The story of every child is a story of growth and change—A change too gradual and subtle for even the watchful eye of a mother to detect, or for memory to recall.

Only in pictures can the story be told, and a record of the childish features and expressions kept for all time.

A good photograph now and then, will mean everything to you—and to them, in after years.

TURKEY RAISERS

Rejected Price—Refused to Sell the Birds at Ten Cents a Pound.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—The turkey market opened in this county, but buyers are having a hard time to buy the birds. The market was opened at ten cents, but raisers would not take the price; the figure was slightly raised, and still they would not sell. The prices offered are four to five cents lower on the pound than one year ago, and holders of large flocks say they will wait until the Christmas market before disposing of their birds, believing that the Eastern market will get better, thus forcing up the prices in this section. Last year prices paid ranged from 13 to 15 cents per pound. The crop of turkeys is a large one.

WEATHER REPORT

Fair and cooler today.

THE RIVER

The Greene Line steamer Ohio will make three trips a week to Manchester, as long as there is water sufficient to operate safely in the trade.

The small steamers Chilo and Courier, of the Maysville, Chilo and Cincinnati trade, are aground at Nine-mile sand bar, near Cincinnati.

The river men are anxiously looking for a good rain throughout the Ohio Valley that will make a good rise in the Ohio river, as this has been an unusually long spell of low water.

As a result of locks and dams the Ohio river is open from Pittsburg to East Liverpool, O., and a large coal fleet is being put together at the latter place. It will be sent south when the river opens up below Liverpool.

It is understood that Capt. Greene, of the Greene Line of boats, contemplates locating a dry dock at Ashland. The dock will employ about fifteen men. Point Pleasant is making a strong effort to have the dock located there.

There were slight rises reported in the Upper Ohio river Saturday from Wheeling, W. Va., to Huntington, W. Va., which was caused by lowering one of the dams in the Upper Ohio river, but the general tendency of the Ohio river is falling slowly at all stations above Cincinnati.

For the second time during the present low-water season this year the Greene Line has placed a gasoline launch and lighter in the Chilo and Cincinnati trade. It does not make the regular schedule time, but arrives and departs from Cincinnati on alternate days, which keeps as many as eight boats, which keeps as many as eight boats, which keeps as many as eight boats.

(Commercial-Tribune.)
A lawyer, widely known in this community, writes thus:
"The following conversation was heard at a funeral in Spring Grove Cemetery:
"This cemetery was established in 1853," said one.
"And now," said another, "there are 86,000 buried here."
"That is not surprising. They are killing that many a week over in Europe."
"Which is to say that the victims of war for a month would fill every cemetery in Cincinnati. It is a grievous thought."

The Ford Motor Co. announces that in the month of September there were sold and delivered 21,976 Ford cars. This was a gain of 11,479 cars over September 1913. We have just received a car-load of the new 1915 models, and can give you immediate delivery. There's nothing to gain by waiting, so order now and enjoy your car this fall and winter.
