THE HORRORS OF MODERN WARFARE

The present war in Europe seems destined to develop horrors which the ancients, with all their cruelty, never dreamt of.

One of the foreign correspondents describes the results of the dropping of explosives from a German airplane while flying over the city of Antwerp, in Belgium.

"I have just lived through the most tragic night of the war. For the first time in history a great civilized community has been bombarded from the sky.

"I was awakened at 1 o'clock this morning by a frightful cannonade. A Zeppelin had been sighted about 700 feet above the town. I at once went out into the streets and for eleven hours—from one hour after midnight until noon—I have scarcely left the scene of the catastrophe. I have explored every one of the devastated streets. So far I have found ten bombs in ten different streets.

"It is impossible as yet to get accurate statistics. In my calculation there are about 900 houses nearly destroyed. The number of victims is unknown.

"In a single house I found four dead. One room was a chamber of horrors, the remains of the mangled bodies being scattered in every direction. In the house opposite a husband and wife, whose only son had just died in battle, were killed—a whole family wiped out.

The Place du Poids, about where the tragedy happened, surpassed in horror anything I ever saw. "When the Zeppelin appeared it threw searchlights over the city. Almost immediately there followed an explosion, which was repeated thrice. Then the Scheldt forts and guards started a heavy fire, but the bomb-dropping continued. The townspeople were alarmed and rushed into the streets in their night clothes. Most of them thought that the siege had begun.

"The dropping of bombs lasted about twenty minutes. Four persons were killed at one spot. The barracks of the Fifth regiment were damaged, as well as the other barracks and the military hospital.

"It is said that the purpose of the Zeppelin was to destroy the royal family by dropping bombs on the palace. "The first doctor to arrive on the scene was Major Louis Livingston Stetson, of the American Red Cross.

"Dr. Seaman, who today has been attending the wounded, says that in all his eight campaigns, of which one was against the Boxers in China, he has never seen an act of war so ruthless and so horrible as the sight of three young girls mutilated by the bomb-end of a dead young mother—all attacked in their beds at night."

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Augusta, Ky.—A. A. Hiles, Sr., father of State Senator J. B. Hiles, was stricken with paralysis at his home at Johnsville, this county, and owing to the fact that he is more than 80 years of age, grave fears are entertained for his recovery.

PANAMA CANAL BEING OPERATED AT LOSS

Deficit Due to Small Traffic Consequent Upon the War in Europe. Washington—As direct result of war in Europe receipts from the operation of the Panama Canal have failed to pay expenses of the great waterway. Tolls during the first week of traffic in the canal amounted to only about $15,000. That was not enough to pay operating expenses, much less meet the interest payment on the vast capital invested.

Discrimination against New Orleans on cotton rates in favor of the other cities of the South was charged in a complaint filed yesterday by the New Orleans Cotton Exchange with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

LUKE McLUKE SAYS

The fonder a woman is of clothes the fewer of them she wears. There isn't an awful lot of difference between Patience and Laziness. A man is so contrary that after his wife has told him once a day for twenty years that he is a blamed fool he is liable to die believing that he is a pretty smart feller. There are a lot of people in this world who know that there are twelve commandments but can't remember one of them. As long as a woman thinks that a man is jealous of her she doesn't care whether he loves her or not. Every time I look over the latest from the big war I can't help but wish that the Fool Killer had spent his vacation in Europe this Spring. The old-fashioned lad who used to wear reversible paper collars now has a son who would throw away a soiled fifteen-cent throat daily before he would carry it home. One of the hardest things for a marriage man to understand is why a bachelor imagines that he needs a vacation. We all hope to meet each other in Heaven. But we'll be rinkadornatobillions jumbled if we'll speak to our neighbors while we are here on earth.

UNCLE SAM WANTS BETTER CHILDREN.

The federal Department of Labor has established a Children's Bureau to teach parents how to care for children and has just issued a booklet on "Parental Culture" which is for free distribution. For some time Uncle Sam has been paying considerable attention to the improvement of hogs, chickens and livestock, as well as teaching us how to raise pumpkins and potatoes, and it is encouraging to find attention now being turned toward improving the human race.

Censored War News Reveals One Fact In the meagre reports from European war centers, this fact stands out—that all Europe is arming and that food supplies are already becoming scarce. Prices here in America are rising to keep pace with European demand, but regardless of demand the price will not advance on Grape-Nuts FOOD Enormous quantities of wheat and barley have been bought for making this delicious, nourishing food. And in spite of any advance in the price of grain, Grape-Nuts food will Cost Same as Always—Everywhere For many years Grape Nuts packages have been tightly sealed in waxed paper—moisture and germ proof—the food always fresh and appetizing. Huge orders from Europe show that their home folks and armies know and appreciate the sturdy value of Grape-Nuts food. "There's a Reason" —sold by Grocers everywhere.
