TO BUILD NEW ROAD

Petition Filed By Citizens of Springdale Asking For a Connecting Road Between Springdale and Mason and Lewis Pike.

The following petition has been filed in the Mason County Court:

We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of Mason county, Kentucky, do hereby petition the said court that a county road be opened between the terminus of the Cabin Creek and Springdale turnpike at Springdale, Kentucky, along the C. & O. railroad to the north of Bull creek connecting with the Mason and Lewis Turnpike.

The above petition was signed by thirty-four citizens of Mason county residing in and near Springdale and attached to same is an agreement signed by James and Samuel Grimes, George W. Martin and J. H. Soister, agreeing to donate to the county the necessary ground for the building of the road.

After considering the matter, County Judge W. H. Rice issued the following order:

The petition of C. G. Degman and others, having been filed asking this court that a public road be opened between the terminus of the C. C. and S. turnpike at Springdale, Ky., along the C. & O. Railway to the mouth of Bull creek connecting with the Mason and Lewis turnpike and notice thereof having been given by posting written advertisements in at least five of the most public places in the district in which said road shall be located for more than twenty days prior to the present term of court, it is ordered and directed that Scott Fletcher, William Wilson and Abernethy, three impartial house keepers, be and the same are hereby appointed Commissioners, and said Commissioners will view the ground along which the road is proposed to be conducted. Said Commissioners will determine and assess what will be a just compensation for each owner and tenant, if any, for the land proposed to be taken, and they shall report in writing to the court stating the conveniences and inconveniences which will result as well to individuals as to the public from the opening of such a road. Said report shall state the commencement and termination, courses and distances of such proposed road or alteration, the names of owners and tenants whose land is sought to be appropriated and whether the owners are non-residents of the state, infants, of unsound mind, or married women. Said report shall also state their opinion in favor of or against the establishment of such road.

It is further ordered and directed that L. M. Collins be and he is hereby appointed surveyor to assist said Commissioners to make out and return a map of the routes viewed, and report to this court at its January term, 1915.

MESSAGE OF PEACE

President Wilson Speaks For American People in Words That Voice Sentiment of Christian Civilization

Washington, December 8.—President Wilson, in his annual address to Congress today, gave his answer to those who contend the United States is unprepared for national defense. "Let there be no misconception," he said. "The country has been misinformed. We have not been negligent of national defense. We are not ungrateful of the great responsibility resting upon us. We shall learn and profit by the lesson of every experience and every new circumstance; and what is needed will be adequately done."

Assembled in joint session in the hall of the House, Senators and Representatives heard the President, reading his address in person from the clerk's desk, outline the administration legislative program and voice a fervent hope that the United States might be instrumental in bringing peace to Europe.

"AT PEACE WITH THE WORLD"
No Reason To Fear That "Our Independence or the Integrity of Our Territory Is Threatened."

"We are at peace with all the world."

"No one who speaks counsel based on facts or drawn from a just and candid interpretation of realities can say that there is reason to fear from any quarter that our independence or the integrity of our territory is threatened."

"Dread of the power of any other nation we are incapable of."

"We are not jealous of rivalry in the fields of commerce or of any other peaceful achievement."

"We mean to live our own lives as we will; but we mean also to let live."

"We are, indeed, a true friend to all the nations of the world, because we threaten none, covet the possessions of none, desire the overthrow of none."

"Our friendship can be accepted and is accepted without reservation, because it is offered in a spirit and for a purpose which no one need ever question or suspect. Therein lies our greatness."

"We are the champions of peace and concord."

"We Never Have Had, and While We Retain Our Present Principles and Ideals We Never Shall Have, a Large Standing Army."

"If asked, Are you ready to defend yourselves? We reply, Most assuredly, to the utmost; and yet we shall not turn America into an armed camp."

"We shall not ask our young men to spend the best years of their lives making soldiers of themselves."

"We must depend in every time of national peril, in the future as in the past, not upon a standing army, but upon a citizenry trained and accustomed to arms."

"We should encourage such training and make it a means of discipline which our young men will learn to value."

