Turkey Enters Fray and Joins Germany

TWO CRUISERS SINK 43 SHIPS.
London, Oct. 29.—According to a statement from Berlin, the German cruisers Emden and Karlsruhe have sunk forty-three vessels.

TURKEY DECLARES WAR; NINTH GREAT POWER IN EUROPEAN FIGHT.

Petrograd, Oct. 29.—Turkey has begun hostilities by bombarding peaceful sea coast towns. The morning of the outbreak of the war between the Ottoman Empire and the Allies is now a reality. The news of the declaration of war by Turkey is a port of note. Novorossia is a part of note. Novorossia is a part of note. Novorossia is a part of note.

SEA-FIGHTERS SINK GERMAN CONVERTED CRUISER; SAVE 86 OF CREW.
Oct. 29.—A squadron of British torpedo boat destroyers has sunk in the Adriatic a German steamer which had been converted into a cruiser according to a dispatch from Barcelona, to the Havas News Agency.

GENERAL VON BESELER ENDS HIS LIFE.
London, Oct. 29.—A dispatch to the Evening News from Rotterdam says that Gen. von Beseler, the conqueror of Antwerp, is dead. It is said, the news paper adds, that he shot himself at Bruges.

CAPTAIN JOHN JACOB JACOB ASTOR IS WOUNDED.
London, Oct. 29.—Captain John Jacob Astor, of the First Life Guards, young son of William Waldorf Astor, is reported wounded in active service. He is 28 years old. He was appointed aide de camp to the Viceroy of India last year.

London, Oct. 29.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Times states that the British and Russian Governments have agreed to a mutually advantageous exchange of combatant and technical forces, the details of which will be announced later.

Madrid, Oct. 29.—The Council of Ministers has fixed the strength of the army for 1915 at 140,763 men.

GUNS TO SHOOT 25 MILES? PERHAPS, BUT NOT SOON.

(W. A. Phelon, in Times-Star.)
Munich and Ananias have come back to earth and joined forces during the present war, judging from the thrilling tales that ripple along the cablestrands. Of all the stuff yet sent out from brilliantly imaginative brains, however, there is nothing to compare with the announcement that the Germans intend to bombard the British coast by means of new Krupp guns, throwing a shell 25 miles, and now almost completed, said guns to be mounted at Calais or Boulogne.

This is the crowning dream of all the war-fables, and the one that seems to have created the most excitement round the world. Guns to throw shells 25 miles! Guns to bombard Dover and the rest of the Cinque ports with remorseless fury!

Perhaps Krupp or some other gun-factory will yet finish a cannon that will shoot 25 miles, but it is doubtful. Suppose, to help the tale along, that we accept the 25-mile gun as an actuality. Suppose the Germans really get possession of the French harbors and mount the 25-mile guns. What are they going to do with them?

It's a gray and foggy world, the English channel. Lots of clouds and lots of darkness. With the 25-mile guns set and leveled on the French side of the channel, what will keep English ships from ranging up in the fogs getting a half-circle of destruction shaped before the terrible guns and then before the fog lifts, depositing about 1,000 tons of steel upon said gun, its platforms and its gunners? For the 25-mile guns. They won't happen.

HISTORIC CANNON BALL

(Flemingsburg Times-Democrat.)
John E. Browning has presented to the Times-Democrat a cannon ball, originally a 6-pounder but now reduced to 4 1/2 pounds by the rust of 100 years, which was plowed up on the battlefield of New Orleans, having no doubt been fired in that battle on the 8th of January, 1815, now nearly 100 years ago. It is not known by which army it was fired, but if by the army of General Jackson it might be one of the balls cast at Old State Furnace, in Bath county and floated down the Licking, Ohio and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans.