"It is right that we should provide it not only but that we should make it as attractive as possible."

"It is right, too, that the National Guard of the states should be developed and strengthened."

"A powerful navy we have always regarded as our proper and natural means of defense."

"We shall take leave to be strong upon the seas, in the future as in the past."

"Our ships are our natural bulwarks."

"We shall easily and sensibly agree upon a policy of defense."

"Let there be no misconception. The country has been misinformed. We have not been negligent of national defense."

Those coming out west or back east—you don't hear from them so often now. You each have new friends, new interests. But after all, blood is thicker than water and your picture and pictures of the other members of your family would be welcomed by them—especially for Christmas.

MYSTERY

Surrounds Death of S. M. Mackey, Who Was Found Mortally Injured in the East End Last Night

Last evening about 6 o'clock, as Mr. Frank Limerick was making his regular trip on the street car, and when near the greenhouse of C. P. Dietrich & Bro. in the East End, he noticed a dark object lying between the car track and the railroad tracks and upon investigating he found it to be the body of an old man, his head covered with blood, and barely alive. Mr. Limerick notified the authorities of his gruesome find and soon Officers Tolle and Fizer and Detective Heebie were on the scene.

The old man was found to be in quite a serious condition and he was removed to the greenhouse, where he expired about an hour later.

Coroner Slack was notified and upon his arrival he found that the man's skull was broken, head mashed and otherwise injured about the head and face.

The body of the dead man was returned to the undertaking establishment of Coughlin & Company, in Front street, and there a more complete investigation was made. In the pockets of his clothes was found eleven cents and a receipt for taxes paid in Lewis county, the receipt bearing the name of S. B. Mackey. Upon inquiry it was found that a man by the same name lived at McKenzie, Lewis county. Coroner Slack communicated with parties residing in the McKenzie neighborhood and found that this man had come to Maysville yesterday. The Coroner made known the man's death and the sad intelligence was sent to the dead man's relatives.

The appearance of the man would indicate that he is about 60 years of age and that he is a man of some refinement.

The authorities received word this morning from the dead man's family, telling them to have the body sent to his home at McKenzie. This morning at 9 o'clock Coughlin & Company started with the body and the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home. Interment is East Fork cemetery.

There is somewhat of a mystery connected with the old man's death and several theories have been advanced as to the probable cause. He may have been hit by a train or street car, struck by a falling lump of coal from a passing train or have been dealt with by foul means.

Ike McCallister, a local colored man, saw the body at the undertaking establishment and said that he saw the same man coming down the railroad yesterday morning in company with another elderly gentleman, but at that time he had on an overcoat. When found the man had no overcoat on.

Another man by the name of Cole said that he saw the old man going up the railroad a short time before he was killed and that he seemed to be under the influence of liquor.

The Coroner has selected his jury and an inquest will be held this evening.

LATEST WAR BULLETINS

London, December 8.—While the allies in the west groped their way forward cautiously today, grappling with the Germans here and there for slight advantage, the great struggle in Poland continues with the Germans for the time being apparently scoring the most points.

Russia has not yet fully concealed the occupation of Lodz, but in view of the repeated German claims and the Russian admission of the reformation of her battle line there, it would seem that the German center has achieved this goal, upsetting what for a time was hailed as a decisive Russian victory.

In Belgium a violent German attack upon St. Eloi to the south of Ypres has been repulsed.

The fighting is still very spirited in the forests and to the east of the Argon.

There are no other important developments.

21,976 FORDS SOLD IN SEPTEMBER

The Ford Motor Co. announces that in the month of September there were sold and delivered 21,976 Ford cars. This was a gain of 11,479 cars over September 1913. This is significant not only because it shows that the Ford production is rapidly being increased to meet the stupendous influx of orders, but also because it demonstrates that the Ford Motor Company is maintaining the 300,000 car-schedule necessary to give Ford purchasers between August 1st, 1914 and August 1st, 1915, a share of Ford profits.

We have just received a car-load of the new 1915 models, and can give you immediate delivery. There's nothing to gain by waiting, so order now and enjoy your car this fall and winter.
